At The Pool

BY BARRY GOTTS

SAFETY REMINDER.

A large percentage of drowning occur during the first part of the swimming season The over confident boy who learned to swim last summer had forgotten a lot of rules The expert swimmer had gotten half way across and found he wasn't in expert condition The old swimming hole has a piece of wire, glass or a washed out gully that wasn't there last year

In a rural area we do not have the opportunity to swim and keep in top condition as on our first encounter with the water we must use common sense instead of foolish courage.

As water is the media of almost all of our summer sports it must be respected as well as enjoyed.

Letter to Editor

Editor
Edson Leader
Dear Sir:

In your last issue of the Edson Leader you carried an ad requesting 25 nurses with blistering experience. Unfortunately the ad carried no return address. Please forward this reply to the committee in charge of your Centennial Edson to Grande Prairie trek.

Edson to Grande Prairie
Trek Committee

Please consider your nurses arrested. I and 24 other nurses will attend to your every need during and after your long trek through the northern wilderness. Tell us we will arrive in time for the scended banquet and will accompany you on your journey to Grande Prairie. The remaining 15 nurses will be on duty upon your arrival in Grande Prairie.

Your ad called for nurses with "blistering" experience and I would like to submit that our girls are capable of treating blisters, rendering blister ing relating blistering expert ence. But I presume the ad was requesting nurses to treat blisters which might be incurred due to the long horse back ride from Edson to Grande Prairie.

We are an experienced group of nurses and quite frankly we are eager to begin work on this exciting project. Nothing will give us greater pleasure than to take charge of the blister healing department of your centennial trek. The Kinsmen are to be commended for unlike the rest man layman, they have recognized treatment as a highly specialized field of medicine.

We would request pictures of each of the riders and in particular the areas most likely to be affected by this long ride on horseback. In cases of major surgery or minor skin crafting a "before" picture always given as something to shoot for.

Might I say that we girls are overjoyed to help forward a centennial project especially when it requires working with and on such handsome, young vigorous Kinsmen. By a happy coincidence it will be a combined centennial year for Canada and several of our nursing staff. You will note with pleasure that, there are no young foolish things in our nursing fraternity for we are all mature girls adept in the art of giving strong men the will to ride again.

The youngest on our staff will celebrate her 84th birthday on the trail. Naturally the senior members of our staff are more reserved about their ages and as you know it is a girl's prerogative not to divulge her age.

In closing I would like to say that we nursing girls are excited by the opportunity afforded by this Kinsmen trek. With the decline of horse transportation and with the advent of the fad we blister nurses haven't had all the work we could handle, in fact our last week of major importance was healing saddle blisters following the cavalry charges during the Crimean War. Many of our girls haven't seen service since those days of great horsemen so you can imagine the anxiety with which we are awaiting the start of the Kinsmen trek.

We will supply all our own provisions. You need only provide us with mounts and of course the casualties.

Sincerely,
Maude Pricker

Dear Sir

In talking to people around Edson I have heard a variety of comments in regard to these guys going on a holiday trip to Grande Prairie.

I feel very sorry for the smallness of minds shown by a few Edsonites who don't realize the effort, loss of business time, and how these fellows are giving up three regular holidays and their families opportunity to be with them on a vacation, for the sake of publicizing Edson.

These fellows are facing unknown hardships and no doubt would like to be sitting at

OORP District meeting held in Edson

The annual District meeting of the Edson, Hinton and Jasper Lodges was held in Edson on Saturday, May 14 with the Ladies of Edson OORP acting as hostesses.

District Deputy Supreme Honored Royal Lady Jessie Turgeon presided over the session.

A turkey banquet was served at noon by the Ladies of Edson lodge.

During the afternoon session Five Edson ladies were initiated into the local lodge. A highlight of the meeting came when District Deputy Supreme Honored Royal Lady Turgeon presented Lady Hudson of Hinton with her 25 year pin.

Tea and lunch brought the day to a close before the Hinton and Jasper ladies left for their journey home.

Former Edsonite leaving Entwistle

Mr and Mrs Lloyd "Lefty" Leyden are leaving Entwistle after having a part of the community to our east for nearly 20 years.

Both Lloyd and Ruby are Edson born and raised and have maintained their Edson connection through the years Mrs. Leyden is the daughter of Mr and Mrs Palmer Olson of Edson.

Lloyd set up a garage and body shop at Entwistle after several years in the Edson Motor Co body shop here, where he was employed following service with the RCAF during the war.

The Leydens are moving to Yorkton, Sask., and were the guests of honor at several do's by the community at Entwistle prior to their departure.

They will be joining a number of other former Edsonites who already live at Pentiction

JHS Glee Club to appear on CFRN-TV

The members of the Jubilee Junior High School Glee Club have been quite busy this spring.

Following the hard work put in the Rumpelstiltskin operetta, the cast members were treated to a smorgasbord dinner and party at the Edson Motor Hotel. This event was sponsored by the Student Union, and took place on May 11

Operetta directors Frances Ciciarelli and William Lesterbeck, along with Principal A Jorgensen, enjoyed an evening of fun and feasting with the sixty students involved.

Pictures of the operetta were viewed and memories of rehearsals and performances were shared. The evening was completed with group singing and some solo performances on accordion guitar and mouthharp as well as vocal groups.

The Glee Club is hard at work preparing for a trip to Edmonton on Tuesday, May 24. The trip combines business with pleasure, as the group will be treated to a showing at the Queen Elizabeth Planetarium in the afternoon.

The evening hours will be spent at CFRN-TV studios taping a half-hour segment for the Kiddies on Camera show. The telecast will likely be shown sometime during the summer months. Songs from the popular "Sound of Music" will be presented by the Glee Club on this program.

Some watching it on TV like the rest of Canada.

Let's turn out on Saturday morning and give these fellows an arousing send off, as it has been shown in their hearts they are not thinking of themselves but setting up a good centennial project and also honoring the pioneers of our district.

Yours truly,
A Trek Supporter

Christian Reform Church observes important day

Last Sunday was a great occasion for the Christian Reformed Church. Mr. Daryl Wm Davidson of 8th Avenue Edson, was baptized into the fellowship. Also there were four young people who made profession of faith. This is to take a stand for Christ and against worldliness. They were Mrs D Davidson the former Elsie Van Gunst, Miss Tina Molenkamp, Mr. Hervie Van Beek, all of Edson, and Mr Lewis Elzinga of Peers.

There were also four child ren baptised, Marjorie, Carl and Daryl, children of Mr. and Mrs. Davidson and Pamela Anne, new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Praden.

This was indeed a great day at the church. Our joy even increased for on the same day the Rev J Van Hemert family received an addition to the family, a baby girl, Carolyn May, sister for Joy, James and Cynthia.

For all this we praise our God who is not only the Creator of the universe but who brings his people salvation from evil through Christ Jesus.

Miss Alice Elzinga, a missionary in Japan was in Edson last Thursday night to speak and show slides at the Christian Reformed Church. She is a sister to Mr. Andy Elzinga of Penn.

Miss Elzinga has been a missionary in Suriname from 1946 to 1960. She was a counselor, medical nurse and youth evangelist. For many years she was able to bring the good news of salvation to many people who did not know how to find God. In 1960 she had to return to Edmonton in recuperate from malaria and eclampsitis.

After a short rest she went to New Jersy to help rehabilitate Hungarian refugees. In 1962 Miss Elzinga went to Japan to teach Bible in a missionary childrens school in Tokyo. She was there for three years.

Presently Miss Elzinga is English teacher and chaplain in Yukiko, Japan, 80 miles from Tokyo. It is a private school for nearly 2000 girls where student's obtain a Christian training. The school has higher standards than the government schools. The academic level is kept high and then the training is to great demand.

After eight years absence Miss Elzinga could not help but observe the great difference in how young people dress and behave She thought that many young people dress very indecently. She also remarked on how ugly it looked to see these young people smoking and how boys and girls hang around one another's necks. She stressed that God gave so many gifts, and one of them was the ability to be decent and have respect for another, but above all for God.

CORRECTION

Two errors in the Hospital Auxiliary story carried in last week's Leader have been brought to our attention Both were inadvertent and if any confusion resulted please accept our apologies. One paragraph stated that "The patients at St. John's Hospital will be remembered on Pleasure Nightingale Day with presents". It should have read "the wee patients" as, naturally, enough adults would hardly expect to receive toys to help pass the time.

ADDITIONAL TRIBUTES

The following additional tributes have been received to the late Mr John Kutie Floral Jack and Jessie Garvie, Penny and Penny Allen, Lesley, spiel and family Mr and Mrs. Kurt Lampitz, other tributes Mr and Mrs Jack Weywitka

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to extend sincere thanks to our many friends for their kind acts, memorial tributes and messages of sympathy received in our bereavement. Special thanks to Dr Crawford and Dr. Brooks the Sisters and staff of St. John's Hospital, the pallbearers, neighbors and friends.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Mr Trueman Williamson who passed away on May 20th, 1965.

He is gone, but not forgotten
And as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near

Days of sadness will come over us,
Many think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That lies in the heart concealed.

Mahaska Hornets organize for 1966 ball season

The Mahaska Hornets held an organizational meeting at Sinclair Bank Post Office on May 8th.

The meeting saw Fred Gowan of Shining Bank and Ken Thomas of Edson switch every the positions for the coming season. Mr Gowan is now president of the club while ken is secretaress Maud Roberts was re-elected manager of the Hornets for the 7th year in a row

There is some doubt as to whether or not a local league can be organized for this season Mazibozo ball players say they will be unable to field a team, but Rosevear feels confident that they can round up enough players to form a league. With the cancellation of the NWHL this year there is fear that without a regular league to keep up interest that baseball in the area could receive a definite setback

Wanted 25 nurses with blisey experience — this ad earried in a recent Leader has really caught fire Apparenly an almost extinct associtom of the Bolton Hlstor Nurses Association that was formed during the last Jamnies ride over the Grande Prairie Trail in 1912 has been revived The eagerness of the older nurses has been really sparked as there profession took a back seat with the invention of the auto. In conversation with the head nurse it was pointed out that we shall look after the men like mothers or even grandmothers.

Don't blame the children

We read it in the paper and hear it on the air,
Of killing and stealing and crime everywhere
We sigh and we say as we face the trend,
This young generation, where will it end?

But can we be sure that it's their fault alone,
That maybe a part of it is our own?
Are we less guilty, who place in their way, too many things that lead them astray?

Too much money to spend, too much idle time,
Too many stories of passion and crime,
Too many books not fit to be read,
Too much evil in what they heed

Too many children entrusted to nurses
Too many parents who won't stay home
Kids don't make the movies and they don't write the books that paint gay pictures of gangsters and crooks

They don't peddle drugs that addle the brain
That's all done by older folk greedy for gain
Delinquent teenagers rib boys we condemn,
The sins of the nation we blame it on them

By the laws of the Manelev, the Saviour made known
Who is there among us to cast the first stone?
For in many cases, it's said and it's true,
The title "DELINQUENT" fits older folk too

Calling all former Mountain Park People

Harold Chapman our genial auctioneer has asked The Leader to send out a call to all Coal Branch people who used to live at Mountain Park Mr Chapman has arranged a meeting in the Edson Motor Hotel at 7:30 next Thursday, May 26th.

The purpose of the meeting will be to discuss the possibility of forming an organization to build a permanent fence around the cemetery at Mountain Park

As is well known the old bonnette has been bulldozed over, but the cemetery still remains on the hill However the old page wire fence around the cemetery is in bad shape and it is felt that a more permanent fence would be desirable

The loved ones of many a Coal Branch family have been interred in the cemetery and wild animals have been raiding harvor with the stones and the gravesides.

If you want knowledge you must toil for it; if food, you must toil for it; if pleasure, you must toil for it. Toil is the law.

Pleasure and toil go together if you saw the host and panel members of "Widely Open" Members Hazel Rykanus, Lorraine Lannigan, Linda Dixon, Emily Pollock Rita Monsma Esmee Maris, performed for many local and out of town residents. They presented their skit at the Chamber of Commerce Linda and for members taking part on Seminar Three under the direction of AHDA resource coordinators

New appointments in Department of Education

The Minister of Education Hon R. P. Mckinnon announces appointments affecting the Department of Education and the Universities Commission, which was created by the new Universities Act

Dr. W. H Swift will head the pool of Deputy Ministers and Associate Deputies as Chairman of the Commission. He will be succeeded as Deputy Minister by Dr. T. C. Byrne, then Superintendent of Schools, who in turn will be succeeded by Dr. R. E. Rees, director of Special Services

DR. W. H SWIFT

DR. T. C BYRNE

Dr Swift joined the Department of Education as an inspector of Schools in Athabasca, in the year 1936 and has subsequently served as a rural School instructor and provincial supervisor of Schools. He became Deputy Minister in 1946

He has been a member of Canada's delegation to several educational conferences in Europe on four occasions. He has been President of the Canadian Education Association and Chairman of the National Advisory Council on School Broadcasting.

In 1944 he became a member of the University Board of Governors, eventually as a vice-chairman of the Board, and has been a member of the Senate since 1946.

Throughout most of this time he has been a member of the Executive Committee and hence has an intimate knowledge of university affairs.

Dr Byrne became a superintendent of schools with the Department of Education in the year 1942, subsequently serving as both school inspector and Chief Superintendent of Schools. For a number of years he has been Chairman of the Board of Teacher Education and Certification and of the High School and University Matriculation Examinations Board. He has been a member of the Faculty of Arts and Science. At present Dr Byrne is in Europe where he represented Canada at a meeting of the Commission for UNESCO.

Dr. W. H Swift will be succeeded as Deputy Minister by Dr. T. C. Byrne, then Superintendent of Schools, who in turn will be succeeded by Dr. R. E. Rees, director of Special Services

Bruce Hogle on Park Policy

The recent visit to Edmonton of Northern Affairs Minister Laing coincides with an announcement this week that ratepayers associations in Jasper Banff and Waterton Lakes are to be invited to appear before the Commons Northern Affairs Committee. They, a spokesman for Arthur Laing's department, Bruce Patrick, will be asked to give views on the new parks' policy on leaseholds.

Basically, under the revised setup at the expiration of new leases, all land and buildings will revert automatically to the Crown. And the government's new policy confines all those who mind or want to live in the parks to the three already overcrowded centres of Jasper, Banff and Waterton Lakes.

I'm not particularly dazzled by the fact the Commons Northern Affairs Committee will listen to the views of disgruntled Albertans on the new parks policy on leaseholds. Why? Because I think that Committee will only pay lip service to the representations and have absolutely no intention whatsoever of changing their present parks policy which is certainly not meant for the vast majority of Canadians.

crossing will take place on Sunday evening, May 22nd. Upon crossing the river, the trekkers will rendezvous with the outfitting firm of John Ostashek of Bruin, Alberta, and commence the second phase of their journey Monday morning.

Prior to this meeting, the wranglers Joe Groat and Chuck Wright will have trailed 25 horses from Beale to the North Athabasca River Crossing. Under their direction, the seven Kinsmen will proceed the remaining 100 miles to Grande Prairie.

From the Athabasca River to Sturgeon Lake which is located 50 miles east of Grande Prairie the group will be travelling through complete wilderness. Even today there is no evidence of civilization along this portion of the route.

The original hardships which faced settlers such as crossing the Berland and Little Smoky Rivers, and trekking through portions of muskeg will be faced by the expedition too, and to mention other dangers such as grizzly bear, timber wolves and rustlers that lurk in this vast area

The donated use of mosquito repellent will probably be greatly appreciated during this phase of the trip.

It is also hoped that Tom Matley, who is the illustrator of the Provincial Museum of Archives, will accompany the trekkers from Edson to G.P.

The following is a brief summary of each of the seven Kinsmen trekkers.

Dick (Tumbleweed) Topott is 26 years old married and wife Simone is a Kinette. They have three children. Tumbleweed was born in Lloydminster, Sask. Tumbleweed transferred from Vermilion to Edson in 1956 and is the owner manager of Stedman's in Edson.

Robert (Jingo) Joy was born in Caldonia and is 26 years old. His wife's name is Emily Ann. He is a licensed mortician (which may help on the Trail) but is presently employed with Hudson's Bay Oil and Gas in Edson as a field operator.

Tom (Bushman) Grant, age 31 is married and wife Rosa is the Kinette Editor. They have three children. Bushman Grant was born in Edson, and is self employed as owner manager of Grant's Men's Wear and Shoes.

Mel (Sagebrush) Soltys was born in Hines Creek, Alberta and is 25 years old. He is married and wife Liz teaches school in Edson. Sagebrush is a junior partner in the insurance firm of Pattinson in partnership with Ed Pattinson.

Nino (Cardito) Chiesa, age 43, born in Italy, is the only member to make this trip who is a K-40. Nino is married and he and his wife Jean have three children. Nino is the manager of Bag-rite Foods in Edson.

Tom (Bushman) Brown was born in Calgary, and is 30 years old. He and his wife Barbara have three children. Bushman Brown is self employed as a welder with his own business known as Tom's Welding.

Lorne (Knobby) Kroetch says that he is 29 and some months old. As yet he is single. Born in Stroome, Alberta, he graduated from U of A in 1952. Lorne is a partner in the law firm of Calonio and Kroetch.

Kinsmen poet composes words to fit the deed

With preparation for the Kinsmen Edson G.P. Trek get ing underway, Lorne Kroetch put his musical talent to work and came up with new words to a few familiar tunes. Quite a number of local residents have had the occasion to hear the Kinsmen Quartet give out with these songs on different occasions.

Others will hear them tonight when they attend the send off banquet in the Legion Hall. The words to the two songs follow.

MEN OF EDSON
Tune of "WHEN OF MARLEIGH"

Men of Edson in the saddle
Here they come with horse and paddle
To ride again the historic tra ol,
Edson to Grande Prairie
Through muskeg and wild river
In every kind of weather
Those hardy men of yester year,
Never ever thought of failure
Edson and our Centennial needs us,
We will go if you will feed us
Onward let our history lead us,
Edson to Grande Prairie

EDSON-GRANDE PRAIRIE BLUES, Tune of "JAMAICA FAREWELL"

In 1910 when men were men,
And the drive was on to the great north west,
To Edson they came through snow and rain,
To travel north were the land was best
REFRAIN repeat after every stanza
And we're glad to say
That we're on our way
To retrace the steps from an other day.
When the road was long and the men were strong
And they travelled north to Grande Prairie Town
Mosquitos and Black flies fill ed the air
And the river and creek did overflow
The mud was deep with no place to sleep
But forth they went these men land to win
We salute the past and those hardy men
In riding that long tough trail again
Without their sweat they lost and tears
We would not have enjoyed our prosperous years

Many local horse owners help with Kinsmen Trek

When the Edson Grande Prairie Trekkers depart Saturday morning for the Athabasca River Crossing on the first phase of their trip, they will be riding 14 horses donated to them by people from Edson and the surrounding district. Without their co-operation, the Trek would have been impossible.

Some of the donators are shown above but those who were not available for pictures are listed below.

Bill Smith, who operates a farm six miles west of Edson has supplied three horses and transported one of the horses from 25 miles north east of town to the Edson-Grande Prairie Trek Headquarters on the north eastern outskirts of Edson.

A horse was trucked in from the farm of Gerald Anderson of Medicine Lodge, while Paul Burkholz, who operates Burkholz Morgan Horse Ranch approximately 10 miles north of Marlboro, offered one of his registered Morgan horses. These Morgan horses are a very popular breed, especially in the United States, and are known for their stamina and gentleness.

Other horses were donated by Del Black, Dan Sarin and Dale Anderson of Edson.

Thanks to the efforts of Grant Chapman and Jerry Bull man the majority of these fourteen horses have been trucked in by horse trailer the horses are now located at the Edson-Grande Prairie Trek Headquarters where they are being taken care of and ridden by the trekkers.

A special note of appreciation to Dale Anderson of Anderson Trucking who has made his barn and corrals available to the Kinsmen.

A Hearty Thanks from the Kinsmen Club of Edson.

Wes C. Mattie to make Edson GP Trek

Mr W. C. Mattie, Historical Site officer of the Provincial Museum and Archives Branch of the Alberta government will be making the trip with the Kinsmen of Edson to Grande Prairie.

National and Provincial interest has been shown towards this trek through the wider news and the Alberta government have felt the trip was sufficient merit to be rewarded with the historic branch.

Mr Mattie will be inspecting sketches to the actual old fur post that will depict the new museum planned for Edson too in the near future.

COMMENTS FROM "DOWN UNDER" ON OUR WESTERN WAY OF LIFE

Wm A Switzer, Esq., MLA Alberta Legislative Assembly, Edmonton, Alberta Canada Dear Bill,

I recently wrote a letter to the Editor of the Edmonton Journal giving some comments about your way of life in Western Canada

Unfortunately the Editor saw fit to censor the letter and in consequence of losing much of its "punch" I was particularly anxious to discover what the leaders of thought and opinion in Western Canada propose to do about the approaching super affluent society.

One gets the impression that in Western Canada today, the whole machine is going into a "power dive" and you will be through the "super affluent society barrier" could engender some extreme formidable problems and I am just wondering how much thought is presently being devoted to this possibility

I had hoped, with the publication of this letter, to get some Canadians "deemed up" about this matter

Yours sincerely,
Allen

Enclosed Copy of the letter to the Editor, Edmonton Journal

Hi,

May I, as a recent visitor to Edmonton put forward some comments on your province and city and on your way of life as seen through the eyes of one who lives in a country so different and far away

I have, over the last seven year, often visited Western Canada but always in summer These trips have been full of interest and enjoyment for me This recent winter stay, whilst enjoyable, was an very different from the other ones

The great contrasts between summer living and winter life in a hillside ranch country means that you in fact, live a two part life of summer and such a living and the way you have adjusted yourselves to it provides a very interesting study for the observant visitor

Naturally the things that you do and put up with that are difficult to understand One would have supposed that due to the very long and severe winter, which favors you to spend a lot of time in your homes, the standard of television entertainment would have been high This is not the case and, in fact, I would say that the standard could hardly be worse almost as poor as that in the U S A., which is generally reckoned to be the lowest.

One would have thought that the Canadian Broadcasting System would not, in an affluent country such as yours, have to resort to advertising as a means of supplementing its revenue It is obvious that you Canadians could easily afford for the national channels to put over the highest quality, if expensive, entertainment especially during the winter months This high standard would in turn, tend to force the commercial channels to upgrade their programmes.

I noticed with concern the very high percentage of violence portrayed on the television and the effect this must have on the children and young people

I read with interest the Provincial Government's budget for the coming year The wealth of your province is truly nothing short of miraculous and must surely make you fantastically anyway, amongst the luckiest people in the world Wath such wealth flowing directly into Governmental coffers one wonders why the general taxation level is, in fact, as high as it is

On the matter of the City of Edmonton, I see the incredible "modern" building rises even higher, huge blocks of concrete "filing cabinets" and it seems that architects throughout the world have developed one track minds with regard to this type of city architecture and one wonders when something a little more enlightening will emerge Certainly this architectural era will never be lumbered by history as a "golden age"

By no standards could Edmonton be called a beautiful city, or at any rate, nothing like as beautiful as its growth rate and pattern of wealth warrants

The spectacular river flow ing through the city seems to form no part of the scheme of things, and is treated as far as one is able to see as nuisance value only and reason for the provision of ugly bridges.

Here unfavourably this treatment of a river compares with the many European cities that these rivers, for instance the Rhine and the Danube

As for residential suburbs the rows of very frequently looking but I understand by no means low incomes, with long rows of ugly power poles, make for a dreary picture and all this could have been so much better if even the small elementary town planned and landscaping art had been followed

A letter such as this would not be complete without some reference to people

The high standard basic population stock, Anglo Saxon and European, of Western Canada is in many ways somewhat similar to that of Australia and New Zealand and I have always the development of such stock as two different universes.

We in Southern Australia enjoy a pleasant sunny climate with virtually no winter and this tends to make the Aussie relaxes an out door living people Australian youth is without equal anywhere

The hot climate, however, does have its faults and, in fact, people in Australia do tend to age rather quickly, and women in particular often allow their complexions to suffer and develop a sense of illude to living

In Canada the situation is somewhat reversed Your youth, on the whole do not impress with their vigour or dynamism, I do not include the ice hockey players

Canadian women of more mature age, however, generally have very good complexions and dress stylishly and are all together of an impressively high standard

As for Canadian men all too many show signs of the effects of the comfortable and the expense account

There has in the two Western Canadian Provinces of Alberta and British Columbia been another a set of rather unique circumstances where a high standard of population stock, comparatively few in number are occupying, considerable territory, which is clearly rich in resources

Such circumstances could result in the great Scientific and Technological era now before us, has all the makings necessary for the emergence of a great civilization.

There is in the world at the present time, only about one other place where such an emergence is forthcoming This is in South East of course the conditions are in their different

In five to ten years Australia may be to the position in which you presently find yourself

Obviously, Western Canada is in the vanguard of a new moral change of the first magnitude During the next decade or so how you manage this change will be of great general interest Certainly the eyes of the world will be upon you

THEY WERE STRAGGLING AT BIT as they went up Main Street, but Edson's Trekkers took off with something of the spirit of pioneer determination that motivated the original Grande Prairie overlanders in 1911 and 12. Everyone felt for them as the weather turned cold, but as we go to press the weather is fine and the prospects for a fine journey are good. The progress this afternoon (Wednesday) was about 60 miles along on their 240 mile trek.

Our Alberta Heritage

GREAT NORTHWEST PIONEER VILLAGE

See how one man recaptured the spirit of Alberta's pioneer past.

The Great Northwest Pioneer Village is more than a museum — it is a monument to the pride one man has in our Alberta heritage. That man is Earl Danard, son of a pioneer family. He has assembled a fascinating collection of thousands of relics and artifacts, housed in twenty-five original pioneer buildings. Mr. Danard's unique collection includes antique cars and engines, cutters and buggies, the first Indian school (built on the Winterburn Reserve by Rev. A. B. Baird in 1863), and an authentic Greek Orthodox chapel that accommodates just two worshippers.

This living historical village represents a tremendous outlay of interest, time and effort in creating a unique tribute to the pioneer history of our Alberta.

Take your family out to visit the Great Northwest Pioneer Village soon. It's located just twenty-three miles west of Edmonton on Highway 16.

WHEN THE CNR TOOL SHED OFFICE burned last Tuesday just at supper time there were almost as many spectators as if it had been in the middle of town. Being out of reach of a hydrant the town Fire Chief Bill Cash called on the West Edson (Glenwood) tank truck which lost no time in arriving on the scene. Here firemen chop holes in the roof to get at the stubborn insulation fire.

—Leslie Perry

Two alarm fire brings out both fire Departments

Edson had a two alarm fire on Tuesday, May 17, just at the supper hour when someone turned in an alarm that the CNR tool shed office south of the tracks was on fire.

With no hydrants within close distance the department had to rely on the 800 gallons of water that the tank holds. The fire had a start and was burning in the shaving insulation. While the tank went back to the nearest hydrant for a refill the firemen and bystanders got most of the tools and equipment out of the burning building and one just adjoining.

Fire Chief Bill Cash had town Const. Dave McIlveen phone for the Glenwood fire truck on the mobile police car phone and within a matter of minutes West Edson Chief Doug Markley, his truck and part of the crew were on hand with their 800 gallon tank.

There was no hope of saving the building, but the fire crew was then able to alternate the trucks, one away load ing while the other was at the scene, and the fire was kept to one building.

The buildings are located on the CNR property and at one time, when Edson was a divisional Point the CN fire crew would have put it out.

Monday afternoon May 16, a shack near Yellowhead Wrld ing burned down when it ran ght fire from flames scatter ing unheeded from burning garbage.

Mr William Pitcher, a pioneer of the Haddock district, passed away on May 11th, in Edson.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. A. H. Woods of Saskatoon, Sask.; nieces: Mrs. Mae Terry of Vista, California, Mrs. Claire Craig of Sandusky, Michigan; a great niece, Miss Dorothy Gorman of Regina, Sask.; nephews: Bruce Waddell of Calgary, Arden Waddell of the Queen Charlotte Islands, Maxwell Lauen by and Dr. Fred Lazenby of Toronto, Cicero Pitcher of Sandusky Michigan.

He first arrived in the district in the spring of 1914 and took up a homestead which he farmed for 37 years until his retirement in 1951.

He was born in Brant County, Ontario on November 15th 1876, the youngest of a family of 13. When he was very young the family moved to Sandusky, Michigan After completing school he began to work in the lumber industry as a lumberjack, timber scaler and on the river runs of Saginaw also.

He built and furnished a house and was soon to be married when his bride to be contacted a fever and died. Bill remained a bachelor for the rest of his life.

He began employment as a section foreman for the Soo Line Railroad in Hibbing, Minnesota, he later worked as a policeman in the same town. Rumors of development in Alberta induced Bill to come back to Canada and to the Haddock district.

The area was without a school building and Bill put his knowledge of timber to good use, cutting logs and helping to erect Pella School. He helped in every way possible with work and cash in the establishment of the Community Cemetery at Mahana, and probably helped to dig most graves than any other resident in the area.

He was in great demand at the local dances as a square dance caller and at concerts, where he entertained with recitations and monologues.

For the past 15 years he has resided in a small house near the Haddock Post Office except for the past 6 months which he has spent at the Parkland Lodge in Edson.

The funeral service was held in the Pella United Church at 2 p.m., May 14th. Many friends gathered to pay final tribute to their well loved neighbor of more than 50 years. Rev. MacPherson of Edson conducted the service.

Interment took place in the Shining Bank Cemetery.

Floral tributes were received from: Loving Families, Waddell Families, The Haddocks, Chris and Pearl Neil son and Mr. Shand Mr. and Mrs. James Rush; Residents and Staff of Parkland Lodge; Bert and Daisy; Mrs. Milner and Family; Ann, Doug and Family; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Johnston; Irene and Fred Mannin and Family; Mr. and Mrs. Bob Neale, Bobby and Lorne; Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hebbelinck and Family.

Edson Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Edson's traffic safety record up to 1630 days

It may seem amazing but Chief of Police John MacDonald has pointed out that there has been no fatal accident in the town limits for a total of 1630 days.

The day this figure was totalled to was Friday, May 20 prior to the first long weekend of spring.

The Chief has shown great concern in keeping this record up as the traffic passing through Edson is growing consistently over the years which is including the increase of children on bicycles, scooters and horses.

The goal is set for a five year start which falls on December 1, 1966, so drive carefully.

DIE MEMORIAMS

In loving memory of our dearly beloved Mother, Anna Paschak, who passed away on May 21st, 1964.

Parting comes and hearts are broken
Loved ones go with words unspoken
Life goes on we know that true
But never the same since we lost you.

Ever remembered and sadly missed by her loving daughters Donna and Pearl.

Edson and Coal Branch not in the "pink"

All the talk about a possible heavy water plant on the Coal Branch reached Edson Council at their regular meeting last Tuesday

Under the terms of the Area Development Incentive Act a district must be colored pink on the Federal Government's map and be called a "designated area." This qualifies any industry coming into the area for a five million dollar subsidy plus certain tax concessions.

The Town Council in conjunction with Edson Chamber of Commerce are working through a committee to see if such a change can be made to facilitate in dustry in the district.

Present were Mayor W R Brunelle, Councillors B Dis otte, M A Cullin, A Gadd ziuk, R Kuzdor, M D Meade and P W Wells with town offi cials in attendance

By motion of the Board a letter is to be forwarded to the delegation informing them of the Board's decision on centralization and when enrolment projections can be more accurately assessed, the matter would be open, for reconsideration. Should any other development occur, the matter could be reconsidered at any time the Board felt.

The Wildwood delegation consisted of Mesdames W. Williamson, J Adams, J Bleyho, A Reehl and G Pinner

Present at the meeting were Trustees A L. Pisanik, J H Lawton, G Mossma, H Karnish, A W. Leonard, Superintendent of Schools, A. P Shiels, Assistant Superintendents, F Burrah and J P. Marshall, Superintendent of Works, P E. O'Hare and Secretary Treasurer, D E Blundell

Breathing hard? booklet explains

Do you climb slowly flights of steps that you used to do at a run? Have you had your self wishing some of your friends would walk less briskly so that it would be easier to keep up with them? Have you given up tennis or golf ball because it made you puff too hard for comfort? Do colds seem to be more frequent?

If this sort of thing is hap pening to you you have a lot of company in fact you have so much company that the Canadian Tuberculosis Asso ciation and its branches are distributing a booklet with advice on what you can do about shortness of breath. The booklet is not about tuberculosis it is about breathing difficulties, as the title, Your Breathing Troubles, states.

Tuberculosis associations are interested in healthy lungs for which reason they have a stake in the prevention and treatment of all respiratory disease. They are all too well aware that in the last few years some chest diseases have increased alarmingly. There is four times as much em physema, for example as there was ten year ago, and a very disabling disease it is.

Asthma, bronchitis and em physema the most common causes of breathing difficul ties, are discussed in this new booklet and there are practi cal suggestions for those who want to improve the situation while improvement is possible or keep discomfort from be coming more acute if it is too late for improvement.

The booklet is available free from your Tuberculosis Asso ciation as a Christmas Seal ser vice.

Alta. station to participate in shock and blast tests

Mr Edward J Bobyn Chief Superintendent of Suffield Experimental Station, has announced that the Station will participate in a series of six shock and blast experiments this summer and next winter. Two will employ detonable gases in large balloons for purposes of comparison with the solid TNT charges used in the past. He stressed that, because the experiments involve chemical explosions only, "radioactive fallout cannot possibly develop."

Defence Research Board, few pounds to 500 tons. The scientists will be working closely with British and US services exhibits. Both countries have participated jointly with DRB in past years in a continuous shock and blast research program. These experiments have involved the detonation of non-nuclear chemical charges varying in size from a

The detonation of 50 tons of TNT in a forested area will highlight this summer's program in an experiment near Hinton, Alberta about August 30. Troop and vehicle mobility, vision and other effects will be investigated in detail teams representing Canada Britain and the U.S.A., with Canadian and a small number of British troops participating.

Prior to detonation of the hemispherical surface charge individual trees on the ground area and associated area will be measured for trunk diameter and height. These position the amount of defoliation and other effects will be carefully assessed and studied after the charge is exploded. Weapons, pits and items of military equipment will be exposed at on at varying distances from ground zero.

Post detonation studies will provide valuable information about troop and vehicle mobility, vision and other effects bearing on military operations following detonations in heavily forested areas. The NRC contribution in this particular experiment will take the form mainly of logistic support.

The over all objectives of experiments, as in the past will be to study fundamental air blasts, ground shock, the ejecta thrown up about the craters, and the ability of military equipment to withstand the shock of the blast.

A new technique exploding combinations of gases to achieve effects similar to those created by detonation chemical charges is an important development objective of the series.

Methane or Propane gases, combined with oxygen, are contained in balloons of varying diameters at ground zero. When detonated electrically, the effects are expected to parallel those resulting from the explosion of chemical charges such as TNT. If effective results are achieved, detonable gas technique may prove a more economical, easier to handle method for producing controlled explosions.

In addition to the air blast and the ground shock studies and their effects on the military equipment, test results will be extrapolated to provide comparative data for the study of past nuclear explosions.

The first of this year's series, a 20 ton TNT charge mounted on a tower, is scheduled for detonation on July 12 at NSS. The remainder, apart from that planned next winter will be exploded at intervals during the summer

HINTON

A SUMMER HOLIDAY TRIP to New York City is in the offing for Jerome Kristoff who won first place in the finals of the United Nations Speaking Contest at Jasper on May 7th. Sandra Hamilton of Hinton placed second in the competition and Connie Switzer of Edson placed third. The annual competition is sponsored in this lodge district by the Oddfellow and Rebekah Lodges. With neither of those lodges having been formed in Hinton the Kiwanis club takes participants under their collective wing and coaches them in public speaking, etc. Their coaching has paid off and Hinton youth has represented this area on the New York trip four times out of about the last six years.

A trans-Atlantic crossing in an Air Canada plane was featured by a fire in one engine. There was the making of a panic until the blaze was extinguished. The stewardess mentioned to one 80 year old woman passenger that she was the calmest of them all.

The old lady answered briskly, "At my age I am living on borrowed time, and I am taking this trip on borrowed money, so I figured I did not have much to lose."

A HIGHLIGHT of the Anglican Ladies Rural Deanery meeting last Wednesday in Edson, was the presentation of a life membership pin and certicate to Mrs. J. Ball. Mrs. L. D. Moore of Edmonton, at left, Diocesan president, made the presentation to an astounded Mrs. Ball who had no idea of the honor that was to be conferred upon her. Mrs. Ball has been a member of the Anglican WA since 1916 and a member of the Edson Afternoon Group since 1945.

Confederation Caravan includes Edson in tour

Eight huge caravans, each compound of eight 72 foot truck and trailer units, will tour Canada in 1967, taking the story of Canada to the people of Canada inside the trailers, exhibits, diagrams and pictures will trace the history of Canada's exploration, exploitation and development from the time before the coming of the white man to the present day.

Centennial Caravan No. 7 will visit the Yukon, the North west Territories and the Yukon in 1967, entering the province at Hilk River on May 1st and leaving from Drumheller on November 2nd.

During its tour, the Caravan will travel 8,630 miles, and will make 95 exhibit stops. All sites have been surveyed, and recommendations for improvement made where necessary. In 1966 a resurvey will be conducted at which time, in addition to checking the sites, arrangements will be made for billeting and virtualling for caravan staff members.

In addition to the internal exhibits, there will be regional exhibits arranged outside the caravan, to be viewed by persons waiting to enter.

A staging area will also be provided and the Chief of the Trans and Caravans Division of the National Centennial Committee, Mr. L. J. Maudet has expressed the hope that this area will be used to present local talent of a nature suitable to the occasion. Folk singing, dancing, pageants, plays or musical presentations would enhance the exhibit and other local celebrations participating in the commemoration of Canada's Centennial of Confederation may be planned to coincide with the Caravan's visit.

Of interest to the area the caravan will be in Edson June 5th, 1967, in Hinton on June 20th, in Evansburg July 1st and in Whitecourt July 9th.

Further information pertaining to the caravan or other Centennial events planned for 1967 may be obtained by contacting Mr. J. H. D. Fraser, Centennial Coordinator for Alberta 421 Legislature Building, Edmonton.

Graduation night hayride goes over big

Anyone who saw the over loaded hay rack proceeding west through the traffic lights last Thursday evening and feeling that the weight of more than forty enthusiastic young people might have wondered what was going on

The excitement was caused by a graduation hay ride and wiener roast sponsored by the High School Bible Club The affair which was originally planned for thirty was attended by about 45 Hence the groaning vehicle

Besides the hot dogs and other assorted goodies there were games, skits, a sing a long, and finally a good word by Pastor Shewalter It seemed that all in attendance had a good time and that the majority hoped that it would become an annual affair

Credit for the success of the party must go to the student committees who did the spade work and the organization

Thanks also goes to Pastor Shewalter for the use of his hay rack and tractor, as well as other adults who stayed up until well past their bedtime to attend and parties pate in the party.

Cold weather fails to dampen Scout Camporee

About 60 Boy Scouts and 10 leaders braved the cold wea ther at the weekend to take part in the annual Yellowhead District Camporee The camp saree was held up the Coal Branch this year and six miles south of the 47th Tie Camp on the 47th River

It was a gloomy looking morning last Saturday to start the camporee, but youthful spirits were high as prepara tions were made The Vale mount Scouts and their Scout Master came by train and were met at the station by a school bus already partially loaded with Edson Scouts Hinton and Jasper Scouts came by car

Apparently there was quite a difference in the weather out in the camporee area In stead of a drizzling rain which most areas were getting, the weather at the camp area al ternated between warm sun shine and squalls of hail like snow that actually left the camp quite dry and comfort able

Among the highlights of the weekend was the marksman ship competition which was held under the supervision of members of the Edson Fish & Game Assoc and Gun Club.

The 1st Hinton Troop won the tiptoinii Shield this year for the best campsite The Valemount boys won the water boiling contest for starting a fire and boiling their can of water on a rail The Edson boys won the obstacle race in which they traveled over swinging bridges and various terrains

Awards were presented Mon day about mid-morning thru ramp was broken up and the Scouts were on their way to their homes

Next year the Camporee will be hosted silver by the Jasper Scout Association and will be held in the Jasper area.

Now living in Edmonton

Mr and Mrs. Sid Bridges have moved to Edmonton after more than 30 years as resi dents of Edson and are mak ing their home in the Senior Citizens residence sponsored by the Lions in Calder district

They have two children, a daughter, Mrs Harvey Leech in Edmonton and a son Sid ney Jr in B C

Mr Bridges was employed by the CNR and on his retire ment had serve for a number of years as car foreman

A long time member of the Masonic Lodge Mr Bridges was called on by many long time lodge friends prior to his departure rather than a formal going away 'do

Friends will miss seeing them at their home on the corner of 7th Avenue and 51st Street.

Local congregation meets north country minister

Thursday night, after the Ascension Day Service the people of the Christian Reformed Church had the privilege to see and hear Mr and Mrs. Henry Vlok who work in the rugged north about 50 miles north west of Grande Prairie These people originally are from the metropolitan Toronto area Now their scenery has changed considerably for win ters of 50 degrees below zero springs with deep, soggy mud roads and summers with hoome standers in the usual

This couple who have four children, live in Rayrroft and work on the Blueberry Mountain Fourth Creek area In less than a year Mr Vlok put 20 000 miles on his car so the distances here are really insignificant

Well, what does these people do up there in such an un der developed area far from city life? They are sent out by the Christian Reformed Church to the homesteaders We are rather comfortable here in a town with many churches, but these people do not have these luxuries

The good news, comfort and encouragement is brought to them by personal visits, young people's meeting in Blueberry Mountain church services in Fourth Creek and Bible classes in Sanlare Mr Vlok also con ducts some worship services in Grande Prairie and Sanlare

This work as Mr Vlok indicates is by no means easy but it goes to show that once a per son knows the power of God's word and the love of God for sinners what can be done so that others too may have joy and salvation

Pre schoolers at 2.30 p.m

Beginners at 6 p.m

Registration sheets will be distributed through the schools or may be obtained from the pool

Red Cross classes will begin with the July schedule

SWIM T SWIMMING

There was a fair response to last week's article concerning adult swimming The ma jority seemed to favor Thurs day evenings Consequently every Thursday evening from 7 to 9 p.m. will be set aside for adults only Providing of course that the adults take ad vantage of this time)

During these two hours a person may receive beginners instruction or advanced in struction in Red Cross Junior Intermediate or Senior awards or just swim on their own This program will begin on Thursday, June 2nd Let's have a good turnout

Adults are of course wel come every evening of the week

Taking a lake side holiday this summer?

Take these precautions:

1 If your shoreline has an uneven bottom mark of the shallow, safe part with floats or markers

2 Be able to clear off your dock area when you can't su pervise it An accident doesn't take to long to happen

3 Have a rope or ringbuoy and a paddle within eas reach on a dock to assist a tired swimmer Even a shirt or towel, a pole or branch can save a life

4 Have a life jacket for every non-swimmer and extra ones for non swimming guests

A good life jacket is a sound investment

5 Teach the Resetse Breath ing Method of artificial respir ation to every responsible member of the family, and stick an instruction sheet on your boat house as a remind er.

Make these rules in your fam ily:

1 Older children should check in and out with a pa rent before going off to swim

2 Do not permit swimming at night, unless the water area is well lighted and completely familiar to each swimmer

3 Do not permit any mem ber of the family to water skis without wearing a life jacket It is a fast sport, and accidents can happen before a boat has a chance to get back

Always remember:

Never leave small children alone on a dock or beach

2 Keep out of and off of water during an electrical storm water is a good con ductor of electricity

3 If children play with pla tic toys, be in the water with them and don't let them get out of your reach A gust of wind can send them out into deep water in no time

4 If the boat capsizes, hang on

5 The time for sleepy, re laxed sun bathing is when the children are safely in the cot tage having a rest, not play ing on the dock

It's weird, but Fred Aston was rather peeved last week to think he'd actually been just to a parking ticket. This is one case that may go all the way to Supreme Court as First explains not being a taxpayer anymore consideration should be shown to the fact visits of Ukrainoddians.

Good thing it was a big one. Last week B-D Whitnell, well known local salesman entered the yard of a prospective new home subscriber in this town. Talking about odd job was a big collie dog that had an eye on Bob's pantaloons. tommy He left quite a rush claims Bob.

Tumbleweed Tumbles.

The conditioning exercises the Edson Girl trekkers took recently in leaving were fantastic. Tam bleweed Dick Tippett really took his name to heart so one evening during the training period. I am sure he left th cinch on the saddle horse as he could fall off, just to be tough or keep up with Jacqui Joy and Debbie Chinea.

Edson Rodeo to be spectacular affair

The admission price may be less but the show will be one of the best, claims Chairman Jim Griffiths in talking about Edson's big two day rodeo at the end of July.

Miss Dominion of Canada has created a contest of ex. element among the members as to which one will be the most appropriate chaperone

The parade is also shaping up into one of the best as four bands have been confirmed for the Friday and five bands for the Saturday with 30 teams of the Dayland Pony Clubs to appear in the parade as well

The Klondike Stage and Posse will add to the Saturday parade with many local entries already showing their interest

The Edmonton Motorcycle Club will be in the parade with a few gymnastics, but their main shows will be at the grounds each evening with their fire jumps, rolling of cars and ramming of the out houses.

Chariot racing will high light the night show as the Dayland Ponies will compete for their yearly record.

The usual big dances will be held on the Thursday, July 28 and Friday, July 29, featuring the famous Rodgers Brothers with hopes of holding the dances in the new arena.

The extra seating capacity of 2500 will give more booth space for industrial exhibits and the space has been put on a first come, first serve basis, with a few already spoken for.

Considerable attention has been given to the children and more rides will be set up for the two days of July 28 and 30, Edson Rodeo Days

Act now before it's too late says speaker

Let us act now to preserve the fish life in our streams and lakes before it is too late, pointed out Mr Gordon Hargoo, biologist of the Alberta Fish and Wildlife Department, at the last meeting of the Edson Chamber of Commerce meeting held in the Bison Motor Hotel.

Through the use of slides, Mr. Haugen made his point very clear as he drew the attention of the group to stream beds that had been bulldozed for roads, the sides of streams also cut away hindering the natural invironment of the trout and other fish

Films indicated oil slicks on streams which kills insects and vegetation on which the fish live.

In speaking to the chamber members he stressed the importance of the tourist industry to our area and the important role the wildlife care could mean to this industry

Mr. Belyea introduced the speaker expressing the hopes of his department, the ARDA Resources Branch, that Mr Haugen would be transferred to the Bison office as his position would be such an important factor in our district

President Jack Hook thanked the speaker for his very informative speech and slides.

Mr Wm Mills, of the industrial department committee spoke on the meetings of the heavy water plant and expressed concern that our area was not cleared in the pink zone which would entice industry to give more consideration to the Edson and Coal Branch district

Mr Boyden Mahon, chairman of the Edson Centennial committee, outlined the membership of the new group and asked the support of the Chamber to help make Canada's 100th birthday a big affair

Trekkers trip to GP well in hand

Information has been gathered on the Edson Grande Prairie Trekkers by a variety of ways and means with the happier side of the information sifting through about Monday afternoon as some of the wives received phone calls giving the latest details.

The Leader photographers Miss Carol Ahlf flew into Tony Tower landing strip with Dr. Crawford and Bart Kuefler last Thursday and was able to catch some first hand information of the trekkers experience.

As the paper was going to press the group were ahead of schedule and in good survival condition and resting about 40 miles from their destination.

Chamber of Commerce President Jack Hook and Mr Bart Kuefler drove to meet the group last Friday travelling via Valleyview to spend the day with them

These reports indicate the fellows are in good spirits and they have taken on the appearance and language of true bushmen There have been no casualties other than the loss of one horse It was not reported how the mare died

Trekkers who made the trip are Gussling Christ, Limping Grant, Tumbling Tupnet, Jumping Joe, bumping bailys, Krouner Kruetch Baither Brown and Weisward Mettie

A delegation will be leaving Edson on Thursday to be in Grande Prairie to meet and greet the boys who will be interviewed by Weekend Magazine, radio and television

The group have been under the guidance of the Mettie Hot Springs Pony Tours owned by Mr Johnny Instanbek

The Master award is presented annually to the Alberta hunter whose trophy places highest in the Boone and Crockett records.

MIM

T-DAY IS COMING!

T-DAY? WHAT'S THAT MEAN?

T stands for Tourism. It's Alberta's third largest industry.

HOW LARGE IS "THIRD LARGEST"

$165,000,000 a year, that's how large.

WHO BENEFITS?

You do!

WHO, ME? I DON'T SELL ANYTHING TO TOURISTS!

That's what you think now. But look at it this way. The money that tourists bring into Alberta is found money. It wouldn't come into the province without them. But it gets here, the money changes hands many times. Every tourist dollar is part of your paycheque — no matter who you are.

SO—WHAT AM I SUPPOSED TO DO ABOUT IT?

Put yourself in the tourist's place. He's here to enjoy himself. He's on holiday and he wants to have fun. It could be he isn't enjoying it as much as he'd like. You have a reputation to live up to as a friendly Albertan — so be friendly.

Be helpful, too. A guy can get lost and bewildered when he's far from home and doesn't know which streets are one-way, doesn't know where to get a parking spot, doesn't know what he ought to see or where to find it. Help him. Size up an awful information about your town area so that you can pass it along.

Be courteous. People expand like flowers in the sunshine when met by courtesy. Little things like saying "Thank you" and wishing them a good holiday. You'll find it makes your own day no better, too. Try it!

HOW DO I KNOW WHO'S A TOURIST AND WHO ISN'T?

You don't. So be friendly, helpful and courteous to everybody. What can you lose?

WHEN IS T-DAY?

Any minute now. Better get ready. Clean up and paint up around your community. First impressions last a long time and first impressions are all that most tourists ever get.

ALBERTA GOVERNMENT TRAVEL BUREAU

Annoucing vocational Bible School at Evergreen

The Evergreen School is the place to spend July 18 - 30 in Vacation Bible School this year.

The Edson Mennonite Church is laying plans to accommodate any children in Edson and nearby districts from age 3½ through grade 8 (this year) who desires to attend a ten day session of religious education.

The Bible-centered Herald Press materials will be used again this year. Teachers will be provided from points in Alberta to supplement those available locally.

Your help is needed as assistants to the teachers of the lower grades, by providing snacks for the pre-schoolers each day, and by helping with transportation from outlying areas. Volunteer your help-fulness to whoever calls at your door to enroll your children.

Plans call for one school to convene from 9:00 to 11:30 a.m. and another school from 2:30 to 5:00 p.m. Students may choose which school to attend. Bus service will be provided from Grande Prairie Trail and Glenwood.

Pre-registration is to begin soon. A representative will call on the homes of Glenwood, Grande Prairie Trail and Edson (west of main street) with sample materials and further information. If you live east of main street you may enroll by calling 723-3762 as soon as possible.

There is no registration fee. The actual cost of materials and transportation is about $1.50 per pupil toward which you may contribute if you wish. (This is inexpensive even for baby-sitting!) No one is to refrain from attending because they do not have a contribution to make.

This Bible School effort over the past 10 years has grown until last year's enrolment amounted to 340 pupils. This year's accommodations are a fine improvement over previous years and the prospects are good for an even better school this year.

Pastor Ehrwalter says, "Thank you in advance for your helpfulness and co-operation."

Edson Kin proxy running for D.D.G.

Members of the Kinsmen Club of Edson left this week to attend district 4 Convention being held in Grande Prairie on June 2, 3, and 4, 1966 Delegates from all Alberta Kinsmen Clubs will also be present. Seven Kinsmen are expected to arrive via horseback over the Edson Grande Prairie Trail. These hardy souls left Edson on May 31st.

Governor Grey Fisher of Grande Prairie and his executive will study Kinsmen affairs in this area over the past year, discuss plans and formulate policy for the future. One of the highlights of the Convention will be the election of a Governor to succeed Governor Fisher.

The three day convention will enable delegates to exchange service ideas, discuss expansion, hear how other clubs raise money for service work, and to plan Kin activities for the coming year.

The Association of Kinsmen Clubs, made up of some 13,000 members in more than 400 clubs has in five months raised $175,000 for the building of the National Kinsmen Institute on Mental Retardation. The $350,000 multi-use will be built in Toronto by 1970, completion

Rosevear News

The sympathy of the district is extended to Mr. Sam Klut and family on their recent bereavement. Mr. and Mrs. Klut were long time residents of this district prior to moving to Edson last fall.

Erwin Maurer Jr is now working at Jasper.

Mrs. E. Fabrion returned home on Saturday from Banff where she attended a five day Conference on Human Resources Development.

A shower was held at the North Rosevear Hall on May 20th for Miss Diane Dilnich with approximately 70 guests in attendance. Several games were played after which the bride to be was seated at a gaily decorated table piled with gifts. Dianne was assisted in opening the gifts by the groom, her twin sisters and cousin.

After opening the presents Dianne thanked everyone for all the lovely gifts. To bring the evening to a close a lovely lunch was served by the hostesses Mrs Seibel Sr. Mrs. Seibel Jr., Mrs Reehner and Mrs. Tunke.

Getting out the paper

If we print jokes people say we're silly. If we don't we are too serious. If we stick close in the desk all day we ought to be out getting news. If we don't print contributions we don't appreciate genius. If we print them our paper is full of junk. If we make a change in the other fellows write up we're too critical. If we don't we're asleep. If we clip things from other papers we're too lazy to write them ourselves. If we don't we are too stuck on stuff. Now like as not some guy will say we swiped this from some other paper — well, we did!

THE JASPER PANTHERS, Winners of the $300.00 first prize in the Jasper Elks Sports Weekend.

Weatherman fails to cooperate at Jasper

Though planned and billed as a three day event, the weatherman refused to co-operate which made it necessary to run off all the events of the Jasper Sports Days on Sunday and Monday. Sunday found the ball clubs which had been drawn to play on Saturday get away to a start at 9:30 a.m sharp. This was followed by games at 12:00 p.m , 2:30 p.m. and 5:00 p.m.

The first game between Gadsden and Edson found Golden Tie winners 11-6

The second game saw Jasper come out the winners over Obed on Valley by a score of 18-1. In the third game Hoyle stroke topped the Edmonton City Police 5-4. The fourth and final game of the day saw the Edmonton Weiller Williams Colts beat St. Paul 8-1

Though there were less boats than usual entered in the parade this year those that did enter were really outstanding. The proof of this was when one of the judges was heard to remark that he wished there had a prize to give everyone of them.

Winners for the floats were 1st Silver Blades, 2nd Order of The Royal Purple; 3rd the Cubs.

Following the Queen ceremonies it was back to base ball, with the first playoff between Jasper and Edson this game was won by Jasper by a score of 10-4 The second game saw the Weiller William Colts win over Revelstoke 8 to 3.

The final game of the tournament found the Jasper Panthers pitted against the Colts This was a real thriller to watch as can be seen by the final score of 4-3 in Jaspers favour.

The Jasper Elks wish to take this opportunity of thanking all those who helped in any way during the weekend to make it a success, at least for the spectators.

As far as the Elks are concerned this will be the second year in a row that they have taken a financial loss on account of weather conditions However as it now the activities starting to prepare for next years weekend still begin here and better

THANK YOU NOTE

I would like to thank all my friends and neighbors especially all the doctors and hospital staff for their thoughtfulness during my recent illness

C of C Highway Caravan to Loos set for June 5

At the regular meeting of the McBride and District Chamber of Commerce plans for the "Missing Link" Caravan were finalized. It was decided to hold this Caravan on June 5th on the old Loos School Grounds. There will be fun for young and old. Pop and ice cream will be sold. It is expected that those attending take their own lunch.

For the day's entertainment Mr. R. G. Williston, will be the guest speaker and in the afternoon there will be unveiling of a historical plaque. This plaque will be moved west with each Caravan. A very optimistic member felt that the next unveiling of the plaque would be in Prince George, and that this Caravan may be the last on this historic road before completion of Highway 16 to Prince George.

Brochures to advertise this event were sent out to Prince George, Valemount, Dunster, Crescent Spur, Dome Creek, Edson, Jasper and the Chambers of Commerce in Kamloops, Birch Island, Barriere and Edmonton. The Kamloops TV station will carry advertising regarding the Caravan.

Will the person or persons who removed the paint and grass seed from a green GM 1ton truck that was parked at MacLeods Friday of last week, kindly return the gentlemen goods with kindness. The paint will make a beautiful green fence around the lawn. If we remember rightly there was enough seed to sow 300 sq ft of lawn — and take it from us — it grows beautifully.

Spent a nice hour shift in Edson last weekend and enjoyed a visit with several of our neighbors. Among them were Gladys and John Metcalf, Sid and Ed Smith, Leona Rowley Alta Forbes, Lois Ellis, Alice Forbes, Irene Baw, Myrtle Hemault, Irene Gupow, Fred and Nida Peters

Learned from the Smiths that Leonard is coming along nicely, Allen Forbes visited a chiropractor and evidently got to the root of his illness that had kept him off the job for a week, Gladys was feeling not to well and anticipated a stay in hospital, Leona tells us Bruce is well on the way to recovery from the last of a series of operations. Saw Mrs. D Radcliffe and Mrs. B Radcliffe, Chantal told us Bob is coming along fine

THIS ISN'T the biggest cheque in amount that Mr. Stanley Hopple, vice president of the Alberta Council for Crippled Children and Adults is accepting from Fund Drive chairman Bill Ashmead, but it is the biggest in size. The Edson Lions went over the top of their campaign quota, one of the first four sponsoring clubs in northern Alberta to achieve their goal. Mr. Hopple asked that a duplicate of the huge cheque be made so that it could be framed and hung on the wall at Council headquarters. The cheque was for $809.29.

A man you lean on in a lonely hour

What makes it lonely is not just the suddenness, the sense of loss, the grief. It is also the bewilderment, the strangeness, the wondering what to do.

Your own need then . . . at once . . . is someone to lean on. Someone who can replace confusion with calm, doubts with certainty, questions with answers. Your own need then . . . is someone who knows what to do . . . and goes about doing it quietly, gently, sympathetically, with efficiency and dignity.

This is what your funeral director has been trained by education, apprenticeship and experience to be . . . and to do. This is his mission. To be an island of calm. To counsel. To reassure.

His experience and understanding make it easy for you to make the decisions you alone must make about the type of service, where it will be held. He puts at your disposal the facilities of the funeral home and takes care of an almost unbelievable multitude of necessary details.

But beyond all the necessary physical things he does, what the family invariably remembers and treasures most is that here, in their lonely hour, was a man they could lean on, depend on.

There is such a man in your community. Possibly a number of them. You undoubtedly know them. They are good citizens, good neighbors. Men who take pride in their profession and their practice of it. Just as you consult your attorney and your doctor in advance of the need, wouldn't it be equally wise to choose and establish an equally reassuring relationship with your funeral director?

Pontiac Parisienne Custom Sport Convertible with Sports Option

The only thing that says "low price" about Pontiac is its price tag... and that's removable.

It would be easy for a guy like you to get excited about a new Parisienne convertible, wouldn't it? Breezy, full sized styling. Rich interiors. The car has success written all over it. Sure, you'd like to own a Pontiac. But if you're like a lot of people we know, you maybe figure that Pontiac is just too good to be true. You figure it costs a lot of money. Of course we can tell you all kinds of nice things about Pontiac; how well it's built, how much you deserve one, but the nicer we make the car sound, the more expensive you think it is. The only way we can get around this is to invite you in to have a look at the price tag. It's maybe not quite as colorful as the car, but it's liable to turn you on just the same. People forget (and who can blame them), but Pontiac is not an expensive car! And that's not just talk. We can offer you the kind of a deal that could put you behind the wheel of your own new Pontiac this week. A guy like you could really go places in a Pontiac if there's any better way to get there, we can't think of it. And an easier way, we're sure there isn't. So drop in and get acquainted with all our price tags. You'll know us right away. Just look for one of the names listed below. Be seeing you.

Centennial Report

1867 1967

by JOHN W FISHER
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

What small town or city in Canada has not been served, at some time in its history, by a Chinese restaurant or a Chinese laundry? Our communities have been built by the contributions of many cultures and it occurs to me that has often the contributions of the Chin

In earlier times the Chinese provided the backbone of labor for railroad building They were the cooks in mines and lumber camps Gradually they developed small businesses and provided services to communities which few others were prepared or able to offer They still do that today and scores of small communities would have no public eating places if it were not for Canadians of Chinese extraction Also they provide a cultural addition to our cities with their glamorous and interesting modern "chinatowns".

These contributions I have mentioned are some of the more noticeable ones Chinese Canadians today are active as well as most other areas of modern society in the arts the professions or business even in politics For example Mr Dyer Wing recently became the first Chinese Canadian to be elected mayor of a Canadian city, at Kamloops B.C.

The people of Vernon B.C. are quite aware of the contribution the Chinese have made in the development of their community What has made them more aware recently is an offer by the Chinese community of Vernon to build a tea house as a centennial project in the city park Walter Lee spokesman for the Chinese community Freemasons and Bard Town Club told the city council that some of the oldtimers wanted to build the tea house as a reminder of the new and old cultures

I can agree heartily with the Vernon News which commented in one of its editorials, Chinese Canadians should be solicited on their desire to play a part in celebrating the 100th anniversary of B.C. and Canada In this way their part in the building of a nation, which we tend to over look, can receive the recognition it deserves

The first Chinese arrived at Vernon 80 to 90 years ago and the community reached 200 people around the time of the First World War The News states that they went to Vernon in force with the building of the railroad and earlier some took part in the Cherry Creek gold rush They served to provide the labor needed to operate canneries and the agricultural industry It was mental labor because they lacked the education and knowledge of the language to get better jobs

But the Chinese established themselves as hard workers and good citizens Many became prosperous businessmen and played a significant role in the community's development I might add that when we the Chinese were allowed to bring our families to Canada, they strove to give their children higher education

It is easy to see that the Centennial is not only an occasion of celebrations It is a time when we are reminded that Canadians of all backgrounds have developed this country and that we cannot afford to think that any group of us can be self sufficient in isolation I believe that the Centennial projects the best ones being conducted on a national scale and the small ones like the Vernon tea house will remind us that Canadians originated from societies and cultures all over the world and will increase our understanding of each other's way of life and point of view

Percy Wells tops 'Court golf tourney

Edson golfer Percy Wells, Reg Gerlitz and Jim White represented the Edson Golf Club at the annual two day May 24th Golf Tournament at Whitecourt over the long weekend

The final of the champion ship flight was an all Edson affair which saw Percy Wells claim the trophy after an extremely well played and hard fought match with power hitting Reg Gerlitz. To reach the final Reg ousted Whitecourt's pride the very capable golf trooper in extra holes while Percy eliminated Ed Borsuk the much improved Barrhead southpaw.

The tournament attracted about 75 golfers and while no rain fell during the two days the cold weather and hard gales made for extremely interesting golf shots

No Back Talk!

BY PASTOR SHOWALTER

An obsession of our world is finding the unified cause, the most beautiful girl, the girl next mansion

To single out the number one is having claims upon the second millions unnoticed That probably included you and me What can we do about it

We could pine away in envy

We could sink into disconsolement and despair

It would be pretty low to stoop to try in some unfair way to bring down the champ but it has been done

A favorite reaction to not just in life seems to be complain When we do we should be well aware of what complaining really means

If envy solves any problems but only focuses our limited strength futilely upon our weaknesses We end up the worse for the war in this escapism

This negative approach to life will rob us of happiness we are in fact capable of enjoying

Complaint can drift into accusation against the Creator and result in rebellion and blasphemy The tree should not care if its wood is used for furniture or for fence posts The peasant does not object whether made into straw or sewer pipe

Neither should man talk back to God "O man, who art thou replied against God" Shall the thing formed say to him that formed it, Why hast thou made me thus" Romans 9 20

Red Cross active on several local fronts

A meeting of the Local Red ross Group was held at the home of Mrs Dorothy Kendall with seven members present The meeting was opened by chairman Mr Royden Mahon — Mahon asked for reports from the four committees.

First report was made by Mrs Helen Aspedet, chairman of the Nurses Chapter, who looked after the last Blood Clinic held in Edson 348 donors were received with 13 rejects. This was an increase over last year, but not near enough for the population of the community Organizations were asked for a donation of $1 to cover meal and lunch served. The following organizations donated as follows: Nurses Chapter, Kinsmen, Kinettes, Lions, Anglican Ladies Afternoon and Evening Groups, Lady Lions, Oddfellows, U.C.W. Hospital Auxiliary, Baptist Church, Masons, Eastern Star, Elks and Royal Purple. This was very successful.

It was moved by Mrs. W. Wilson that Mrs. Aspedet's report be passed seconded by Mrs. H. Bodner, Mrs. Mahon moved a vote of thanks for the Nurses Chapter on their splendid effort to make the blood clinic so successful.

Second report was given by Mr. Mahon, as Mr. Bolton chairman of the Campaign committee was not present Mr. Mahon stated Mr Bolton had done a very efficient job of organizing and canvassing the town for funds for four years. A vote of thanks was given by the members to Mr Bolton for his efforts.

Mrs Switzer moved that Mrs Margie Wilson be chairman seconded by Mrs E. Wilson Mrs. M Wilson has spent many hours pressing and gathering clothes for people who needed them.

She had contacted all ministers of the church and many volunteers from all churches who were most willing to help. Anyone in need of clothing should contact Margie Wilson or her committee.

The problem now is finding a suitable place to put used clothing Margie said her committee would wrap up bundles of clothing in all sizes. She stated the basement of the Treasury Branch offered shelves for storing but room was needed to sort and package.

Before the next meeting Mrs Wilson will have a list of names of people who are on her committee. Please phone Margie if anyone has any used clothing they want to dispose of.

Around Parkland Lodge

Business as usual around the Lodge. Some of our guests have gone to take up abode elsewhere for the summer months, or permanently also where Mr. K. McDonald has returned to Jasper, Mr. C Otis to McBride, and Mr. A. Gryg wood to Isobel, we hope to see them back next fall. Mr. F. J. Hanson has gone to a nursing home and Mr. W. B. Hall well to Southern Alberta.

We regret the death of Mr. Wm. Pitcher, but are grateful for the sick ones who have been in the hospital, but have now returned to us. Mrs. J. McLaren is still in hospital

Those who celebrated birth days this month are: Mrs. M. Woolston, Mr J. Jess, Mr. J. Kappes, Mr. J. Rusile and Mr J Mclaren. Mr. McLaren has been blessed with 86 years of life.

The guests of the Lodge had the pleasure of having the Melrose Jesters perform for them, under the leadership of Miss E Collin Many of us looked on with envious eyes wishing we were young again, as they went through the drills with accuracy and harmony.

Guests and Matron of the Lodge enjoyed a bus ride due to the kindness of Mr. Affleck One of his drivers, Mr Sawatsky, took us for a jaunt on the highway stopping at a Camp Site on our return for a picnic supper. This little time outdoors was a real tonic to all of us. We all extend our deepest appreciation to Mr Affleck for his generosity.

Bingo with the Lions was the order for Friday night, the last one in every month as usual This Friday's winners were Mrs K Ashmead, Mr I Ehren, Mrs G Wills, Mr J Graham, Mr J McKay, Mr J Jess, Mr C Otis, Mr T Watson, Mrs M Rumball, Mr G Swenson. A tasty lunch was served to all after the game and WESTERN WEEKLY SUPPLEMENT

Centennial Committee getting the feel of things

The local Centennial Committee has been having weekly meetings in order to get affairs going before the break when summer holidays will interrupt action. Several projects have been proposed which seem to have much merit. The next step is to have some of the organizations in town take on these jobs and carry them through.

At this time one of the biggest jobs in sight seems to be arranging the shows to be done on the stage of the Centennial Caravan during its stay in Edson. For those who have not heard of the Caravan here is a brief look at its make-up and purpose.

Trains and motor caravans carrying the story of Canada from the earliest arrivals, up through the fur traders, the pioneer settlers, Confederation in its first hundred years, and prospects for the future development of our country have been prepared, and will travel all across the dominion during 1967.

We will have a caravan in Edson and during the stay a stage will be in use on which local groups will perform to entertain those waiting to go in admittance to the vans. This is for the entire district and it is hoped that any group which feels it can offer some lively entertainment, of from a few minutes up to an hour (!) get their act prepared and make it known to the organizers.

Some of the things that are hoped for are, music by old and young, performances by Ethnic groups of the songs and dances of their forebearers in the older countries, short skits or plays or what have you. As far as we have learned there is only one restriction, that is on bands whose noise would prove distracting to those speaking inside the caravans.

Dust off your dancing shoes, get yourself a partner, and round up a square dance, barbershop quartet, or minstrel act. Our district is full of talent and this is their chance to do their stuff. Once again we would like to emphasize that we hope the surrounding towns and rurals districts, who will be coming to Edson to see the caravan, will get in the act and help the show along.

Another suggested project is the compiling of a history of the Edson district. This is something that should be undertaken while many of the oldtimers are still with us to give their first hand accounts of those early days.

Another project about which statement later is the sponsor we will make a more definite ing of a local young person who shows a great deal of talent.

When your organization meets ask, "Are we the ones for this job?" If the answer is yes, roll up your sleeves and get with it! If you don't feel like undertaking a big job look around your neighborhood and decide if your own property or that of your neighbors could do with a bit of fore lifting. It's amazing what a bit of rake does on the elder 'girls' on how about trying it out on the older chicks.

We may not be the biggest town in Alberta, or the best at blowing our own horn, but we are darn sure we can be the biggest at being the best in our own class middle weight or light heavy weight. Are you in training and ready to throw your hat in the ring?

Sportarama attracts outstanding ball teams

Some of the top baseball teams in the area have been attracted to Edson's big Sportarama Days set for July 1, 2 and 3.

According to the Edson Orioles manager Ron McNiven the following teams will be in attendance: Blue Willow Angels, Devon Skylarks, Barrhead, Drayton Valley, Jasper, MacKay, Calmar and the Edson Orioles.

Fastball for the mens and ladies tournaments are still being accepted.

Boat race chairman Andre Lalonde has been busy plotting out the starting spots for the various events and signs, maps will be available for the entrants. The race will be held on July 3rd with the finishing line being at the Mcleod River Bridge 7 miles east of Edson on Highway 16.

While the boats races are progressing the gymkhana events will be run off and the concessions with the barbeques will be going full blast.

All entry forms may be picked up at the 16 Lane Bowl or by writing to Ben T. Edson

Edson Scouts spend chilly time on rock

Two Edson boys Gregg Gold ... and Gary Ahlf ... had a chilly two hours stranded on a rock in the middle of the McLeod River last Sunday evening before being rescued.

The boys, members of a pa... Edson Rover Crew, along with three other Crew members Allan Bonnesoth, Terry Cassell and Jim Kerkwich were almost at the end of ... an all day hot trip down the McLeod when the incident occured that left them parboiled chilly and cramped on their upturned boat.

The boys had been driven to the Vital Branch road to River Bridge where they launched their two boats at 8:30 Sunday morning with journeys end to be at Beach Water just after take off time there a few shedding moments and made it necessary to stop and empty the water from their boats.

They arrived at the Big Eddy without further incident by 10:45 where they stopped for lunch. Below Big Eddy they found the going little slower and had to row quite a bit of the time. They ran into fast water just below the Scout camp south of Edson around Mahon Island at the mouth of Moose Creek and again about a mile above it briefly where the accident occurred.

Some family had been waiting for the boys where the river follows the boundary of the Ahlf farm. Just at 6 p.m. thinking they had missed the newcomers they had just left the river when they heard boats and hurried back to see. Gregg and Doug clinging to their capsized craft.

The rope in very swift water and the other boat hard raced by about six feet from the huge submerged rock. The second boat was caught sideways and swept onto the rock where the force of the swiftly flowing water pinned it, opening the seam in the bottom.

The water there was about six feet deep and flowing with great force. The boys decided to swim ashore, but were advised not to by shouted advice.

The other Rovers beached their craft and began making plans with those on shore as to how the boys could be rescued. About this time Scout Master Jim Oliver, who had been waiting at Chickenlike began to wonder what could be taking them so long and drove up the old highway to investigate. Scout Master Allan Cox as well also arrived to see what was going on.

Mr. Oliver immediately hurried down town for 200 feet of ½ in. rope and back to the Ahlf side of the river where a few attempts were made to throw the rope out to the boys.

Finally the other boat was dragged to the top of the rapids and launched with Mr Oliver as solitary oarsman and one end of the rope attached. The first attempt failed as the drag of the current on the rope pulled the boat to shore and short of the boys. On the second attempt a rescue Mr Oliver just made it and anchored his boat on the capsized one while the boys were transferred and taken a shore.

The rescue was completed at 8 p.m., the boys were fed and cramped from their two hour stay, but felt better after a change of clothing and supper at the Ahlf farm. They had spent most of the time on the rock singing, but admitted that the swirling water had them dizzy at times.

The trip was a warm up for a longer river trip to White court which the boys hope to take as a test in the Duke of Edinburgh Gold Medal program for the Rover Crews. They aren't quite as enthusiastic now about the White court trip as they had been

Employers urged to consider students as summer staff

An appeal to employers on behalf of students seeking summer work was made today by W. C. Stewart of Winnipeg, director of the National Employment Service in the Prairie Region.

While most of the University graduates have already been placed in employment, Mr Stewart said many undergraduates remain available a long with high school students in a large number who are registered at National Employment offices across the province and he called on employers to try to fit a student into their summer hiring program.

"We are doing everything possible to find summer jobs for these eager young people who will be available in a few weeks time," the NES director pointed out. With more student applicants enrolled at National Employment Offices than ever before, the task is being described as "a great one."

"Many of these students need money in order to return to university or to finish their high school course and go on to university or some form of training," said Mr Stewart.

"Just as important as the money, however, is the need for young people to gain experience in the world of work" he stated, adding that summer employment would also make the student more valuable to the employer upon graduation.

Describing young people as "this nation's number one resource," Mr Stewart noted that the employer had the opportunity to help mould the young person for the demanding role he must undertake in the future. "All the resources needed for the nation's economic well being and advancement, its human resources, take the longest leadtime to become effective. For it takes 20 or more years for a child to grow into a mature and useful adult and a competent member of the labour force," he stated.

Mr Stewart reminded employers that selection of applicants is made by experienced employment officers and that "energetic and adaptable students" often provide the solution to the employer staff vacation requirements.

C.E. Camping Program has successful season

An estimated 1100 campers were involved in the five Presbytery camps — Camp Agape, Muskeg-on, Moonlight Bay, Long Island Lake and Sunrise Lake — this past summer. Presbyterians gathered from preschoolers and senior citizens to find and share with each other the joys of camping.

A great deal of gratitude is expressed to over 100 leaders, ministers and lay persons who offered their services in the camping programs and a note to these people that the success of the summer camp activities can be attributed.

In the Edmonton Presbytery camps the program of study worship service and play is continued as a part of the church's program of Christian Education but with a new dimension. Here under Christian leadership the principles of Christian faith and practice are put to the test 24 hours of the day.

For a ten day period, camp life encases the whole person, in all his activities and in a wide range of activities. This is true of both leader and camper alike. A community setting of this type makes demands on a person. It challenges him to accept increasing Christian responsibilities.

As well as offering a challenge for Christian responsibility and offering opportunities for Christian growth the camp programs are designed to teach youth new skills or interpersonal relationships and in the physical areas of crafts, swimming, canoeing and outdoor living.

The Christian Education program at the majority of the camps followed the Bible Study material from general Council, while several used study material and object suggestions from the Variation Bible Study brochures. Presbytery Camp swim tests were introduced this year to coincide those already being offered by the Red Cross. These elementary awards have been designed to encourage the novice swimmer to participate in the water front programs. Over 45th of those awards were presented to campers this past season.

In the more senior camps a canoe course and canoe trips were held for the second year. The highlight of this program is a trip down the McLeod River for the boys at the Beth school camp held at Surprise Lake during the latter part of August. Plans are now being had to offer a senior outpost and canoe tripping camp for campers from each of the Presbytery camps in the fall season.

Leader-type training sessions were held in the spring for all camps the largest being a four day camp at Surprise Lake early in July.

To most the volunteer leaders in various program specialty areas four girls and two boys were hired by Presbytery and rotated among the camps.

SUMMARY

At the Presbytery Camp Conference held during the first week of October in Edmonton all camps reported a successful 1965 season and work is already underway on program and camp improvements for the coming summer.

Interested persons and leaders are needed for active participation on the camp board committees and to assist in camp director and counsellor areas in the year ahead. Persons wishing to volunteer their services, or those wanting more information are asked to contact the camp Coordinator Mr R. Langmaid at 482-2504. Films covering the camps are available on request as well as persons to address groups to outline the camping programs and needs for the 66 season.

CAPITAL REPORT

COMMITTEE STARTS SCHOOL CENTRALIZATION STUDY

BY JOHN WARREN

It was sort of an odds and ends week.

Lands and Forests department crews were getting prepared for some serious fires in most northern forest areas. After bringing an 18 hand red arre blaze under control in the Peace River forest district a crew of 80 men four bulldozers and aerial support pulled out last not too far. The hazard in all but the mountain regions was rated high as the week ended.

Then there was the first meeting of the legislative committee appointed at the last session to study school reorganization.

There can be little question that this needs study. The problem of inadequate education in some rural schools compared to that provided in large centralized high schools, in some remote areas, of poor of small or weak school boards, transportation in others, and of attracting teachers to non urban areas) are serious if not alarming.

Just what the committee will discover and recommend remains to be seen. But smoke chairman Romeo Lamothe (Grouard-Lesser Slave) says it will be unsolved only be kept hopping.

On the same general subject a judicial order in Spirit River emphasized just how severe the difficulties can become. Votes there were defeated (by 377 to 353) a money by-law that would have permitted construction of a $1,230,00 regional high school. That was on March 28 last week Judge D. M. Gardiner assailed the plebiscite after hearing that some people who cast ballots weren't entitled to.

Added the judge, "This matter appears to arise in regard to a very defective statute. The School Act he said leaves the whole situation open to misunderstanding and error."

He said he was satisfied that a proper vote had not been taken. It isn't known when another plebiscite may be held.

The tourist people last week finished off their annual pre-mortuary pitch for the summer season.

This year they are campaigning to get store clerks service station attendants and gas plaza people to be courteous to tourists. They point out that the travelling public spent about $165,000,000 in Alberta last year and should drop even more of the green stuff this season.

Hospitality pays off in tips and increased business, they point out. One of the things that is most important is to have information available to give to inquisitive tourists. Like who is the Governor of Alberta and how come you don't speak French.

The labor department is also involved in some interesting studies on such things as the availability of and demand for various types of workers part ularly tradesmen.

In the course of the study they interviewed dozens of major businesses on their plans for the future.

While no statistical information has been translated into a meaningful picture yet all that one fact emerged. Government officials were encouraged to learn that most large industries expect the present economic and building boom to continue for several years yet and are planning their expansion accordingly.

The labor department is also involved in studies on specific areas of job employment and low income.

Along with the ARDA studies of depressed areas and the work being done with Indian and Metis self help programs we may yet see the day when everybody in the province is participating in and benefitting from an unprecedented boom.

Surprise celebration marks silver wedding

BY M. FRITH

Friends and relatives gather ed from far and near on Sun day May 15th to honor Mr and Mrs. Kolbjon Fosheim on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary.

The couple returned from church to find their home full of guests. Their best man Mr Sigurd Fosheim, and bridesmaid, Mrs Walter Ha tight escorted them from the car to the strains of the wed ding march, played by Mrs Frances Hilton on the same piano as she had played for their wedding 25 years ago.

Maddy and Keith, as every one calls them, looking every bit as happy, and almost as young as on that day long ago, greeted everyone at the reception before being led in to the beautiful large new liv ing room, where dinner was served to the 75 guests. The bride's table was centred with a three tiered wedding cake made by the sister of the bride and iced by Mrs. R Frith who iced the original cake 25 years ago. It was flanked by vases of flowers.

During dinner time was tak en out to sing. Happy Birth day to Mrs J. Fosheim mo ther of the groom who was celebrating her 80th birthday. Mrs. Fosheim was presented with a large birthday cake which was served at the din ner also a lovely purse and gloves for her trip to Norway.

For her special day the bride wore an A line dress of pink and bonded lace trimmed with the tucked or ganza and lace hat front that was on her original wedding dress, and large accessories. Her corsage was of deep pink carnations.

In the afternoon and even ing many friends called to join in the festivities.

The happy couple received a wealth of beautiful gifts which included a total of all ter from the immediate fam ily, a tri light pole lamp, an occasional chair and uphols tered stool; plus many other individual gifts.

In the evening Mr Erling Fosheim showed some very interesting and beautiful slid es and movies.

Mr. and Mrs. Kolb Fosheim were married at the bride's home in Voice on June 10th 1941, and moved immediately to the groom's farm in the same district Mrs Fosheim is the former Maddy Perkins. A few years later they bought and moved their buildings to the old Drape homestead at the cross roads, half a mile west, where they have lived ever since, and where the wel come mat is always out.

TV films of trekkers didn't turn out

Mr Jack Hoek, President of the Edson Chamber of Com merce received a new letter from Bruce Hoyle, News and Public Affairs Manager of CFCN explaining the sit uation of not having complete film coverage on the Edson Grande Prairie Trek.

The Snow-mix Broadcasting company had supplied 11 trekkers with 800 feet of fil for the trek But due to some technical difficulty with the camera the film turned out over exposed on some sce nes and under exposed on others.

The members of the trek kers have expressed their ap preciation for the assistance given by CFRN and feel well repaid as it has contributed greatly to the promotion of Edson and District.

EDSON LOCAL

Mr and Mrs Joe Cimmons from San Angelo, Texas, USA, spent the past two weeks at the homes of Morley and Dan Johnston and Mrs Fae Brown also relatives at Whitecourt. Mrs. Brown accompanied them on their trip back to the States.

THE 2ND EDSON BROWNIE PACK had a special pre-xmas prepar ed on May 31st when they invited their mothers to tea. To their disappointment there were only a few mothers that showed up, but The Leader camera showed up and took a picture of the girls and their leaders. At The Pool

BY BARRY GOYTS

Many people withstood the cool air temperatures last week to take a dip in the 80 degree water Preschool class es held every week day at 2 p.m attracted several mo thers and their children.

There were more than 300 registrations for beginner class es which are conducted from 6 to 8 every day during the week and 9 to 11 on Saturday mornings. Other children could still be fitted in if they missed registration due to il ness or some other reason.

Swim classes are well under way with the Juniors meeting on Tuesday and Thursday at 6 p.m and the Seniors meet ing on Monday and Friday at 6 p.m. It will be necessary to have a meeting of the Swim Club executive in the near fu ture.

Some interest has been in dicated in a Scuba and skin Diving Club If there is more interest shown then we shall set aside some time for this interesting sport.

Red Cross Junior, Intermedi ate and Senior classes will be conducted once during July and then again in August for the benefit of those taking holidays. Registration will be held at the end of June.

ADULT SWIMMING

Thirty eight adults took advantage of the adult swim ming on last Thursday night this incidentally was more than have used the pool in the last month. The group has broken into three parts Beginners, who want to learn to swim and learn to swim

Advanced who know how to swim but want to improve and learn new strokes and life saving techniques.

—Swimmers who want to have a relaxing swim without little monsters hopping on them.

These classes will be held every Thursday night at 9 p.m and all adults are urged to attend and take advantage of the public service which you yourself are providing.

WATER SAFETY

Same drownings occurred for many deaths during the sum mer months it is important that everyone learn how to conduct himself in or near water Everyone should learn how to swim but even the ex pert should remember that a poor swimmer who stays close to shore is in less danger than the good swimmer who ven tures out too far

Attitude is important It is desirable to have confidence in your ability, but it is foo lish to ignore good water safe ty rules. The Canadian Red Cross water safety program re commends that boaters, such as those should be followed:

1 Do not swim alone Have a responsible adult with you who knows the water in which you are going to swim.

2 Learn several strokes such as the crawl and the breast stroke Learn how to tread water

3 Stay out of the water for two hours after a big meal Late morning and late after noon are the best times to sw swim Avoid midday swims as rays are into the water during rough weather or thunder storms.

4 One half hour should be the maximum length of a swimming period This could be a little shorter or longer or shorter depending on the water temperature

5 Know your water abouts weather conditions, currents, undertows your areas and how to help your body adjust to the temperature

6 If you swim in large groups, choose a "buddy"

7 Wade out and swim t wards shore or parallel to the shore, away from the shore

8 Swim with a current or with the wind Remember a cur will tire you quickly.

9 Do not push or dunk someone

10 Avoid areas where there are weeds if possible but if you do become caught in them use the breast stroke

11 Non swimmers should not ... water, tobacco or other drugs

12 If a boat overturns ... side safety rules on in it ... the rest A side approach makes it roll

13 In case of difficulty do not panic Tread water and call for help.

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE ED COLLIN — are the parents of a very enterprising family. Besides their five sons, all in business in Edson, they have two married daughters who live elsewhere. Mr. and Mrs. Collin came to the Ed on district from New Westminster, B.C., in 1928. Mr. Collin originally came from England while his wife is a "down Easterner", coming from Nova Scotia. Mr. Collin is an un-selfconscious entertainer and his music with piano, fiddle, the banjo, a musical saw or vocal have been a big part of local doings for many years. The Collin family as a whole take an active part in almost anything that is for the betterment of the whole community. Mr and Mrs. Collin are also blessed with numerous grandchildren.

G. E. (George) COLLIN left Edson to serve in the Canadian Army in the last war, part of which time was spent overseas. On his return to Canada George was employed for 18 years as a field accountant with Commonwealth Construction Co. Ltd. in Winnipeg, Man., and Port Arthur, Ontario. He has now returned home where he worked with brothers Slim and Bill in the grocery store until the opening in May of Collin's Allied Hardware.

MacGUIRE L. (Mac) COLLIN — the second brother actively taking part in Collins Allied Hardware, also served with the Canadian Armed Forces, choosing the Royal Canadian Air Force. Following this he spent 18 years as a painting and construction contractor also operating a retail hardware and hobby shop in Peace River for the past 15 years. A rock hound and lapidarist Mac plans to include lapidary and hobby supplies in the hardware as well as picture framing. His hobby is tape recording.

MERTON (Slim) COLLIN also served on the RCAF during World War II. Coming back to Edson he worked for a time on the CNR before going into business in the Candy Store with sister Elaine. This led to the Highway Grocery on 6th Avenue and eventually to the enlarged Collin Grocery Co. Ltd. on Main Street. Active in community affairs, Slim is a member of the Town Council and the local School Board. A local pivot in the Surprise Lake Church Camp, Slim spends many evenings and weekends seeing that things are operating efficiently at the camp.

What makes Edson so wonderful?

Mr. George Ed Collin had the answer to this in no uncertain term.

Following the arrival of the pioneer Collin family, Edson made their home in the Edson district for about 40 years and why they decided that this was the place to bring up their children and establish business here.

"We have thanks that we have in such a beautiful, sportsman's paradise.

"We try to help others to enjoy life here. Organizations work for better things for all.

"We have a vast area of natural resources.

"We have the best water, in large scientific pool to drink and no chemicals or minerals harmful to the machines.

"Edson is a good place to live. Our winters are not too harsh and in summer the air is not foul. We have very little wind no extremes.

"We are glad we have lived here since 1928 and hope that we shall continue to make our homes in this wonderful part of Alberta"

WILLIAM A. (Bill) COLLIN is the junior member of the family. Bill and his sister Elaine are the only Collins who are genuine Edsonites. . . the only ones born in the district. During his last year in high school Bill was an enthusiastic boy scout but has since turned his business over to brother Lloyd. Following graduation he worked in a supermarket in Edmonton for a few years, returning to Edson to go into business with Slim in Collin Grocery. Bill's hobby is taking moving pictures.

LLOYD W. COLLIN served in the RCAF during World War II and since that time has been busily engaged in the construction business and a retail store. For the past ten years or so he has been back in Edson where he finds the days hardly long enough to squeeze in his many activities. Besides being custodian for the A. H. Dubin School Lloyd operates a real estate rentals business in town

TWO LOCAL TEENAGERS who spent a good many hours of volunteer time helping at St. John's Hospital on Candy Stripers during the past year were honored last week during the high school tour of hospital facilities when they were presented with badges by the Hospital Auxiliary. Left to right are Auxiliary president Mrs. Paul Gosselin, Candy Stripers Gwenn McEvoy and Elizabeth Collin and Sister Superior Roberts. The Hospital Auxiliary also aids girls and boys, although there has been no boy applied as yet, who are taking nurses training from an accredited school of nursing. There will be more than one scholarship available this year and boys or girls interested should contact Mrs. Paul Gosselin for more details.

PROUD AS ONLY an eleven year old boy can be with his biggest fish, Gerald Tkachuk holds the 18 inch rainbow trout that he caught last Friday in the dam north of the airstrip. Gerald said he was just daydreaming when the 2 lb., 6 oz trout hit his hook and he nearly fell into the dam in his surprise. His companions are Danny and Ronald Comeau who had several 7 to 9 inch rainbow and suckers in their string of fish. Needless to say the dam has become a very popular fishing spot since that time and Gerald's catch was bested the next day when Leader errand boy Lyle Easton caught a 20 inch, 3 lb., 2½ oz. rainbow.

Rodeo Parade to feature five outside bands

It is said that it takes a band to make a parade and if this is true the Edson Rodeo parade this year should be one of the best.

A total of five outside bands will be in attendance for the parades. They include the Camrose County Band and majorettes, totalling a personnel of 50; the Vegreville Youth Band; the Edmonton Firemen's Band; the Matson's Bugle Band; the colorful Shriners Band.

Over-all plans are shaping up nicely for a rodeo that should line up with the best of them

One of the highlights of the July 29 and 30 rodeo will be the appearance of Miss Dominion of Canada Edson is privileged to have this lovely young lady appear here as she has a very tight schedule of public appearances

The Buckland Pony Chariots featuring 24 teams will be here to take part in the parade They will also be a part of the evening grandstand show with local businesses sponsoring individual chariots.

The colorful Klondike stage and posse from Edmonton will add to the parade as will the Edmonton Motorcycle Club. These boys are dressed ran now be accommodated in the grandstands It is expected that with the lower admission prices this year the grandstand capacity may still be taxed

All these highlights are in addition to the main event the rodeo with its exciting and breathtaking events Harry Vold of Dewinton, has been again contracted to provide the best in riding and bucking stock and rodeo-goers can be assured of a smooth running rodeo with only the unexpected exciting happenings that sometimes occur at rodeos to upset the schedule.

Not all the personnel helping out with the rodeo belong to the Tri-Service Association Among those who have volunteered their services are Peter Serdiuk, parade chairman, Rev. Jack Purdie, gate chairman Leo Koebel, grandstand chairman, Tony Grant and Lorne Kroetch, games and midway.

The secretary in charge of contest entries is Don Rather ford with his office in the Northern Alberta Dairy Pool building

The grandstand at the Memorial Park, which had to be removed, was salvaged by the Tri Service Assoc and has added greatly to the seating capacity at the rodeo grounds Between 2700 and 3000 people

Jasper-Edson Conservatives watch constituency disappear

The annual meeting of the Jasper-Edson Conservative Association at Hearbero hall, just west of Wabamun last Monday turned into a reminiscent vein as those present realized it could possibly be the last such gathering.

Attended mainly by Conservatives from the east part of the riding, the meeting listened approvingly as Jasper-Edson's four term Member of Parliament, Dr. Hugh Horner, took a verbal swing at the Liberal right money policy and the lack of interest by the Alberta Government in agriculture.

Provincial Conservative leader Peter Lougheed, who was in attendance to meet the people with whom he will be working in the provincial field, told the meeting that the Manning government was on a spending spree that could hurt Albertans. "It's like selling your house and buying groceries with the money," said the provincial leader

Dr Horner told the meeting that the press of Canada does not reflect the purpose of Parliament, which is to debate issues. The Government of the day can carry on with out Parliament by order of council "It was said by Mackenzie King," said Dr Horner, "that he never brought in any bills unless it was an election year."

"We now have the tightest money policy in Canada there has ever been," said the MP. "It's all very well to talk about inflation," but we in Western Canada are being penalized because we are in the development stage."

"If they (the Liberals) continue this financial policy they're going to get 50 per cent of the farmers in Jasper-Edson off the land." "Try and get a loan at a bank under 10 per cent for farm purposes today," charged Dr Horner.

Heisler to build rink as Centennial project

Development of the outdoor skating rink in the Village of Heisler in Alberta has been approved under the federal provincial Centennial Grants program.

Approval of the $2540 grant was announced recently by the Honorable Judy LaMarsh, Secretary of State of Canada and Federal Minister responsible for Centennial affairs and the Honorable A. Hohoarh, Provincial secretary and minister charged with coordinating Centennial celebrations in that province.

The federal government the Alberta administration and the Village of Heisler together with the Municipal District of Flatstall will share equally in the cost, each for an amount of $846.50.

The Centennial Commission, Ottawa, is the agency of the government of Canada responsible for the promotion of Centennial activities.

Under the Federal Provincial Centennial Grants program the Federal Government undertakes to contribute $1.00 per capita per province for approved projects of lasting merit provided the provincial government and the municipality or other initiating agency concerned together pay $2 per capita.

WITH A LOWERED ENTRANCE FEE and an extra outstanding program lined up, the Tri-Service Assoc. have been busy expanding the seating capacity at the Rodeo Grounds by moving the old Memorial Grounds grandstand out to the site. Worthing Transport volunteered the use of a flatbed to move the sections and members of the Tri-Service did the work of salvaging so that the grandstand has been moved with a minimum of cost.

ANCIENT HISTORY

During the dark ages everyone was ignorant. Towards the end someone threw a switch and there was a revival of learning. People began to learn more and more and to correct each other on names and dates and the source of familiar quotations. Universities opened their doors. Those that taught chemistry opened their windows. The first university was named Bologna, probably by the students.

Edson couple celebrate 50th Wedding Anniversary

Friends and relatives gathered from near and far on Saturday, June 11th, to honor Mr and Mrs. Peter Romaniuk on the occasion of their 50th Wedding anniversary.

A family dinner was held in the Commodore Hotel banquet room attended by 45 members of the immediate family and guests.

The table was centred with a three tiered wedding cake made by Mrs. Elsie Wilson and beautifully decorated with gold rosebuds and leaves by Mrs. R. Freeman. A golden 50th piece topped the cake. The cake was flanked by two vases of a mixture of fresh peonies, daffodils, bleeding hearts and apple blossoms which were generously donated by Mrs Elsie Wilson from her flower garden. Two rose shaped bouquets of pink roses and two candles with pink trimmings on each side of the cake set off the table.

For her special day, the bride of 50 years ago, wore a light blue organdy dress trimmed with lace and white accessories. Her corsage was of deep pink carnations.

Since the original bridal attendants of 50 years were not able to be present, the head table consisted of the honored couple, their five sons and five daughters seated in rotation from the oldest to the youngest son at the father's left hand and the oldest to the youngest daughter on the mother's right hand.

Master of ceremonies for the evening was Edward Romaniuk, 7th oldest child of the family. Grace was said by oldest daughter, Mrs. Anne Zezel and the toast to the honored couple was proposed by the oldest son, John and responded to by the groom of 50 years ago.

Immediately following, the MC called upon Mrs. Deanne Chernicki the youngest daughter, who brought greetings from Oregon on behalf of her husband, Stanley, who was not able to be present but sent along a champagne set which was popped at the head table and served to the honored couple by Deanne Chernicki and John Pyzer.

Greetings in Ukranian, said with a Danish accent was presented by son in law Bill Wilson, which brought many chuckles from the crowd. A few well chosen words were spoken by grandchildren Elaine Romaniuk and Randy Pyzer.

Michael Zezel expressed his best wishes on behalf of the grandchildren, stating that they were grateful to be present for this special occasion. At this time, an appropriate gift was presented to the honored couple by two grandchildren, Curtis Romaniuk and Gerald Chernecki.

Rose Wilson was called upon and expressed a vote of thanks to all who cooperated and were able to be present for this happy occasion. Mr Earl Rosworth stood up and led the singing in For They are Jolly Good Fellows.

Messages and telegrams of congratulations were read by the MC from Premier Manning, Lt Governor McEwan and Mayor Brunelle.

Supper concluded with a vote of thanks to the MC.

Open house was held short ly after for friends and relatives with music and entertainment supplied by various members of the family.

Gloria Pyzer was in charge of the guest book.

Lights flooded the banquet room as family pictures were taken by Al Grant and various guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Romaniuk were married in 1916 at Mundare, Alberta. Through the years, Mr. Romaniuk was Sales Clerk and Manager of many lumber companies in various places.

The family moved to Postbills in 1927 where he worked as a coal miner till his retirement in 1958. They then moved to Edson where they have lived ever since.

Mr. and Mrs. Romaniuk are the parents of five sons and five daughters, grandparents of 18 grandchildren and two great grandchildren some of whom reside in Edson and the surrounding points.

The happy couple received many lovely cards and flowers and express their thanks to all who helped make this a very memorable day in their lives.

Thank You!

For the support and enthusiasm shown by Edson and District residents we wish to acknowledge to each and everyone our appreciation for your assistance on the EDSON-GRANDE PRAIRIE TREK

ALMOST LOADED AND READY TO GO. A section of the Memorial Park Grandstand is headed onto one of Worthing Transport's flatbeds ready to be moved to the Rodeo Grounds west of town. Members of the Tri-Service Assoc. have been busy for the last few weeks stripping the grandstand ready for moving, and have increased their rodeo ground seating capacity to almost 3,000 persons. The grandstand, which had to be moved, was cut into eight sections for moving.

East District Doins

There are neighbors and then there are neighbors and don't think there isn't a difference!

For example a week or two ago a man received word that his mother had passed away, naturally he dropped whatever he was doing and rushed home. When he returned after the funeral he discovered that pranksters (a mild description of heartless, selfish, unscrupulous thieves had stolen his chickens, beheaded them and evidently enjoyed a feast).

A conscience that would tolerate such a rhiddick act would most assuredly allow them to enjoy the spoils.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Lazarie McKenzie, nee Sabina Morris, who were married in Edson on Saturday, May 28.

Several local folk enjoyed a pleasant surprise Saturday evening when they ran into a wedding party in Evora. The bride was Inez Kriske. We feel certain our source of information will be forgiven for forgetting the grooms name when we explain the circumstances. He was a former co-worker with the bridge gang operated many years ago by the late Don Brown. The bride and many of her guests enjoyed that distinction so coupled with the fact that the boys, and their wives, had a great deal of catching up to do, it's not too surprising that a lapse of memory..

Congratulations to Inez and hubby.

Congratulations Trekker! Aren't you glad you're you, descendants of those "creaky wagon, skinny cow, crate of chickens" men of 60 years a go.

The first annual conference of the Anglican WA Rural Deanery of Jasper was held May 18th in Edson with delegates attending from Drayton Valley, Evansburg, Edson, Hinton and Jasper.

The Rural Deanery of Jasper has been formed to make more workable group than was possible in the vast area formerly covered by the Rural Deanery of Pembina. This had covered the area from Jasper to Drayton Valley, to Fairhead, etc., even taking in Lac ol Edmonton.

The theme of the conference was "Draw The Church Together."

The conference then moved to the basement hall of the Sacred Heart Church where registration took place and the business agenda began to unfold. An address of welcome was extended by the hosting Edson WA which was replied to by the Drayton Valley delegates.

Branch and Diocesan reports were heard and accepted during the morning and afternoon sessions, with a break for a tasty luncheon, provided by the hosting Edson WA.

Hinton was chosen as the place for the next annual meeting and a project and theme were discussed.

Election of officers saw Mrs G. E. Ingram and Mrs. R. J. Burrows, both of Drayton Valley, installed as president and vice president, respectively. Mrs. James Johnson of Edson is the secretary treasurer.

Weekend Sportarama something new for Edson

With the co-operation of the weatherman this July 1st weekend should go down as one of the most successful ones in many a year. This year a number of local organizations have combined to organize Edson's first Sportarama.

Unlike other years the program of events will not all take place at the Memorial Park, but will be located at a number of places in town and surrounding area.

The weekend will open with a dance in the Legion Hall on Thursday evening. Starting off the events on Friday morning, July 1st, will be the Car Rodeo at 10:00 o'clock. This will take place on Main Street between 6th and 8th Avenue.

Designed to test the driver's skill in handling his or her vehicle, the rodeo stresses safe driving practices in action as well as a written test on knowledge of traffic regulations and driver courtesy. The five competitions in the rodeo are straight line, serpentine, offset alley, smash stop and parallel park.

There will be separate events for those over and under 21 years of age.

Friday night, weather permitting, there will be an open air dance at the site of the boat race ending, just above the McLeod River bridge on the river flat. This is also where the gymkhana and beer brew will be held on Sunday afternoon.

BASEBALL

Top calibre ball players from all over Alberta will start the big tournament on Friday, July 1st to kick off Edson's three day Sportarama.

The first game will start at 10:00 p.m. between Drayton Valley and the City Police teams.

The Edson Grades and Devon Jack Burns at 12:30 with the 3:00 draw going to Mac Kay Braves and the Blue Wolves Angels.

The big game of the day that is attracting the attention will be when Jasper meets the Safeway team at 5:30. Jasper has had a big winning streak this year and created quite a name for themselves by defeating the Rollie Miles coached Weitler & Williams Cults.

The attendance at ball games this season has been on the increase possibly due to the fine ball that is being played.

FASTBALL SCHEDULE

For the information of any local fastball fans the tournament on July 1st and 2nd will consist of five teams. Drayton Valley, Jasper Blue Ridge Edson Motors and Worthie Transport.

The draw will be a double knock out and will get under way at 9:00 on Friday a.m. The teams involved will be competing for $75 first prize and $50 second prize.

The first draw at 9:00 sets Edson Motors against Blue Ridge followed by Worthey Transport and Drayton Valley at 12:00. At 1:00 p.m. Jasper faces the winner of Edson Motors and Blue Ridge.

All games will be played at the Jubilee Junior High School Diamond and admission will be by silver collection only.

LEGION BINGO

Saturday night the Legion are holding a giant $400 cash bingo in the Legion Hall. This will be good news for all bingo fans from the entire district as there should be quite a number of happy bingoers taking home a share of the $400 loot. The Legion will also run bingo games at the rounds on Saturday.

Two events that are getting a lot of publicity are the gymkhana and the boat races with the scene of the most activity being at the Edson Fish and Game Assoc. and Gun Club range on the Chrapiuk farm just above the McLeod River highway bridge.

It is a perfect setting for the Sunday events and it is expected a large crowd will be gathered to watch the gymkhana and to cheer the participants over the finish line in the boat, canoe, kayak and dinghy races.

The weekend should be fun from start to finish with something of interest for almost everyone.

Red Cross canvass total increased

Word has been received by Chairman G. V. Bolton that the Civil Service Association grant to the recent Red Cross canvass is $650.00.

This brings to $1435.92 the total from Edson and District for Red Cross work.

Mr. Bolton expresses the thanks of the canvass committee to all who helped to bring this year's total to such a healthy figure.

Council split on Curling Club proposal

Edson Town Council was addressed at their last meeting by Mr. Louie Joy and Mr. Al Grant as a delegation on behalf of the Edson Curling Club. Messrs. Joy and Grant submitted estimates for reconstruction and use of the old arena building as a curling rink. Estimates were prepared as follows with grant Four $142 000 with cement floor $127 000 total new building $145 000. All plans plus architectural fees. It was indicated no price had been obtained for using the existing shell.

The matter was fully discussed before the motion was made that "on a basis of the information before it, this Council does not entertain, in any way, the proposal of the Edson Curling Club to reconstruct and use the old arena". The motion was lost with Councillors Wells, Collin and Kueffer in opposition.

Councillor Meade then made a motion that Council proceed under the authority of By-Law No. 1073 to call tenders for the old arena building as it is to be removed within six months of acceptance of tender such monies as may arise from the sale to be designated for construction of recreation facilities with consideration to be given to its expenditure for a curling rink. This motion was carried with Councillors Wells and Collin opposing.

Heart attack takes life of Jim Ross

It came as a shock to the friends of Jim and Toni Ross on Tuesday morning to learn of Jim's death by a heart attack on Monday while on holidays in the Nordegg area. He was 41 years of age.

Jim came from Ireland after the war and lived most of the time until 1959 in Edson. During that time he married Toni Antoniuk. An engineer on the railroad Jim moved his family to Edmonton in 1959 where they had lived since.

Besides his wife he is survived by two daughters Shannon and Becky and a son, David. His mother and a sister live in Ireland.

Jim will be buried at Edson his home in Canada. The funeral service will take place this Thursday, June 30 at three o'clock, in St. Father Joe's Anglican Church.

Terrific finals for Pee Wee League

The last game of the finals between the Knights of Columbus and the Civil Service Pee Wee Baseball League will be played played at the A. H. Dakin diamond on Wednesday evening at 6:30.

Each team has one win with the K of C winning the first and the Civil Service taking the second game.

In the second game the Civil Service came ahead to win 18 to 13 in a hard fought game.

It is hoped the audience for the final game will be larger as these lads are playing a good calibre of ball. Turn out and cheer the boys along.

Retail merchants meet Thursday

A meeting of the Edson Retail Merchants Association will be held on Thursday, July 21 in the Commodore Hotel banquet room at 8:15 p.m.

The main topic of discussion will deal with the shopping hours during rodeo week and parking meters.

If you have an opinion to pass on these subjects this will be your opportunity to speak up.

Volunteer work contributes to success of the Rodeo

There is never an end to the additions and improvements to a project as large as the annual Edson rodeo. As much of the [illegible] end as is possible is taken care of by volunteer labor by members of the Edson Rodeo Assn. and others.

An enthusiastic supporter of the rodeo Cliff Lachance completed some volunteer work with his cat last week when he did some dozing inside the race track circle. The inner circle of the track had washed out in spots with the spring run-off and Cliff filled these holes in. He also pushed some odd dumps together to make for leveling and done some levelling work inside the race track area.

Most volunteer work is unknown as the re-assembling of the Edson Memorial Park grandstand seats goes on. The new setting of seats will be added to the back and shape the present grandstand.

SHE TOPPED THE FIELD — Mrs. Helen McEvoy won the Edson Medical Centre Trophy for the second year in a row as the Edson Ladies Golf Club annual closed tournament last Sunday. Mrs. Gladys Wertman was second place winner in the flight. The trophy is presented (above) by Mrs. Thelma Lambeth, president of the Ladies Club.

At The Pool

BY BARRY GOTTS

BY BARRY GOTTS

Adult attendance on Thursday nights has continued to rise. Once a person has experienced for himself the satisfaction and relaxation of swimming, he doesn't need further convincing.

More adults are showing interest in obtaining Red Cross awards. An adult may work through this progression of skills and safety knowledge at any speed he or she desires.

The Scuba and Skin Diving Club met for the first time last Thursday evening. Any person male or female, interested in participating and learning the techniques of this exciting sport is invited to the pool every Thursday night at 8:30 p.m.

Additional information is available from Randy Murray or at the pool.

Registration for Junior, Senior, Intermediate, Junior Bronze and Bronze and swimmer swimming will be arrested at the pool. Classes are scheduled to begin on the 5th of July. These will be duplicated in August.

Pre-school and beginners classes are advancing quite well. It is hoped that there will be several successful graduates on the examinations which will be conducted on the 2nd and 4th of July.

Registrations for the Junior, Intermediate, Senior Bronze and Junior Bronze classes will be accepted at the pool up to Wednesday, July 6, at which time the classes are scheduled to begin on the mornings. The same courses will be offered again in August.

Diving and Synchronized swimming classes may also be formed if enough interest is shown.

GENERAL

Schedule for July and August is as follows:

9 to 12 — Red Cross and Royal life Saving
1 to 5 Public Swimming
5 to 6 Swim Club
7 to 9 — Public Swimming (Thurs. p.m. adults only)

SAFETY REMINDER

How does Drownproofing work

Several aspects of physics form the basis of drownproofing. The first is that 90 per cent of all men will remain on the surface in fresh water without moving if they are chock full of air. About 98 per cent of all women will do the same. Actually in one thousand cases of both sexes all ages and walks of life on by half a dozen will sink if they don't know how to float properly. Momentum and inertia forces plus shifting floating angles make the figure seem wrong.

Fresh water stay afloat techniques.

1 Rest vertically with arms and legs hanging. Make sure the mouth is empty by squirting water between compressed lips with force. Don't inhale it.

2 Get ready by extending arms sideways, and extending one leg in front and the other in back.

3 Press feet and hands down at the same time, exhaling through the nose and opening the eyes, followed immediately by inhaling through the mouth.

4 As you start sinking give a slight downward push with your arms, legs or both then let everything rest, dangling arms and legs during the return to the top.

5 Rest until you feel like getting a breath. Never until you need a breath. The level interval will vary with the individual but should never be less than three seconds.

You should become six after a few minutes should average ten after an hour, and many people have averaged three breaths a minute when thoroughly indoctrinated. Sankey can stay up just as easily, but must use a different technique. The average man normally stays up one hour, relaxed, without getting tired, fire or six tries.

Breath of life

Every year the lives of Canadian adults and children are saved because someone performs mouth to mouth rescue breathing on them.

Yet many more lives could be saved if more people knew this artificial respiration technique.

It is taught by Red Cross Water Safety instructors and groups which are interested in first aid. It's easy to learn and takes no special skill.

Everyone should learn this life saving technique. Too many of our children decline from drowning or suffocation every year. Many of them could be saved if they had the breath of life breathed into them.

For the free pamphlet "Breath of Life" write the Red Cross at 1504 1st Street S.E. Calgary.

Fishing Derby winners in local Lots of possible

Entries in the annual fishing derby sponsored by the Edson Fish and Game Association have been fewer than expected for this time. There are numerous reports of good catches and large fish, but unfortunately many of these have not been entered in the competition.

The competition is only open to members of the Fish and Game Association.

Fish will be weighed and entered by the chairman of the fishing committee or other committee member in charge of the derby. Fish and Game Association officials will be arbitrators. Their decisions will be final.

4-H BEEF CLUBS

There are 253 Beef Feeding Clubs scattered throughout Alberta with 4 484 teenage rural young people taking part.

According to Mr. C. L. Ush ser, Provincial Supervisor of 4-H Club activities, this figure represents an increase of near ly 100 over that of the previous year, and is an all time high for Alberta. There is little doubt that the glamour of handling "feed" animals and fitting for show does attract the farm young people.

In the next few weeks 4-H Club members will be exhibiting over 3 000 Beef animals which they have personally fed and looked after during the past seven months. Nearly all these animals will be offered for sale after the shows.

The show and sale for the Edson Beef Club will be held at Edson on Thursday July 28, at time at 10 30 a.m with the sale at 1 30 p.m

EQUINE ENCEPHALOMYELITIS

Dr. W. P. Brisbane of the Alberta Veterinary Service advises vaccinating all horses every spring when mosquitoes are first encountered in the spring. This vaccination should be done early to ensure good immunity before the last year. Horses vaccinated with increased mosquito population.

There were a number of in stances of the disease last summer. The prevalence was caused to some extent upon the weather and number of mosquitoes present in the area. It usually at its peak from mid-summer until the heavy frosts in the fall. Control is by spraying with insecticides and insect repellants and in the evenings a smoke. Symptoms Sickness says Dr Brisbane

Although this is an infectious disease, which attacks the nervous system, Dr Brisbane points out that it cannot be spread from one horse to another or from a horse to a human being. The virus is carried to both people and horses by mosquitoes from birds and other hosts. There is virtually no chance of a mosquito biting a sick horse and transmitting the disease.

J. A. Shewaniuk, reinstated at the Lethbridge Research Station said it is not known whether the virus is brought in by migratory birds or whether it survives over winter in some place on the prairie.

SUPPLEMENTRY PASTURES

Supplementary or emergency pastures should be part of every livestock producer's cropping program. Such pastures will increase the length of the grazing season and the carrying capacity of the farm.

O. G. Bratvold, Supervisor of the Crop Improvement Service of Alberta's Plant Industry Division points out that emergency pastures are needed almost every year. Of course results they should be planned almost a year in advance.

Mr Bratvold recommends seeding a mixture of oats and Sudan late in June. The pasture will be ready for grazing in early August when perennial pastures are usually at their poorest.

Fall rye not only provides early spring pasture the following year but takes the strain off perennial pastures during their early growing period. The net result is better permanent pastures during the balance of the year.

Ernie Fahrion asks people to buy local milk

"We would like to see better co-operation between local merchants and town people in regard to the purchase of milk produced in this area," explained Mr Ernie Fahrion of the Edson Milk Association, to the dinner meeting of Edson Chamber of Commerce in the Commodore banquet room last Wednesday night.

He described how the Northern Alberta Dairy Pool and many of the area producers had invested in very expensive equipment to give the most up to date service and quality products.

He pointed out how most producers did the majority of their buying in Edson and felt it would help everyone local if more local dairy products were purchased in the stores.

Discussion followed from members of the Chamber on this special ladies night. With questions ranging from lonely customers to sour milk.

Mr Fahrion answered the questions very well by pointing out that since the NADP had taken over most of these problems had been eliminated.

Chamber President Jack Hook had some special music at the meeting for pre-dinner entertainment and explained how the Lions Club had taken the two musicians Earl Shore and Red Jamman to Helena Montana, on their convention and they had created considerable good public relations for Edson.

Mr Royden Mahon chairman of the Edson Centennial committee spoke on the plans and developments of the group.

Hosmer just returned from a trip behind the Iron Curtain Mr Ted Mahon told of some of the highlights experienced by himself and Mrs Mahon during their recent trip to Europe.

The hall was very informative and gave one the impression that Canada is a very good place to work to live payable trip but glad to be home.

Last Wednesday night's frost played havoc with district gardens a case of replanting beans and corn or not having any. Potatoes look very green in some gardens.

Congratulations to Mr. Wm. Lawson and Miss Marie Jones of Rosebud Bridge on their recent engagement.

Mr B. Wiseman spent last Wednesday in Edmonton attending a regional meeting of South Rodeo Ltd.

Funeral services were held in Macrorthorpe on Tuesday, June 21 for Mr James Babcock who passed away at the age of 84. Mr Babcock was well known in this district having taken up land here in the 12's. He moved to the Macrorthorpe district in 1943.

SICKS' LETHBRIDGE BREWERY LTD.

House of Lethbridge

'The two best beers in the house!'

Lethbridge Pilsner

Some insist on Lethbridge Pilsner, several fine brews deftly blended in the Bavarian tradition. The best of barley, choice rice and our own home grown hops give it the lively taste that appeals to Albertans. The unique label tells you it's Alberta's original Pilsner.

Lethbridge lager

Others demand our Lethbridge lager - they call it Tangy. Its bright and bracing here makes the most of its pale mineral malt. The smooth, mellow taste is lasting, right due to our own pure prairie hops. Micro filtered Tangy is mellow, naturally aged lager beer at its best!

Around Town

By BILL OWEN

This week I find it rather difficult to come up with the proper words to add any humour to the column as by all indications it will be the last "Around Town" to myself Early in July and I and our family will be moving to Edmonton to the near future with many regrets for the friendships we have made in Edson. We came to Edson in 19 which does not make us old timers but our experience have been many and varied

My association with the Ed Leader has been a rewarding one as well as a pleasant one and I wish the paper and staff the best of luck in the future

The boundaries of the Ja... Provincial Park have been changed to include the Cadomin area and the Jasper Park Board has also taken over the administration of the Cadomin area as they are in the process of developing the area as a ski resort

Mr and Mrs Ken Hall and family have moved to Edson from Grande Prairie where Ken was employed by the Alberta Government Telephones. Ken is now employed by the Edson Telephone Office.

BY FERN ICE

Several tourists have experienced the thrill of seeing a real live, authentic Alberta black bear. One old fellow has been seen on several occasions at McLeod River, bridge. Evidently he feels someone should be around this particular location if only to prove it isn't entirely abandoned.

Jack Frost flattened several bean patches Thursday night, while others got the old kill one and scare the rest treatment. Reminds us of the old fellow who bragged that his garden never froze because he left the weeds to guard it and just such an eventuality. The trouble was he never had any vegetables to freeze or harvest either for that matter.

Several noteworthy changes have been and are in the process of being made around about the district. Bud's Supermarket is changing hands, Don Willetts, former Assistant Manager with Bud's has purchased the Meyers Store at Nolan Corner and he and family have taken up residence there, unconfirmed reports say the Meyers family are in Jasper. Mr. and Mrs. Ewan Jackson are now operating the Peers Rainbow Hall and Cafe. Good luck all you people.

Mr and Mrs. Dick Renault suffered an unusual and decidedly unpleasant experience recently extricating a calf from an abandoned tar pit. The rescue was tough but the big job lies ahead. How under the sun would one go about removing road tar from an animal? We feel sure Dick and Helen would appreciate any good advice on the subject.

It could have been an optical illusion but it wasn't. Not really. There it was big as life, prim, proper and in two distinct separate columns; but it gave us quite a jolt when the old brain transmitted the following — Wanted Licensed Mechanic. Pasture Available. Could be our speed reading project is getting out of hand. Couldn't help but notice a couple of typos but determined

Hope all you papas enjoyed your Father's Day. Do you guys realize exactly what transpires when Mom and the small fry go shopping for a suitable gift for you? Well here is an example.

A young Mom and her preschooler were having the usual trying time. Son: Let's buy him a record. Mom: The record player is broken. Son: Well what about a record player. Mom: We will have ours repaired. Clerk: Buy him an electric sewing machine. (This was just tossed in as a helpful gesture). Finally the young shopper gleefully announced: I know! I know! Let's buy Dad a tank!

And why not — may I ask? A shirt, with matching dish towels. Why didn't we think of that.

Sportarama Car Rodeo Catches Local Interest

The Car Roadeo to be run off on upper Main Street on Friday morning July 1st at 10 a.m., should appeal to all drivers of motor vehicles. The Rodeo is part of the Edson Sportarama activities.

Designed to test the driver's skill in handling his or her vehicle, the rodeo stresses safe driving practices through out. In addition to a written test based on knowledge of traffic regulations and driver courtesy, there are five separate courses or competitions in the Roadeo. These are straight line, serpentine, offset alley, smooth stop and parallel park.

Judges will use the official score sheets provided by the Safety Division of the Highway Traffic Board of Alberta and all courses will be laid out according to province wide standards. Measurement diagrams are available free of charge to those who wish to do some practicing.

There will be two classes of entry, student and adult or, roughly, under 21 and over 21 years of age.

Drivers may use any standard size car over wheelbase length of 113 inches. Compact cars of course have to great an advantage in length.

Automatic transmission and power steering are eligible this year.

The entry fee is $1, all entries to be placed at Hi Line Bowl or mailed to Box 1, Edson. All entries must be in the committees hands by 9:30 a.m. on Friday, July 1st, when a draw for position numbers will be made.

Sportarama river race interest growing locally

There has been a good deal of interest indicated locally in the River races which will be run off Sunday, July 3 as part of the Sportarama activities.

The races are from 3½ to 21 miles in length, depending on the type of craft used. The finish line for all is the Model River Bridge at Cleiar ville.

Entry forms may be obtained from members of the Fish and Game Assoc. who are organizing the race. Trophies, donated by local merchants are put up for all events.

Starting times and places for the four events are as follows: No 1 Kayak, (single) approximately 21 miles start ing at Mitchell's farm at 1 pm.

No 2 Canoe (open doubles) approximately 21 miles start ing at Mitchell's farm at 1:05 pm.

Jubilee Glee Club on TV this Saturday

Edson's Jubilee Jamboree Choral School Glee Club will be appearing on kiddies on Kamera this Saturday, June 25 at 2 p.m. The 57 member Glee Club made a trip to Edmonton in May to record their appearance.

While in Edmonton, the Glee Club members also enjoyed a trip to the Planetarium but without a doubt the trip to CFRN's studio and the record ing session was the highlight of the day.

Now the students will have a chance to see and hear themselves for the first time as they appear on TV.

Pee Wee League to start finals

The semi finals of the annual Pee Wee League results was with games slated for Wednesday and Friday even ings this week and Monday and Wednesday of next week.

If you have not seen these young lads play ball you have a real treat in store so plan to attend a game at the A. H. Hakim School, or the Jubilee School.

Harold Wortman, Boys Director of the Optimist who has been heading this project for a number of years wishes to thank the sponsors Malon Electric Ltd., Civil Service, K of C, Griffiths Motors Ltd., the Legion and the Lions Club.

He is especially pleased and wishes to express the gratitude of the Optimist Club for the assistance of the coaches umpires and score keepers.

THE OUTSTANDING BEARD among the Kinsmen Trekkers was judged to be the one adorning the face of Dick Teppat, thus making him the winner of the Philishave razor donated by Mills Furniture. Dick rubs his chin fellage appreciatively as he accepts the gift from Mr. Mills.

Optimist Pedal Pushers '66 project a big success

Over 100 children on gaily decorated bikes followed Optimist George E Collin up Main Street last Saturday to complete a week of training and tests in the Optimist Club's annual Pedal Pushers course.

This years winners of the Calgary Brewing Master and Skilled Riders Award trophies were Master rider Dale Larson, master girl rider Florence Foster, skilled rider Robert Campbell and skilled girl rider Kathy Johnson.

A total of 73 cyclists completed the week long schedule with Dale Larson totalling 47 points out of a possible 50 and Florence Foster getting 46.

Optimist George Collin was chairman for this gala event and would like to thank all people who so kindly assisted Other than members of the Optimist Club a special thanks is extended to Mr and Mrs Harvey Shepherd, Mac Collin, V Christen, Ed Lyons, Allan Greaing, members of the 4H Mrs. Club.

The Club wish s to thank Carl Baluch of the Edson Motor Hotel for making arrangements with the Calgary Brewing Company for the beautiful trophies.

The youngsters had spent a lot of time and thought on decorating their bikes which added greatly to their parade up Main Street to the Memorial Park. Unfortunately there were no prizes given for best decorated bikes. On the other hand it may be fortunate there were no prizes awarded for it would have been almost impossible for the judges to choose any one or two winners over the rest.

Flameburger broken into

Mr. Keith Nicol, manager of the Flameburger Drive-Inn and Restaurant in an interview this week explained how thieves had broke into the drive in helping themselves to some of the delicious fried chicken, a leg of ham and chocolate bars.

The cigarette machine appeared to be too much of a problem for the intruders although it was partially damaged.

The local police department are investigating the break in and have the prospective robbers under surveillance.

Polly wins another Jackpot

Polly Maimonich has done it again. Last Saturday night she called bingo on another Legion bingo game and took home the $160 bonus jackpot.

It isn't too long ago that Polly won a Legion pot on Saturday night and the next Wednesday won the jackpot at the KC bingo.

She must have been reading up on one of these booklets on "How to Win at Bingo" because Polly has it figured that in the last six months she has won approximately $500 playing bingo.

JUST BEFORE THE Pedal Pushers parade started up Main Street last Saturday morning the winners of the skilled riders and master riders awards were announced and prizes awarded. Making the presentations of the Calgary Brewing Company Trophies was Mr. Terry Reith, Calgary Brewing representative from Edmonton. Here, with Mr. Reith are Skilled Riders Kathy Johnson and Robert Campbell.

The basic theme of the Gyrotron is to introduce man to a series of adventures and experiences with action, humour, fear and laughter. Designer Sean Kenny, world famous architect and stage designer who [illegible] with George Hurlbut, created the ride.

Visitors to the Gyrotron will experience a journey to many [illegible] earth and outer space aboard one four seater cabin each [illegible] will travel through a rocket shaped entrance into the 275 foot high Pyramid. The structure is completely encased [illegible] Here they are treated to a series of exciting events climaxed by an encounter with a fearsome "monster".

The ride will take just under seven minutes. There will be 80 cabin cars travelling 200 feet a minute over the 1382 foot course. This is an hourly rate of 2000 passengers. After dark, the "floating" structures will be brilliantly illuminated with coloured lights.

The Gyrotron takes its existence to computation. With the aid of an Atlas computer at London University, the ride would have been an impossibility. It has been estimated that it would have taken over 4 million man hours to make the necessary engineering calculations by slide rule the computer did it in [illegible] days.

The mechanical brain had to determine the stresses and loads of the 9,000 tubular members and deflection of the 1,100 points that make up the space frame structure.

[illegible] $2½ million "operation" has 245 tons of 6-inch [illegible] tubing and bonded aluminum panel. Close association with the designers by supplying technical and engineering assistance launched Alcan to undertake construction of the structures. Bridge and Tank of Hamilton, Ontario, are building the transport system, while Douglas Brenner Ltd of Montreal are the general contractors.

The tubing is being fabricated by Lovsteel and Forace Ltd., Montreal, and will be installed by Mojan Lee, also of Montreal. The inner cladding of the structure by Pamela Ltd Montreal, will be composed of bonded aluminum panels 14 feet by four feet by four inches.

The Gyrotron is scheduled for testing in December, 1966 to be fully ready when Expo opens its gates less than one year from now.

Land Clearing meeting fills Peers Hall

One of the largest gatherings of the district farmers met last Tuesday [illegible] Peers Hall for the main purpose of discussing land clearing through the assistance of ARDA.

Zone 2 Agricultural Committee Chairman Kris Falutin and Vice President Ed Hill chaired the meeting that was filled with information from government representatives and questions from the farmer spokesmen.

Mr Adolph Goettle, Superintendent of Soil for the Province of Alberta, explained how the various types of land clearing applied in different areas of the country and the problems to be considered prior to clearing in reference to type of soil texture, what is prodita soil drifting ble to produce, soil erosion and roots.

Mr Frank Belyea, Resources Coordinator for ARDA in Ottawa, introduced the various government officials and explained the important part they will take in the rural development of this area.

These officials included Mr Jack L. Hearne, Chairman of the Land Utilization Committee, Mr Gordon Haugen and Mr Gordon Kerr, Biologists with the Fish and Wildlife Department who will be taking up residence in this area in the very near future.

Mr Haugen explained the importance of planned clearing and pointed out the problems encountered elsewhere through erosion available and soil drifting

Mr Don Freeren of the Lands and Forests Department explained the assistance available through their department.

Local District Agricultural Mr. Morrison, was also on hand to answer several questions.

Vice Chairman of the meeting Ed Hill read a paper clipping stating the work of ARDA carried out in other areas and put the question to the people, what do they want from ARDA in regard to land clearing.

Mrs. Beasely representing one group expressed their desire to have 50 per cent of the clearing as a grant.

Other groups felt they would not expect a grant but would consider a loan provising a period of time until production was underway before repayment was expected.

A discussion followed revealing several options being expressed and Mr Belyea suggested these ideas and suggestions be taken home, discussed and there was another meeting called in the very near future where these ideas can be sorted out and action started.

CARROT CREEK NEWS

BY JESSIE SHANTZ

The Carrot Creek Hall Club held their meeting on the 15 of June. The time spent at this meeting was a waste of time. These two hours spent cleaning up the cemetery would have accomplished much more than sitting and arguing over the size of a couple of outhouses that should have been built two years ago. Man, you're away behind times.

We wish to call a public meeting to elect directors and a committee for the Cemetery, we have tried this twice this spring with no success as yet. Now you are being asked to watch for notices telling you of this meeting and of the work that should be done if we manage to arrange this.

The WI ladies wish to thank all those who bought hot dogs and coffee at the Berghaus and Aschenmeier sales. We appreciate your patronage and your cheery words.

Much talk of bears in the district I have not seen any bears but there are plenty of coyotes sneaking around. I have surprised several on these side roads as I quietly pedal along on my bike.

CATCHING THE EYE of everyone who enters the Edson High School main entrance, this montage painting by Ron Valstad colorfully depicts Canada's history for the past 100 years. Ron, here pointing out a detail to Centennial Committee member Mrs. Kay MacAulay, is a grade eleven student with a definite artistic gift. He was born at Clarashaim on October 31, 1949, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sig Valstad. They came to Edson in 1958 and since that time Ron has been delighting friends and school chums with his art work. He has been interested in art and drawing since he was four years old when he would draw pictures to fit stories he heard. In the future Ron hopes to study commercial art with either story illustration or advertising art as a profession. He is hopeful of attending the Banff School of Fine Arts. It is the feeling of the Centennial Committee that helping along talent such as this is a worthwhile Centennial project and they are hoping that some group will come forward with a scholarship. Alive with vivid colors the 4x8 foot oil painting reading clockwise from the top left corner depicts: Jacques Cartier setting foot on Canadian soil; the battle of the fields of Abraham; Confederation with Sir John A. McDonald in the foreground; building of the railroad through the Rocky Mountains; modern Canada with its skyscrapers, air travel, etc.; the North West Mounted Police standing constable over the settlers on the prairies; the Riel Rebellion and finally MacKenzie looking for a route to the Pacific. This painting in itself is a wonderful focal of Edson's Centennial program and should have a place of honor locally at Canada's birthday celebrations.

We see in The Leader that our School Board again has the urge to borrow $50,000. These funds of the money men have just borrowed millions and now start they want to beg how the above amount. What are they borrowing for. For this so called education for all young people who are urged to stay in school and for trade twelve

When they come out of high school, etc., all they get is their name on their necks in the burden of debts that these tools of the money men have created. Every time they borrow our homes and property are most raped more and more.

People must wake up in the fact that we do not own our homes anymore The money lenders do. If you want to find out what I mean, just don't pay your taxes for three years and find out

People, wake up and put a stop to this crime against us and the future generations, before it's too late

Yours truly.

Reimer charges Alberta Medical Plan unsuitable

Did you know that during the year 1965 the Province of Alberta had a population loss to other provinces in Canada in the amount of 13 thousand people Provincial Leader Neil Reimer asked a nominating meeting at Sangudo this week

This is compared to seven thousand for Saskatchewan and twelve thousand for Manitoba These are the amazing figures reported in the official document of the Manitoba Economic Consultative Board he said

It means that Alberta, on the whole, is not growing fast enough even to look after its natural birth rate People have, for the first time in many years, found it necessary to leave this province in great er numbers than are entering it. Our growth stems, according to these figures, from our natural birth rate

Mr Reimer charged, "this is a direct reflection on the Government's obsolete economic policies and one which is simply designed to export natural resources as quickly and cheaply as possible and without giving proper attention to secondary industry and proper social assistance

Certainly, when the national medical scheme, as announced by the Honorable Mr Mc Eachern, comes into force and Alberta doesn't join it, the Alberta Medicare Scheme will be an incentive for people to stay here he told the meeting.

The Alberta Medical Services Plan does not qualify under the Federal Plan under three counts 1 It does not have universal coverage, 2. It is not portable, 3 It does not come under public control

Inasmuch as that seven provinces have already either joined or indicated that they will join the Federal Plan, there appears to be no pressure on the Federal Government to change its stance with respect to medicare, said the NDP leader.

Under these circumstances, it is doubtful whether the Province of Alberta will likely have be entitled to the 25.5 million dollars assistance in the medical field that the Federal Government will be giving to other provinces that do join and do qualify.

The Federal Government, as you know, has promised to pay half the national average cost of medicare back to the provinces. It is estimated that this cost will be $24 00 per person. In other words, the Province of Alberta, if it qualified under the scheme, would be eligible to $17.00 per person return from the Federal Government. This means 25.5 million dollars a year.

Judging from the Saskatchewan experience in medicare one would say that the cost in Alberta would likely be in the neighborhood of $30.00 per person per year. This means that there would only be $13.00 per person to pay and under a New Democratic Party Government, we would pick up this $13 00.

With a Social Plan, you will be paying $60 00 if you are single, $110 00 if you are married and have dependents The latter being about $13 00 or $14 00 per month charged Mr. Reimer.

In other words, unless Alberta qualifies for the Federal assistance scheme under the plan recommended by Chief Justice Hall, a single person will be paying about $56 00 a year more, a married person without dependents, $80 00 a year and a married with dependents, assuming he has two children, $107 00 a year more

We must ask ourselves why are we being asked to subsidize his own peculiar political philosophers on the tremendous advertising campaigns that are going on at the present time in support of his own medicare plan. This is obviously confusion that it does not have universal coverage said the speaker

The plan itself is very explicit that people must be resident in the Province for one year before they are eligible for benefits This does not qualify under the portability feature required by Federal Government nor is it under public control because we all know that the doctors run the scheme and that the scheme as such has never been endorsed by the legislative halls of Alberta, he charged.

"I ask all people in all the organizations to do what they can to correct the situation and make certain that Alberta comes under the plan endorsed by the Federal Government by the majority of the provinces across the country and recommended by Chief Justice Hall", concluded Mr. Reimer.

Countdown to opening day at Expo 67

On April 28 one year before the gates officially open, Expo 67 played host to more than 30,000 people.

Novel opening to the ceremonies took place at 10:30 a.m. on board the "Alexander Pushkin", Soviet passenger liner which just completed Hemaiden voyage to [redacted] Here Ivan Shpedko, Soviet Ambassador to Canada, met Pierre Dupuy, Commissioner General of Expo 67, to sign the contract of participation between his country and Expo

At the same time, in Moscow, a similar meeting took place between the Soviet Commissioner General Boris A Bazarov, and the Canadian Ambassador R. A D Ford

Sixty young guests invited from the ten provinces and two territories of Canada, and from the United States, play ed a large part in the Expo ceremony held in the Place d'Accueil In spite of 30 degree weather, about 8 thousand people gathered there to see Linda McKamey of Whitehorse, Yukon, and Expo's Commissioner General, Pierre Dupuy, push a button starting the mechanism of a count-down clock

From twelve o'clock noon on April 28, 1966, this will record a year at time in seconds, minutes, hours and days until the opening of Expo in 1967 Large fonts set up in the Place d'Accueil held models of the Expo pavilions, and guests enjoyed music and folk dancing At lunching this ceremony were the Post Master General of Canada, J P. Cote, Quebec's Minister of Trade and Commerce, Gerard D Levesque and a representative of the City of Montreal, Lucien Saulnier

Pierre Dupuy was host at a luncheon at Ile Sainte Helene, attended by the 80 Canadians and Ar rican boys and girls, where he unveiled a model of the Youth Pavilion

For the first time the Expo site was opened to the public and more than 30,000 people came to see what progress has been made The twenty buses, ordered to transport these visitors, were insufficient and ten more had to be brought to the area

In the final count it was estimated that 10,000 citizens of Montreal and their friends took this tour of Expo. More than a thousand climbed an observation tower built on the site by the Canadian lumber industry

The count down day ended aboard the "Alexander Pushkin", where host Captain Alexan Ogunov entertained the 80 young guests of Expo with folk music and dances given by members of his ship's company

The round down clock ticks now in the Administration and News Pavilion on the Expo site, counting out the hours until April 28, one year away

Peaceful uses of Atomic Energy Commemorative Stamp

The Canada Post Office will issue a 5c commemorative stamp on the July 27 1966 recognizing work of Canadian scientists in developing peaceful uses of atomic energy. Postmaster General John Pickersgill has announced

Marking the year in which the country's first commercial large scale production of nuclear electric power becomes a reality, the stamp is intended to emphasize concentration on peaceful uses of atomic power Mr Cote stated.

Production from a design by Toronto artist A. L. Pollock, the issue is blue in color, horizontal in format and portrays with feature a stylized illustration of structures common to the new Douglas Point Nuclear Power Station located on the shores of Lake Huron. A microscopic of the lower left above which a view of near reactor points to symbolize research and peaceful uses of great power supercimpos ed on the whole is the symbol for the heavy water atom.

Douglas Point's distinctive features includes its nuclear reactor referred to as the CA NDU type, an abbreviation of Canadian Deuterium Uranium. Uniquely differing from many major programs through out the world, the Canadian development has been based on the use of heavy water as a moderator and coolant with natural uranium as the fuel Construction of the establish ment was undertaken by Ontario Energy of Canada Ltd. in cooperation with the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission

In making his announcement regarding the stamp the Postmaster General indicated a total of 24 million will be printed by the Canadian Bank Note Company, Ottawa. op

ALBERTA JOINS PROVINCES WITH STRIKE PROBLEMS

BY JOHN WARREN

No part of the country is really "with it" these days unless it has a labor dispute. Alberta managed to join the "in" group last week with a headache of the Great Canadian Oil Sands projects at Fort McMurray.

Mind you, it's not a big dispute like that of Ontario's seven way workers, Quebec's long shoremen or Vancouver's gerbil airmen but it's big enough to get the labor department upset.

It seems the government set up a trade school in the town to train men specifically for work on the project. Many of them, previously unemployable, are Indians and Metis. A lot of them have landed jobs on the huge project since taking the adult vocational course.

But last week the principal of the school said the Plumbers and Pipefitters Union would sign only five of ten graduates in welding. The next day he said the union refused to sign any.

Union officials said simply that the entire apprenticeship program is involved but refused to comment further. It is believed they feel the special training program is not adequate, even for assistant journeymen, although some previous graduates are on the job. Racial discrimination was suggested as a factor and was denied.

The entire situation got very confused by the end of the week and the last word was that the department would give it "close examination".

The cabinet i week ap pointed an advisory board to deal with a larger body of workers — Alberta's nurses. The council will advise the health minister on all matters concerning nursing practice and education in Alberta.

Meanwhile a large portion of the province's nurses seem to have done alright on their own. Edmonton's 780 nurses appear to have big successfully for $8395 a month.

The seemingly endless bickering over national parks in Alberta enjoyed another flurry last week.

Industry and Development minister Russ Patrick suggested a commercial zone for a mile on each side of parks' highways might be a nice thing. He said it would be less than five per cent of total park area and would leave most of such nature spots as Jasper and Banff for the "mountain climbers and bird watchers".

At the same time he turned down an invitation to appear before the commons Northern Affairs Committee to discuss the subject. He said he didn't have time to go to Ottawa, but adding it would be nice if the committee came out to Alberta. They may not get too comprehensive a picture sitting in Ontario which has a total of 11 square miles of national parks, said Mr. Patrick

Regulations governing the $50 tax rebate to homeowners was approved by the cabinet although there still seems to be ample confusion about just how a i when each eligible property owner will be paid.

What is known is this. The applications will be sent by the province to municipalities about the end of the month. The municipalities will send these to home owners as soon as possible. When they are returned and approved the local government will ask Ed monton for enough money to cover them (plus 5% cents per application for administration) and the cheques will be mailed by the municipality to the eligible applicant.

The Lands and Forests department has stepped up its program for preventing soil erosion in forested areas. The latest move is a booklet issued to all forest management personnel and others such as oil companies, have promised to co operate and pay the bill. ebat

AROUND TOWN

By BILL OWEN

It does time to once again open up and we hear many reminisce of the start of the Edson Rodeo and its progress over the years.

Each person has different opinions and viewpoints and I would like to express mine as I recall them with the help of several old programs and some of the original individual help.

As I remember it, it was talked of a rodeo back in 1954 and it was recorded in the minutes of the Kin Ladies in 1955. But it was decided it was [illegible] be a success.

With the formation of the Optimist Club in 1956 by fall the first rodeo was staged at the ranch of Gordon Mitchell at Peers.

Most of the present [illegible] were members namely [illegible] Dr. Rodeo, Al Mah, Fred Hall, Gerald Mah, [illegible] Booker, Peter Ryba, Harold Wootton, Percy Nesbitt, Jim Thomas, Ron Hooper and Bill Dixon have followed through from that date. That first effort under the rodeo chairmanship of Bill Isaac attracted many stalwart rodeo boosters.

This list of men included such people as Slim Martin, Bill Smith, Chuck and Bill Campbell, Dick Nault, Allan Marz, Cecil Sparks, the Bowman Brothers, Gordon Mitchell, Fred Aslon and please excuse any others that may have been unintentionally omitted.

This first year, a nice profit of $7000 was realized. This enabled the Optimist Club to swing into a full program of boys work the following winter with hockey, radio classes, oratorical classes, fly tieing, violin classes and their uncle plan.

In 1959 the success of the first year influenced the feelings of the Optimist Club to ask the Lions and Kinsmen's Clubs to join forces and assist in this worthy community project.

Lew Robinson, then president of the Optimist Club acted as chairman with three co-chairmen Bill Bruce representing the Optimist Club, Jim Griffiths was co-chairman for the Kinsmen while Bud Brownlee acted for the Lions Club.

In 1960, the present rodeo grounds was purchased from Bill Bruce and H.R. Owen and the new location was established with only a portion of the present stands fences erected.

In 1961 Bud Brownlee was elected chairman of the Edson Recreation Rodeo and Exhibition Association. This year was the start of the race track and endless promotions for the town in conjunction with the rodeo.

Mr. Brunelle continued on in 1961 with the able assistance of Dr. Don Lewis. Many publicity attractions were invented such as the two Scotties walking from Edmonton to Edson.

Mr. Brunelle's efforts in the community outlined his ability as a leader and he moved on to his present duty as Mayor of Edson.

In 1962 Jim Griffiths, who was very familiar with the rodeo operation by this time, took over as chairman for the next two years. Despite the rainy conditions Jim pushed the rodeo ahead by paying off a considerable amount of debentures purchased by residents to help make the rodeo and Edson a better place to enjoy yourself and a better place to live.

Jim has taken over as president of the Edson Chamber of Commerce for the next two years still doing his share for our town.

The Rodeo chairman Jack Hook took over in 1964 with another success year's start by the return by acclamation as Chairman for the 1965. This year will no doubt go down in history as the year when the famous chuckwagons first came to Edson.

The 1966 rodeo started off with Donald C. Rutherford elected as chairman but he declined to accept the vital position of Secretary. Past Chairman Jim Griffiths was saddled back into the big spot which has 'All the trials' talents of another successful year.

Public meeting at Peers next Tuesday

A public meeting called by the Peers District Nursing Association will be held next Tuesday, June 28th at 8:30 p.m. in the Nurses home at Peers.

The Lions Club and the Handicraft Club of Peers are both desirous of obtaining the home. Some districts are also desirous of obtaining their share of the proceeds of the home and two lots.

These possibilities will be discussed and it is hoped an ultimate conclusion will be arrived at.

Local delegates attend CWL convention

Mrs Fred Hindle was among the ladies attending the recent CWL convention in Edmonton who was honored as a 40 year member of the Catholic Women's League. Attending the convention from Edson as well as Mrs Hindle were CWL president Mrs. Ann Rolfsmier, Mrs. Marg Sahourin and Mrs Ben McLeod.

The ladies found the convention very interesting with many thought provoking items on the agenda. The convention was held in the Edmonton Inn.

Among the highlights was a panel discussion on 'Meet rare and You' Panel members included Mrs W H Dockrill Dr S M Schultz, Dr E Y Bonnel, Mr J W. Harper and Dr. Rupert Clare. The moderator was Edward Keene, city editor of the Edmonton Journal.

During a question period delegates queried social action within the church. Many felt that the members are bogged down in study groups and the question was raised "Are we over-organized".

Miss Catherine Toal, national CWL president, from Olds, was, reported the division between social welfare and social action as social action is the thinking and social welfare is the doing.

Each community has its own individual problem and must be met and dealt with accordingly. Miss Toal said and urged the convention to think big in working towards a common goal.

Fishing good in district lakes and streams

Fishermens paradise lots of areas claim this honor but Edson Fishermen have been doing a good deal to prove this is true in our own little corner.

Not only have there been very good catches reported from streams and lakes in the surrounding area but the little creek that runs through town has been yielding some very good fish. The fishermen who know where to go are coming home with limit catches.

The beaver dam north of the airstrip, which has been the favorite fishing spot of youngsters for a long time has been invaded by adults until there is hardly room for the kids anymore. This report when two different boys caught bigger than average rainbows in the dam.

Mr. Nicky Babiuk is to be [illegible] he caught his biggest trout, a 22 inch one and saw a bear all within ten minutes walk from his home on 9th Avenue.

However, it is to be hoped that people who have cars and are able to get out of town a bit farther will leave these close in spots to the young ones who spend many hours during the summer at the most pleasant of boyhood past times.

A couple of beetle, pro blem children days on town last w k provided the opportunity to indulge in a bit of people watching, know what we learn ed? Problems are the order of the day.

Take for example the rath illustrious four year old who got himself wedged beneath a booth divider in a popular cafe. Hauled out by the heels, he was, and was given a short refresher course on town manners.

A gentleman encountering near disaster as he cruised a round on his three wheeler, valiantly contending with traffic, mud and the like.

—An impatient lady waiting in the car for her husband while the poor misjudged guy waited for her in the lobby.

—A fellow staffer getting a good natured ribbing off because his popular column was conspicuous by its absence last week.

An irate, and justly so, motorist who found a parking ticket on his car but couldn't track down the Mrs. She had the keys.

—A tempest in a tea cup should we say coffee pot over a five cent rise in a cup of our favorite beverage.

And last but not least an obliging but busy car salesman who loaded his bountiful new car with five rural shoppers and their purchases, which incidentally included everything but the kitchen sink, and drove them to their respective abodes. A 50 mile jaunt, give or take a little.

—Problems large or small have a way of working out sooner or later, and we might add, if it wasn't for the occasional snag we would never learn to appreciate the good breaks.

Weekend visitors at the homes of families and friends included: Mr. and Mrs. Jerry O'Toole and family from Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Barrass and son Randy from Whitecourt; and Cecilia Goodison presently employed with the Highway Department near Whitecourt.

Floyd Thomas is a patient in the St John's Hospital. Mrs. H Hiertz fr is confined to bed in her own home. Several local folk have been under the weather but at last report all were on the mend.

Ken Thomas was off the job for a few days due to a near tragic accident on a construction project in the Whitecourt area. A ditch hoe bucket was accidently lowered striking a glancing blow to his shoulder. he suffered nothing more than aches and bruises.

Details received on $50 homeowners grant

Details have been received at the Town Office on the applications are to be handled for the newly initiated Provincial homeowner's $50.00 grant.

Very soon application forms will be mailed out to all those whose names appear on the tax roll, whether they are eligible for the grant or not. Where a person is eligible, he should fill in the form and return it to the office of the Secretary-Manager from which it came.

In the case of homeowners in town, the form should be returned to the Town Office. The Secretary Manager will in turn complete other information on the form, check it for eligibility and approve where possible, and then mail it to the proper Provincial agency.

Under normal conditions, payment of the grant will be made directly to the home owners, unless specifically directed otherwise. If payment is to be made to a mortgage company or to the Town, the homeowner must so indicate on the application.

As there is no guarantee that the grant will be forth coming on any given date, tax payers may wish to pay their full taxes to qualify for discounts. Promise of the $50 grant does not make one eligible for the discount, or protect them from the penalty

Therefore unless one is paying his taxes, through a mortgage company, he may be well advised to pay the full tax and wait for the grant to come in cash.

Basically, eligibility for the Homeowner's Grant is based on two things. First, one must own the home for which the grant is made, and he must have resided in it for at least part of the year. Secondly, the application can be made on one residence only. Also, the grant will be paid against actual taxes levied, and frontage tax is not included.

If the actual tax levied in the year is less than $50.00 only the amount of the tax, less $1.00 will be the amount of the grant paid.

WHEN THE SWIMMING POOL STAFF arrived at work on Tuesday morning they found that vandals had been at work over night and thrown everything loose into the pool. Rocks from the rock garden outside the fence were also thrown into the pool and on the apron as well as paper. This type of thing has been going on for some time as not-so-smart alecs go over the fence to show their "appreciation" of the pool facilities and attendants.

River race run in spite of rain

With the gymkhana called off Last Sunday on account of rain, there was only a small crowd out to witness the finals of the river races. Those who did brave the weather had a longer wait then expected for the water craft to come in.

The kayaks, two only, got their craft launched at 1:00 p.m. as scheduled at Mitchell's farm. The overcast and sometimes sodden sky made for rough going for all the crafts, as submerged rocks were hard to spot and steer clear of.

The winning kayak, belonged to Otto Halas of Edmonton crossing the finish line at 4:15. Allan Rosmyth of Edson in the second kayak entry crossed the line at 4:48.

The three row boat entries were the last in having been launched 3½ miles upriver. This event was won by the Masse brothers from Edson crossing the finish line at 3:55 you to beat Gerald Strand and Al Strand by five minutes. This was a close race with the third place craft manned by Hale Smith of Brazeau dge and Ewald Teske of Dawson Creek arriving at 4:05.

The first canoe over the finish line was manned by a hard driving crew of Sid and Les Webb from Edmonton. They made it at 4:10. Second place went to Archie Griffiths and Pierre Masse from Lodgepole arriving at 4:18. The canoes had started about 20 minutes late for their 24 mile trip from Mitchell's farm.

Other canoe entries and their times of arrival are as follows: Douglas Buchanan and Chuck Noble of Edson at 4:33. Peter Coutts and Gary Gowan of Edmonton at 4:34. Bruno Lehr and Reinhold Podolski of Edmonton at 4:36. Rod Bowley and Oliver Hanson of Hinton at 4:37. Wilfred Maul and Keith Bell of Edmonton at 4:38. Edward Jones and Charlie Holloway of Gainford at 4:41. Alex Dunford and Gerald C. Foster of Edmon at 4:45. The final entry, Jack Masse and Mike Peck of Edmonton apparently had some trouble as they arrived about 6:30. The only ones who were left to greet them were some of the race officials who had started to check the various view points along the river for sight of them.

Because of the miserable weather there was only one dinghy entered and he declined to run against no opposition.

OTTO HALAS of Edmonton accepts the Kayak class trophy following his 21 mile run down the McLeod River last Sunday. Bill Anderson of the Edson Fish and Game Assoc. presents the trophy. Entries in the river races didn't have to worry about getting a sunburn as a good part of the time it was raining. Since Sunday the river has risen to its highest level this year.

Community mourns with the Leonard Family

As word spread Thursday afternoon June 30, that eleven year old Bruce Leonard had been accidentally killed in a sand slide at the Tollerton sand pit, the whole community was plunged into a state of shock.

Bruce McLeod Leonard was the son of Mr and Mrs Arthur W. Leonard of Edson. He had been playing in the sand pit as dozens of local children have in recent years — with two companions George Wadey and Bobby Silverthorne.

The boys had been sliding in the sand and jumping. Bruce's foot caught and he was covered by a sand slide. The boys dug frantically to uncover him. When they realized they needed help they ran to Nordstrom's farm where they got Mrs Shirley McNaughton who in turn summoned help from Louis Joy.

BRUCE LEONARD

Chief Constable MacDonald was directing traffic at the James Ross funeral and rushed to the accident scene summoning medical help by radio. Too much time had elapsed.

Bruce is survived by his parents, two brothers, Dennis of Edmonton, and Brian at home, two sisters, Mrs. John (Barbara) Uttendale of Edmonton and Mrs. James (Patricia) Ivey of Nanaimo, B.C. and his maternal grandfather H. W. J. Maddison, of Edmonton.

Funeral services were held from Edson United Church on Monday afternoon at 2:00 p.m. It was Bruce's twelfth birthday.

The Reverend Donald MacPherson conducted the services and interment was made in Glenwood Cemetery.

Pallbearers were Nino Chiesa Ralph Wadey, Jack Silverthorne Ted Yeomans, Vern Hansen and Barry Getts.

A list of floral and other tributes will be published in our next edition.

Edson Funeral Home were in charge of arrangements.

4-H calf sale moved ahead

The 4-H calf sale which was originally set for Thursday, July 28, has been moved ahead to Tuesday, July 26.

The Thursday date has been chosen for the official opening of the Edson Gas Plant and it was found that a conflict of interest might ensue.

Details of the 4-H calf sale, which will be the first held in this district, will be carried in next week's Leader.

Peers men injured in car accident

Two Peers residents, George Wells and Ewald Arndt are in hospital in serious condition following a car accident Monday. The accident occured one mile north and one mile west of Peers about 7:30 p.m.

The accident victims were brought immediately to the St. John's Hospital in Edson. Mr. Wells was given emergency treatment then rushed to Edmonton by ambulance. Mr. Arndt is in serious condition in the Edson hospital.

Two other members of the Wells family received some injuries in the rear end collision.

The accident is being investigated by the R.C.M.P. Edson detachment.

Baby arrives on McLeod River bridge

The race on the McLeod River wasn't the only one taking place last Sunday. A Haddock couple racing the clock with the destination St. John's Hospital, lost by about six miles and a few minutes.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Davies are the proud parents of a baby daughter who first saw the light of day on the McLeod River Bridge.

Mr. B. Fleming, Mrs. Davies' father, was driving the half ton truck in which the couple were coming to hospital. He was already breaking the speed limit when with about ten miles to go Mrs. Davies said the baby was arriving.

So while grandpa pushed harder than ever on the gas pedal, father delivered the

CEMETERY CLEAN-UP

Over 35 people turned out for clean up day on the Mountain Park Cemetery last Wednesday. The breaking was worked down, stones picked and the grass cut and raked around the graves.

E. Pilmore brought his power mower and cut the portion of grass where there were no graves. The Cemetery looks wonderfully improved.

The ladies of the Community served coffee and tea. Canavers Store donated two cases of pop for the children.

Art Lovell has been out working on his farm this past week. He manages well with his artificial leg.

Amos Herron has gone on an extended holiday in Calgary and the United States.

The G. Armstrongs have moved onto the farm they bought from Amos Herron.

Mr. and Mrs. Bird of Edmonton were out on their rounds across this past week end.

Marilyn Giles was home for the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. A. Giles.

Jim Birrell of Jasper visited the Glen Johnston family on the weekend.

Curly Johnston was home for the long weekend. He is working at Jasper.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lindvile of Marcelhorn visited Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hellekson Wednesday and Thursday.

Mrs. Priebe, Mrs. A. Giles, Mrs. Paul Hellekson, Mr. and Mrs. George Priebe and family, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Turney and Mr. and Mrs. A. Herron, all left for the convention at Hallevalois.

Picnic marks 25th wedding anniversary

A picnic at Willmore Park was the form of a party used to honor Mr. and Mrs. Dave Imber on their 25th wedding anniversary on Sunday, June 26th.

About 80 district residents gathered to spread a good old fashioned picnic complete with lots of food, ball games and games for the kiddies and visiting in the sunshine.

A presentation was made to Mr. and Mrs. Imber on behalf of the friends gathered.

The very pleasant outing was arranged by Madonna Carl Bittersburger, Bobby Nicol and Mike Paisho.

"Help Wanted"

For two weeks of hard labour, 12 to 16 hours per day. Experience helpful but not necessary. Automobile needed plus a willingness to drive hundreds of miles per day. Working conditions are rather crowded; temperatures sweltering, sometime intense, with occasional heavy rains, gales, thunder, lightning, dust, etc. Many hazards are involved. No time off for meals, coffee breaks or chats. No wages or salary. Applicants must agree to pay all expenses. No others need apply.

What is this?

A slave labor job?

Maybe, but it's rumorously called a vacation.

Have one J But take time to be safe — not sorry.

Our column is short this week since the family jalopy has been obliged to help earn its gas and tires. Serves her right—this is the time of the year when everybody is expected to put out.

SITUATION UNDER CONTROL

The weather is fine — gardens good, hay crops fair, cattle fat and mosquitoes vicious, pesky and determined. The latter seems to have gone in search of new victims and Channel 8 comes in beautifully so once more could we ask!

EDITORIAL

around town

Conversation between people this week always included the tragic loss of a young boy and the feeling of loss that all shared with the family. Words could not convey the helpless wish to be of some comfort and not really knowing how.

The feeling was heightened for this writer as it came in a week when a personal friend was cut off in his early forties leaving a young wife and a comparatively young family of three.

We were impressed this week by the capable planning that went into the Sportarama and the efficient way in which the three days of events were carried out in spite of inclement weather.

The baseball game between Jasper and an Edmonton team was one of the best we have ever witnessed. Ten innings of scoreless ball eventually called on account of darkness made its mount of the Jasper lads finishing some well known Edson baseball players. The Safeway team from the city were good too but after all everything from the city is supposed to be — or is it?

The whole tourney was first rate as was the football which went on at the same time Friday and during the rain on Saturday.

Cancellation of the Gymkhana on Sunday due to rain was regretted, but the canoe races were worth watching as the rain soaked participants came in to the finish line at Cotterill's on the McLeod, east of Town

The boat racing was almost solely an out of town affair as there was only the one local entry

The planning of something different which was the intention of the Sportarama is refreshing. July First used to be a big day in Edson district. But it was mainly baseball between local teams.

There is no replacing the rooters that came in hundreds from the Coal Branch and the area to support their teams They came in whole families, as did the people from the town

Edson people seemed to just disappear on Friday but Saturday made up for it as the old town was jumping all day if the volume of traffic is an criterion

With people who used to live here dropping in for a chat, we talked to Charlie Peet who brought greetings from the Wilmer Bickouts and Scottie Stevenson from Calgary CN yards . . . Warner and Margaret (nee Benwood) Brenness and Lindy reminded us they read the paper all the time Nan and Mrs. Greenwood reported that they are pensive used to Vancouver where Nan is an estimator with an electrical firm . . . former district teacher Bob Stonebraker and the better half renewed acquaintances briefly .

During the course of the summer we usually have every printer who ever worked in town drop in to see us and this week started off with Bob Jentsen and his wife saying hello Bob is with Douglas Printing in the city . . . Jake and Martha Bous of the Stony Plain Reporter were also in for a minute Once a printer gets ink in his veins he can't stay away it seems.

Edson High School
Edson Alberta
June 29 1966

Mr

The Edson High School staff is pleased that the Leader carried the picture of the mural painted in High School students Ron Vadnais, but regrets that you failed to mention Miss art teacher, Mrs. D Burleigh

Publishing his work gave the public an opportunity to become acquainted with the excellent training art students are receiving from our talented Miss Burleigh and indicates Ron has been one of Mrs. Burleigh's art pupils for two years.

The High School halls are decorated by three other similar murals painted by students of Mrs. Burleigh's art classes.

Editors Note Our apologies for this oversight

NEW RESIDENTS OF MARLBORO — David and Mary Ann Suter of Harrisonburg, Virginia, recently began a one year term of service under the Mennonite Board of Missions, Elkhart, Ind., and were assigned to serve at the Mennonite Voluntary service unit at Marlboro. The Marlboro unit was begun in 1962. A kindergarten and club activities were supplemented by a chicken project, an experiment in self-help for local families. A converted community pool hall serves as a recreation centre for youth. It also provides facilities for craft projects.

American pilot lands aircraft on Highway 16

Maybe they didn't smell dinner cooking, but the four Americans who landed their Cessna 170 on Highway 16 right in front of the Nixon Junction Store and Cafe could not have found a handier spot to land.

The plane set down on the highway Monday evening a bout 8:30 after seeing water gleaming on the Edson air strip.

Not being familiar with the strip the men decided to go and read However, with dark ness falling early due to the hilly overcast they decided to not chance going on to Edmonton or Red Deer

They booked the situation over and with the highway not very busy at that point decided to chance a landing

Don Willets and family, owners of the store and cafe rushed outside to find the plane nosed up against their front door and four grinning passengers climbing out.

The pilot of the craft was Al Hatherd who operates a flying service spraying crops in the Shelby, Idaho, area His passengers were Joe Hatton of Shelby who runs a fender and body shop, Vaugh Anderson who operates a blacksmith and repair shop in Shelby, and Commander Hunter who is a cattle rancher

The four men said that they were very impressed with the country that they had seen and felt that the hospitality that they had received was as warm as any they had seen anywhere.

Alta. Govt. not clear on public ownership question

Neil Reimer, Leader of the Alberta New Democratic Party, said at the St Paul Constituency Meeting on June 28 that in order to get the most possible service at the lowest cost Alberta must make it clear that they do not wish to have the AGT sold to International Corporations.

"It is clear that both the Social Credit and the Liberals, by their statements, have the view that the Government should not be in the telephone business" Mr. Reimer said.

He went on to say that Mr. Harman who represents the constituency and is the Minister of Telephones along with Mr. Patrick, Minister of Industries are playing "cat and mouse" with the AGT. On several occasions now, one of the cabinet ministers came out of the dark to test the public climate with respect to the sale of the profitable and serially owned enterprise.

When public sentiment is adverse to the absorption of the AGT by Bell Telephone Or then Mr. Harman denies any intent of sale. Mr. Reimer, stated that the present government has a clear policy that they should not be in any business venture This is of course naturally subject to business wanting a publically owned enterprise and they of course want only a profitable one.

In the meantime they have a "consistent" policy of building roads, running Treasury branches, selling liquor, yet giving up what is publically owned patents for the separation of oil from the tar sands.

While the Government is not stating its objective re garding the AGT publically it nevertheless proposes to buy the Edmonton Telephone System. "Edmontonians dearly have the right to ask Mr. Harman if he is acting in the interests of Bell Telephone or the stated views which appear to be in conflict with elected Social Credit policies.

The matter must be clarified, Mr. Reimer concluded."

Mrs. Betty Kehler tallies most points in Car Rodeo

A hubl drizzle came up just about the time the first car ran through the obstacle course kept most of the spectators elsewhere so that contestants in the car rodeo proved their skill to a comparatively small audience

The car rodeo was the first event of the July 1st sports drama weekend and the drizzle was a foretaste of the rain tha dampened or soaked every event of the weekend

There were 9 contestants entered in the rodeo only one of them under 21 years of age When the scores sheets had been tallied up Mrs. Betty kehler was found to be the winner This was no surprise to many of the spectators as Mrs. Kehler went through the five exercises with confidence that came from much training and previous Rodeo experience

Competition was very close and it was a question among viewers as to who would be awarded the three trophies in the second class. There wasn't much question as to who the winner would be in the Junior class as Jack Eriksson was the lone entrant He garnered 372 points

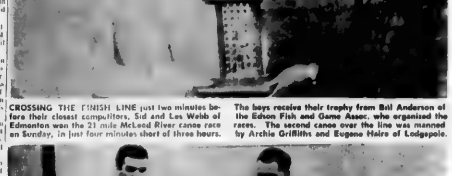
In the Senior Class Mrs. Kehler had a total of 358 Ray Wiespel was second with 310 and Mike Beaver was third with 227 points

Others competing included C. Armstrong, G DeJong M Schmerer Ken Pullen, and Ed Pylypchuk

Trophies were donated in the senior class by Edson Motors Centre Service and Beaver Service Junior class trophies were donated by Griffiths Motors, Derksen Foreign Cars and Henry and Bill's White Rose Service

Chairmen for the Rodeo committee were Mr Jon Scott and Mr Al Labelle Rod Jackman was the announcer and scorers for the different events were J Lindall, John Kerkhove, Steve Bone and Johnny Grodzicki

CROSSING THE FINISH LINE just two minutes before their closest competitors, Sid and Les Walsh of Edmonton won the 21 mile McLeod River canoe race on Sunday, in just four minutes short of three hours.



The boys receive their trophy from Bill Anderson of the Edson Fish and Game Assoc. who organized the races. The second canoe over the line was manned by Archie Griffiths and Eugene Haire of Lodgepole.

Outside teams share money in First of July tourney

Two outside teams, the Blue Willow Angels from Edmonton and the Drayton Valley Oilers shared first prize in the Edson Sportsmens July 1st and 2nd baseball tournament. Due to a cloudy downpour of rain, the final game could not be played.

The hometown Edson Orioles failed to get by their first draw against the Devon Safeway Kings as they bowed out by a 8-4 score. In other first-day action, the MacKay Braves put up a good battle before going down to defeat at the hands of the Blue Willow Angels 9-8.

Other action featured two two-inning affairs. In one, pitcher Dave Bernhardson of the Jasper Panthers failed to get any hitting support from his teammates as they dropped a 1-0 heartbreaker to the Edmonton Safeway Skylarks. The other extra inning encounter saw Drayton Valley squeeze by Devon Safeway Kings by a 3-2 to reach the finals.

In other action, the Angels hammered the Skylarks 10-2 while the Oilers shutout Edmonton City Police Athletics 4-0.

Despite the weather, close to 600 people turned out for the games on Friday and were treated to some good calibre of ball. Saturday's crowd was cut down to approximately 80 paying spectators who braved the steady drizzle and eventual downpour.

Charlie Wooster, cook on the "Wagon Train" TV Series, riding Clyde, the trained buffalo owned by Buddy Heaton of Calgary, Alberta

FANS OF THE TV PROGRAM WAGON TRAIN will be able to meet one of their favorite charcters during Edson's rodeo days this year. Charlie Wooster, cook on the "Wagon Train" TV series will appear in the afternoon intermission both days riding Clyde, the trained buffalo. Clyde is owned by Buddy Heaton of Calgary and is being brought to Edson by Harry Vold backing stock contractor from DeWinton, Alberta. Edson rodeo fans are reminded to circle July 29 and 30th on their calendars and keep those two days free so that they will be able to take in all the events being planned for their enjoyment by the Edson Tri-Service Assoc. With an outstanding program and lowered admission prices it is expected the new addition to the grandstand will be filled to the furthest corner.

Baby Arrives

On arrival at hospital the delivery was completed and mother and daughter were tucked into bed . When it was all over Mr. Davies started to shake and had to have a pill to settle him down

Grandpa was also pretty shaken up over the experience but is getting back his equilibrium

Needless to say the whole family are mighty proud of the new baby

The Davies also have a little boy who celebrated his first birthday on July 5th.

Softball games go on in spite of the rain

In spite of the rain that delayed most of the time, the men's softball tournament was completed Friday and Sat. The Edson Motors team won both ends of the double knock out tournament to take top money. The second prize was split between Drayton Valley and the Worthing Transport team.

The final game between Edson Motors and Worthing was played in a hard rain that made slippery going for both teams and put spectators for almost nil.

Scores for the games were as follows Friday — Edson Motors 22, Jasper 9, Drayton Valley 3, Worthing 6, Edson Motors 17 Drayton Valley 9 Worthing 34, Jasper 11; Saturday — Edson Motors 9, Worthing 4, Edson Motors 14, Drayton Valley 0

No winner was declared in the ladies' softball tournament. It too was a double knockout competition and the unexpected happened when Edson and Hinton both won two games. This made it necessary to play a tie breaker at some future date

As in the men's tournament, scores were very lopsided with the biggest one being the first game when Edson defeated Peers 33 2 Worn out from running so much the Edson girls then lost their second game by a 19 7 score at the hands of the Hinton team.

Hinton then defeated Peers 14 10 and met the Edson team again to be defeated 23-18. The final game was finished about 9 p.m Friday.

Heroine of the Edson team was Janet Malmo who was the only local player to make three runs. One of the Hinton girls also made three homers.

Pittsburg Boy Scouts overnight guests in Edson

Through the Lions Club and the Edson Chamber of Commerce representatives of the Boy scout movement from Pittsburg, Pa were entertained on Sunday evening and Monday morning when they passed the night Edson on their way to Fairbanks, Alaska.

Twenty-nine boys taken from three Explorer units and two Boy Scout units under the leadership of James H. Kratt Explorer Advisor and Rev. Hugh Ashby, Scout Advisor were billeted, through the Courtesy of the Edson School Division, in the Senior High School Auditorium on Sunday evening, July 10th.

The Lions Club hosted the boys and their leaders to a Sunday evening meal and also to breakfast on Monday morning before their departure for Dawson Creek, the next stop on their way to Alaska. Rev. J. Purdie of the Baptist church and also Mr. Don Cheeseman, advisor of the local Scout Committee were on hand to greet the visitors.

Mr. Kratt speaking to Lloyd Bassett, the president of the local Lions Club said that they would consider coming back to this area next year in stay for two weeks to take advantage of the fishing opportunities in the area. They were greatly impressed by the grandeur of the Canadian scenery as they came through the Banff and Jasper National Parks.

They left saying many thanks to Edson for the fine hospitality received during their short stay.

THE AMERICAN PILOT who landed his plane on Highway 16 at Niton Junction last week got some advice and assistance from the Highway Patrol before taking off. The pilot, Al Mallard from Snelby, Idaho, landed and rested his aircraft up almost to the door of the Niton Junction Store, owned by Don Willet. Mr. Mallard decided to land his plane on Highway rather than go on to Edmonton or Red Deer when darkness overtook him after seeing water glistening on the Edson airstrip.

How to avoid vacation time frustrations

You can't do much about the weather spoiling a day or two of your vacation, but there are holiday frustrations over which you have definite control.

According to experienced B.C. Automobile Association travel counsellors, there are seven common errors in planning and pursuing a vacation which can spell disappointment. These are:

Setting out in the dark

Too many travellers start their trip with only a sketchy idea of the vacation spot they have picked. Disillusionment comes quickly, when they discover the climate is more variable than they had expected, the social life is quieter, more formal or less formal than they had hoped, and that their wardrobes won't adjust to the new situation.

Well in advance of your trips, quiz friends and co-workers about the spot you have in mind. Go through a few travel books or articles about it. Better still, talk it over with a travel counsellor. She is an expert.

Letting your vacation be "shot"

Physicians often lament the fact that while parents would not think of not having their children inoculated against serious illness, the parents themselves often fail to get shots.

When you travel abroad, you will need a vaccination certificate for smallpox in order to get back into the country. Tetanus, typhoid and polio immunizations are a good idea for both foreign and domestic travel. Arrange for the inoculations well in advance, to give them time to take effect and to avoid the possibility of a sore arm at the start of your vacation.

Packing a peek of trouble

Inexperienced travellers often cram their luggage full of items they won't need. A bad oversight can forestall this particular travel woe. Pack only a few versatile garments, sticking to matching or complementing colors.

You won't need the giant economy size for toilet articles on your trip. Pack the small or slim home toilet articles, such as shaving cream, now come in handy travel sizes no larger than a cigar.

Living it up — and up

The healthy human body can stand a measure of abuse and excess, but try to avoid such vacation spoilers as too much sun, imprudent diet, rich alcoholic intake and excessive physical exercise. To avoid dieting, live it up in moderation, libidoes can take less sun than lobsters, and red heads are most sun-sensitive of all. If you have an especially tricky skin-and-sun problem, check with a dermatologist a head what you should do.

Taking your worries along

Even the best-made vacation plans can fall victim to tension and worry about things left undone at home. Try to clean up the desk or work area before you leave.

Have a neighbor keep an eye on the house and hold your mail. Remember to stop newspaper and milk deliveries. When you plan your return, allow yourself at least twenty-four hours at home before you have to go back to work.

Forgetting the first aid equipment

Little cuts and bruises won't spoil your vacation, unless you fail to give them proper attention. Scratches and superficial cuts should be bathed in warm, soapy water. Let small, beneath-the-skin pricks bleed a little to wash out bacteria then treat the wound with an antiseptic and cover with a sterile dressing.

Tempting the sun

Meet the sun gradually on your vacation. Starting with a sunbath of 20 minutes or less. Work up to longer exposures, but know your individual limit.

IS HE GOING TO MAKE IT? — These spectators at the Car Rodeo got a worm's eye view of the situation as one car goes through the double row of bales, and passed on a ball by ball, groan or cheer description for less agile spectators.

District pioneer Karl Olson dies at 94 years

A resident of the Grande Prairie Trail district since 1914, Mr. Karl August Olson passed away on July 6th at the age of 94 years. He has no known relatives to mourn his passing, but will be missed by his neighbors and friends, who have always found him a good neighbor.

He came to the Edson area 52 years ago when he homesteaded on the Grande Prairie Trail at Mile 10. In the early days he freighted on the Trail for the RCMP.

Up until fire destroyed the long log house on his farm about eight years ago Mr. Olson could be seen each week driving to town in wagon or sleigh, depending on the season. Friends along the Trail missed this sight when after the fire he moved to the H. C. Jones farm where he remained until his death.

The funeral service took place in the Edson Funeral Home Chapel at 3:00 p.m. on Thursday, July 7. Mr. Jack Eckstein officiated. Interment was made in Glenwood Cemetery.

Pall bearers were Messrs. Arthur Shepherd, Connie Jones, Eric Johnson, Dale Kerr, Bill Osborn and Bill Collis.

Floral tributes were received from Art Shepherd and Family; Nita and Emerson, Josie and Connie, Thelma and Herman, Cole, Vera and Lorence, Dale and Ada, Mr and Mrs. J. French, Bert and Eva Lindstrom; Adolph Silke; Ann and Lawrence Cornelius and Family; Jean and George Maggs; Louis and Edith Joy and Girls; Tina Anderson; Mrs. Helen McEvoy

Helen McEvoy wins ladies' closed tourney

The annual ladies' closed golf tournament, held on Sunday, June 26, was rated a huge success by all taking part. Twenty ladies participated with approximately half of these ladies being new members of the Edson Club and new golfers. These ladies certainly gave a good account of themselves.

Mrs. Helen McEvoy was the victor in the championship event with a very fine score of 88 for 18 holes. This is Helen's second year to carry off the trophy which is donated by the Edson Medical Centre. Runner up in this event was Mrs. Gladys Wortman.

AROUND TOWN

We were asked this week if we had written our editorial yet. We answered no. So our fellow townsmen said "Why don't you write one about it being time the people of Glenwood came into the town"

Even bringing up the subject a few years ago would have created a storm. We wonder if it will now.

Glenwoodians are now paying taxes, that are as high or higher than Edson's, added to fuel and power bills that are higher. Added to which they get along without community water supply, sewer and sidewalks.

If there was some advantage to Edson in adding the population to the Town it would only be that we then could call ourselves a city of 5,000 — if that is an advantage.

The disadvantage would be that water and sewer lines would have to be financed unless a provincial grant provided for it before incorporation with the town.

It will be interesting to hear if any of our readers have strong opinions one way or another.

"We do not compete with the Canadian Red Cross," says H. J. Shynaska of the Canadian Aid for Vietnam Civilians committee from Edmonton. "We want to complement their work by reaching people they would not reach with our direct appeal".

This is the sunday statement by a committee that seems only to worry about the people of NORTH Vietnam. Our reading of the situation indicates that civilians on both sides are getting warred. The pinko committee only seems to worry about the commie side of the line.

For example they say air strikes in the suburbs of Hanoi make the appeal necessary. An announcement this week from the American forces said there were no more than ten employed in the oil depots bombed. We think the International Red Cross would gladly assist this or even a greater number.

We like the words of Australia's Prime Minister in reminding France that America did after all have quite a part in liberating France from the Nazi yoke. Compare the Aussie's forthright statements with the platitudes of our Prime Minister. Makes one think memories are short doesn't it?

If it weren't for American sons in Vietnam right now there would probably be more Canadian sons in uniform around the world. We've always admired the forthrightness of the Aussies.

CONSCIENCE

You'll find in this struggle for existence
In the efforts you make in this strife,
That conscience is always the master
As you travel on the wheel of life.
Wherever your pathways may lead you
You'll find in your efforts for peft
That you might run away from the rest of the world
But you can't run away from yourself.

FOR SOME TIME the Edmonton Lions have been hearing about their roaring brethern at Edson. Last week they came out on a official visit and found that the stories they had heard of a particularly active club were all true. Not only did they find the Edson Lions very active in their tourist reception centre project, but they also found the club had a real lion for a mascot. Just to prove it to fellow members in the city the visitors had their picture taken with the mascot.

MR. AND MRS. BILL BURVILL of Camrose (centre) were visiting their old haunts at the weekend on a fishing trip and for old times sake took in the big Sportarama bingo in the Legion Hall. They had no luck fishing, but won something better, the $180 cash prize for the biggest prize of the night. Legion treasurer Elmer (Duke) Longlet fans out the bills for them while veteran bingo caller Bob Maguire looks on at right. The Burvills were regular Legion bingo attenders before they moved to Camrose four years ago.

Holiday weekend had several busing grasshoppers climbing the walls, to quote a couple of them. Youthful exuberance combined with confusing rain put a damper on the holiday spirit. As one granny put it, she was delighted to see them drive in and darned happy when the week end was over.

That's the price one must pay for progress. Remember the days when kids were skating fled off to play in a granary, hay loft or even the cyclone cellar?

Mrs. Ken Thomas spent an enjoyable four days at the home of her sister, brother-in-law and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tochinsk at Red Pass, B.C. The three Thomas boys stayed with the Bonnely family during their mother's absence.

Sunday dawned bright, sunny and innocent, but what happened. Wind that had irons bowing in submission, T.V. antennas tumbling to the ground and chickens squawking in utter despair. Rain came down in torrents and lightning knocked electric power or galley west on the second try. Farmers tore their hair and listened with bated breath for hail that would surely finish the job. So far we've heard no report of hail and for that we are grateful.

Belated congratulations to Melvin Hellekson who celebrated his 39th birthday Saturday.

George Wolfe of Peers was still on the critical list Saturday night, several days after he was involved in a two vehicle accident in which Terald Arnal was also injured. Mr. Wells is being treated in a city hospital. Mr. Arnal is in Edson hospital with less severe injuries.

Margaret Belmorte of California is enjoying a holiday in Sunny Alberta with sisters Grace Nowotney and Zulmah Suter, brothers George and Gavin Greggs and families and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gavis of Clarnahan (mother and step-father). Mrs. Swartz made the trip by car, her sole companion, a tiny French Poodle.

We said earlier in this column that we'd had no report of hail, but must retract that statement. Foly Timber was hailed out in some areas. George Dickson says his hay fields were flattened by wind and hail.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. George Dickson on the recent arrival of a baby daughter. A baby sister for two older sisters.

Mervin Raw is among several local men who have gone to work for Desrosiers and Sel wringer. Mervin is doing a good job of flipping the flapjacks for his appreciative crew mates.

There Is A Spirit In the Air

There is a spirit in the air that enhances everything
When the leaf buds start to waken in the spring
As green comes on the buds and grass
O'er sur and lethargy just seem to pass.
Even the urge and confidence seems to awaken
Then the shackles of despair and gloom are taken
All nature seems to rouse and sing
As the balmy air returns in the spring

The farmer moves with a spring in his step
His backache is gone and he's full of pep
He feels all summer as he does that day
Those machinery debts he is bound to pay
When the birds fly back to the north they bring
Hope and contentment in the spring
They never lose confidence in God at all
And they sing to Him as they leave in the fall

How many Humans give God their praise
For the showers of rain and sunshiney days
Upon His bountiful blessings mankind depends,
How many thank Him when the summer ends.
The planting of seeds is the very least
But who has it gave the great increase
Are we grateful then with the harvest past
Do we think of God when we pocket our cash

BANDMASTER DICK CHRISTIE will have many fond memories of Edson, his home town, when he moves with his family to Edmonton this month. Among the best will be those of his association with the Edson Town Band. The band, under Mr. Christie, was formed in 1961 to take part in Edson's 50th Anniversary pageant, "Look Behind You Neighbour". Since that time they have met regularly for practices with many of the first members, particularly junior ones, moving away as their schooling in Edson was completed and they left to get jobs or further their education elsewhere. Practices have been terminated for the summer and will begin again in September with Mr. Bill Lauterbach as director. Mr. Lauterbach is the music teacher at Jubilee Junior High School and has very successfully organized and directed the school Glee Club in many public appearances. Band members in this picture taken two years ago included back row: Mrs. Leona Schultz, Bill Owen, Walter Kortzman, John May, Jim Pawlow and Percy Wells. Middle row: Ed Owen, Mrs. Dick Christie, Rick Christie, Dick Kerklywich, Doug Semaniuk, Fred Hatfield, Sig Vahstad, Reg Lee, John Leyden, Bandmaster Dick Christie. Front row: Alf Martin, Glenda Field, Reg Gerlitz, Rowan Galbraith, Gordon Wells, Eddie May and Hubert Smith.

Hinton - Edson - Jasper Centennial committees hold joint meeting

Representatives of the Jasper and Edson Centennial Committees met with the executive of their Hinton counterparts in Hinton on Tuesday evening last

Mr. Grant Rundle and Mr. Peter Heron of Jasper, Mr. Royden Mahon and Mr. William Yorke of Edson gave the Hinton group a run down on the progress of their towns' planning for Centennial celebrations. In turn they heard what was going on in Hinton.

The Edson group was able to list several definite projects already underway, with many more still in the planning stages The "Grande Prairie Trek" by the Kinsmen of Edson started off their celebrations with a bang, and evidence would indicate that Edson is well on it's way to a productive and fun filled year in 1967.

The Town of Edson project will be the completion and dedication of the entrance to their new Arena Many groups have announced other projects and individual response has been good. For example, one block of home-owners got together and planned two birch trees in front of each home on their street, thus beautifying their homes in preparation for the big party.

From Jasper came word of their Town project which is the restoration or building of the Bull Park and children's playground. One group is planning a Centennial Ball in May, another will be erecting plaques commemorating all of the Prime Ministers of Canada

On February 22 1967 the Confederation Train will make it's first stop in Alberta at Jasper , an event that will certainly be of interest to the entire area. The people in Jasper are also looking forward to a good Centennial year.

Without doubt it was recognized that co-operation in plan ning and scheduling between the three towns would be of great benefit to all, and with this aim in mind, a further meeting is planned in early September

Many interesting and exciting ideas were discussed, as local groups take note. The Centennial Committees have a clock pole of good, but not necessarily expensive, ideas and any of you that have not already formed plans are invited to get in touch with members of the Committee, as plans can get into high gear in the early Fall but

A smile consists of nothing but creates much It enriches those who receive it without impoverishing those who give it It happens as a flash but the memory of it sometimes lasts forever Yet it cannot be bought, begged, borrowed or stolen and it is something that is no earthly use to any one until it is given away And nobody needs a smile so much as he who has none left to give.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear daughter, Mrs. Marian Lafleur, who passed away July 12th, 1959

Still the leaves of memory fall
Gently we gather and treasure them all.
Unseen, unheard, she is at ours near,
Still loved, still missed and so very dear.
At night the silent stars look down
On a grave not far from here
Where lies the one we can not forget
And always loved so dear
And that smile is gone for ever
And her hand we cannot touch
All we have are memories of our daughter we loved so much
Always remembered and sadly missed by Glenn and Enid Mr. and Mrs. John Try dal and Family

To speak at conference

Jehovah's Witnesses have announced that a local circuit assembly, Mr. L. J. David will be a speaker on their conference program scheduled for Vancouver's Empire Stadium, August 2 to 7.

Concerning his assignment Mr. David said, "Jehovah's Witnesses make the claim that their convention programs are practical scriptural solutions to problems facing the world today. By hope, Approximately Sacred Theory is in keeping with this claim. Time for delivery is scheduled for 3 00 p m. August 4th".

HIS DAY

RICKY LEWIS IS RECEIVING CONGRATULATIONS this week from his many friends and well-wishers on his latest feat in the world of soap box racing. Rick won the Western Canada championship at the Mission City, B.C., derby at the weekend. He has now earned the right to represent Western Canada at Akron, Ohio, in August, where he will compete in the North American finals. Rick is three time Northern Alberta champion. The Mission City meet was run off in pouring rain on Sunday, after having been postponed for a day because of the weather. Sixty-seven boys from Alberta and B.C. were competing in the derby. The final was very close with Rick and a Port Coquitlam boy tying in the first heat. Among his prizes is a $500 scholarship as well as a lovely big trophy. This picture was taken last August when Rick started down the road to Akron by winning the Hinton Soap Box Derby which is sponsored annually by the local Optimist Club.

Many turn out to help at Carrot Creek "work bee"

By JESSIE SHANTZ

The work bee at the Carrot Creek cemetery was very successful with a good crowd of workers showing up at the clean up.

Wm Needham donated the fence posts as well as work Mr. S Robinson Harvey Hoffett, Mr H. Keyes, Brian Keyes, Bob Wahl, Mr Atkinson Mr Ed White Mr Guy Kane Hans Juel Mr John Metcalf Leonard Bisset, Mr W. Karl Otto Buhn Jack Irwin Ralph Ford Mr Ottwas Mr Frank Smith, Frank South and Mr Vendercoot all turned out

We were very glad to see a few Canadian citizen and new residents taking interest in this project

Mr C Irwin and Mr Patten tended the cemetery during the day.

The ladies present were Evelyn and June Keyes, Mrs Howlett, Mrs Ottaway, Mrs Ford, Mrs Atkinson Mrs P Smith, Mrs H Bernadi and Mrs A Shantz

It was certainly a pleasure to see so many people working together. It has been a great many years since a bee was so successful in the district

Hope we have another before long time. Let us all get behind this much needed project as there is still a lot of work left to do

Of the loss of thousands of Canadians who spend most of their vacations on or in Canada's lakes and rivers, many are non swimmers, a fact that explains much of our high drowning toll. Everyone in normal health should learn to swim, including small child ren as soon as they are able to accept instruction

Brewed in Lethbridge

'THE TWO BEST BEERS IN THE HOUSE!'

Lethbridge Pilsner

Many people like the happy taste of our own home-grown hops in Lethbridge Pilsner - a blend of several fine brews in the best Bavarian tradition. The brewmaster adds just the right amount of whole grain pearl rice to give a subtle "extra" to the choice barley. Lively tasting Lethbridge Pilsner, truly satisfying beer!

Lethbridge lager

Many prefer the mellow taste of the malt in bright and bracing Lethbridge lager beer - often called Bavaria. Here's a naturally aged, smooth lager brewed with a special pearl cutter, then micro filtered for extra refreshing clarity and flavor. Bright, thirst quenching lager beer at its best . . . that's Bavaria!

Two great brews from
SICKS' LETHBRIDGE BREWERY LTD.

Dates for local Confederation Caravan exhibits announced

The first of eight Confederation Caravans that will bring historical exhibits to about 300 cities, towns and villages across Canada during Centennial Year has passed its initial trial run with flying colours.

The first caravan with its full complement of eight 73 foot mammoth tractor trailers went through five days of rigorous highway manoeuvering and on-site positioning in eastern Ontario and western Quebec recently.

The trailers were empty and officials and technicians experimented with some of the exterior pieces of equipment ramps, bridges, stage, plat forms and transfer structures.

Some minor adjustments will have to be made mainly as a result of unanticipated problems we encountered on the trial run, according to Leslie J. Maslen, chief of confederation Train and Confederation Caravans for the Centennial Commission. That, all in all, the trial run was very successful. We are pleased with the performance of the equipment.

Orders for the caravans were placed in October, 1965 by the Mechanical Transport Division of the Department of Defence Production.

Chrysler of Canada Ltd. submitted the winning bid for the tractors. Alton Industries of Calgary for the School trailers and Mechanic Incorporated of Ottawa for the power unit. The electronics for the caravans were designed by the Electrical and Electronics branch of the Department of Defence Production.

The caravan that was just tested came off the assembly line in April. It has now been taken to Toronto where the exhibits are being installed by the Canadian Display & Exhibit Ltd. It is also being painted with Centennial colours. The other seven caravans are to be delivered between now and February 1 1967.

In 1967, during Centennial year the caravans will tour the country taking the story of Canada to communities not served by the Confederation Train. The exhibits in both the train and caravans will be authentic material relating to Canada's historical background its varied cultural and technical achievements. The tour will start May 1, and run June until mid November.

Each caravan will be self sufficient with its own power plant to illuminate the displays, run the air conditioning units etc. It's main first aid station manager's office work shop and storage facilities. In fact the caravan on site will be like a small fair. In many communities it is expected the visit of the caravan will be the major Centennial event around which the local centennial planning will develop.

Steer wrestling action will open Rodeo Week

This year's pre-rodeo warm up will be staged right on Main Street when the three local service clubs take on outside competitors in genuine steer wrestling, performed with a touch of comedy.

The action will take place Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, about 2:30 p.m. on a roped-off down town block. The steer wrestlers will be just as inexperienced as the animals and it should make for a lot of fun at the expense of the tenderfoot wranglers.

The finals will take place at the dance on Thursday night in the rodeo grounds barn.

The past two years the pre-rodeo activity has taken place around the Tenderfoot Jail on the corner of 4th and Main.

Rodeo float creates Klondike impression

Edson residents who hadn't been aware their town had a float in the Klondike Days parade were happily surprised to see Edson represented when they viewed the parade on CBC and CFRN-TV on Monday.

The float was entered by Griffiths Motors Ltd. in the interests of the Tri-Service Rodeo next week. It was a duplication of their last year's prize winning float in the Edson rodeo parade. Queen candidates Lynne Joy and Karrie MacDonald rode in the heavily bejewelled convertible. Unfortunately SueAnn Behill, the third candidate, was unable to attend.

Tri-Service president, Jim Griffiths, drove the vehicle and at intervals along the parade route introduced the queen candidates and advertised next week's rodeo. The entry was a favorite and got a good hand of applause all along the route.

Edson's Kinsmen Trekkers completed the Edson entry bringing up the rear in their trail-worn trekkers clothes with a banner telling one and all who they were.

Beef club show and sale on Edson Main St.

Appropriately for Rodeo week the Edson 4-H Beef Club will hold their first Achievement show and sale of their animals, next Tuesday, July 26th.

The show will be held down town on Main Street starting at 10:30. The sale will take place at the same location starting at 1:30 p.m.

This is a wonderful opportunity for the town people to see what this group of rural young people have been doing.

The sale will be an opportunity for local businessmen to give the lads a boost by bidding up their calves.

RODEO GATE PRIZE

The Tri-Service Rodeo Association are, this year, giving away a television set as a gate prize. Watch The Leader for the draw numbers.

Edson son appointed to traffic board

A former Edson boy and now a solicitor for the Department of highways, Gene E. Spika, B.A., LL.B., has been named a member of the High way traffic board for the province.

After graduating from Edson High School a number of years ago, Gene attended the universities of Alberta and Saskatchewan, receiving his LL.B. degree in 1950. He articled with the law firm of Brownlee, Brownlee and Fryatt and has served with the Highways Department since 1960.

Gene is the son of one of the late owners of the old Imperial Hotel which burned shortly after the war.

Big doings at Peers this Saturday

All roads will be leading out Peers way this Saturday when the recently chartered Peers Lions Club hold their first big community project.

Starting at 2:30 p.m. and running through till midnight the Lions will be serving up sizzling barbecued beef steak and baked beans. There will be free ice cream for the kiddies.

Besides this tasty drawing card there will be cash bingo games every hour commencing at 8:00 p.m. with cash prizes totalling $200 at the end of the night.

Baseball games will feature the afternoon and Peers juniors. A dance to the Rhythm Hall will bring the day to a close. Music will be supplied by the Dusters.

Plan to take in the fun at Peers for a few hours this Saturday. The whole family is sure to enjoy it.

P.S. Keep your fingers crossed that the weather man will cooperate.

New low admission for this year's Rodeo

With Edson's 9th annual rodeo less than two weeks away last minute activities are going ahead at a fever pitch.

Arrangements for the outstanding entertainment lined up for this years grandstand shows have been made and rodeo audiences can be assured of top notch acts to round out each days activities.

Possibly the biggest single attraction will be the lovely and talented Miss Diane Coulter of Leamington, Ontario who is the 1966 Miss Dominion of Canada. Miss Coulter will be in attendance at most rodeo functions and will crown the Rodeo Queen at the big ball Saturday Thursday evening.

Runner-up Queen of the Rodeo are the lovely and talented Miss Diane Coulter of Leamington, Ontario who is the 1966 Miss Dominion of Canada. Miss Coulter will be in attendance at most rodeo functions and will crown the Rodeo Queen at the big ball Saturday Thursday evening.

Runner-up Queen of the Rodeo are the Ann Louise Macdonald and SueAnn Behill. Dance sponsored by the Edson Lions Club and SueAnn is sponsored by the Peers and Edson Lions Clubs. Queen tickets may be obtained from the candidates or their sponsors and supporters. Queen tickets are also good for a transistor radio raffle draw.

Expected to be a popular part of this years festivities will be the three rodeo dances on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights. These will take place at the rodeo grounds in a 40x120 foot rustic dance hall which will be erected of slabs with a plywood floor. The popular Rodgers Brothers will be providing the country music for all three dances. These boys have become well known during past rodeos and their fans will look forward to having them back.

Work is going ahead on the completion of the grandstand additions. This will raise the seating capacity to 3,000 giving more people a chance to see the events more clearly.

Parade Marshall Peter Bee-stak so far has no local parade entries turned in, but these usually come in during the last week. So far he has received six out of town entries. They include Hinton & Pibroch Pipe Bands from Edmonton, the Town of Drayton Valley, the local Corpsmen Union Rivers Safety Club of Edmonton, the Klondike Stagecoach and the Spruce Grove Farm Bureau Supply Co. The parade will start each morning at 10:30 a.m.

There will be three bands in attendance for the Friday parade. These are the Andrew Youth Band, the Fairview Country Youth Band and majorettes, the Edmonton Firemen's Band. Malmo's Band will add their color and rhythm to the Saturday parade as well. It is hoped that the Shriners Band will also take part in one or both of the parades, but this has not been confirmed as yet.

The Daysland Pony Chariots and the Edmonton Motorcycle Club will add color to the parade as well as being part of the featured entertainment for the grandstand shows each night.

Rodeo events include bull riding, wild horse races, steer wrestling, saddle bronc riding, wild cow milking, bareback riding and calf roping. Harry Veld of Panuka will once again be bringing in top notch bucking and rodeo stock. Riding these animals will be many of the riders who competed last week in the Calgary Stampede. They follow the rodeo circuit adding points for an overall season standing and they are always out to win.

Top cowboy of the rodeo will receive the Commodore Hotel trophy which is put up for annual competition.

As well as the rodeo stock, Harry Veld will this year bring two outstanding acts to perform during intermission. Roman rider, Miss Elaine Kramer, who owns, trains and rides her own matched horses will put her six horse team through its paces, a variety of circles and a double jump. To see this very feminine woman put her horses through their act has to be seen to be believed.

The second act Mr. Veld is presenting is truly the Trained Buffalo owned by Buddy Hall of Calgary and ridden this year by Charlie Woodley of the TV program Wagon Train. This famous act has appeared all over North America ever since it was the inaugural parade of the late President Kennedy.

The grandstand performances will get underway at 8:00 o'clock each evening. Featured here will be the Pharaoh Jarvis with 24 horse Arabian act. These horses are specially trained for high jumping and can clear four horses and add spice to the show.

The Edmonton Motorcycle Club dressed in matching colorful outfits, will give a performance of precision drill and daring that is sure to get a big hand. These boys are cool and collected and much practice has made them a standout.

A car demolition act will provide thrills and terror enough to satisfy the most action hungry fan.

Saturday evening the grandstand performance will wind up with a fireworks display. The youngsters particularly enjoy this and of course the young at heart.

As a warm up to the rodeo, rodeo there will be steer wrestling on main street on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday of next week July 25th to 27th. This will attract a lot of attention and is sure to get local fun in the mood.

With the expected influx of people to the grounds and town for this year, and a full two days of entertainment it is expected that the 3,000 seat grandstand will be filled to overflowing for both the afternoon and evening performances.

THE POPULAR ROGERS BROTHERS will be playing for all three Rodeo Dances this year on Thursday, Friday, Saturday, July 28, 29, 30 at the Rodeo Grounds.

Want to greet your visitors?

We can still squeeze your rodeo ad into our special rodeo edition of next week. If we have inadvertently missed calling on you just phone Jo at 723 2301 and we will include your rodeo greetings along with your neighbors.

ALBERTA A PRIME BEEF PRODUCER

A big week for agricultural news.

First, there was a lengthy announcement from the agriculture department outlining details of a new $10 million program. It had been promised by Premier Manning in a television speech last October.

Included in the scheme is a $500,000 agricultural research trust fund, a consolidated laboratory for wildlife and agricultural research, improved research facilities at the University of Alberta, establishment of a second regional veterinary diagnostic laboratory and a broad general increase in field activities.

In a pamphlet outlining the program officials said the trust fund would be supplemented by contributions of $100,000 or $200,000 each year "to grant under financial stability". Contributions from outside sources will be matched dollar for dollar between these limits.

The consolidated laboratory will be used to provide livestock data to help the department with direct scientific application to problems of disease, poultry and fur pest research needs. Research facilities at the University of Alberta will be improved in such areas as plant and animal diseases, soils, forage and other crops and will make and geographical conditions. The veterinary diagnostic lab will be built in the Peace River area. It will be the province's second one. The first was built last year at Lethbridge.

The scheme will also allow for farmers to have livestock inspections by a veterinarian once or twice each year with the department picking up part of the tab. Courses will be started at the agricultural and vocational colleges to train labor for specialized farm operations.

It all that's not enough the department will expand its information services on every farmer will know just what help is available to him.

In a preamble to the detailed program outline, the department said an increase of 41 per cent is expected in Canada's population by 1980. Alberta, it says, will maintain "a dominant position in Canadian food production since the province has almost 80 per cent of Canada's remaining potentially arable land."

Alberta now provides 38 per cent of the nation's red meat supply and stands first in beef cattle and sheep production, second in hog production and third in dairy and poultry production.

The department says the potential demand by 1980 should increase by 40 per cent for beef and dairy products, 45 per cent for poultry and 25 per cent for hogs.

The department also says it will "actively promote" an artificial insemination program for cattle breeders. And it will expand performance testing for all types of livestock.

The program outline goes on and on but that should be enough to give the general idea.

The Alberta government like governments everywhere, has a few futile publications designed mainly to give the government a pat on the back for a job well done. One of these is called "Within the Borders" and from time to time it comes out with some interesting tidbits.

For instance, it said last week that the welfare department has co-operated with municipal authorities to establish the "first over-all, province wide preventive social service program in Canada".

It goes into the workings of the new scheme in considerable detail, indicating it could be a really worthwhile service if it works.

A local man was injured Wednesday afternoon when the motor cycle he was riding was struck by an automobile driven by an American tourist. The cyclist, a member of the Delano family, was taken to hospital apparently with serious injuries, but a later report unfortunately says he was treated and released. The accident occured near Cutrid Creek store.

Our man received slight injuries in a one car accident near Peers Thursday after noon. Details are scanty but it seems the vehicle overturned on the road.

We enjoyed a short visit Monday evening with Mrs Les Pigeon and family, who are holidaying with friends in the community, and Mrs Tom King a neighbor whom we haven't seen in a long time. Shame on us Bertha.

Mrs. Walter Staley from Edson accompanied her sister Margaret Swartz to Edson and district and enjoyed a visit with relatives and friends. Neighbor Nita went too Lethbridge.

Leonard Dhuitaas that although farmer Wells had not regained consciousness he continues improving. Mrs. Wells came home Wednesday but will be returning to the city to be near her husband. Mr. Wells was injured in a two car accident about ten days ago.

A truck driver we know has had his faith in women drivers shattered once again. Glancing on his mirror he saw this car barreling along at a terrific pace apparently oblivious to the oncoming traffic and a loaded truck in her direct path.

The truck driver pulled over onto the shoulder to give her room to pass but she hit him anyway. Not once but twice. He lowered axle and got home a second time. By this time he was almost in the ditch and wrestling with the wheel to avoid trees, brush and cumbersome load. Did the offending lady drivers stop? Not on your nellie. She got out of there as fast as her late model Pontiac would take her. By the time the truck driver had his vehicle under control it was too late to get her license number.

Small talk take care, we have enough to contend with as it is. Don't for goodness sake make matters worse by doing things like this. Her male companion was taking a nap. Bet that poor guy had a rude awakening.

Tonight the stars are shining in a silent, lonely grave
Where sleeps our darling daughter

The one we loved so much
We wish that God had spared you

For many more years
You meant so much to us
Far more than we can say
There is an awful ache with in our hearts
That years won't pass away

EDITORIAL

THE MISTAKE MAKERS

The galleries are full of critics. They play no ball. They fight no fights. They make no mistakes because they attempt nothing. Down in the arena are the doers. THEY make mistakes because they attempt things.

Ford forgot to put a reverse gear in his first car. Edison once spent two thousand bucks in lot of money in those days) on an invention that proved of little value.

Laying in a small town and listening to the beefs about this organization or that council making mistakes or not doing things right brings to our editorial mind the above thoughts.

This week the Lions Club got the word that their project had been given government approval as far as substantial financing is concerned. We've heard some rumbles about this project. One of the most imaginative ever attempted in our area.

We watched TV last night and saw our rodeo final in the Edmonton Klondike parade suitably escorted by our Grande Prairie Trekkers. We've heard the gripes about how the July First Sportarama was conceived. This editor saw people working on this affair, in the rain, that he've never seen out working before.

This week we're running a picture story on the nearly completed arena. Remember when some of our citizens said we shouldn't have it? But we've got it and it will be a tremendous asset to our community life.

And yes, we have a letter from a citizen this week who complains the streets this year aren't as good as they should be. So we jumped in the car and had a look around. Yes the streets on both sides of Main have sinks and humps and rough spots in them. The reason? Our Council stuck its neck out and decided that it was time we had a storm sewer system that will be a joy as long as the rest of us live.

The rest of the town looks about the same as in other years. Some of our streets, especially in the newer sections are rough. But it is a problem that a group of men — elected Council and Town staff — are not unaware of and which they are doing something about. More doers.

The men who make no mistakes lack boldness and the spirit of adventure. He who tries nothing is the brake on the wheel of progress.

Thank goodness we have men and women who aren't afraid of making a mistake.

A ten-year-old lad received a white rat for a present. He spent a long time at a library on a Saturday, looking up the subject of white rats. He left in disgust.

He said the library was well stocked with books on "rats . . . how to get rid of", but not a word on "rats . . . the care and rearing of."

It bothers us every time we see a foreign flag given equal prominence with our newly adopted Canadian flag. If we HAVE to fly a foreign flag surely it should not be in a position equal to our own. In the case of a parade the flag of the country should be on the right if not out front. In the country in this case is Canada.

It doesn't happen too often in a small town but if you haven't gone on holidays yet don't put up signs telling potential burglars or vandals that you and your family are away. Tell your pa per boy, milk and bread man you're going to be away. Lock up tight leave no clues to your absence . . . and drive with care.

Letters to the Editor

To the Editor

This is written for the Public Tax payer travelling over the abnormal condition of our Edson streets. We the Edson tax payers are taxed so high that the town cannot afford to give us good streets.

What are they doing with our money? Our streets have never been so bad as this year. This deplorable condition must be remedied at once.

If the town manager and town engineer insist on doing their job this way then get one and let someone take over who will look after our streets the way it should be.

We even have to drive across a ditch on second Ave. The Bear Lake Road is in bet ter condition than our streets

PROPER DISTRIBUTION

There's never been a day in the world's history in which there has been more to do than right now. There are more people than ever to do all that has to be done. Yet there are many people who complain because they've nothing to do. Many think that money is the world's most important commodity, but really, time is more precious.

There's plenty of money for everyone if it were only properly distributed. There's plenty of food and clothes for everyone if they were properly distributed. Likewise there's plenty of time in which to do all that has to be done, providing everyone does his fair share and does not leave it all to the other fellow.

The man who complains of too much leisure time is shirking his responsibility somewhere along the line. You can properly distribute time, food and money by using your time wisely and making the best use of your God given talents with which to improve your community.

OUR COURTS OF JUSTICE

From the Canada Trust Bulletin

Recently, Court findings in some cases of several years' standing have been questioned or ridiculed in published books, press and pulpit. "How competent is our Court system under present day conditions?" is the cry of some.

Our Courts of Justice have no easy task. Judges and Magistrates spend hours attentively listening to every shred of evidence, particularly that which favors the accused. Truth must be sorted out from falsehood and although cross-examination might be very done it is the best method yet developed for attempting to establish the facts.

In jury cases there are twelve people in ECONOMICS

Just what is money worth today. Just what will it be worth tomorrow? And if we do know the answers, what good does it do us?

A recent statement in a publication called the Printed Word says that there is no profit in government bonds. Following is the quote

Suppose an investor owns a government bond paying 5% interest. Prices are rising at the rate of 3% per year, so the 5% yield becomes 2% net.

"But the personal income tax applies at a rate of 40% on say, the income of a steel worker or plumber, or an up and coming executive. That 40% would be on the 5% bond income, not on the 2% left after inflation.

Lastly per cent of 5% is 2% so the bond owner really has no return, whatsoever, after inflation.

It would be better to buy a stock yield ing 2%. Stock prices could rise, and there's a tax deduction on dividends. Or why not at all?

"Why save at all?" This is the danger we face on this society of cradle to the grave security, and period of full employment for those who want to work and earn a wage, salary, or other income. The danger of eliminating the initiative for saving.

Will there be any reason for initiative left a few years from now?

THINK BIG!

By C. J. HARRIS

Some other statistics on the subject are no less surprising. When he announced the new three-tower complex, Works Minister Mr. Robarts stated that it will accommodate a staff of 8,000 and that future additions to the building will be possible without spoiling the design. But a few days later the Commons Public Accounts Committee was given figures that forecast that the total staff for the new headquarters would be 5,747 and that this staff would be "quite smaller as jobs reorganized with integration gradually disappear."

When government sets out to do some thing the attitude seems to be: Think Big

It's Not Your Money You're Spending

HEELERS

Be that as it may we share the amazement of a local businessman recently visited by a census taker. During the visit he mentioned, half facetiously, that perhaps the census taker might wish to pay a long outstanding account owed by the Liberal organization. "No, I wouldn't care to do that", replied the visitor. "But while I'm here I might as well pay what the Social Credit Club owes you." And he did.

A person has to sympathize with the poli tical morgue, all engrossed in their problems at Ottawa, worrying about and whether or not to ask someone with a Germanic name and fur collar, and all the same time being harassed by doubts as to whether the hobnob in their remote mountain and prairie constituencies can be whisked back to Ottawa at the right moment.

There's no question that governing this country has its problems

St. Regis sets new sales records in first half '66

St Regis Paper Company set new records in sales and earnings in the first 6 months of 1966. Earnings were $1.33 per share on 12,921,347 shares of common stock compared with $1.26 on 12,783,686 shares in 1965.

This year's earn is earnings stem almost from the large volume of sales added by last year's new and improved machines, more selective selling, and the improved efficiencies that result from higher levels of production.

During the six months per iod just ended, selling price movements were mixed. For the majority of St. Regis products, prices advanced but there were some declines. On balance, however, better prices contributed to the increases in sales and earnings.

A consolidated net sales in the first half of the year totaled $344,478,182, compared with $321,208,218 in the first half of 1965. The increase of 10.6 per cent reflected good business in all divisions.

Consolidated net earnings increased 14 per cent to $19,810,008, compared with $17,-384,502 in the first six months of last year. Second quarter earnings amounted to $11,105,-721 or 86 cents per share and were a 25 per cent increase over the same period of 1965.

During May, the company took down the first install ment, amounting to $30,000,-000 on the 25 year 5 per cent bond of $100,000,000 which was scheduled late in 1966. A second installment will be taken down near the end of 1966 or early in 1967.

A fish story

We've heard lots of stories about the fish that got away, but someone phoned in this week to say they had caught a 37½ pound rainbow trout in the process last their pond test.

Somehow in landing the fish the equipment got away in a deep water in the Obed Pond and it couldn't be located.

However, the story had a happy ending. Local fishermen planned around until the located shin diver Dale Braun. He Braun got the job and set out without too much trouble and sure enough proved he was have be- fish and sat it to.

On June 30, the Buckaroo Mac - mill produced the first sheet off its new $4 paper machine. This large high speed machine is the chief element in the major expansion program which increases its ca pacity, mill - annual capacity by 57,000 tons a year or 60 per cent. Buckaroo is now one of the country's leading quality manufacturing, bulk grade coated publication paper.

By the end of June, sales and earnings were well ahead of 1965. Since the second half of the year is usually better than the first half, the company expects to show excellent results for the year as a whole.

Edson Girl Guides camp out at Surprise Lake

By PENNY BEALLE

The annual Guide camp which was attended by 15 Girl Guides, was held from July 12 until July 15 The leaders were Mrs Frances Mahon and Mrs Eileen Erickson Myself and the other Guides would like to extend our thanks to them for without them the camp would not have been possible

All the patrols except one, were out by 10:30 a.m Tues day, July 12 to set up tents, get wood and other things that had to be done At about 12 o'clock we ate lunch, which was a packed lunch each Guide had brought from home because we didn't think we would have e nough time to cook anything

In the afternoon we went swimming and made gadgets For supper at six we had wien ers and beans and rolls also. Before campfire at 8:30 we ga thered more wood and made more gadgets, brought water up from the creek for washing dishes and washing ourselves. The drinking water was obtain ed from the Surprise Lake Church Camp.

At campfire that night songs were sung and after that we had cocoa and cupcakes At ten o'clock we went to bed, but I can't say what time we got to sleep.

Wednesday, July 13 we got up at eight and had breakfast of porridge, eggs and toast which were cooked over an o pen fire We were to be clean ed up by 10:30 when inspec tion was held. After inspection we went for a swim and when we got back it was time to get ready for dinner which was very delicious

When everything was clean ed up we had lunch and a rest period from 1:30 to 2:30. Fol lowing a swimming period we went on a hike to a beaver lod ge where we enjoyed cookies and plums Arriving back at camp it was time to start pre paring for supper. This con sisted of chicken noodle soup, grilled cheese sandwiches, Cool Aid, chips, bread and but ter

When we had cleaned up af ter supper we played a game called ghosts Campfire was at 8:30 and by 9:30 we were in bed.

We arose at 8:00 a.m. on Thursday and had a "buddy burner" breakfast of eggs, ba con and toast, which was very enjoyable. A Court of Honor was held at ten and inspection at 10:30 before going down to Sunset Beach for a swim. There it was time to start getting din ner ready, which we ate at 12:30. This consisted of ham, baked potatoes and jelly

After dinner we planned to go to Beaver Point for a cook out, but only went as far as Surprise Lake Camp to get wat er. Returning to Sunset Beach we had a swim before prepar ing a boiled dinner and peach es That night at campfire we made campers and were in bed by ten.

Friday morning we were up by 7:30 and had porridge and toast for breakfast We filled all the holes, packed our stuff took the tents down and load ed everything out to the road

We then went back to the camp and ate everything that was left. After that it was time to go home.

Highway construction shows favorable progress

The Honorable Gordon E. Taylor, Minister of Highways, today released the following information in connection with the Highway Construction Program in the Province this year:

(1) That 308.16 miles of grade is being constructed

(2) That 307.07 miles of new grade is having base course ap plied to it.

(3) That 226.52 miles of as phalte plant mix is being ap plied to roads in the Province

(4) That 250.4 miles of seal coat work is being carried out

(5) That to date, 92 miles of grade has been constructed (28)% of the program which compares to 23% of the pro gram in 1965. 108.05 miles of base course has been applied which is 25% of the program compared to 19% completion at the same period last year) 70.21 miles of asphaltic plant mix has been applied to date which is 31% of the program which compares favorably with 22% at the same time last year). 77.46 miles of seal coat has been applied which is 30% of the program, 22% had been completed this time in 1965)

(6) That shifts lost due to rain for the same period in 1965 was 397, this year 504 shifts have been lost to date.

(7) That it will be noted that for all stages of work the pro gress is higher than progress at the same time last year This is due to an earlier start necessated by better weather conditions and is also due to the advantage gained through the Winter tendering schedule adopted by the Department which permits contractors to get on the job prior to the Spring thaw in readiness to start as soon as conditions are suitable.

(8) That good progress is be ing made on Highway No. 2 from Slave Lake to Heinle The embankment was constructed on this project through the Winter period when tempera tures dipped as low as 40 de grees below

The area is adversely effect ed by deep yielding muskeg and the Winter operations in dicated by Chief Construction Engineer, R. H. Cronkhite, P. Eng., were most successful The construction of the brid ges over the Athabasca River, Saulteaux River and the Pembina River is progressing fav orably.

(9) That the Winter work on the Fort McMurray Highway was also extremely successful and as a result, the 30 mile gap was filled in, had it not been for this work, traffic would not have been able to move over this road until prob ably next September. Consid erable work is still required, however, on these sections and with reasonable weather, the road should be completely compacted and gravelled by the end of August In the meantime, ear traffic is being maintained to the greatest possible degree.

(10) That work on the Trans Canada Highway Freeway west of the Cochrane interchange has been severely held up this year as a result of heavy rain fall this Spring It appears that every cloud in the central part of the Province drops wa ter on this particular project To date, more than 23 shifts have been lost already this season.

(11) That the Freeway pro ject west of Lethbridge through the Oldman River Valley progressed rapidly dur ing the Winter but severe rain fall in the area has held up progress since.

(12) That base course oper ations are commencing on the section of Highway No. 2 in the Montsalvie area which by passes Morinville to the west

(13) That rapid progress is being made on Highway No 2 from Alix to Stettler with the grading on the new project ways slated

Young people urged to appreciate Canada through travel

The activity of Canadian young people in the summer months in many cases a trip to one of Canada's many summer camps for a few weeks. This summer many organizations are sponsoring camps with the assistance of the Centennial Commission through its Youth Travel (Voluntary Organizations) Plan. Their programs are planned to assist young people to better appreciate and understand Canada and the Centennial.

The Ukrainian Youth Organization (PLAST) will be holding a Youth Jamboree with campers in the Rockies at Alberta's Jasper National Park. Six hundred young people and their leaders will assemble from July 13 to August 4. They are junior and senior members of the Association and come from Ontario, Quebec, Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan.

The purpose of the camping period is to develop an appreciation of Canada and an understanding of the various characteristics that make up Canada's geography, social and political life, and cultural achievements. It is part of an over all project scheduled to culminate in 1967 at a Centennial Youth Camp in the province of Quebec.

Junior Forest Wardens, Resource Rangers, and Quebec 4-H members will participate in an Interprovincial Program sponsored by the Canadian Forestry Association from July 31 to September 6th. Eight young people will be taking part, in groups of six. In special campsite sessions (lasting seven or eight days).

Held at various points across Canada, the exchanges will feature the interchange of ideas of personal youth groups who have common training in wise use of renewable resources. All provinces will be represented except P.E.I. and Newfoundland that have no Forestry Associations.

Another type of exchange is planned by the Canadian Girls in Training. Active members of C.G.I.T., the 100 girls are 15 to 17 years of age and have completed grade ten. They will attend camps involved in a Saskatchewan-New Brunswick exchange. Girls from Nova Scotia and P.E.I. will also be involved. The New Brunswick camp will take place from August 1 to 12 and the Saskatchewan camp from August 11 to 22.

It is intended that the new project serve as an experiment with the hope of extending among all provinces in 1967. This year's plan is for four girls each from Saskatchewan and New Brunswick to take part in the exchange, thus indirectly involving all the girls in a program of understanding and learning with respect to their fellow citizens in the other province.

Les Scouts Canadiens du Canada will, with Centennial Commission assistance, send the largest delegation of their scouts ever to attend a Boy Scout Jamboree outside of Central Canada. The Catholic Boy Scouts will travel to Vancouver Island to join over 1000 Boy Scouts at the Boxer Mead to be held from August 18 to September 4th.

Although the majority of the 400 scouts will come from Quebec there will be representation from Ontario, New Brunswick, B.C., and Manitoba, but the majority of these boys will be French speaking.

Les Eclaireurs de Saint Michel des Missoulois will sponsor three camps this summer at Baleau Vert, Quebec during the last three weeks of July as their contribution to camping interchange. Between the ages of 16 and 22, the 120 boys involved are from high schools, colleges, and universities and from all provinces but British Columbia.

St. Boniface, Man will be the site of a meeting of 125 girls in the last week of August. The campers, leaders in the Guides Catholiques du Canada (secteur feminin) movement come from Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

They will study the Guide philosophy in general and look at the areas of responsibility involved in Guide leadership. They will, within this context, also examine the history of Confederation and prepare programs of Canadian songs, dances and other cultural features of Canada. They will begin training in win special Centennial badges and merit awards next year.

Eight camps, to be held in July and August, make up the program of the Girls Guides of Canada. Girls from every province and some from the United States, will gather for Heritage camps in British Columbia, Saskatchewan (two camps), Manitoba, Ontario, Quebec, New Brunswick and Newfoundland to take part in a project aimed at increasing the understanding and appreciation of Canada.

The 400 girls will be participating in a program leading up to national Heritage Camp for the Centennial Year, to be held near Ottawa (southern) approximately 2500 girls.

The plan calls for studying Canada's heritage background — French, French and Indian, the heritage of Canada's resources and industries, the historical background of the provinces, the blending and progress since Confederation, and Canada's future expectations. Girl Guides, Guides Catholiques, Rangers and Cadets will be included.

In each of these programs, the Centennial Commission will be assisting financially in order to defer travelling costs of the young people participating.

Wins Legion jackpot

Mrs. Tom Bossert won a round of applause at the Legion bingo last Saturday when she called a win on a straight bingo and won the $140 jackpot. Someone else had called it by a hair's breadth when they won a bingo in six calls.

Mrs. Bossert couldn't decide whether she wanted to take in the games that night or not. Needless to say when the evening was over she was glad she had gone.

The pot starts over this week at $100 . . . still a nice sum of money with vacation in the offing or just over.

Slot car racing latest recreation

The latest form of recreation in Edson, one that is keeping a lot of youngsters and others occupied for hours, is the miniature slot car racing at the Hi Lite Bowl.

The participants use their own or rented cars and race them by remote control on an eight lane track that is modeled on the plan of a real slot car race track. The game is really exciting and has some tense moments. Keeping the cars from going off the track while rounding corners can be pretty tricky.

The races are run off with different classes of cars in different races. Scratch kits are also available at the bowling alley and cars can be changed around with bigger motors, different bodies, etc.

Plans are being made to form a slot car racing league in the fall.

Clark, newly-appointed Minister of the Department of Youth; Adolph O. Pimple, newly-appointed Minister without Portfolio; and in the background the Hon. Raymond Reierson, Minister of Labour and Telephones; Hon. R. H. McKinnon, Minister of Education, at the official swearing-in ceremonies in the Legislative Building, Edmonton, July 4, 1966.

New cabinet ministers named by Premier Manning

Two new cabinet ministers were announced by the Honorable E. C. Manning, Premier of the Province of Alberta, on July 4, 1966. Mr. Adolph O. Pimple, Wetaskiwin, Alberta, was appointed Minister without Portfolio and Chairman of the Northern Alberta Development Council and Mr. Robert C. Clark, Carstairs, Alberta, was appointed to the new portfolio for the Ministry of Youth.

Mr. Pimple (M.L.A. Spirit River) succeeds the Honorable Ira McLaughlin (M.L.A. A CARPENTER nails plywood on the ceiling under the grandstand in the new arena. The walls and roof have been up for many weeks now and activity is mostly inside so that the general public does not realize just how much work has been completed inside the arena.

CARPENTERS WORK AT finishing the inside of the arena lobby. This cupboard is the counter of the concession stand and opposite it are the public washrooms. In spite of grumblings by many people in the past, Edson's new arena is shaping up to something to be proud of and is likely to become a centre for many year round events when it has been completed.

"And the next time you go," the minister interrupted, "at your rate of attendance, they will be throwing dirt in your face."

Lions given the go-ahead on park site

Activity in the Lions Club Park is underway again this week after weeks of waiting for the official go-ahead from ARDA headquarters in Ottawa.

The first section of the park to be worked on is the fish pond with numerous equipment operators volunteering their equipment and time.

The fish pond is to be deepened, it will be lined with large rocks for cover and prepared so that there will be a minimum of winter kill for the 2500 trout it will be stocked with this year.

The machines working in the pond haven't hit oil, but something more valuable in that particular spot—four springs. This will be a wonderful natural aid in keeping the water level up and the water fresh.

It is expected the park will be completed by October 15 this year.

4-H Rally at McLeod Valley next Wed.

The Peers Rural and Dairy clubs will be hosts to three neighboring clubs of Edson, Whitecourt and Evansburg at 1:00 p.m. on Wednesday, July 27th at the McLeod Valley Picnic Grounds.

In addition to the regular club sponsors which are the business firms of Peers and the Peers Local of the PUA respectively, the Peers Lions are contributing with generous donations as well as pitching in with the work.

Events are open to 4-H members only, but everybody is welcome to observe and add to the spirit of the occasion.

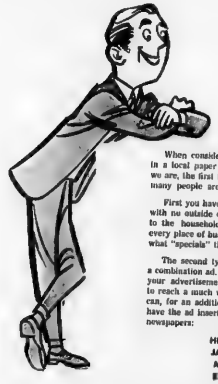
let's talk advertising !



When considering purchasing an advertisement in a local paper situated in a community such as we are, the first thing that comes to mind is, "How many people are going to read it?"

First you have a choice of a local advertisement with no outside connections. This type of ad gets to the householders in Town who know where every place of business is located and want to know what "specials" they have to offer the public.

The second type of advertisement is known as a combination ad. By this we mean that you insert your advertisement in this paper, then if you want to reach a much wider buying public potential you can, for an additional fraction of the original cost, have the ad inserted in one or all of the following newspapers:

HINTON HERALD
JASPER TOTEM
McBRIDE ECHO
EDSON LEADER
WHITECOURT STAR

You can have any combination of these papers that you wish, whichever you feel will benefit you the most.

EDSON WELCOMES RODEO VISITORS

The Edson Leader
The Voice of Edson Constituency

FIRST SECTION Edson, Alberta, Wednesday, July 27, 1966 Vol. 13, No. 39

Tri-Service Rodeo expects crowd for 9th annual

RODEO DANCES
Be sure to take in one — or all of the rodeo dances on Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights at the Rodeo grounds.

With local members of the Optimist, Kinsmen and Lions Clubs busily preparing the rodeo grounds for Edson's Ninth Annual Rodeo, all indications point toward the best rodeo this town has ever seen. Set for this weekend, July 29th and 30th, the rodeo is mounting in spirit with downtown activities well underway and local businessmen giving Edson that extra western touch with store displays and decorations.

Admission for this years rodeo has been cut drastically in view of the controversy which arose from the 1965 gate and grandstand charges. To enter the grounds, the charge is $1.00 for adults and 0.50 for children (6-12). Children under 6 years of age are admitted free to the grounds only.

The grandstand admission for the afternoon performance is 50c per person except babes in arms The evening performance is also 50c per person excepting babes in arms Parking is of course available at the grounds with no charge

Competing cowboys from the Canadian Rodeo Cowboys Association Circuit "A" grouping will start pouring into town on Thursday and Friday to register for events which total $1800 in prize money. A breakdown of the prize money appears elsewhere in this newspaper Also up for grabs is the Commodore Hotel Trophy which is awarded to the rodeo's top cowboy

On Thursday evening, July 28th, proceedings will get underway at the rodeo grounds The midway will be open to the public at 6:00 p.m. and a Kick-off dance starts at 10:00 p.m in a 48x82 foot exhibition hall which has been assembled The Bodners Bros. will be supplying the best in country and western music

Miss Dominion of Canada will crown the 1966 Edson Rodeo Queen during Thursday's dance Queen candidates are Sue Anne Behall sponsored by the Peers and Edson Lions Club, Karrie MacDonald sponsored by the Kinsmen Club and Lynne Joy sponsored by the local Optimist Club

Friday July 29th will feature a grand parade which will get underway at 10:30 a.m from the Fall station It will proceed up Main Street to the United Church corner, follow 54th Avenue East to the Imperial corner turn south down 47th Street to Highway 16 and then swing west down the highway to Griffiths Motors where it will disperse

On Monday, Parade Marshall Peter Serdiuk reported 21 entries for floats in with only four of these coming from Edson However, local merchants, as in past years, tend to put off their entries until the last day or so This years parades will undoubtedly surpass 35 entries

In addition, four bands will also take part in the parades.

Friday's parade will feature a 43 piece Camrose County Band, the Andrew Youth Band which is 30 in number and is sponsored by the Commodore Hotel, and the 35 piece Edmonton Firemans Band.

Saturday's parade, also billed for 10:30 a.m will include the 44 piece Bobcats Band from Edmonton who will perform with the three aforementioned bands All in all, both Friday's and Saturday's parades should be something to watch

At 1:00 p.m Thursday afternoon, the official opening gates of the rodeo grounds with the grand entry and introduction of officials Handling this extra MC position is none other than Jack Haines, who needs no introducing as his fans most the better known rodeos. M.L.A Bill Dickson will be present as will mayors from Drayton Valley, Fort Saskatchewan Grande Prairie and Sandy Lake Other visiting guests are expected but final these have not been confirmed

After introductions, event No 1 the wooden shoe relay will get underway and will be followed by Bareback bronc riding, calf roping, Brahma bull riding wild horse race, wild cow milking steer wrestling all on that order There are all part of the afternoon performance

At 6:00 p.m the evening performance kicks off with the racing chariot racing and events put on by the Edmonton Motorcycle Club

THE EDSON LIONS CLUB set up their equipment last Saturday morning on the Pacific 66 corner and from 7:00 a.m. until past ten o'clock gave away pancakes, sausages, eggs and coffee to a steady stream of people, local, and tourists passing through. The men took shifts at cooking and at 9:00 a.m. Mel Goldie, Bob Leinweber and Ken Horton were taking their turns. Here the fellows were getting some advice from a gal who apparently knew all about cooking pancakes.

Grand Champ beef brings 69c per lb.

It was heartening to see the number of people who turned out to watch proceedings at the 4-H Beef Club beef show in town in Tuesday morning The judging took place just south of the Horse Food Market in front of the old Marlew Motors building where 12 fat, sleek Herefords were shown by their proud owners. The support given by local merchants when the animals were sold was also heartening for club members and leaders.

Bonnie Cooper won the Bank of Nova Scotia Trophy for Grand Champion of the show, and a grooming set donated by the T. Eaton Co. Ltd Roy Letendre won the Reserve Grand Championship and Imperial Bank of Canada engraved tray. Ray also won a grooming set, courtesy of Simpsons-Sears Ltd.

The Showmanship Trophy, donated by Mr and Mrs. Joe Ritzenberger, was won by Kerry Basarabe.

The show opened with District Agriculturist W. S. Morrison introducing representatives of the Town of Edson; Edson Chamber of Commerce; 4-H Club leaders, Mr. Carl

Bus service to rodeo grounds

The Trail Bus Service will once again be offering a bus service to the Rodeo Grounds for those without transportation. The buses will leave from the Pacific 66 service station on the corner of 4th and Main, every half hour.

This service has been in operation each year at rodeo time and is a convenience that would be missed if Mr. Affolter decided not to continue it.

The two taxi businesses in town, City and Western Taxis, will also be kept busy shuttling back and forth between town and the rodeo grounds and will not have much time to watch the action at the rodeo.

Says he can roll a convertible!

Ernie Mitchell, late of Los Angeles, was in town and out to the Edson Rodeo Grounds on Tuesday. Ernie will be rolling and demonstrating cars during the evening performances of this year's Rodeo.

Checking the track brought forth the challenge that Ernie would roll a convertible in front of the grandstand during the Saturday night show.

Chairman Jim Griffiths agreed with the statement that even though he wasn't too happy about rolling his convertible he'd go for anything to put on a good show.

BONNIE COOPER proudly holds her individual trophy while her Grand Champion steer looks no interestedly. At right, holding the Bank of Nova Scotia Trophy he has just presented to Bonnie, is Mr. Mel Goldie, manager of the Edson Branch, Bank of Nova Scotia. The Imperial Bank of Commerce award, a lovely engraved tray, was presented to Roy Letendre for his Reserve Grand Champion animal.

THE LEADER CAMERA happened to be on hand last Saturday afternoon when five masked men held up the Boy-Rite and robbed the store of the weekly payroll. Although the faces could not be recognized because of the bandanas covering them some of the men appeared to be familiar. They were still at large at press time, but Sheriff Jack Hunt and his posse were investigating the crime.

CNR hauls tricky load to Ft. McMurray

One of the trickiest freight movements ever handled by Canadian National Railways was completed last week when the final two carloads of bucket wheel excavator assembly parts arrived in Edmonton The shipment was destined for the Great Canadian Oil Sands project at Fort McMurray

Due to the extreme height of the load, almost two and one half stories high, the movement of the two flat cars was restricted to daylight hours

The turntable parts, together with the 41 carloads of machinery that arrived here two weeks ago on a special CNR freight train, will take from eight to nine months to erect at the same site near Fort McMurray

Letter to Editor

Dear Editor,

People have a habit of asking for trouble and this includes farmers who "send a boy, or small boys and girls to do a man's work". Of late we've been appalled at the sight of young children working with tractors, balers etc. This is detrimental to a child's over all health, dangerous and against the law.

For the sake of everybody concerned we would great children be allowed to act like children, even if father has to hire a man or two during the busy seasons.

We will sign ourselves in accordance with our feelings on the matter.

Highly Indignant

IN MEMORIAM

PERKINS In loving memory of our dear husband and father, Wilbur Perkins, who passed away July 30, 1964.

We cannot bring the old days back,
When we were all together
But secret tears and loving hearts
Will live with us forever;
You're not forgotten Father dear,
Nor shall you ever be,
As long as life and memory last
We will remember thee

Ever remembered and sadly missed by his loving wife Stella, daughters Madeleine and Dorothy and families.

IN MEMORIAM

LAROCK In loving memory of our dear Father, Laverne F. Girouls, who passed away July 20, 1964

There are daughters who were very sadly
And feel the time long since you went
And we think of you daily and hourly
But try to be brave and resolute
The tear that we shed are in silence
And we breathe a sigh of regret
For you were ours, and we remember
Though all the world forgets.
Always loved and never will be surpassed by some loving daughters Vera LaPa, Bill e and Dorothy

Mitzenberger and Mr. George Cooper judges Mr. V Jansen and Mr. T Newcombe.

Following the judging Mr Jansen spoke to the club members and explained on what was looked for in judging beef cattle. He commended the club members for the good showing they had made in their first year of raising calves and pointed out ways they could improve on knowledge gained this year.

Mr Newcombe then spoke on what he looked for in judging the showmanship angle of the show and announced the winner as being Kerry Bass rake

All 17 club calves had been purchased by Mr & Mrs J Kitzenberger last November and at present are all approximately 17 months old. Members did not have the opportunity to choose their own calves, but rather slips were drawn from a hat so that every member would have an equal chance.

Although the weight varied from 900 pounds for the Grand Champion to 680 pounds for the 12th animal, in summing up his judging, Mr Jansen said that the weight and size depended a good deal on how the animals had been fed and looked after.

The 4-H Club members and their leaders were guests at the Edson Chamber of Commerce for luncheon then went back to the show ring for the auction sale which started at 1:30 p.m. Local auctioneer Harold Chapman sold the animals, donating his time.

Each club member buyer weighed and price of the animals follow

Duane Cooper 900 lb. steer, 69c per lb. to T. Rimle; Ray Letendre, 920 lb. steer, 56c per lb to Edson RIA1 Douglas Hird, 850 lb. steer, 52c per lb to Paul Malbeuf of Edmonton, Murray Sparks, 790 lb heifer, 68c per lb. to Louis Joy, Terry Block, 695 lb heifer, 68c per lb. to Bart Kuefler; Sharon Sparks, 800 lb. heifer 68c per lb. to Paul Monuna.

Barry Claridge, 850 lb. steer, 42c per lb. to the Bay Rite Sandra Campbell, 750 lb steer, 52c per lb. to Farmers Market; Kerry Bazarnik, 840 lb. steer, 52c per lb. Local hotels featuring live music

The local hotels have added a pleasing innovation for this rodeo time. Both the Edson Motor Hotel and the Commodore Hotel are this week featuring live music in their licenced premises.

Rod Jasman and his group, called The Singing Strings, are entertaining at the Commodore each evening. This started last week and will continue throughout Rodeo Week.

Down at the Edson Motor Hotel this week the featured entertainer is Bill Morris, a pianist from Edmonton Mr Morris is very versatile and proving very popular. Last week the Citronba Orchestra were at the Edson giving patrons a treat with their enjoyable music.

Witness conventions are a family affair

Convention time for the Jehovah's Witnesses of the Edson congregations has arrived. This year many of the delegates from Edson will be joining some 30,000 others from Alberta, British Columbia and the Pacific Northwest for their annual district convention. They have arranged a 5-day meet in Empire Stadium, Vancouver, as part of a series of 20 assemblies in Canada, the British Isles, United States and Hawaii.

Mr J Eckstein, presiding minister of the Edson congregation, reported, "We do not find just one representative or two. At our conventions entire families are welcome and expected to be present.

"United worship is a key to family happiness, and our children gain a great deal by travel, companionship and assembly sessions. Featured at this gathering is a compact, meaningful program of faith-strengthening Bible instruction designed to offer young and old practical solutions to the significant problems facing mankind."

"Of course, we shall enjoy the trip to and from Vancouver as well. Convention time for us is a combination of pleasant vacation and profound instruction. We come back really refreshed."

Bull riding dangerous Rodeo event

No rodeo event is more dangerous to the contesting cowboy than bull riding. Perhaps because of this, and figuring the bull rider has enough on his mind, author of rodeo's rule book gave it the simplest set.

To help the contestant hang on, all he's have is a loose rope without knots or hitches tied around the heaving, top-heavy animal simply by pressure of the rider's grip, the rope must fall off when the rid is finished

Unlike the bronc riders, the bull rider isn't required to spur, but spurring, if he is able, will earn him extra points. And the dull spurs, turned into the loose fold of the bull's hide, help him hold his precarious perch.

Bull rides are marked with the same spread as other riding events . . . 1 to 25 for rider and the same for animal. But because there is less that can be done to make a good ride better, top scores for riders are usually lower.

The only other bull riding rule common with bronc riding events is that the ride must be made with one hand, the other held free. Otherwise the rider is a disqualified one as long as the riding hand is on any part of the bull rope — and the cowboy hasn't hit the ground — when the whistle blows

As though the bull needed anything to encourage him to buck, the bull rope must have a bell that dangles and rings under the animal's belly throughout the ride.

If there are few rules to restrict the rider, there are none to hamper the bulls. Endowed with a permanently murderous attitude toward humans, they resort to anything to dump the cowboy so they can trample or gore him.

A favorite tactic is to throw the rider forward with a heavy high kick behind, then hook up at him with their huge, banana-shaped horns.

Another lethal type is the "spinner," who swaps ends like a freight car caught in a tornado. Hair-raising antics like these make the ride harder and boost marks higher for the bull

THE CLASSIC EVENT "SADDLE BRONC" can be termed pure poetry in motion to the learned eye — when a champion pits his strength and ability against that of an equine champion possessing equal strength and ability.

Sheriff's Posse fails

Striking with timed precision, a group of five armed horsemen, known as the Yellowstone Raiders, staged a successful hold-up at the Buy-Rite Food Store on Saturday, July 23rd.

Sheriff Jack Hooke and his select posse of eight caught drift of the staged hold-up and were making routine investigations at the Commodore Hotel when the masked raiders struck. Buy-Rite owner Art Leonard stated the raiders entered his store at 2:47 and at gunpoint proceeded to seize various articles. A call was put in to the sheriff's posse who arrived at the Buy Rite just as the Yellowstone Raiders were mounting their horses for a get-away.

One of the brave deputy sheriff's managed to dismount one of the raiders but after a scuffle, the raider, thought to be the leader, escaped. The ensuing gunfight and chase down Highway 16 east was unsuccessful as Sheriff Hooke's Ford Patrol was no match for the five fast horses.

Sheriff Hooke believes that the Yellowstone Raiders are led by Mangler Slim Martin with the rest of the gang made up of Cheat'n Chapman, Bully Sullivan, Ringo Rupert and Masher Marr.

CLOVEN HOOVES CARRYING three-quarter ton of cat-quick muscle and bone—plus the unstable disposition of a cornered boar—the cross-bred Brahma bull is the most formidable foe in the rodeo arena. Rodeo officials important

The officials perform at Rodeo '66 are as important to the rodeo as they are to any other sport.

Those who judge rodeo events must be members in good standing of the Canadian Rodeo Cowboys Association and active contestants themselves. A Judge's decision is final. Later proved in error, a judge may be denied further jobs.

The riding judges draw a stock to be ridden identified by number, like animals for each event are selected in lottery fashion. A rider's name is first called and then a number is picked, slight unseen, from the total, usually held high in a hat over the judge's head.

In marking rides the judges pool themselves on either side of the chute gate, allowing animal and rider to come out between them. Action is marked separately. The figures used are 1 to 25 for the rider's action, and 1 to 25 for the animal's antics. The four markings are totalled for the score.

Flag judges monitor time events (steer wrestling and all roping events.) Stock is drawn the same way as riding events. Time is taken between flags, one judge at the start ing score line, the other in the field.

Line judges decide the legality of the start and the field judge signals completion of the ride or thrown steer, as the case may be.

In roping events the field judge must allow five seconds after signalling for line, to see if the tie holds. If the animal kicks free in that period the roper gets no time.

The same men may serve as judges in both riding and time events.

Edson Rodeo a unique service club experiment

As Edson's annual Rodeo goes into its Ninth year it is interesting to recall how the Tri-Service Rodeo and Exhibition Association came into being.

Edson's first Rodeo was held at the Gordon Mitchell Ranch in 1958 under amateur status with a committee from the Optimist Club of Edson doing the initiating of the spectacular spectator event.

The Optimist Club realizing the potential of what could be accomplished, joined with the Kinsmen and the Lions to form the Tri-Service organization which has subsequently put on the popular Rodeo that attracts wider attention each year.

In 1959 the association advanced to professional status by joining the famed Foothills Cowboy Association and in 1960 went big league by joining the Cowboys Protective Association, the largest rodeo circuit in Canada.

In those early years a 25 acre parcel of land three miles west of town was acquired. With hours and hours of donated heavy equipment and volunteer labor and material a half mile track was started, bleachers were put in, the rodeo arena itself put into shape and a few years later the parking area that became a sea of mud when it rained were planted to grass.

Through the years the central committee chosen from the three service clubs have been fortunate in having community leaders take an active part in the development of this project, until now Edson ranks high in the rodeo circuit and professional performers from Canada and the States try hard to make it to the colorful western show.

One of the attractions not generally realized is that top cowboys get points for competing in rodeos all over the West and into the States. It is in this way that local rodeo fans get to see cowboys who normally could only be seen at such world famous stampedes as the week long western fete at Calgary.

One of the reasons why Edson's Rodeo has the profession al touch is that the Associa tion contracts with Harry Vold of Dewinton, Alberta, to supply the stock and to put on the show. The professional manner for which Mr. Vold is famous also attracts the best calibre of cowboys who know that Harry has the rodeo under his experienced guidance.

No story about Edson's Rodeo would be complete without saying thanks from all to the dozens of men and women who have helped put Edson on the Rodeo map.

We have literally worn out presidents through the years and it has always been a point of amusement as to how the Rodeo Chairman and his Committee get anything done in their own businesses especially during the month of July.

On top of this the current year's Rodeo is no sooner out of the way before they are planning for the next year's spectacular!

THE POPULAR ROGERS BROTHERS will be playing for all three Rodeo Dances this year on Thursday, Friday, Saturday, July 28, 29, 30 at the Rodeo Grounds.

HIGH AND MIGHTY herd to ride, this bareback bronc gets all four feet off the ground in a soaring effort to dislodge his cowboy burden. Bareback bronc riding has been a standard event in rodeo for the last quarter-century.

Miss Dominion of Canada lovely Rodeo guest

A special guest at the Edson Rodeo this year will be blonde and lovely Miss Marjorie Schofield Miss Dominion of Canada. Miss Schofield is from Burlington, Ontario, and has recently returned from competing in the Miss Universe beauty pageant in the States.

Miss Schofield is an 18 year old model with an irresistible smile. She is 5' 7" tall with a perfectly proportioned figure. Besides being a professional model she is an Ontario baton twirling champion. She is sponsored as a guest of the Tri-Service Association by the Edson Motor Hotel.

Miss Schofield will be met in Edmonton on Thursday at the International Airport. Arrangements have already been made for her to meet with radio and TV personnel before leaving for Edson. Upon arrival here she will have time for lunch and freshening up before meeting out of town guests and local dignitaries then off to the barn dance at the Rodeo Grounds about 11.15 where she will be introduced to the crowd and crown the Rodeo Queen.

Friday morning Tri-Service president, Jim Griffiths, will be the envy of the men along the parade route as he arrives partners Miss Schofield in a white convertible to lead the parade.

At 11.45 there will be a luncheon in the Legion Hall for Miss Schofield, out of town [illegible] and members of the Victory Bands, the Andrew Youth Band, County of Camrose Band and Edmonton Fairmats Band.

The next item on her busy itinerary will be an appearance at the rodeo grounds to officially open Edson's 9th annual rodeo at one o'clock. At a quarter to three she will be back in town to have tea with residents at Parkland Lodge. The Camrose Band will also be at the Lodge for an hour long concert.

At six o'clock she will be back out to the rodeo grounds for the opening of the grand stand performance then back to town by 7.30 when she will be available at the Edson Motor Hotel to meet the public.

Saturdays program is more or less a repetition of Friday. She will visit the hospital staff and patients for tea and a Band concert with Mistona Band in attendance. From 3.45 until 5.30 she will be at the Edson Motor Hotel. Back at the rodeo grounds after supper she will make the gate prize and other draws, present trophies to the Queen and her attendants. It is not known at present whether or not she will attend the dances. This will be strictly up to Miss Dominion of Canada.

She will leave Edson Sunday morning at 9.00 o'clock to catch a noon plane out of Edmonton.

Rodeo Days big news in Jasper

Plans are just about finalized for the annual Frontier Days events which take place next weekend, July 30 and 31st and August 1st. The program is organized and carried out each year by a handful of local residents with the assistance of many rodeo friends in Jasper.

Starting off the weekend doings will be the big parade. The marshalling point for the parade floats is the ball diamond. From here it will wend its way through town. Pre-parade talk around town would indicate a good turnout of colorful and original floats.

Following the parade the place to go for exciting action is out to the Rodeo Grounds, three miles down the Jasper-Banff Highway.

Once again J. Bardgett of Cremona, Alberta, will be supplying the stock for the rodeo events. These events include saddle bronc riding, bareback riding, calf roping, steer decorating, Brahma Bull riding and wild cow milking. Contestants come from all over Alberta to try their luck at the Jasper Rodeo.

Trophies are put up by the following for competition: Saddle Bronc, Athabasca Ranch Trophy; Bareback, Astoria Hotel; Calf Roping, Totem Men's Wear Trophy; Steer Decorating, Save-Rite Trophy; Brahma Bull riding, Jasper Chamber of Commerce Trophy; Cow Milking, Parkview Trophy; All Round Cowboy, Jasper Drugs Trophy.

A special attraction this year will be Mrs. Sandy Short of Hoosier, Sask., who will entertain with her brick and fancy riding. Other entertainment will include ten teams of thoroughbred horses in chariot racing every afternoon; Bull fighter Dave McDonald; open air dancing on Saturday and Monday nights.

On Sunday the program is turned over to the ladies and children under 16. This is the favorite day for many local fans, as the kids take part in various races and events.

Rodeo action starts at 1:00 p.m. each day. See you at the Rodeo Grounds at the weekend.

THIS AERIAL VIEW OF THE RODEO GROUNDS was taken by Al Grant last Saturday during the most successful rodeo in the past few years. Although spectators were dampened a bit Friday afternoon by a light rain Saturday dawned clear and bright and continued so during the afternoon and evening programs. The additional grandstand space provided this year was all well filled on Saturday as local residents and visitors packed in to see a topnotch show.

FIRST SECTION Edson, Alberta, Wednesday, August 3, 1966 Vol. 13, No. 31

Rodeo grounds setting for weekend action

Wednesday evening visitors to the rodeo grounds wondered how everything could possibly be ready for action on Thursday. A crew of volunteers were raising the walls of the 'dance hall' and getting the roof trusses up in readiness for the plastic roof to be put on. And the last section of the grandstand was giving a little trouble as it was being fitted in position on the underpinnings.

Thursday evening the area was a bustle of activity as early arriving once-a-year cowboys and gals took in the opening dance and waited for their first sight of lovely Miss Dominion of Canada, who arrived in time to crown SueAnne Rehill of Peers as queen of the 1966 rodeo.

Over in the midway section Walley Urusiak of Edmonton had all the lights turned on the ferris wheel, already adding a feeling of carnival excitement as his crew set up the rides and booths.

Queen SueAnne was crowned just before 11:00 o'clock. Then she and her princesses, Lynne Joy and Karrie MacDonald joined the dance along with Miss Dominion of Canada, Miss Marjorie Scheidl of Burlington, Ontario.

The girls were beautifully made western riding costumes. Miss Rehill in wine velvet decorated with gold sequins, Miss MacDonald in black velvet Spanish style riding pants and red with long sleeved white blouse; Miss Joy in bright aqua blue velvet riding pants and vest with long sleeved white blouse.

Friday morning a holiday air seemed to hang over the town as entries in the parade proceeded down side streets to the CNR station, the marshalling point this year. The Main Street was lined with spectators long before the parade was scheduled to start.

QUEEN OF THE 1966 RODEO was Miss SueAnne Rehill of Peers who was sponsored by the Edson and Peers Lions Clubs. Queen SueAnne was crowned at the Thursday night dance by Miss Dominion of Canada with Rodeo Princesses Lynne Joy and Karrie MacDonald in attendance. The rodeo queen is determined by most tickets sold which is possibly a good thing for it would be very hard job for any set of judges to choose between those lovely and personable young ladies.

Rodeo attendance up

The Edson Tri-Service Association report with satisfaction the most successful rodeo for the past few years. Good weather and lowered admission prices probably helped to bring the attendance up to the following figures. Paid attendance at the gate for the two days, 5,781; paid attendance in the grandstand for the two days, 4,317; paid attendance at the three rodeo dances 1,309.

The television set raffled by the Edson Tri-Service Assoc was won by Mr. Jim Brown on ticket number 814.

Mrs Tom (Geraldine) Johnson was the winner of the transistor radio, the prize on the Queen tickets.

Are you a winner?

One of the last official duties of Miss Dominion of Canada at this years rodeo, was to pick ten gate ticket stubs for the prize of a television set. The draw was made during the dance Saturday evening.

Holders of any of these numbers are asked to bring the matching stub to The Leader office before midnight, Aug ust 12th. The numbers were called in the following order and the winner will be the person turning in the stub for the first or nearest to the first number drawn. It is entirely possible that the television set could be won on any draw number up to ten.

The numbers in the order they were drawn are: one, 0223 43 red, two, 873822, orange, three, 113256 purple, four, 873973 orange, five, 870851 orange set, 873925 orange, seven, 873863 orange, eight, 113181 purple; nine, 0223 38 red; ten, 870838 orange.

Leo Brown Top Cowboy of Edson Rodeo for straight third year

When the points were totaled Saturday afternoon Leo Brown of Czar, Alberta, was found to be the winner of the Commodore Hotel Trophy for the third year in succession. The trophy was presented shortly after the final event Saturday afternoon by Mr Bart Kuefler.

Shortly after that clock contractor Harry Vold and most of the competing riders left for their next rodeo. There is a rodeo somewhere in Alberta almost every weekday of July and August and the circuit is a busy one.

From the number of riders with bandaged arms, limp, or some other evidence of injury, the rodeo circuit is a rough one and not to be followed by the timid. To see a rider trying to miss flying hoofs or mauling horse it would seem to be a miracle that more riders aren't hurt.

Asked how many horses he had broken in his rodeo career, Buddy Heaton, the clown who tossed the Brahma bull away from their riders said, "All of 'em. Some as many as four times."

In answer to the question of how many years he had been competing in rodeos, Buddy said, "Oh, or at least it seemed that long sometimes."

But as he said, "it gets in your blood and you don't quit you have to".

A list of the winners of the rodeo events follow, reading from 1st to 4th place in that order.

Saddle bronc riding Wayne Vold, Dewinton Leo Brown, Czar, Roy Ilstad, Calgary, Wayne Dewney, Carseland.

Bareback Jim Clifford Robinson, Dale Trotter, Cochrane Valley, Allen Thorpe St Albert, Leo Brown, Czar.

Bull riding Dave Stephenson, Okotoks, Leo Brown,

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Neale of Edmonton were weekend visitors in the district. They visited their sisters, Mrs. H. Haddock, Mrs. A. Giles, Mrs. O. Preibe and Mrs. G. Preibe as well as Bob Neale and family.

THANKS FOLKS

On behalf of the Edson Tri-Service Rodeo and Exhibition Association, I would like to thank everyone who assisted us to put on a successful Rodeo. Without your tremendous aid and co-operation, it would have been impossible for the Tri-Service to stage a performance of such magnitude.

A special thanks — to Trail Bus Service Ltd. of Edson for providing a bus and drivers to transport Rodeo patrons from main street to the grounds both days; to the R.C.M.P. who were burdened with a tremendous amount of extra work; and to the Edson Town police force who assisted us, particularly during the parade.

A car-cow collision on High way 16, Monday morning of last week cost the cow her life and the driver, temporarily at least, his means of transportation. To the casual observer, it now can be casual about any accident, the car was damaged beyond immediate driving condition. The cow belonged to Beisel Van Dyke.

Suffering what appeared to be appendicitis, Vivian Steiwandt was rushed to Edson Hospital but was released a few days later feeling much better without the doubtful benefit of surgery.

Rural residents are enjoying telephone service as of July 20th, although we must admit this party line business can be confusing and down right embarrassing on occasion.

Mrs. Harold Thomas is counting the days between now and take-off time August 4th, for her first visit to Scotland in more than 30 years. Anne will spend her holidays with her mother, sisters and families and renew acquaintances with friends and former neighbors. Mrs. Terry O'Toole will accompany her mother.

Mr. and Mrs. Olesenko are putting the finishing touches on their beautiful new home. Did you notice us spying on you folks? Next time we will stop in and request a tour of inspection.

Robert Hill has accepted an office job in Calgary. Mrs. Hill and family plan to join him soon and make their home in the Stampede City. You'll love Calgary, Kids—Good luck ! ! !!!!

His many friends in this district extend best wishes for every success to Dr. Peter Cohort, now making his home in Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Barreau and son Randy, moved into their newly acquired mobil home recently.

Unconfirmed reports tell us Mr. and Mrs. Nels Jensen are no longer playing for dances. Do you realize how serious this is Nels and Mary? We will let you in on a secret. Our young lady we know has become a confirmed spinster because all her life she has planned for you to provide the music for her wedding dance. Better reconsider, reorganize or what ever. You don't want that hanging on your scenes—do you?

Joking aside, we will miss you and your toe tapping music kids.

Mrs. Sid Smith is receiving care in Edson Hospital to determine the cause of a sudden illness. According to our information the attack was severe but short and Mrs. Smith is recuperating. Enjoy the enforced holiday, Li and get well fast

Alberta is going to retain her wild and wooly status if her denizens of the forest continue their recent behavior.

The odd broken bone and a wrecked car will help tell the story when one group of Americans get back home, but the bull moose that met them head on (in the Whitecourt vicinity) died on the spot. Each now in his own way under rated his adversary. (as tourists admit) they had never before encountered a moose—and evidently the animal never realized the chance he was taking when he challenged the automobile.

According to unconfirmed reports, three moose have been killed on the Whitecourt-Valleyview highway within a period of three weeks. The last occurred during the day—so it was not a case of headlights confusing the animal.

Ed Brandle is among those rural folk putting their talents to work as entertainers in Edson's hotels. An accomplished singer and guitarist, Mr. Brandle is making quite a hit with his audiences.

The Olesenko sisters are also entertaining during their pre-rodeo events with their old time music. Congratulations folks.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hrenta and family took part in the Klondike Days parade. We do not have all the details but were told Melvin was 'skinner' on a covered wagon

Water Safety - Boating

You and your family may be among the thousands of Canadians who will use our lakes, rivers and streams for boating pleasure this summer. Boating in any small craft, canoe, row-boat, sailboat, or outboard, can be great fun, however a word of caution is necessary, use common sense afloat!

Far too many accidents are the result of ignorance or carelessness. Whether you are enjoying a quiet paddle in a canoe, a quick spin in a motor boat, an exciting run on water skis, or out hunting and fishing, safeguard those around you. Learn and practice the rules of "Boating Safety".

Plan exactly what you will do in the event of an emergency, before; the emergency happens. Put on your life-preserver, if the boat over turns, hold on to it. The boat will support you until help comes. Shed your clothing Heavy garments are tiring and exhaustion may cause you to lose your hold on the boat.

Don't try to swim ashore — it is farther away than you think. If you are trying to rescue someone, be sure to keep the stern away from the party in the water.

Throw the swimmer a line and he will use our lakes, or buoy. Circle around into the wind or waves and shut off the motor. Help the swimmer into the boat over the transom, being careful not to brush the motor.

Sources from which immediate help may be requested are the police and the fire department.

SCOTTY (Freddie) YEUDALL climbs from his Flintstone type car after winning first prize in the comic section of the parade. The car was entered by Derksen Foreign Cars. With Scotty in the car were the Volkswagen dealer from Stony Plain, Frances Derksen and Janis Derksen. They ban an "Aba deba doo" at answer to every question that was asked them and got lots of laughs all along the parade route.

Rodeo parades get an 'A-okay' from spectators

Although entries in the two parades last weekend were fewer than usual when floats began to assemble at the CN station there were last minute entries coming from every direction. Altogether there were more than 30 entries, not including the chariot teams, the visiting dignitaries or Tri-Ser vice Assns. president's car.

There were many outstanding floats, making a tough job for the seven judges. Some entries which weren't included in the winners list got lots of attention. One of these was the car of ancient vintage entered by Midtown Auto Supply. This old car, polished to perfection, gave viewers an idea of what was fashionable away back when.

Slim Martin was there with his four-up team of draft horses and dray wagon for the Commodore Hotel. No parade would be quite complete without this entry as we remember what the hauling business was like not too many years ago.

Winners in the various classes in 1st, 2nd and 3rd, order are as follows: Western Class: Western Hoboes, Mitchell's Ranch, A. W. Smith Trucking with his old time buggy.

Outstanding entries Glamor Beauty Salon with its "then and now" theme of hairdressing over the ages; The Commodore Hotel singers, Roycroft Beauty Salon.

Commercial Class: Gelmar's Jewellery and Edson Real Estate combined, Hiatt's Beauty Salon, Hi-Line Bowl.

Bands: The Andrew Band, the County of Camrose Band, Bill Filmonikin Filmonics Band.

Comical Class: Iverhaven's Flintstone car; Twan and Jerry's Slave Horse, Griffiths Bike

Industrial Class: Dept. of Lands and Forests, Carpenters Union, Shelpay's Transport

Institutional Class: Peers Brownies; Order of the Royal Purple; Evergreen Bible School

Bikes Class: Allan Rennie; towing the little grain elevator with the sheaves of grain beside it, and Debra Carlson

Agricultural Class: Spruce Grove Feed Store; Edson 4-H Beef Club, Al's Exchange

Outside Outstanding Dray: Ian Velley Town, Home and Pitfield Foods, the Klondike Stage

Spectators at Saturdays parade wondered at the hold up when the last half of the floats trickled down to a stand still at times. It seems some of the front floats became overheated from travelling in low gear for so long and just had to stop.

A GREAT FAVORITE WITH THE KIDDIES were these A & W Drive In figures, Momma and Poppa Burger and Chubby Chicken.

CAUGHT IN THE ACT of doffing his white cowboy hat, Jim Griffiths, president of the Tri-Service Rodeo Assoc., rode in the president's convertible with this year's lovely guest of honor, Miss Dominion of Canada, who was Miss Marjorie Schofield of Burlington, Ont.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir

On behalf of my family, and speaking especially for the four little girls, I would like to thank the Edson Carpenters' Union Local 1227 for making it possible for me to be a lucky winner of the children's playhouse which they raffled at our recent and successful Edson Rodeo.

The fact that the proceeds of this venture were to go to the Cub and Scout activities in Edson is what prompted me to buy the one ticket which won several of our other enthusiastic boosters were working on the scheme to raise funds for other youth activities in Edson.

Never before have I seen a man who worked so hard, who spent so much time, money, and effort to make the rodeo a success as our Tri Service chairman, Jim Griffiths, whom I am proud to recognize as a former Kinsmen. Surely any member of any service club could strive for the kind of selfless devotion to his community which is shown by Mr. Griffiths.

I am wondering which of the various youth groups in Edson will see an opportunity to show their appreciation by promoting a clean-up of the rodeo and midway grounds.

A gang of fifty or more youngsters could soon have all the paper burned, all the bottles gathered, and the grounds ready for more improvements and more activities in a matter of a couple of hours. Such a clean-up could be held in conjunction with a picnic or other outdoor activity.

Yours truly,
F. R. Woerpel

Dear Editor

My English is not very good, so is my spelling; I hope, you forgive, because I am an immigrant with Canadian Citizen papers. I am not always complaining to newspapers.

I am past 60 and write for the first time. Just as I am writing I see young men drink big beer in front of my neighbour's house

Yes, my neighbor, young men never see him attend to work in the Welfare supporting him"

If my body had thermostat, it would be burned by now All I see over there are the drinks "Drink and be merry"

Then come over to me to phone for help when some body after fights is bleeding to death, or when the kids want their mom home from the beer parlor

I am supporting my husband most the time, but I be darned I have to support these people with my tax money Are there more cows like this in the town"

When in a lie not a lie? Only when it's a fish to make somebody feel good. This is directed toward the fellow who challenged the veracity of a recent statement in our column. Anyway—look at it this way—it's all a matter of personal preferences. One man's poison is quite one other than we.

The crew on a construction job near Fox Creek have nothing but praise for the weather man there past few days. They were rained out just in time for the Edson Rodeo. Somebody up there loves you guys. No doubt about it.

John Carlson tells us he spent a most enjoyable two weeks at Bear Lake with his daughter, Mrs. Lee Pigeon and

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hallin and family from Edmonton have spent all weekend holidays so of last week. Their second excursion out Jasper way this season wasn't quite as cold as an earlier trip when they a new fur coat to find snow and frozen clothing, but rain put the lid on weekend plans this time.

We began our column several days ago and mentioned one lucky neighbor who had a new farm truck Since then the number has grown to four as we still just keep them loaded her in one compact unit: Karl Sharp, Daniel Heintz, Lan Heintz a '66 Chev., Bill Heintz a '65 Ford and Mr. Share—we aren't certain of the year and make but it looks very nice. Bill Henderson has a 1966 'Big Job' truck - GM product, as of a week or two ago.

Regardless of a differ of a rain alarm several local people attended a circus in Whitecourt last week. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Hollebone, Mrs. Harold Thomas, Anne lee, Shirley Thomas and family Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hen hault and son. Edwin Stanyer and Mrs. Allen Forbes.

We've had a bond on him on several occasions but to date haven't been able to get near enough for a good shot. He grazes with the cattle and even lays along when flies drive them into the barn yard He's a beauty and we'll get him yet—a fat sleek and shiny buck deer. Our weapon—a Kodavelor camera.

Mrs. Goodison welcomed the last big rainstorm and subsequent few days off the job. Not because of a "more rain more rust" theory; she is enjoying a respite from the persistant advances of an unwelcome guest—a black bear

Forestry Officials destroyed one such prowler a couple of weeks ago, but evidently they had not been notified about the second. Contrary to pop-ular opinion a black bear will become vicious on occasion as our sympathy lies with Cecilia when she records the bear literally camping on her porch and scratching on the cook house door

Mrs. Goodison is a cook for a road camp.

Family visits are fun

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ramlech have had an enjoyable summer so far, what with visits from their children and holidays out of town with relatives.

Mr and Mrs. A. Burdon and family from Oakville, Ontario, visited here. Mrs. Burdon is the Ramlech's daughter The Burdons and Ramlechs then went on to the Okanagan for a visit with relatives they had not seen in 20 years. While there they camped at Shuswap Lake.

Another daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Ouderkirk from Surrey, B.C., are presently visiting relatives and friends in the Edson district

Another daughter, Mrs. Norval Taylor, her husband and family of Grande Prairie spent a few days visiting here before moving to Whitehorse, in the North West Territories to make their home.

PROBABLY ONE OF THE MOST ENJOYED FEATURES of the rodeo was the Roman riding act of Miss Elaine Kramer and her six perfectly matched horses. Miss Kramer, from Hoosier, Sask., owns and trains her horses. She displayed extra-ordinary balance, courage and strength as she put her horses through various patterns, such as figure eights, jumping hurdles, etc.

School of Dancing to Open in September

Residents will this September endeavour and children are seeing the opening of a dancing school. Classes will be held in Edson where children can look forward to a bright future of training, under the direction of Mrs. Eleanor Monsma. Classes will be taught in both tap and ballet, with "open house" several days a year for pupils eager to demonstrate their talents for friends and parents.

Many people who have not given the matter of dance training for their children serious thought imagine that dancing serves but for the purpose of providing a spectacle on the stage.

Not so, it is recognized throughout the world that ballet is one of the finest means of securing perfect and normal physical development in the growing child. This training not only develops the body, but also stimulates the mental facilities of the youth fat pupil and is invaluable in the opinion of top educational authorities.

All parents interested in enrolling their children in September classes are asked to complete the registration form on this page and send it to Mrs. C. Monsma, Box 870, Edson.

Only school age children will be considered. Those registered will be advised as to time, place and attire for classes.

This best way for a man to get even with a woman is to let her alone before he meets her.

A small boy queried by the police about a broken window, explained: "I was cleaning my slingshot and it went off."

Our Alberta Heritage
WESTERN CANADIAN PIONEER MUSEUM

1911 Franklin

History of pioneer transportation captured in this unique collection

An enterprising father and son team, Ted and Stan Reynolds, have created one of the most unusual museums in our province. Here are authentic stage coaches and old time vehicles, such as the open buggies that provided prairie transportation in the days when "horse power" meant just that. Four hundred steam and internal combustion engines, stationary and traction models in broadly varying design, are prominent in the collection. You'll see pioneer cars dating way back to 1898 including the 1904 Cadillac and Olds 1 cylinder runabouts, 1908 Baker and 1911 Detroit Yeats electric cars, 1911 Franklin air cooled, 1914 V twelve cylinder National, Ford town sedan drive and the Brooks steam car. There's even a Gypsy Moth biplane, a horse drawn hearse, and a 1952 aerial ladder fire truck. The Western Landmark Pioneer Museum in Wetaskiwin is more than a historical storehouse. It represents a tremendous outlay of interest, time and effort by two imaginative Albertans, in creating a permanent tribute to the pioneer history of our Alberta.

Next time you're travelling highway No. 2, stop and visit the Western Canadian Pioneer Museum at Wetaskiwin. It's open every day from May 1 to October 1.

Gymkhana planned for Horse Club field day

The Edson 4-H Light Horse Club will hold its first achievement day on Saturday, August 27th at the Rodeo Grounds. This will mark the end of its first year of existence. It has been a challenging and difficult year for the members.

4-H, as such, is new to Edson and district and in addition to this, 4-H horse clubs are very new to Alberta, this being the first year they have come into existence. To the best of my knowledge there are only three clubs in the province and ours is one of them.

The 4-H horse program offers three projects: 1. Horsemanship, 2. Grandmare, 3. Colt. For this first year all members took part in the horsemanship project and they feel that they have all learned something about the handling and caring for a horse.

On achievement day they will have the opportunity to show their horses and no doubt, this being another first, will all learn as much about showing and judging and they will be judged.

The achievement day will be combined with a gymkhana to which others are invited. The program will consist of those events which had to be cancelled on the July weekend due to rain, though it is possible that some regrouping according to age will take place as 4-H ages range from 12 to 20.

There will also be events for the Pewees, which are riders under 12 years of age. The gymkhana events are open for participation by all interested.

Entries should be sent to Mr. R. Davidson, Box 2101, by Aug. 26. The program will start with the 4-H judging at 10:30 a.m. The gymkhana is scheduled to start at 1:30 p.m. Be sure to bring your lunch.

MR. AND MRS. ALBERT BLUM JR.

The United Church in Edson was the setting on July 9th when Velma Joyce Vearing exchanged marriage vows with Albert Blum Jr

Rev. D.A. MacPherson performed the wedding ceremony for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs Leslie N. Vearing of Shepparton, Victoria, Australia, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Blum Sr. of Edson, Alberta. The bride was given in marriage by Mr. Howard Kennedy

Mrs. George Macleun played the wedding music.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor length gown of 'glow po' satin styled on Empire lines with floral appliqué neckline. The color in the bou quet of yellow roses was echoed in her headdress of yellow roses and tulle.

Mr Ernie Blum of Edson, was best man Ushers were Edward Blum and Jaroslaw Paschak

For her son's wedding Mrs Blum Sr. wore a suit of small blue and white check material Accessories were in pale blue and white and her corsage was of pink roses.

A reception for 50 guests was held in the basement hall of the Sacred Heart Church.

Toast to the bride was proposed by Mr A. Olson and responded to by the groom. A dance in Drouin hall, held later in the evening, was attended by many friends who came to extend best wishes to the happy young couple

Following a honeymoon trip to Banff Mr. and Mrs. Blum are making their home in Edson

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mrs. Helen Lederer, sister of the groom, and Miss Yogi Paschak, cousin of the groom, from Vancouver

BARRY HEATON, the clown for the Brahma Bull event, stands by with his big inner tube, not yet aware that the rider was in trouble. The rider got his hand caught in the bull rope and was dragged beside the bucking bull for probably 60 feet before his hand came down the front. A train fell from the shoulders and her chapel length veil was gathered to a floral headdress The bridal bouquet was made up of white roses and lily of the valley. Her only jewellery was a single strand of cultured pearls a gift from the groom. Attended to her bouquet by long ribbons were two horsebacks which had been sent from Australia as symbols of good luck for her marriage.

Miss Yogi Paschak was bridesmaid She wore a floor length, sheath style gown of angua colored sateen with elbow length sleeves and boat

FIRST PRIZE WINNER in the Agricultural class in the rodeo parade was this entry, the Spruce Grove Farm Supplies Ltd., with its grain elevator.

KEITH MITCHELL DID WELL AT THE JASPER RODEO but also did himself proud during the Edson Rodeo festivities by winning a saddle donated by Dorksen Foreign Cars Ltd. and Husky Oil for saying in 25 words why he liked the Edson Rodeo. Mr. Jim Dorkson, president of Dorkson Foreign Cars Ltd. presented the saddle to Keith this week. The saddle, a beautiful example of leathercraft, was supplied by Edson Shoe Repair. Keith is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mitchell.

WINNER OF THE LADIES' CHAMPIONSHIP at the Hinton Car Derby Golf Tournament was Mrs. H. McEvoy of Edson. Club President, Lon Vasts is presenting the trophy.

SECONDS AFTER this picture was taken, the rope tightened and this calf found itself on the ground in a most undignified position.

Centennial Report

1867 1967 by JOHN W FISHER CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

Time flies fast during summer holidays and it won't be long before it's back to school on September 6th. The coming school year takes us right into Canada's Centennial celebrations and there will be so some special news this fall for the five and a half million children and tomorrow attending schools throughout the country.

School posters and classroom posters will announce the news in September that all public and high school students from six to 18 years of age will be invited to participate in the Centennial Athletic Award program. There will be three "compulsory" events — one minute speed sit up, a 300 yard run, and a standing broad jump. Participants in the awards program will choose one additional event out of three "optionals".

Amateur Speed Skating Association standards will be used. No Canadian standards for a versus country run have ever been developed before so the Centennial Commission has invited groups of school children of various ages in the Ottawa area and has set up special ones for the 1967 program.

The department of education in each province will be sending out teachers' manuals to schools for the beginning of fall term. Teachers also will receive class record sheets and each student will receive a wallet size card so that he can keep his score during the Centennial athletic events that may be run off between September 6, 1966 and December 31, 1967.

Gold, silver and bronze Centennial crests for outstanding work will go to outstanding athletes in the awards program. If a student does not achieve standards in athletic events to merit a gold, silver or bronze award he will receive a red crest (shown below) for participation and at least a passing mark in all events.

The Commission and the provinces, in planning the Centennial Athletic Awards Program, selected events that would require no special athletic equipment and that would be suitable for maximum participation. All administration will be handled through the provincial departments of education. Teachers will conduct the compulsory events but a teacher may delegate anyone to conduct optional events.

The planning of the program has been done with sports directors and various Canadian sports organizations and with the approval of all provinces and territories plus the Department of Indian Affairs, the Department of National Defence (responsible for Canadian schools overseas) and the Department of Northern Affairs (which administers schools in the territories and Arctic Islands).

CAPITAL REPORT

ALBERTA GJVERNMENT WOOING THE JAPANESE MARKET

It would appear that a fellow could almost make a living running a regular airline schedule between Edmonton and Japan.

Only weeks after Premier Manning and the minister of industry and development, Rona Patrick, returned from a trade and industrial tour of that country, a Japanese delegation again popped up in the Alberta capital.

Their talks and studies again centered on the subject of Alberta coal, iron, sulphur and copper and important feasibility surveys are being conducted in this area. At least that's what's been said in public.

But it's becoming less of a secret that the Alberta govern ment is urgently looking for new markets to handle its huge oil production — and Japan is right at the top of the list. Oil companies are exerting pressure for such a move and Mr. Manning has already pointed out that a pipeline to Prince Rupert (which could become a major port for all exports) would be much shorter than existing pipeline to eastern Canada.

During last week's visit of Japanese industrialists and that country's ambassador, Mr Manning went further by pointing out that Canada could buy more from Japan than it now buys from the United States This would help to even up the balance of trade with both countries, he explained.

There was also some activity right on the legislative grounds.

About 60 Metis and treaty Indians from the Wabasca reserve on Great Slave Lake picketed the building in efforts to obtain government agreement (and money) for a sawmill project. They also met for two and a half hours with the minister of public works, Fred Colborne.

They already have a small sawmill but big timber companies are beginning to squeeze it out and they asked the government to finance a competitive operation.

After they met with Mr. Colborne, who is responsible for the province's community development program, the situation was somewhat clarified.

The government says funds will be made available for purchase of equipment to cut timber (which would be supplied to the big mills) and would help with job training. But it won't spend anything more on a mill for the native groups.

Bickering between the Alberta School Trustees Association and the Alberta Teachers Association reached the boiling point last week that the provincial government is almost certain to become involved

The ASTA says the ATA is trying to seize control of the school system from the province's voters and taxpayers. The method would involve placing authority for teacher certification in the hands of the teachers themselves. The ASTA suggests the "vital function of evaluating teachers' credentials for salary purposes may be wrested from the department of education".

An article sent by the ASTA to all MLA's goes on to say that control of teacher evaluation by the teachers themselves "would lead to abnormal and unhealthy control of a necessary public service by one relatively small pressure group. It threatens the welfare of Alberta youth. By curtailing the number of teachers allowed to teach, the teachers' organization could hold taxpayers to ransom".

To all of which Fred Seymour, assistant executive secretary of the ATA, replied, "poppycock". He pointed out that the province retains the authority to determine who will teach in Alberta and who won't.

The whole situation may be magnified out of all proportion — but neither side thinks so right now.

MARJORIE SCHOFIELD 'Miss Dominion of Canada', had a lot of new experiences when she was a guest of Edson last weekend to officially open the annual Tri-Service Assoc. Rodeo. Miss Schofield proved to be a personable 18 year old, very like Edson's own 18 year old daughters, with possibly a bit more polish gained in her modeling and beauty contest appearances. She seemed fascinated by this mounted cougar in the Edson Motor Hotel, feeling its eyes, ears, tail, stroking its fur, etc. Finally giving its side a pat she exclaimed in surprised tone "It's hollow".

THIS PICTURE SHOWS a small part of the crowd that attended the two day rodeo last Friday and Saturday. This picture was taken during the evening show Saturday night when Ernie Mikol all attempted to roll this sedan. On the first attempt the ramp swung the right fenders in and the car was pulled out of the way so a new ramp could be erected. Two more attempts were made, but the car just wouldn't roll, although it went out of control on the last attempt and hit the race track fence west of the corral. By then there was such a cheer of youngsters gathered on the west corral fence it was considered too dangerous to make another try. Friday evening Mr. Mitchell had rolled his vehicle which burst into flames right in front of the grandstand.

ONE OF THE COMMODORE HOTEL entries in the parade got a big 'E' for effort. This flatbed was loaded with youngsters and with Ernie Heumann playing piano and Mrs. Maxine Trydall playing accordian accompaniment they sang 'This Land is Our Land' over and over during the whole parade route.

THE DEPT. OF LANDS AND FORESTS set up a fire camp on a low boy, fried doughy looking something or other and won the judges nod for the best float in the industrial class of the rodeo parade.

Enjoy family reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Makowski have been enjoying a family reunion holiday with members of their family from out of town.

Daughter Irene was here from Salt Lake City, Utah; daughter Ilene Bettie and children, Brenda and Billie were from Estevan, Sask.; Johnny and Mary Mooney and children Donna and William from Edmonton; daughter Anne from Edmonton.

Three with son Freddie, his wife and son; and daughter Ellen Berdisk, her husband and family, all from Hines, had a wonderful time at the family supper outdoors on the Makowski lawn last Sunday

Fr. Boyd Dowden leaving, honored by parishioners

Father Boyd Dowden has been the guest of honor at numerous farewell affairs recently prior to his leaving Edson in the near future.

Last Sunday evening about 40 parishioners gathered in the rectory for a social evening. Fr. Dowden was presented with an electric coffee percolator and a purse of money on behalf of the congregation.

Fr. Dowden has made many friends in Edson, both within his parish and with the general public. He will be missed, but the good wishes of his friends go with him. He will be attending the University of British Columbia this year to further his education.

This Sunday will be his last service in St. Chilperic's Parish. He hopes to come back to Edson for the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. Ben Askwell entertained at a small dinner party recently, in honor of Fr. Dowden. An informal evening was enjoyed. Much hilarity took place when Mrs. Askwell presented the honored guest with a beautifully wrapped gift. Up on opening the gift Fr. Dowden found the pipe that he had lost a week or so earlier . . . and so a beautiful friendship renowned.

Seen on the Main Drag

—A passing tourist losing up her camera on Edson's attractive wildlife, the Collin moose. One of many to record it pictorially on their holiday, no doubt —Barbara Koebel waiting for her mother while Mrs. K completed some business.

—Bertie Yesdahl sayin' how nice it was to have his family all home for a few days Daughter Bubbles and family were here from the Coal Lake Lorne from Edmonton

—Reddy Killowatt delighted many youngsters along the parade route by running over and giving them a close-up ... Reddy was a part of the Calgary Power float.

—Another group that pleased the youngsters were the 3 & W figures. More than one small fry tried to look under the hood to see what or who was there.

—The Western decorations have disappeared from the stores along the Main Drag by now, leaving the town rather bare looking.

—Following one of the pre rodeo holidays, a tourist was heard to tell his spouse, "I understand its just something cooked up to advertise a local rodeo".

THE GORDON MITCHELL FAMILY of Bickerdike attended the Jasper Frontier Days rodeo on Sunday, children's event day, and came home with a trophy and other ribbons. Bob Mitchell, 14, here holds the trophy he won for the Best Gymkhana Horse, the trophy donated by Chaba Theatre. Bob's competition was between 20 and 25 horses, many of them from Southern Alberta and B.C. Bob's 13 year old brother Keith won second prize ribbons in the pole bending and rescue race competitions, and a third prize in the flag picking event. The Pembrun family also attended from Robb and did very well Norma won first prize in pole bending and Glenn won first prize in the Junior barrel races.

finals before the parade started found their list of 21 entries a more drop in the last het. Last minute entries took the parade up to more than 50 separate units and made judging a difficult task.

Following the parade there was just time to have lunch before going out to the rodeo grounds for the afternoon events. A light rain dampened the spectators enthusiasm part of Friday afternoon, but it did not deter them away until after the last event of the afternoon, the Brahma bull riding.

There was a good crowd back for the evening grand stand performance and for the dance at night, again to the music of the Badger Brothers orchestra.

Perfect weather on Saturday afternoon saw possibly the biggest crowd in the nine year history of the Edson Rodeo. The grandstand, even with the additional sections added this year, was packed to the last foot of space, as well as the usual fence sitters and a busy midway

Many families took lunch and stayed through at the rodeo grounds for the grandstand show in the evening By the time the final pony chuckwagon race had been run it was dark enough for the fireworks display, before the finale dance of the week.

Dignitaries at Edson Gas Plant official opening

Officials of the operating companies, government ministers and other guests were on hand for the "official" opening of the Edson Gas Plant four miles west of Edson on Thursday afternoon July 28th.

The gas facility has been handling the raw product from the largest Mississipian gas field in Canada since November of last year and the official opening had been delayed until the site was in a more presentable condition.

Construction started on the plant in November of 1964. The major discovery well in the 185 square mile field was completed in January of 1962. The cost of the initial above the surface equipment is given as eleven million dollars. Some 40 employees in the plant itself account for the quarter of million dollar payroll.

Gas capacity for sale after processing amounts to 260 million cubic feet per day. Equivalent to the daily needs of Calgary and Edmonton combined.

Condensate production rape city is 2,800 barrels per day. While there is propane and butane produced, it is used to fire the heate boilers in the plant.

Sulphur production capacity is 225 long tons per day — the equivalent of three railway cars per day. The first shipment was made to South Africa in May of this

Major contractors building the plant included Kinsmen Hogue of Canada Ltd., Ralph M. Parsons Co. of Canada Ltd., Bannister Construction (1962) Ltd. and Maloney Steelcrafts

4-H Efficiency winners earn week at Vermilion

Something unique came up in the district 4-H clubs recently when two sets of twins, cousins, won first and second place efficiency awards in their respective clubs. Joanne and Wendy Pulisho won their awards as members of the Edson Pins and Needles 4-H Sewing Club. Sharon and Carol Miloch won their awards as members of Peers Super Chefs 4-H Cooking Club.

As first place winners Joanne and Sharon had an all expense paid week at the Vermilion School of Agriculture recently. It was a week crammed with study and fun.

Girls from all over Alberta took part in classes on introduction and advanced platform speaking; program planning; Centennial and 50th Anniversary planning; introduction and advanced demonstrations, junior leadership, recreational and social activities; Junior Council, etc.

The girls came home with lots of ideas to share with fellow club members. Arlene Nielsen of Peers, last year's efficiency winner of the Peers Club, also attended the one week workshop with Joanne and Sharon.

Having just completed their first year of 4-H work, Wendy and Joanne plan to take the second year clothing club projects this fall. Carol and Sharon, starting their third year in 4-H have already had a year of each of sewing and cooking and are undecided as to what they will take this year.

ALL IN THE FAMILY — These two sets of twins, who are also cousins, made it a real family affair when they recently won efficiency awards in their respective 4-H Clubs. Carol and Sharon Miloch, at left, were second and first place winners in the Peers Super Chefs while Joanne and Wendy Pulisho, at right, were first and second place winners in the Edson Pins and Needles Club.

Elks plan Vocational School for the Deaf

Local representatives of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks of Canada, and its auxiliary, the Order of the Royal Purple, voted in favor of assisting deaf students in Canada at their annual convention held in Regina. Lots to do along the Yellowhead

During the very busy rodeo weekend an American tourist asked one of the Leader staffers if Edson was always so busy. She replied that though a busy place usually it was particularly so this week because of the rodeo.

Next the tourist asked "Where are all those cars going?" and discovered there was an Antique Car Derby at Hinton. Then the visitor remarked that they were on their way to Jasper which brought the news that there was a Frontier Days Rodeo at Jasper the same weekend.

The tourist was a little surprised at all the activity in the three towns and felt they had hit a real bonanza for the weekend.

Letter to Editor

Two letters in your paper have me writing to you. One about children working on tractors etc. and another one about welfare, it being used the way it shouldn't be.

The farmers have no alternative but to put their children on the tractors. Men who can't work and should work just sit in the bars. They walk the streets and when approached by a farmer to go and help him haying or harvesting they decline or never show up.

It's a great burden on the people in the welfare department, but it's one every able bodied man should be cut off with welfare and go to work. There's plenty of work in this area home town but why work when they can get handouts.

Those who need it bad, honestly, should get it, but I have seen countless numbers of persons at counters at the liquor stores while their children were ragged and bare as land.

Make a list of them work, and them out in the farms and the poor parents on the farms won't worry themselves to death that the child may be killed operating machinery.

Good and Mad

An adventure in eating

I was eating lunch in a popular Edmonton restaurant the other day and was attracted by the eating habits of another patron.

This other guest was eating stew which he had ordered with a side order of french fries. The fries had been dumped alongside the stew on the same plate and all was in apparent readiness.

With gusto he speared the boiled potato in the stew and broke it in half. Placing his fork through one half he started it on the way to his mouth. It didn't make it and ended up on the floor after slithering across his lap. As he mopped off his trousers the language, though low, was unmistakably profane.

Attention then centred on some serious eating with the french fries being mulled in to the gravy of the stew then piled on the fork with the knife and slurped off about six at a time. The success of this operation apparently restored confidence for the other half of the boiled potato now came in for further attention. Properly speared by the fork this vegetable was transferred directly to the mouth and was bitten into with apparent relish. Boy! it must have been hot inside that potato. I thought his eyes were going to drop onto his plate and steam must have formed in his ears for he took his index finger and gave his left ear a mighty jab.

Coffee and pie did not cause as much concern or difficulty and he was soon on his way, another adventure in eating safely behind him.

CANADA NOW PRODUCING OIL NEEDS

An Editorial appearing in the August issue of the Imperial Oil Review explains how foreign investment help develop Alberta's oil industry:

"Celebrant with all the celebrations of our hundredth anniversary next year, the Canadian oil industry will also mark a milestone. On balance, Canada is going to become self-sufficient in petroleum in 1967. For the first time the value of petroleum industry exports will equal the value of imports.

"This is a big change. Less than 20 years ago, we imported 90 per cent of our oil, and Canada's one major oil field — Turner Valley in Alberta — was declining steadily. Then Imperial discovered the Leduc field, and the country was on its way to the goal it will reach next year.

"Since Leduc came in, Canada has invested $7½ billion in oil exploration and production in western Canada. A lot of this was capital generated by the industry itself and ploughed back into more exploration and development, but a lot also came from abroad. This foreign capital was essential in the development of the western oil fields. In fact, it wasn't until 1962 that annual gross revenues from oil and gas operations began to exceed annual expenditures. But the industry's cumulative deficit still totals more than $2 billion

"Why didn't the oil industry get all its capital inside the country? Canada simply lacked the capital resources to finance the oil development as well as the other major developments of the postwar period. Many people did invest in oil in those days, of course, but to a large extent Canadian risk capital was "hard rock" oriented. Investors were familiar with mining, but wary of big-scale oil exploration and development, which was new and strange.

"We were lucky that foreign capital was available 10 years ago when we needed it. Without it we could still be an oil-poor nation. Canada is a great country and a country of great resources. But resources must be developed and development required capital — sometimes in huge amounts. Keeping all this in mind, perhaps it would be well to remember a remark W. O. Twaits made at Imperial's annual meeting last April. 'Capital flows most readily,' the president said, 'to the point where it is most welcomed.'"

GRAVE CHARGES

The Alberta school trustees' association has made a serious charge against the Alberta teachers' association by claiming that the ATA executive is bidding to "usurp" the powers of certification of teachers who are eligible to teach in Alberta schools.

The school trustees state that this ATA bid "threatens the structure of Alberta youth . . . by controlling the number of teachers allowed to teach."

Who are those people who make this charge against the ATA? Our representatives, members of the city, county and town school boards who have been elected by us to look after the public's interest in educational affairs?

As such, they deserve an immediate and sympathetic hearing from the provincial government — particularly since they represent the same Albertans as does the government.

It is no secret that the ATA head office has for years zealously sought a full "professional" status for its graduate members. They have pointed to other professional groups — doctors, lawyers, dentists and so on — which police and protect the qualifications and ethics of their own professions.

By the very nature of their employment, however, teachers do not operate in the same climate. As the school trustees point out, " . . . (those other groups) are not public; they do not have a captive clientele, and they do not have in their ranks a majority of inadequately-prepared professionals who can voice on matters of education and certification."

The ATA executive secretary has labelled the school trustees' charges as "poppycock."

The public — and our school representatives — are entitled to a thorough investigation of the complaint launched. And if the school trustees are right, the ATA should be set straight right now. Teacher certification must remain in the public realm.

SHORT OR LONG HAIR

What has the length of a student's hair got to do with his achievement? When school principals send boys home to get their long hair cut, parents should reply by sending the lad back with a picture of Albert Einstein.

There seems to be an unfortunate failure in reasoning when relates long hair to low grades. The lad is a failure in school. The lad has low grades. So, cut his hair and his grades will go up. Is that the way reasoning processes work?

To make him cut his hair will no more strengthen his moral ability than it will strengthen a chin line to shave a beard. The one thing it will do, however, is to emphasize false values. The teacher may be implying that it is all right to fail as long as your hair is short; you must conform to outward rules and regulations, no matter how you feel inside.

Is this helpful to the education system? Would it not be better for educators to look at the boy who may be covering up his personality problems by growing long hair and seek to help the underlying cause?

So many wild generalities are being tossed around in the field of education these days begins to wish that the old story of the unwashed lad being sent home by a teacher "because he has an offensive odor" might be revived. The boy returned to school with a note from his mother: "Johnnie ain't no rose. Teach him. Don't smell him".

Wins trophy for record keeping

Terry Block has been awarded the PUA Trophy for record keeping in the Edson 4-H Beef Club.

This one trophy was not awarded at the recent achievement Day judging as the records of the 12 members had not been checked at that time.

A good deal of interest has been shown by district teen agers in the club activity and day. Numerous ones have indicated their desire to join the club for the next year. The club has to be full to 15 members so that there are not too many openings left.

However there is talk of starting a pig club if the necessary two leaders can be found. This would allow more district teenagers to get involved in a 4-H livestock club and with last production up in the Edson area it could be a very worthwhile project

A PAIR OF CHAMPIONS — Mr. and Mrs Alfred Pambrun of Robb are justly proud of their two champions. 12 year old Norma and 9 year old Glenn. Norma and Glenn took in the Jasper Rodeo July 31st and came home with three trophies and three ribbons. Norma holds two trophies signifying first in pole bending and first in flag picking. She also won third in the 14-2 and under flat race. Her trophies were put up by the Jasper Legion. Glenn holds the Chaba Theatre Trophy for the Jr. Barrel race. He also won 2nd in the key hole race and 3rd in the rescue race. Earlier this year they attended the Drayton Valley Gymkhana where Norma won first in the junior barrel race and 1st in the banana race. Glenn came second in the junior barrel race. In her third year of racing Norma already has eight trophies and at least 15 ribbons in her collection. Glenn has two trophies and four ribbons so far. No doubt they will be adding to their collection when they compete in the local gymkhana on Saturday, August 27 at the rodeo grounds.

INDIANS COMPLAIN . . . RIGHT WINGERS ORGANIZE

The Whitsell Indian question was on the warpath last week and rumors again began circulating that Premier Manning would head a new "right wing" group which could become a national political party.

The Indian situation is one that may take some time to resolve — and many people hope the natives who worked diligently to build a successful lumber mill receive some satisfactory encouragement from the provincial government to continue their efforts.

The "right-wing" story is one that crops up every year or so—and which draws repeated denials from Mr. Manning, in response to the latest rumors he replied simply that he supports any group doing research into Canadian public affairs and political history. But he added that his knowledge of the group in question was that it was "non-partisan and non political." As for federal politics—Mr. Manning once again gave an emphatic "no."

More about these two subjects later. This week seems an excellent one to sit well back and observe Alberta's relative political image—as people outside the province might see it.

As long ago as last spring Mr Manning said he could see nothing wrong with holding an election in Centennial year. He said elections are disruptive of the best of times and a little extra confusion in 1967 probably wouldn't hurt anyone.

Whenever the election is held—and next spring is by far the best bet—nobody really expects the dean of Canadian premiers to be defeated. The Social Credit party holds 50 of the province's 63 seats. The only question is whether the other three parties will be able to form an effective opposition.

At the last session of the legislature Mr Hammond took direct action to encounter one of the most consistent criticisms of his government — that it has been in power since 1935 and is out of step with the time and the feelings of a new generation.

He established a department of youth and named a 29-year-old rural school teacher — Bob Clark — to head it. While nobody knows just what the department will do, it will undoubtedly be used during the campaign to demonstrate the government's concern for the half of Albertans who weren't even born when Social Credit came to power.

The premier has already moved an aging minister from his cabinet in the back bench so and is expected to shuffle a couple more portfolios before he sets an election date.

The other parties claim to be working vigorously for a test of the polls. Probably the most fitting comment at this time is that they still have a long way to go.

Normally the Alberta government glides along fairly smoothly - lubricated by the millions of dollars in oil and gas revenues it receives each week. The province has no sales tax and, because of resource development, has produced a budget surplus each year since the last election.

In its problems with Ottawa centre on things other than money. The Alberta government is dead set against Ottawa's original proposal for a compulsory medical care insurance program. Its complaint may yet be seen in the final draft.

And, in an effort to bring new development money into Alberta, Mr Manning has abandoned Alberta's share of estate taxes—and has asked Ottawa to turn its portion back. The idea is that null

Limited of Calgary

Local companies contributed the big project and included Worthing Transport Ltd. for light and heavy hauling, Doucetors & Sabsinger and Kenbel Co. Ltd.

Members of the Edson Carpenters Union No. 1325 were employed throughout the construction phase, right up to the present.

The plant is operated by Hudson's Bay Oil and Gas Company Limited for 17 participating companies. The plant manager during the construction phase was Dr. A. Younger, who has moved on to another position with the company. Mr. H. Hamilton arrived this spring to take over from Dr. Younger as plant

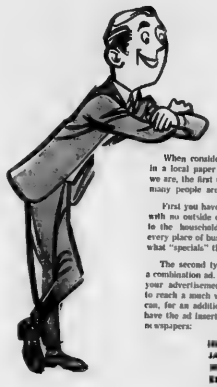
Owners of the gas facility include: Altana Exploration, British American Oil, Canadian Fina Oil, Canadian Superior Oil, Champlin Petroleum, Hamilton Brothers Canadian Gas Company, Hudson's Bay, Midwest Oil, Pacific Petroleum Royalite Oil, Seafort Petroleum, Sinclair Canada Oil, Sun Oil, Superiod Investments and Petroleum, Triad Petroleum Development and Union Tex Petroleum

During the morning and afternoon of July 28 tours of the plant were conducted by members of the Hudson's Bay staff following a briefing on the process used in the plant by Manager Hamilton.

Provincial Government officials included the Hon. Russell Patrick, Minister of Industry and Development, and the Hon. H. Ruste, Minister of Lands and Forests. Edson MLA Bill Switzer and Deputy Mayor M. D. Meade of Edson.

President L. J. Richards of Hudson's Bay Gas and Oil Company Limited, welcomed the guests and was about to declare the plant officially open when a gust of wind blew down the large circus type tent. Fortunately no one was injured and the gathering adjourned to a nearby warehouse for the remainder of the formalities.

let's talk advertising!



When considering purchasing an advertisement in a local paper situated in a community such as we are, the first thing that comes to mind is, "How many people are going to read it?"

First you have a choice of a local advertisement with no outside connections. This type of ad gets to the householders in Town who know where every place of business is located and want to know what "specials" they have to offer the public.

The second type of advertisement is known as a combination ad. By this we mean that you insert your advertisement in this paper, then if you want to reach a much wider buying public potential you can, for an additional fraction of the original cost, have the ad inserted in one or all of the following newspapers:

HINTON HERALD
JASPER TOTEM
ROCKY ECHO
EDSON LEADER
WHITECOURT STAR

You can have any combination of these papers that you wish, whichever you feel will benefit you the most.

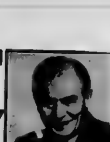
Centennial Report



1867 1967 by JOHN W. FISHER CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

Youth travel programs and cultural exchange visits between communities, and ethnic groups are organized and financed by the Centennial Commission to help promote communication and understanding between Canadians separated by our country's great distance.

The idea behind such programs, of course, is that 1967 is a good time for everyone to get to know Canada better and to learn more about its people, its varied geography and history. But government programs, as in most other cases act merely as catalysts. The idea will become a complete success only if Canadians, motivated from within themselves and on their own initiative, get on the move in '67 to see more of Canada and to learn more about it.

Many of us don't take the opportunity to do a little amateur research on Canada even at short distances. I met a middle aged man, for example, who lived most of his life 90 miles from Niagara Falls and had never seen that great wonder of the world, even though he had toured the United Kingdom and half of Europe during the last war.

For the affluent, a trip across Canada could well replace a European holiday with savings to boot. (Though the distance is so great, the fare is less). For those of us who can't afford such a trip next year, we need only choose a travel radius of one or a few hundred miles, to fit the pocketbook, and pick an interesting spot we've never visited before.

We have no shortage of fascinating communities, historical sites and natural wonders to be seen. I'll wager that many Nova Scotians and other Easterners have not yet visited the old French Fortress of Louisburg, now being restored on Cape Breton Island, whose history on the mere printed page stirs excitement and wonder. How many B.C. mainland residents have really explored the beauties of Vancouver Island and met the interesting personalities who live around the island ports and towns!

I imagine I could pick any one at random on the main street of any Ontario town and find that he had not explored whatever paths around the tobacco country and old Loyalist communities along Lake Erie's north shore, the old Province have neither yet roamed the narrow streets of the old town of Quebec nor taken a motor trip through the wild country around the end of the Gaspe.

Let's make Centennial Year the time for a real Canadian holiday — with a purpose: to know more about our country and our countrymen 32ap

JUNIOR FOREST WARDEN leader Terry Whitely gets appreciative grins from the boys as he recalls to Hon. Henry Ruste, Minister of Lands and Forests some of the humorous happenings of the twelve day inter-provincial camp held the last of July at Jarvis Lake J. Forest Wardens summer camp. The boys were guests of honor at a luncheon in the Edson Motor Hotel on July 28th at which the Hon. Ruste was host representing the provincial government. Left to right are: Mr. Whitely, Buddy Gilham, B.C.; Gerald Bergeron, Quebec; Mr. Ruste; Tony Phillips, B.C. and Pierre Matthieu of Quebec.

Hon. Ruste host at Jr. Warden luncheon

Enroute home after a 12 day summer training camp at Jarvis Lake, four out-of-the-province Junior Forest Wardens as well as four Alberta boys, and their provincial leader, were guests of the Alberta Government at a luncheon held July 28 in the Edson Motor Hotel.

Hosts at the luncheon were the Hon. Henry Ruste, Minister of Lands and Forests and the Hon. Robert Clarke. Also in attendance were Mr. Bill Campbell, Charles Gale, Fire Control Officer for the Edson area; Stan Lockhart, logging and surveying instructor at the Hinton Forestry School.

Besides the Alberta boys there were two, Pierre Matthieu and Gerald Bergeron from Quebec; two, Tony Phillips and Buddy Gilham from B.C. Two boys each from Ontario and Saskatchewan had been unable to stop over for the luncheon as their travel accommodations could not be postponed.

The luncheon was very in-with the boys learning of the format. Mr. Ruste and Mr.Jr. Forest Warden activities in Clarke chatted comfortablyother provinces of Canada.

This is the first year that Jr. Wardens have had an exchange program with other provinces and everyone concerned appeared to feel that the camp had been completely successful. The Alberta program is just a bit different from other provinces and the boys all had something new to learn as well as being able to pass on something from their own organization.

In Quebec there is no Jr. Forest Wardens organization and the boys have no distinctive uniform. Instead, they take the same type of training as a part of 4-H Club work. The two lads from Quebec had contributed a real spirit to the camp through their leadership qualities, especially at the sing-song the final night of the camp.

Hon. Ruste spoke briefly, welcoming the boys and telling them how glad he was to host them at the luncheon. He told them that this exchange of youths with other provinces gave all the boys an excellent opportunity to learn more of Canada and its people and to learn that people were basically the same all over in spite of what might be read in the newspapers or heard over radio or television.

He commended Mr. Terry Whitely, provincial Jr Forest Warden co-ordinator, and surely its most enthusiastic booster, on a job well done in all phases of his time consuming job.

Mr. Whitely told the gathering how, although the weather had been inhospitable, everyone had seemed to get a lot out of the exchange camp. He said the final evening program had been the best they had ever had, due mostly to the way the visiting Quebec boys had proven their ability as leaders in a program of skits and song. The swimming tests had also been held that evening with two boys swimming a mile in the cold water of Jarvis Lake.

Mr. Whitely hoped the interchange of boys would continues in the future. He said "they give us something to learn and we hope they will take new challenges back with them."

Alberta had also sent boys to other provinces. Barry Nowicki from Hinton had gone to Quebec, and Gordon Dyck from Hinton had earlier attended a conservation camp in Manitoba with 16 other boys from all over Canada. Two Alberta boys had also attended the annual summer camp at Evans Lake, B.C.

Junior Forest Wardens is a youth training program designed to meet the needs of the boy who is particularly interested in forestry, wildlife and all fields of conservation and who possess a great love of the outdoors coupled with a spirit of adventure.

The aim of the organization is to provide sound conservation education and practical training for tomorrows citizens through organized Junior Forest Wardens Clubs and Lone Patrols.

Boys ten years and over may join the Jr. Wardens. Six or more boys are needed to form a club with a minimum of four interested adults to form the Club Council.

Jr. Wardens are trained in a wide field of outdoor skills. The twelve instructions on the conservation of the four renewable natural resources, forests, soils, waters, wildlife. Courses a Warden takes includes forestry, woodstravel, radio communication, first aid, tree identification, fire fighting, conservation, mapping and orienteering.

Saturday bride honored by friends

A bride of this coming Saturday, Miss Judy Schultz was guest of honor recently at a shower held at the home of Mrs. Griffiths.

The main entertainment of the evening was a skit acted out by four girls that brought heaps of laughter from the guests. Games were also played.

Later in the evening Judy opened the many lovely gifts presented to her naming a high tea the given as had opened each and she expressed gracious thanks to her friends for their thoughtfulness in presenting her with the gifts and their best wishes.

Miss Schultz will become the bride of Mr. Michael Brunelle this Saturday.

BIG BLAST

The Big Blast, 17 miles north of Hinton on Tuesday, was felt by people living in the Edson area. Although town residents did not so readily hear it because of the numerous town sounds, many reported that dishes and ornaments rattled when the blast went off at noon. A huge pile of TNT, totaling 50 tons was used in the detonation.

Country people, living away from distracting noises, heard the sound of the blast like distant rumbling thunder after more feeling than hearing the initial shockwave. Many saw the cloud of smoke quite easily from high vantage points

A few local residents were particularly interested in the detonation Edson contractor Glenn Schultz had men and equipment working at the site since early winter, readying the area for the experiment which was observed by army personel from England and the United States as well as Canada.

The excellent sequence of pictures shown here was taken from a distance of two miles by the editor of our paper at Hinton, The Herald, Mrs Carinna Macmillan

LEADER WINS EDITORIAL AWARD

We got a nice surprise in the mail this week with the arrival of a frame-I certificate that announces that we won third place for our editorial page in the Canada wide judging of newspapers in our class sponsored by the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association

Naturally we're pleased But we're not sure which editorial met with the judge's approbation as they pick random samples of our issues through the year

It's enough encouragement to make us resolve to try and write an editorial each week, space and energy permitting

CAPITAL REPORT

INTERESTING CONVENTIONS IN AUGUST

BY JOHN WARREN

August isn't normally a big convention month but it seems there are a few interesting exceptions. Two political conventions were scheduled for last week — and in a sense they were related.

The first was a meeting of the leaders of the communist party in the prairie provinces. It was held in Regina. Following the get together party officials issued a statement. In it they attacked the Liberal party in modern Canada, saying the westerners were trying to frustrate a movement opposed to the economic and political take-over of Canada by American monopolies.

The other political meeting (a few days later) was that of the Liberal leaders of the three prairie provinces, along with many of their supporters They spent a good deal of their time fighting exactly the type of criticism that had been levelled at them by the communist group.

Prior to the meeting in Saskatoon the Alberta Liberal leader, Adrian Berry, said any suggestion of a possible split among western Liberals was "ill-advised".

He was commenting on a statement by Premier Thatcher of Saskatchewan that there was some thought among members of breaking away from the national party as a "last ditch resort" and running as Progressive Liberals.

Mr Berry volunteered that the situation in Ottawa could not be boiled down to "simple left and right expressions". The whole meeting was aimed at finding some points of agreement on which the prairie Liberals might exert some influence on Ottawa (and maybe win a few seats next time around).

Thus Mr Berry's feelings on national affairs are becoming better known than his thoughts on provincial affairs, although an Alberta election is almost certain within the year.

The province got itself worked up in a sort of mini stound the-rose routine over teachers' qualifications last week.

It started with a committee proposed by the Alberta Teachers' Association to evaluate teacher credentials (and hence salaries). The Alberta School Trustees Association expressed shock at the idea

Then everybody met with senior officials of the department of Education (except the minister who was in Victoria)

A day or so later the acting minister, Mr Aalberg was quoted as saying that the government would set up a board to evaluate teachers' qualifications. He denied this later, noting "all I said was that in the past meeting had been held with the parties concerned".

The word arrived from the west coast where Mr McKinnon (the Minister of Education) said the provincial government is considering the establishment of a board to evaluate teacher qualifications.

Mr. McKinnon said he plans further meetings with officials of the Alberta Teachers' Association and the Alberta School Trustees Association.

And he explained that the board idea is being considered because the University of Alberta no longer wishes to do the evaluation

All of which leave the question of evaluating teachers pretty much as it was last spring — except that everybody is a little angrier at everyone else

Premier Manning cut back home last week after conferring in Toronto with government heads from the other provinces.

The Social Credit leader was quick to correct any impressions that he had led an attack on the federal government's medicare proposals. He said several other provinces were highly critical of the national scheme and nearly all of them were still concerned about the way Ottawa had attempted to introduce it

The premier reminded listeners that Ottawa had promised the provincial governments with a plan that would commit such provinces to huge expenditure without prior discussion. And he emphasized that many provinces simply don't have that kind of money to devote to medicare when they must also keep up highway, education and welfare programs.

Besides, said Mr Manning it would only be proper of the federal government to talk to the provinces first since the field of public health is now reserved for the provinces under the BNA Act

Mr Manning went on to say he hoped a new, revised scheme would be put forth for study at the next federal-provincial conference.

He said the entire discussion of medicare took only 15 minutes or so and the remaining portion of the conference was devoted to other topics of common concern

One subject of very general interest and concern is that of financing education, particularly at the university level Mr Manning said many provinces admit they will need new sources of revenue to meet educational needs, although Alberta will be able to carry the burden for a while at least

Common educational and university entrance standards across Canada got considerable consideration at the conference

Another big subject that will come up repeatedly in future is that of uniformity in legislation The most obvious areas are in highway and traffic laws. But such fields as insurance, mutual funds, company charters and the like will be looked at carefully in an effort to have certain standards established across the country.

Alberta's plan to drop estate taxes — the widespread interest points, the other primarily, as did the problems of drafting a formula for interest deductions on loans and time purchases

Hand that rocks the cradle getting callouses

By The HONOURABLE RAY WILLISTON
B.C. Minister of Lands, Forests, and Water Resources

Our northland boom is getting callouses on the hand that rocks the cradle.

Most industrial expansions are thought of in terms of "manpower" — but the feminine touch has come to northern British Columbia's rapid development.

At the same time that labor officials are commenting on a marked increase in Canada in the number of jobs especially suitable for feminine employment, there are women in Prince George, Prince Rupert, Dawson Creek and Quesnel busy confounding the statistics

For instances, who would expect the head sawyer of the local mill to be exuding feminine charm? Yet this is only one of many surprises offered by the ladies. A survey by the National Employment Service in these four northern centres provides some very enlightening results.

Here is a list of "male" occupations in which women were found — circular head sawyer, fisherman, fireman, game guide, gas station attendant, licensed scaler, hotel and beer parlor janitor, lumber grader, lumber piler and offsorman, pondman, taxi driver, truck driver, trim-saw operator, TV and radio repairman and union business agent.

Besides these, the NES reported, there are a large number of women who act as rowgirls and fence riders in the Quesnel-Williams Lake area.

The majority are rancher's daughters, but at times they spend many days in the saddle, especially during spring drives and fall round ups. Like the others, they are proving women capable of doing a man's job if given the opportunity.

Sometimes, though, there is a time when it is still a man's world. Those engaged during the 1966 road construction season in the Dawson Creek area where a number of women were employed as flag girls. Although they were effective and competent in their work, their services were found to be inconvenient because toilet facilities were inadequate to cope with both men and women employees.

There are other instances where the lack of facilities has prevented the hiring of women for jobs they could other wise perform satisfactorily.

However, it is obvious this sort of thing is not having much effect on the increasing by large part women are playing in our business and industrial life Last year, 177,000 women were employed in British Columbia. In 1976, it is estimated there will be 207,000 or one-third of the province's entire labor force.

I don't know if we will ever reach the stage of completely abolishing the employment discrimination line between men and women. During wartime, countless women filled jobs which freed men to go to war. Perhaps the demands of our modern, expanding society will see history repeat itself in a peaceful version

Today there are several European countries where women in jobs traditionally held by men no longer excite comment. In Russia, the majority of doctors are women. Even the strongest bastion of male tradition, the Royal Navy, now is sending women to sea

Whatever the case, there is no doubt of the growing importance of the word "womanpower" in our working world.

As for it staying a man's world — perhaps we had better check with the ladies of Prince George, Prince Rupert, Dawson Creek and Quesnel.

NDP leader charges unfair tax increase

The Provincial Government is asking farmers to subsidize all companies as a result of recent amendment of the 1960 Assessment Act", charged Neil Reimer, Leader of the Alberta New Democratic Party at a public meeting held in Stony Plain Tuesday evening

"The farmer who has signed a lease letting an oil company use some of his land may be assessed the maximum in practice in the municipalities in the area while a farmer may have exempt land under lease to an oil company and be charged taxes as if it were the best agricultural land in his community, says Mr. Reimer

Farmers who signed leases during the past 30 years did not take into account such expenditures and cost items They are now being asked to pay substantially higher taxes, in some cases an increase as high as 500 per cent, without getting any relief and at the same time, being stuck with an agreement negotiated when such provisions were not applicable, he said.

It must be remembered that a farmer is forced to make a deal with an oil company by the Government's Right of Entry Arbitration Board. To now impose a belated penalty on the farmer once again demonstrates the bias of Social Credit legislation in favor of major corporations added the NDP leader remuneration for entry on a quarter section of land. In these cases, farmers are liable to pay more in taxes than the revenue they will receive from the petroleum industry he told the meeting.

Centennial Report

1867 1967

By JOHN W. GRANT
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

I mentioned the old French Fortress of Louisbourg in my last report, among places to visit during Centennial Year.

Built by the French, at a cost of ten million dollars during the reign of Louis XV, the Fortress of Louisbourg on Cape Breton Island passed back and forth between French and British hands, as determined wars and finally was blown up by British demolition troops in 1760.

Developments in the 18th century which, in the long run resulted in Canada eventually becoming one country, have connections with Louisbourg. The Federal Government, therefore through the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources is restoring a large part of the fortress, now a national historic park.

At the Centennial commission we think of the restoration as a centennial project of history and architecture. Some outlying features such as sleep works also are to be restored.

As well as Canada, the New England states of Massachusetts, New Hampshire Connecticut Rhode Island and Maine have strong historical connections with Louisbourg. Four thousand New Englanders were involved in the first siege and conquest of the fortress in 1745. Louisbourg was given back to the French in 1748 but it was again recaptured after a siege and conquered in 1758. British demolition crews began the fortifications in 1762).

Louisbourg was a key factor in North American defence. It made for almost half a century. The study of that period can be a fascinating pastime for history and the restoration of the old fortress and buildings will give us new insight into the history of our country and an understanding of life in those times. For professional historians and architects the activities on Cape Breton Island provide more and more information.

The Louisbourg project is one of the many which, during Centennial Year will attract the attention of Canadians and of friends abroad, to the history of earlier buildings, and interesting historic

Slow down - live to enjoy another holiday

During the summer months when so many families take to the road, it is fitting that the motorist be reminded to slow down his driving speed.

Speed was a major cause of the 4,670 deaths from automobile accidents which occurred in Canada in 1965. Speed continues to be the major factor in the increasing number of automobile accidents across the country.

Long smooth highways are a natural temptation for the driver to increase his speed but highway signs are established with reference to wide surveys of the dangers of each road. They are there to be a beyond for the safety of the driver.

Divided highways, too, are not necessarily danger free Often drivers do not observe regulations concerning slow and fast lanes or they are mesmerized by animals crossing the road.

In either case, the speeding driver is at a disadvantage His stopping time increases at an alarming rate in proportion to his increased rate of speed. He cannot stop quickly in case of emergency.

Speeding drivers are often those who attempt to pass other vehicles along a solid white line or when there is little room for them to make a course. Jaulbarly It is often difficult to judge the speed of an oncoming car and passing pass These practices are, of on a white line means passing with restricted vision or a round a curve which is too sharp to make at a high speed.

The list of increasing driving hazards because of speed could be greatly extended but the point of these cautions may be summed up in a few words - Slow down and live

Lions Club sponsors youth essays on 'Peace'

The youth of Edson has been given a challenge to develop a plan for world peace by their local Lions Club — a challenge that could earn one of them a $25,000 educational and/or career assistant.

The Edson Lions Club is one of 17,000 clubs throughout the world, is sponsoring a world-wide essay contest for the world's youth on the most important world subject today — Peace. The contest offers $50,000 in total awards, including the $25,000 first prize eight semi-final world regional awards of 1,000 each and travel expenses for the eight winners to Chicago, Illinois in July, 1967. At that time, the final prize winner will be chosen from the eight. Also, more than $7,000 local, district and multiple district awards will be made.

"We are hopeful one of our young people will win this world-wide prestige award," President Lloyd Bossert of the Edson Lions Club said in announcing the contest locally today.

The contest, open to young people who will be 14 but less than 22 years of age as of January 15, 1967, was announced by the President of Lions International, Edward M Lind ay, of Lawrenceburg, Tenn., during the Association's Annual International Convention in New York.

The Peace Essay Contest is divided into eight world divisions for the $1,000 prizes," President Bossert said.

"Our Club's winner will advance to Lions District 37B competition in his (her) effort to qualify for the multiple district contest." Mr. Bossert said.

"These judges will be appointed to evaluate the entries submitted to our club," Mr. Bossert said.

"If our winner can advance through the judging steps up to the world finals he will receive an expense paid trip to Chicago to attend the Lions International 50th Annual Convention for the final judging of his essay in addition to the $1,000 award."

Lloyd said he hoped local young people would accept the challenge and enter his club's section of the contest. Closing date for the club's contest is December 10, 1966.

"Students wishing to enter the contest should contact Mr. Murray Grier of the Edson Lions to get full details of the contest," he said.

The age limit for the contest, includes all youth 14 but less than 22 years of age as of January 15, 1967.

Mr. Grier announced that each applicant would be limited to one entry, with one winner's essay eligible to compete in the Lions District 37B contest. Winner of district contest will be entered in state or country contest. Each country or multiple district winner will be entered in one of the eight world divisions.

Finally: "Why did you run home last night?"

Fanny: "I was being chased!"

Manitoba government to educate retared

MANITOBA GOVERNMENT TO EDUCATE RETARDED

Another milestone of Canadian achievement has been reached through the efforts of the Manitoba Provincial Association for Retarded Children. At the last sitting of the Manitoba Legislature, Bill 56, an Act to amend the Public Schools Act of Manitoba, was passed.

Among the amendments contained in this Bill were two (18A and 18B), a which the Dept. of Education for the Province assume responsibility for the education and training of all educatable and trainable retarded children in the province, commencing Sept 1966.

These two amendments mark a new era for the retarded in Manitoba, and are to a of years of effort and leadership provided by the Manitoba Provincial Association for Retarded Children. Provincial Associations are comprised of Local Associations within the province.

Congratulations to members, parents, and the Provincial Association of Manitoba for a very fine job. Let us continue in our efforts to do the same in Alberta

Surprise Lake Jr. High camp has lots of variety

A successful Junior High School age camp was held at Surprise Lake Church Camp from July 17 to 30. The program included crafts, swimming, archery, boating, games, Campfire and singing were very enjoyable under the direction of Sally Campbell.

Several cookouts were enjoyed, especially breakfast cookouts. All campers went on overnights (camping away from the campsite). The boys went on a five mile hike to Jarkfish Lake, carrying bedrolls, food and cooking equipment. They had a very successful overnight at the lake.

Under the very able direction of Bruce Hatch, the swimming instructor, a regatta was held Sunday, July 24. Watermelon races, boat races, swimming races, novelty competitions were held and made the time pass all too quickly. Despite the rain the program was loads of fun and enjoyed by all.

A number of campers interested in crafts were taken on a tour of the Edson Craft Centre by Mrs. J.K. Wilson, the craft instructor. Many nice pieces of pottery were turned out on the potters wheel by the campers.

On the last night of the camp a Surprise Lake Wing ding was held. Each cabin of campers contributed a skit, the staff children sang the Surprise Lake Marching Song and various staff members also did a skit. Many original skits pertaining to camp life drew gales of laughter from the campers.

To end the evening Mr. Cal Ilsa played country music on his fiddle and mouth organ while Elizabeth Cullin played her accordian and the campers took part in square dances, etc. A bootscanny closed the evening and it was almost 12 o'clock before the campers turned into their beds, wishing the camp would not be over next morning.

Surprise Lake Camp News

Mrs Robert Story of Edmonton and her family are invited to dinner at Surprise Lake Camp On July 31, Mary Bertles, four year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. Bertles of Edmonton, made the draw for a family dinner, the prize in the "Help Host Surprise Lake" campaign. Interested friends and parents of campers have been buying a foot of copper pipe for the camp, with the dinner as prize.

Sixty-seven campers and staff children enjoyed wonderful weather with plenty of opportunity to swim, go boating, hike and go on cook-outs at the second Junior Camp from July 25 to August 6.

Mrs. E. Banarjee of Edmonton made a real contribution to the program. In addition to her duties as craft instructor, she gave the children first hand information about life in India. The girls particularly enjoyed a discussion of clothing in India, and a demonstration of how to wear a sari.

Pasture research grant of $43,700 given by ARDA

A pasture research grant totalling $43,700 has been awarded the Department of Agricultural Economics of the University of Alberta by the ARDA. The purpose of the two year grant, according to Dr. H. C. ... Project Director, is to examine the costs and possible benefits of improving public lands for increased grazing capacity in Alberta.

The pressure on grazing lands in the Province is rising. During the ten year period 1951-61, the number of head of grazing livestock in Alberta increased by 85 per cent.

During this same period however, grazing land acreage increased by only 11.4 per cent. The problem is further complicated by the fact that with population increases, Canadians eat more beef annually.

Phase two will include a survey interview with more than 300 farmers and ranchers in Alberta who are using the public grazing lands.

Data from this phase will provide provincial Administrators with much of the information needed to allocate public funds for the development or improvement of right grazing areas in the province. Components of the rate of improvement on public and private lands will be estimated.

The first phase of the study was conducted during the summer of 1965. It examined pasture problems in the province from the viewpoint of the individual farmer or rancher in order to assist provincial Administrators in estimating the demand for public grazing lands and the need for increased development.

Dr Wayne Fuller of Iowa State University visited the University of Alberta during the week of June 6th to assist with the planning of this project. Dr. Fuller is an international famous statistician whose specialty is in the area of designing survey projects which will yield the greatest amount of reliable information on the most efficient manner

Area teachers at conference in Banff

Three district teachers will attend the Eighteenth Annual Conference of The Alberta Teachers Association which commences on Sunday, August 14, 1966 at the Banff School of Fine Arts. Approximately 200 teachers representing all the locals in the province will be welcomed Sunday evening by Mr Frank Hooper, provincial president of the ATA. Those attending will include J. Angelyrad from Hinton, and C.E. Yeomans and Gordon Welch from Edson.

Mr Hans J Bergeron, Executive Secretary of the California Teachers Association, North ern Section, will address the whole gathering on Monday evening. Other guests or resumients include Dr T C Byrne Deputy Minister of Education, Dr. H F Cowin, Dean of the Faculty of Education, University of Alberta; Dr J W G Bruny and Mr. H M Purvis from the University of Alberta and Mr Cleave Fabian, Superintendent, County of Mountain View Different sections of this conference of professional educators are Professional Development, Teacher Welfare, Leadership, and Long Range Plans. This last section will assess the reaction of locals to the tentative long range plans sent out last fall, sometimes called Education 1975. The larger group, some seventy ten others—presidents and secretaries of locals, will make up the Leadership section.

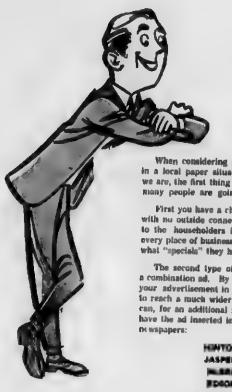
let's talk advertising!



When considering purchasing an advertisement in a local paper situated in a community such as we are, the first thing that comes to mind is, "How many people are going to read it?"

First you have a choice of a local advertisement with no outside connections. This type of ad gets to the householders in Town who know where every place of business is located and want to know what "specials" they have to offer the public

The second type of advertisement is known as a combination ad. By this we mean that you insert your advertisement in this paper, then if you want to reach a much wider buying public potential you can, for an additional fraction of the original cost, have the ad inserted in one or all of the following newspapers:

HINTON HERALD
JASPER TOTEM
ROBSON ECHO
EDSON LEADER
WHITECOURT STAR

You can have any combination of these papers that you wish, whichever you feel will benefit you the most.

Gemini Housing Co-op hears of local projects

HINTON—

MLA Bill Switzer drew the winning ticket when the Gemini Housing Co-operative Limited gave away the $35.00 grocery hamper at their meeting Sunday evening, August 7th, in the Hinton Town Hall. The lucky number was 297 and Mrs. Henry Bretton of Hinton was the holder. Congratulations, Mrs Bretton.

The Co-op wishes to extend sincere thanks to: Fraser's IGA Store, Clark's Men's Wear, Piet Steen and Switzer's Drug for their valued donations toward the hamper project.

A big thank you is also due to the Co operative's hard working Recreation Committee for ever-seeing the give-away; to the individual members for donations of groceries and time and effort; to Mrs. Joyce Beauchamp for so ably decorating the hamper, and to everyone who was connected with this fund-raising project in anyway

First reports are that co-operative for operation is provisionally $81.00 was realized, ed, which amount will be spent The meeting on Sunday by the administration of the night, which was capably chaired by President A. Moberly, saw a turn-out of about 30 members. Special guests MLA Bill Switzer, John Birch and Mr Fyfe, of Alberta Commercial Corporation, were warmly welcomed.

The group was pleased to welcome new members Wm. Durocher, Hinton, and Mr. and Mrs. Tot Sikora of Jasper.

Mr. Fyfe delivered a lengthy review of the progress being made by other housing co-operatives in the Province and cited, as an example of what these groups can accomplish, the co-operative at Fort McMurray, where 30 units are now underway, and six completed.

Gemini has seen one home occupied, one is presently under construction; one is awaiting occupancy, and two are ready to start. There are also some applications pending

Mr. Fyfe brought home to the gathering the great desire of the department and the Provincial Government, to do everything in its power to help the Indian and Metis groups acquire better housing, but he stated that they could not do their job properly unless! he ing made aware of what the people's needs are, and what their objectives might be. The members were urged to speak up and act.

He stated that people in Hinton have a unique opportunity to set themselves up in business, to "go places", but that there seems to be underlying problems which are not being aired. The co-operation of everyone of us is urgently needed to make our co-operative go "over the top". We can work miracles if we pull together.

MLA Bill Switzer rose to the occasion with heartfelt thanks for being asked to attend this meeting. He re-iterated the government's desire to do its best to help the people of Indian Ancestry in Hinton and all over the Province and stated that he should be called upon any time there is something he might do.

He inspired the group with his short address centering on the need for housing and education for the generations of tomorrow.

Mr. John Birch spoke enthusiastically about the progress being made by Gemini Housing Co-operative as a flourishing community effort, and wished the group continued success.

The President moved a vote of thanks to the speakers and the meeting adjourned

THE HOT WEATHER is a welcome change for everybody, but probably the people who appreciate it more than anyone else are the district farmers who had hay cut down or were unable to cut it down because of the prolonged wet spell. This haymaker took advantage of the hot sun on Sunday afternoon to turn his hay so that it would dry for baling. Berry pickers are also making the most of the good weather to gather a bit of the abundant supply of raspberries and huckleberries. This might be a good time to remind berry pickers that if they see a good patch of wild fruit on fenced land that it is only common courtesy to ask the owner for permission to pick. It makes for happier relations any way you look at it.

Edson softball players will be hosting their second tournament of the year this Sunday when Worthing Transport sponsors a competition for the local league

There will $180 up for grabs with $80 going to the tournament champions; $40 each to the second and third place winners; and $20 to the team that ends up in fourth place.

So far entries have been received from four Edson teams as well as teams from Swan Hills, Jasper and Drayton Valley. A total of ten games is scheduled with the first starting at 9:00 a.m. and the last one scheduled for about 5:00 p.m.

The games will be played off on two diamonds the Memorial Park diamond by the arena and the High School diamond.

With a promise of continuing good weather this should be a really good day's entertainment Perfect for soaking up sunshine while cheering the good plays.

The tournament held during the July 1st Spectacanza weekend was played off in weather that was either raining or threatening rain Naturally spectators were at a minimum

Four teams from Edson took in a tournament at Hinton recently, but didn't feel they had anything much to brag about However, the teams expect to do much better in this Sunday's competition and are planning to keep at least part of the money at home Each of Edson's four teams have hopes of making their share of the prize money the host's share $80 This remains to be seen, but it should make for some really interesting games

Probably the ball player in the tournament ad carried elsewhere in The Leader, isn't representative of the members of Edson's four ball clubs, but readers should pay particular attention to him so that they will know who to cheer for

Edson Golf Club host big tourney

The largest group ever of avid golfers turned out to participate in the Mona Open Golf Tournament held in Edson on August 20th and 21st.

Although many wet spots were to be found on the fairways, the prayers of Greens Committee chairman, Jim Reil and Tournament Committee chairman, Jim Williams were answered with two days of the finest weather possible for golfing.

There were 80 golfers making up the eleven Flights with all participants enjoying the competition.

Entrants were welcomed from many outside clubs, including Jasper, Hinton, Whitecourt, Barrhead, Drayton Valley, Edmonton and other locations.

The trophy presented for the low qualifying round was won by Carl Jackson from Whitecourt, with a fine score of 71.

The quality of golfing is improving year by year, judging from the very respectable scores turned in this year

As a note of interest the former Championship Flight Trophy was retired this year and presented to Jack Handy of Edmonton who had won this coveted award on six previous occasions.

A new championship Flight Trophy was donated by Gerhard and Ron Jewellers, with the first proud recipient being Edmon' congenial Percy Wells.

Once again, a sincere vote of thanks is extended to those thoughtful and resourceful ladies who kept the supply of sandwiches and other refreshments available throughout the weekend

Under the able direction of Club vice president Rusty Austin, the draw for the cart, bag and full set of clubs was held Sunday afternoon. The winning ticket was held by Mr P. E. Reimer of Calgary

Trophies and prizes were presented on behalf of the Edson Club to the following winners by President Art Lamboth and Tournament chairman Jim Williams.

Championship Flight 1 Percy Wells, 2. Ramsey Hockley. Consolation: 1 Reg Gayfitz, 2. Albert Jorkanck

Orioles plan Labor Day tourney

With no ball team at Mercury this season, members of the former team have asked the Edson Orioles to take over their annual Labor Day ball tournament

Glar' of the chance to get in a little more ball before the summer is over the Orioles took up the idea and plan and a two day tournament, for Sunday and Monday, Septem ber 4th and 5th

Games will start at 10 00 a.m. both days. A total of $1000 in prize money has been put up and should make for some good ball being played

There will be refreshment booths and there will also be toilets for the kiddies.

A good way to spend the last holiday of the year close to home

Legion picnic postponed

The annual Legion bubdivisionic, scheduled for this past Sunday, was postponed to Sunday, September 4th The location was also changed from the Rodeo grounds to Polan ski's farm, three miles south of the east railroad crossing

The postponement was necessary when the picnic committee, checking to see that all was in readiness at the rodeo grounds, found pop bottles emptied by rodeo spectators had been broken all over the concession area This was apparently the work of person or persons who decided that they would make excellent targets for shooting practice.

It is to be hoped whoever it was enjoyed themselves in their thoughtlessness, for they spoiled an afternoon of fun for a few hundred youngsters and their parents

MR. MILT WARREN, new district supervisor of Fish and Wildlife.

Milt Warren receives Promotion to Edson office

WHITECOURT

Whitecourt's favorite game warden, Milt Warren, has received a substantial promotion, and our loss is Edson's gain.

Effective September 1, Mr. Warren leaves his post as Fish and Wildlife officer for the Whitecourt area to become district supervisor for the Fish & Wildlife Division, with office at that little town sixty-five miles southwest of here. He will be in charge of an area which runs from the Jasper Park Gate east to the Alberta-Saskatchewan border, and from the Montana border north to Swan Hills, to Whitecourt, and west to Wildhorse.

He will be in charge of about seven P & W offices in the district. It has not been announced yet who will replace him in Whitecourt, although it is expected that eventually two men will be brought in to fill his shoes.

Milt came to Whitecourt from Athabasca in 1962, as the first Fish & Game officer to work out of here, and during that time has done much to help maintain better wildlife conservation conditions in the area.

Outside of his work, he has contributed substantially to community activities through his interest in curling, and as a fireman and secretary of the Volunteer Fire Department. His loss to Edson will be felt in another way, too; there were many here who looked to him as the driving force in getting an Elks Club started this fall.

Our Alberta Heritage

See how one man recaptured the spirit of Alberta's pioneer past.

The Great Northwest Pioneer Village is more than a museum — it is a monument to the pride one man has in our Alberta heritage. That man is Earl Danard, son of a pioneer family. He has assembled a fascinating collection of thousands of relics and artifacts, housed in twenty-five original pioneer buildings. Mr. Danard's unique collection includes antique cars and engines, cutters and buggies, the first Indian school (built on the Winterburn Reserve by Rev. A. B. Baird in 1852), and an authentic Greek Orthodox chapel that accommodates just two worshippers.

This living historical village represents a tremendous outlay of interest, time and effort in creating a unique tribute to the pioneer history of our Alberta.

Take your family out to visit the Great Northwest Pioneer Village soon. It's located just twenty-three miles west of Edmonton on Highway 16.

Jr.-High Camp at Surprise Lake memorable outing

The fourth Surprise Lake Camp for children of Jr High School age has just come to a very successful end after three days of activities. The administration of the children and the guidance of director Mr. Travers Malouf and her staff made this camp a memorable experience.

Mrs. H. Martz was nurse, Mrs. M. Henderson was camp mother, Mrs. M. Semenchuk was cook and Thorpe of Edmonton was craft director with the assistance of Karen Holt and Mr. Ayres, both of Edmonton. Mrs. H. Marlatt of Edson, Miss B. Pinchbeck of Mayerthorpe, Miss B. Gardener of Rimbey and Mr. M. Proud of Edmonton were Counsellors.

The skills and activities planned varied in accordance with the weather.

The children's sports were not dampened with the persistent showers but instead they carried out activities such as canoeing, hiking trips, overnight campout trips, cookouts archery and winner events. The craft house provided a cozy place for the creative mind to tackle many varied crafts.

The social event for the week was a square dance with music and calling by the Collins family.

As the sun set across the lake each days activities were drawn to a close with vespers and prayerful thanksgiving.

AUGUST — VANDAL'S MONTH

August is the crazy month. The silly month. The month when strange human quirks take over. There's the slaying of the nurses in Chicago and the shooting of people from the university tower in Texas.

Around Edson it has been, among other things, the breaking of cases of pop bottles out at the Rodeo Grounds. The bottles were stored in the Rodeo buildings pending their pickup by the pop companies.

We don't know whether the vandals read editorials, but if they do, we wonder if they are proud of their effort.

LET IT RING FIVE TIMES

During summer most people spend as much time as they can out of doors. How many times have you heard the phone ring and made a mad dash for the house only to find it has stopped.

A reader has suggested that we mention it's a good idea to let it ring five times at least. It takes quite a dash to get in from the yard - or from the bathroom for that matter!

GRIM HUMOR TO ACCIDENTS

Workmen's Compensation is not without its humor. Here are a couple of anecdotes. The Financial Post reports: An Ontario carpenter working on a hotel job whose false teeth did not fit too well set them down on a plank. Later, he sat down on the plank. The result was obvious.

A letter from a young man in a Manitoba bunker camp reads: "I bought a pair of mitts which were too long. I asked a workmate to cut them off but he cut off too much and I lost a part of each finger. If I'd known he'd cut the mitts so short, I wouldn't have left my hands inside them; you don't think I am a damned fool, do you?"

COMMIE TO WRITE CENTENNIAL HISTORY

We have just seen a letter from the secretary of the Centennial Commission in Ottawa, confirming that a known communist is to write a book entitled "Canadian History: British North America 1815-1873."

The communist is Stanley Ryerson and is to receive a grant of $2,000 from the Commission to help him in his work.

Ryerson is the editor of the "Marxist Quarterly" published in eastern Canada. Below we reproduce an excerpt from a report of his "but Marxism lives and grows with the changing world . . ." on ideological and educational work at the Communist Party's 19th convention.

"We are carrying on a fight for our presence in the Canadian Centennial. We are fighting to get our conception of Canada, its past and future into the centennial discussion."

Mr Ryerson would seem to be doing all right by his party when he can get public funds for spreading the communist point of view.

STUDENTS FROM QUEBEC accompanied by students from St. Paul, Bon Accord and Gibbons were guests at an impromptu luncheon in the Edson Motor Hotel banquet room sponsored by Edson merchants on Monday. The Quebec young people are on an exchange with a similar group from Bon Accord and have been seeing Alberta under the auspices of a Bon Accord Centennial group. Edson's Centennial Chairman Royston Nelson acted as MC for the affair. Jack Weyenberg organized the sponsors and Councillors M. D. Meade welcomed the young people on behalf of the town. Other businesspeople and Edson young people made the guest welcome for their brief stopover.

ETUDIENTS DE QUEBEC sang a suitable song in Canada's second language which had Edson dubbed in frequently enough to show the young people appreciated the luncheon provided by local merchants Monday noon. The young Quebecers are on an exchange tour of Alberta under the sponsorship of Bon Accord citizens.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Editor,

I hope the rodeo is not too long a thing of the past to make some comments on it before starting in on my complaints. I want to sincerely congratulate the Fit Service Association for a job well done. Generally speaking things seemed to go off very well specially with the weather cooperating and I hope there are rounds will be in the black.

However, I do have some complaints. When are the gentlemen of the Association going to wake up to the fact that cowboys are human and have wives? I have asked for years for a facility for ladies geared on the west end of the field.

[illegible] and this year when they have bleacher accommodation on that side of the track something would be done about it but there is still nothing and any woman wanting to put with children has to hang [illegible] the bleachers. The facilities are a disgrace and for a half an hour or so at the [illegible].

In addition to this complete lack of facilities on the west side I cannot find words strong enough to condemn the [illegible] for all practical purposes there have become just about unusable and I'm wondering what they agree with me tell members of the Tri-Service Association about it instead of complaining about it among themselves. I have already done so by letter.

I hope some youth organization picked up Mr Weeppel's suggestion of cleaning up the rodeo grounds. This is my third complaint. I don't know whether the present pop bottlers are cheaper or why they were switched to but all those bottles lying around broken and unbroken as well as being used for throwing practice by youngsters in the bleachers certainly present a menace specially to the horses.

In past years when bottles were redeemed by either monetary payment or candy, hardly a bottle could be found on the ground. I know this would entail extra work and possibly some expense, but I am all for charging 10 or 15 cents a bottle and paying 1 or 2 cents for it's return both in the spirit of cleanliness and safety.

Two jackpots go at Legion

Something unprecedented happened at the Legion last Saturday evening when both bingo jackpots were won.

Mrs. Mabel Robinson, an inveterate bingo player, won the straight jackpot on five calls or less. This pot had been won last week and was just starting over at $10. It will now start over again at $100. After this pot has been won it seems to go steadily for a few weeks before it begins to build up a pot.

The bonus jackpot of $146 was won by Margaret Kapicy [illegible]. This is a new one on that would fit comfortably in [illegible] pocket. The bonus pot starts over at $50 for 50 [illegible] and has $10 and one call added each week.

Shower for Sept. bride

An Edson daughter who has been away for number of years was honored by friends on Sunday afternoon when Mrs. John MacDonald held a miscellaneous shower for Marion Koebel, daughter of Mrs. Mary Koebel.

About sixteen ladies were present at the MacDonald home for the occasion. They had many hilarious moments as they made and modelled hats made from newspapers with a prize being given for the best creation.

A beautifully decorated wishing well was provided to Marion, filled to overflow ing with many lovely and useful gifts for her new home.

A tasty lunch was enjoyed by the ladies.

Marion has been working at Dexon for the past three years. She left for the 4H Pony Club Ranch for the 4H Pony Club. They first annual achievement day will be held at that time at the Rodeo Grounds.

The horse show will be held from 10:30 to 12:00 noon for members only. This will ask to display and be tested on their knowledge of horses.

The afternoon will be taken up by a gymkhana of participants from Edson and Robb. There will be no admittance charge.

Bowl for Health says eminent doctor

As a competitive sport, bowling presents fewer hazards than golf, swimming, baseball or basketball. The really hazardous sports are probably football, hockey, boxing, rowing and strangely enough, bicycling.

The primary benefits of bowling are related to its combination of grace and ease. The game appeals to both men and women, who compete with other men or women, or together. But competition in bowling seldom reaches the intensity or stress which may accompany other forms of athletics, including golf.

An eminent investigator of sports has shown that the repeated misuse of a ball in a trap may cause a considerable rise in the blood pressure. The making of a hole-in-one produces a relation that is good for the soul. The bowler who has just been left with a split which makes a spare almost impossible feels a similar elation when his next turn produces a strike.

Specifically, bowling produces better co-ordination of vision and the mind with practically all muscles of the body. Bowling increases such skills as reflex action, perfect balance and often associated with long hours of sitting in an office chair.

Specifically, also, bowling affects muscles in the abdomen not affected by many other forms of sport.

Centennial Report

1867 1967

by JOHN W. FISHER
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

I expected that everyone here would speak with a real English accent and I didn't think Toronto would be as friendly as it is."

The quotation above, from a 18 year old visiting Toronto from northern British Columbia, was used by Michael Ignatieff writing about centennial "youth travellers" in the Globe and Mail Prism another a young Montrealer, came this comment: "After visiting Vancouver I realize we have the most beautiful country in the whole world."

This year more than 4,000 young people in 180 groups will have participated in the Centennial Commission's Federal Provincial Youth Travel program. The total since 1964, when the program was started as a pilot project, will be more than 8,000 by the end of 1966.

The aims of the federal provincial program are to give young Canadians the opportunity to meet and know other Canadians and to develop understanding of their country known in regions other than their own. Another is to provide them with a first hand knowledge of the geography of the country and of the political, educational, cultural and artistic achievements of other provinces.

The Centennial Commission underwrites costs of travel, pays a per capita grant for incidental travelling expenses and a per capita grant for reception costs in host communities. It co-ordinates the program at the national level, provides travel bags, manuals, song books and name tags, one day tours of Ottawa for groups passing through, and makes all travel arrangements.

Each province or territory selects students and escorts (usually high school teachers) through its department of education, conducts orientation and briefing sessions, organizes reception arrangements in host provinces and plans better co-ordination of programs that is different from that of any other body of water.

Each lake is capable of producing just so much of every thing which includes the quantity of fish that can be raised This is known as its productivity. It may be compared to a farmer's field, which can produce just so much wheat, and no more unless it is fertilized but lake fertilization is prohibitively expensive.

If the field becomes infested with weeds, the yield is reduced. Similarly, if a lake is infested with coarse fish, such as the chub and suckers which compete with game fish for food and space, the yield of game species is greatly lessened.

Patricia Lake has many tons of unwanted suckers and chub. Think of all those tons of suckers and chub as being tons of trout which will replace them after they are gone, and think of the extra fishing they can be expected to provide.

Certainly the trout production of Patricia Lake could be doubled by the removal of the unwanted species, and that should mean better angling for everyone.

Although the operation of introducing the fish toxicant will begin on September 6th, there will be other activities going on at Patricia Lake prior to that date.

An attempt will be made to rescue and move other whors as many of the game fish as it will be possible to catch. Fishery Management personnel together with volunteer helpers from the Jasper Fish and Game Association and other interested people will be co-operating in the installation of a trap net to attempt the capture many of the sport fish.

Some may be transferred to the hatchery for re-stocking in the lake after the toxicity has abated; others may be placed in Pyramid Lake to bolster the angling there.

If the trap fails to produce, attempts may be made to take out some of the fish with gill nets which would have to be carefully tended to remove the fish before they were serious ly injured

Many do not realize the work involved in an operation of this nature Once the planning is done and the preparations made, it is still necessary to distribute the toxicant and follow the results.

The toxicant to be used is Derris root, which contains 5 per cent rotenone — the substance that kills the fish Eleven tons of the powder are needed to poison out Patricia Lake, and the operation has to be done before the thermocline disappears later in September.

(The thermocline is the place where cold deep waters come in contact with the warm surface layer of water. The part below the thermocline is usually lacking in oxygen so fish cannot live there in summer)

If the entire lake had to be poisoned another 10,000 pounds of Derris root powder would be needed.

The job of spreading the toxicant will be done by Fisheries Management personnel, assisted by some of the Fish Hatchery Staff. Once the fish begin to die, action will be taken to try and rescue distressed fish. Sometimes it is possible to save fish that have not been heavily dosed if they can be put in a Methylene blue solution to counteract the poison quickly enough.

In any case, all the dead game fish that can be found must be retrieved and examined by fisheries personnel. Unauthorized persons will not be allowed on the lake at any time during the day the lake is poisoned or for two days afterwards

By that time all fish should be dead, and the game fish retrieved and examined. To avoid the waste of good edible fish the dead trout will be given to the Jasper Hospital

All dead suckers in the east end of the lake will be removed, packed in gunny sacks and sunk back into the deeper waters of the lake to serve as fertilizer to add to the lake's productivity

If all goes as planned the lake should lose its toxicity just before freeze up. Should that show the lake to be ready for stocking then, some fingerling trout may be stocked Yearling fish will be stocked early as possible in 1967

By the time the angling season rolls around in summer, about next June, there should be a good supply of 8 to 10 inch fish waiting to be caught, and by the end of the 1967 season they should be almost a pound in weight.

Bigger fish will not be available before 1968 but that should not bother anglers too much They have a great many other lakes where they can go for bigger specimens

Patricia Lake is providing good fish now, but it should hold even greater promise for the future

The Rehabilitation Of Patricia Lake

JASPER

This autumn, on September 6th to be exact, the waters of Patricia Lake will be bursting with activity as personnel of the Western Region Fishery Management group begin the operation that will bring new life to the fishing in that lake

The angling at Patricia Lake has been particularly good this year and a great many people are saying "Why poison it now?" True, the poisoning operation could be delayed a year, but there are several reasons why the delay would not be in the best interests of all concerned: First of all, the operation has been in the planning and preparation stage for quite a long time, the result being that no fish stocking was done at the lake this year.

Thus, there are no young fish coming along to make up the bulk of next year's catch, and fishing then would have very little to offer the many anglers who annually visit the lake

Secondly, it is felt that the angling pressure from now until the lake is poisoned will result in the removal of a good part of the present sport fish population To this end all anglers are encouraged to fish as a pilot project, will be more than NOW by the end of 1966

The aims of the federal provincial program are to give young Canadians the opportunity to meet and know other Canadians and to develop understanding of their country known in regions other than their own Another is to provide them with a first hand knowledge of the geography of the country and of the political, educational, cultural and artistic achievements of other provinces.

1867 1967

by JOHN W. FISHER
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

I expected that everyone here would speak with a real English accent and I didn't think Toronto would be as friendly as it is."

The quotation above, from a 18 year old visiting Toronto from northern British Columbia, was used by Michael Ignatieff writing about centennial "youth travellers" in the Globe and Mail Prism another a young Montrealer, came this comment: "After visiting Vancouver I realize we have the most beautiful country in the whole world."

This year more than 4,000 young people in 180 groups will have participated in the Centennial Commission's Federal Provincial Youth Travel program. The total since 1964, when the program was started as a pilot project, will be more than 8,000 by the end of 1966

The aims of the federal provincial program are to give young Canadians the opportunity to meet and know other Canadians and to develop understanding of their country known in regions other than their own Another is to provide them with a first hand knowledge of the geography of the country and of the political, educational, cultural and artistic achievements of other provinces.

The Centennial Commission underwrites costs of travel, pays a per capita grant for incidental travelling expenses and a per capita grant for reception costs in host communities. It co-ordinates the program at the national level, provides travel bags, manuals, song books and name tags, one day tours of Ottawa for groups passing through, and makes all travel arrangements.

Each province or territory selects students and escorts (usually high school teachers) through its department of education, conducts orientation and briefing sessions, organizes reception arrangements in host provinces and plans better co-ordination of programs

TERRY WHITELY, Officer in charge of Junior Forest Wardens in Alberta will transfer to the Alberta Department of Youth on October 1st. This is in line with the announcement by the Hon. H. A. Banks, Alberta Minister of Lands and Forests of the transfer of administration of the Junior Forest Wardens from his department to the recently formed Dept. of Youth.

The primary objective of the training program, to impress young minds with the values inherent in the conservation of renewable resources, will remain unchanged by new stewardship.

The movement has grown from three clubs in 1940 (Hinton, Edson and Slave Lake) to thirty-three in 1966, comprising a total membership of over 700 youths. Club membership is limited to boys who have reached their tenth birthday or who have not exceeded an age of eighteen.

HOMETOWN REVISITED — Three Edson born brothers spend reminiscence days in their hometown a couple of weeks ago. Sons of a pioneer Edson family they are left to right Bill and Michael of Edmonton and Dr. Peter Herbut of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. The Herbut family originally homesteaded on what is now known as the "Prince's Farm" south east of town. They methodically looked up old Edson families and had a grand time recalling the days of their growing up in Edson. Dr. Peter, especially, was impressed with Edson's growth and lively look of going ahead.

Holiday trip to New York

JEROME KRISTOFF — winner of the United Nations speaking contest for 1965, sponsored annually by the Oddfellow and Rebekah Lodges.

Leaving Hinton at 9:30 a.m. July 7, I arrived in Calgary late that night where Mr. Cranston and one of the members of IOOF met me.

Next day I went to the Oddfellows Temple where I met the nine other Alberta representatives and we all went to an outdoor barbecue, then on to a tour of Calgary. Later we left for Fort Macleod where we met the bus with the 27 other delegates from Washington, Alaska, and British Columbia.

We had dinner, then visited the old RCMP fort. We left for Lethbridge where we spent the night. Next day we breakfasted at the Rebekah Temple then on to Maple Creek for lunch, dinner at Moose Jaw and arrived in Regina for supper.

We toured Regina and I found it to be one of the finest and most beautiful of Canadian cities. We visited the flower gardens and the Museum of National History.

We went on to Brandon and picked up our last passenger, giving us a total of 36 delegates, three saviours and one driver. The chaperones being from, Washington, B.C. and Alberta. We arrived in Winnipeg for supper, where we toured the city and were honored by having a public pool turned over for our use that evening.

On the 10th of July we lunched at Dryden, Ontario, noted for its paper processing plant, then on to Kakabeka Falls for supper and into Port Arthur for the night. We travelled all day Monday through Ontario seeing their mountains are small, but beautifully wooded with a special attraction of their own.

Arriving in Sault Ste. Marie we went swimming and had our own little lawn party as by this time we'd gotten to know each other fairly well. A few arguments between Canadians and Americans took place and I must say Americans are very patriotic with a real love for their country, which many Canadians lack.

The American people try to accept the choice of their Governments and some definite spirits. If we had this spirit in Canada there would be less trouble about such things as the Canadian Flag, and our National Anthem. Many people do not like our lone Red Maple Leaf, these people should be proud Canada has her own flag. This is a symbol of our maturity as a Nation and we should show it the love and understanding it deserves.

JEROME KRISTOFF

A tour of the locks, with the us, and watched some very large ships come through. We went on to the Fisheries and were given a briefing on the tour of the locks, with the principal being explained to lamprey problem. On to North Bay touring the town and miniole bear, the latter being a real novelty. A large mountain road had been hollowed out and the base installed. Some of us then went golfing, swimming or rode horses.

Next morning we visited the Dionne Quintuplets home. On to Chalk River where we saw films and demonstrations on its nuclear power plant. Ottawa was our next stop. After another tour we returned to a hall the Oddfellows had rented for a special dinner in our honor.

Next day we visited the Parliament Buildings, the Canadian mint where we saw all the operations, then watched the changing of the guards. Montreal and Quebec City was next on the agenda. Had a very interesting day. Up at 5:30 next morning crossing the border at Rock Island, through Vermont and into New York State where we spent the night in Poughkeepsie.

Here we visited the Vanderbilt and Roosevelt mansions then carried on to New York City. As we approached New York we could see the smog settled just below the tip of the Empire State Building. We battled the traffic and arrived at the Sheraton Atlantic about 6 o'clock.

We were given a briefing and tickets to Broadway, Empire State Building and Radio City Music Hall. Our days in the City consisted of briefing at the United Nations Building going to plays, etc., and meeting new girls.

I found New York to be gigantic, almost beyond comprehension. Toured around and saw the Bowery, Harlem, China Town, Greenwich Village. I met people from all over the world. We went to the different Embassies, finding the Russian one very interesting.

We left New York on July 20th. We visited Valley Forge Park, where there are over 2,000 statues of famous men and spots of the American Revolution. That night we arrived at Philidelphia, we visited Independance Hall, the Betsy Ross House, Congress Hall and saw the Liberty Bell.

On Sunday after church we went on tour of the Battlefield at Gettysburg. We arrived in Washington that night and just had some free time to ourselves. Next morning we went to see the Department of State and had a briefing at the Peace Corps. After dinner we visited the Supreme Court, U.S. Capital House and Senate Buildings, F.B.I., Tomb of the unknown, John F. Kennedy grave, Lee Mansion and the White House.

The next day the tour continued with us seeing the Washington Monument and then we went to the Smithsonian Institute after which we saw the Lincoln Memorial, the Christ Church and the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

On Wednesday and Thursday we travelled across West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois and Iowa. Thursday we visited Patriarchs Militant Park. We travelled into South Dakota and stayed the night in Mitchell. Saturday was used in travel time except for a stop at Mount Rushmore.

On Monday we visited the old haunts of Buffalo Bill, we went to The Cody Museum and the Whitney Gallery of Western Art. Tuesday was our last day with the rest of the bus since we got off at Helena, Montana.

The good-byes were really something, all the girls were crying and even some of the boys were a little on the wet side. The bus continued on to Spokane and we left for Calgary.

One thing I can say about the trip is after all the cities and towns I've seen all the way through Canada and the States, I still think we have some of the nicest country right here around Hinton.

'THE TWO BEST BEERS IN THE HOUSE!'

Lethbridge Pilsner

Many people like the happy taste of our own home grown hops in Lethbridge Pilsner – a blend of several fine brews in the best Bavarian tradition. The brewmaster adds just the right amount of whole grain pearl rice to give a subtle "extra" to the choice barley. Lively-tasting Lethbridge Pilsner, truly satisfying beer!

Two great brews from
SICKS' LETHBRIDGE BREWERY LTD.

Lethbridge lager

Many prefer the mellow taste of the malt in bright and bracing Lethbridge lager beer – often called 'bridge. Here's a naturally-aged, smooth lager brewed with a special yeast culture, then micro-filtered for extra-refreshing clarity and flavor. Bright, thirst-quenching lager beer at its best . . . that's 'bridge!

ALLAN RENNIE seven year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George Rennie, poses proudly with the Pattinson Insurance Agencies Ltd. Trophy which Mr. Mel Soltys presented to him as winner of the bike class in the recent rodeo parade. Mr. Soltys is a member of Pattinson's Insurance Agencies Ltd. and was also chairman of the parade judging committee. Allan's bike float showed considerable thought and work. The bike itself had a hoop extending from fender to fender, covered with tinfoil and with an outline of a tinfoil hat hanging from the centre. Behind this Allan towed a little wagon, also covered with tinfoil on which stood a grain elevator with little sheaves of grain around it.

Weather key factor in Labor Day ball tourney

By MEL SOLTYS

All hopes are pinned on some good weather for the coming Labor Day Baseball Tournament which is being staged at Edson's Memorial Park on Sunday and Monday, September 4th and 5th. Baseball clubs in the area have received their share of financial pelts due to the inclement weather which has beset them some weekend games and tournaments.

The Jasper Ball Club barely managed to get their May 24th tournament through but other towns, including Edson and Drayton Valley, had their final games completely rained out. In both Edson's and Drayton Valley's case, the final prize money was still awarded and split down the middle with the sponsoring club footing the bill.

They'll try it once again this coming weekend in Edson and every bit of co-operation is needed from the weatherman as a result of the 20+ inches of rain that fell within a 24 hour period commencing Saturday morning, August 27th. The ground conditions at Memorial Park are surprisingly good but tournament officials state that they still require two good drying days before they are satisfied.

Edson is promoting the Labor Day Tournament as a good will event, as the annual event for years has been host to the Major ball team Hoverers with the South West in Baseball have taken a case of absence for a considerable period. Maybe it just will be a problem to entertain such a tournament.

At press time seven teams had entered the two day affair with the other remaining entry expected in by midnight. They will be trying for $400 in prize money with the first place finishers receiving $200 and $100 going to the runner up.

Last years champions, the Jasper Panthers, are expected to enter Drayton Valley, Mayerthorpe, Edson, Hinton, Breton Eagles, Mahaska Hornets and host club Edson. It is anticipated that an Edson ball entry will complete the ball.

All line-ups of the above mentioned teams make it a contest as to who to pick as the top club in the furthest our tourney.

Edson area visited by National ARDA Visitors

Eastern visitors from Ottawa stopped over in Edson for one day recently on their tour across Canada visiting rural development areas under ARDA

Assistant Deputy Minister Mr. A. T. Davidson, visited for half a day in the rural development office with Mr. Frank Bolyea and Mrs. Pat Sheehan and then spent a few hours inspecting surrounding areas where ARDA projects are now taking place.

He visited the Lions Tourist Campsite areas south of the highway on the green zone where families are moving out onto sections and school lots, rather farms in low area with drainage problems and talked with the people concerning the ir problems and how they are being affected by the ARDA program

Mr Davidson was also very interested in the education program. Some farmers are taking trades training one man on heavy equipment another apprenticeship, another going to take horticulture training at the Olds Agricultural School

Several youths are going back to school to take agricultural training at Olds or Vermilion

Mr Davidson feels that education is the key to much of the success in our rehabilitation program

Legion Picnic this Sunday

The annual kiddies picnic sponsored each year by the Edson Branch Royal Canadian Legion will be held this Sunday at Polanski's farm three miles south of the East Rail road Crossing.

The picnic had been postponed from August 21st when it was to have been held at the Rodeo Grounds.

A bus will give free transportation from the Legion Hall at 1:00 p.m. with picnic activities getting well started by 2:00 o'clock. A program of races and games for everyone from the toddlers to grandmas usually makes for an afternoon of real enjoyment. Free food and refreshments tell they can hold are provided for the children and treasures prizes in spoiled apparels for Sunday supper.

Don't miss this last holiday before the school term begins in earnest. Plan on taking in the annual Legion picnic at Polanski's farm this Sunday September 4th at two o'clock

"I TOLD YOU, you made prize winning bread" said Ernie Fabrion as wife Josephine holds the loaf of brown bread she entered in the FUA Fair last Saturday. Apparently bread making is not a lost art among local women as there were more entries in this class than in any other baking class at the Fair.

Thursday night shopping not yet in effect

The Leader may inadvertently have given the impression a couple of weeks ago that Thursday night shopping had already been approved by Council.

The earliest this could come about is around the beginning of October. It will come in only if there is no opposition by the merchants themselves.

Technically Edson Town's By law No 497 must be amended and it will take a bout 30 days before all the legal rigamarol is gone through.

There seems to be as yet, no great opposition to what has become a common custom in our neighbouring towns and in the city

WHY CENTRALIZE SCHOOLS?

Of all the reasons why schools should be centralized the least important would be that the business men in a given area thought it "good business" a two hours to the commission on centralization put it last week

Surely the main reason for centralizing a school would be to provide better teaching facilities for as many of an area's students as possible

The Edson district has reached the point where no spatially for grants to enable us to build a vocational school. The qualifying number of pupils are located within a reasonable distance from the school. The question has been put to a vote and the School Divisional Board are going ahead with plans to build the vocational high school.

We presume the letter writer and the other Edson citizen referred to voted against the school. However, people with children needing more than high school training leading to university made their wishes known.

It is significant that this year's grade twelve, as it has in past, contained only a handful of young people heading for the professions and university, most of the young graduands will man the technical and business positions in our future

What is more, without higher academic education those young people entering the technical areas in our economy will not have the ideas and inset in tax problems that head the high powered executives and the professional people in many cases.

Surely our whole system should not be geared to turning out professional people. Besides there are only a limited number of professional openings in an area such as ours and those young people have to leave home permanently

How anyone could oppose training young people so they can make a good living among us is beyond us.

THE LARGER DIVISION

The other question of whether or not it is a good thing to be part of a larger school division has both arguments for and against it.

There certainly are economies in administration by centralizing. It will be remembered that the provincial government is assuming more and more of the costs of education. Bus transport is covered by provincial grants for instance.

The day is also long past when a teacher will go to the sticks to teach if he or she can get a position in a larger town.

We would also think that every person, business man or not, in Edson would like to see Edson, for instance, keep their high school if a way can be found to get suitable teachers and there are enough students to warrant it

Edson citizens can only sympathize with young people who have to come long distances on a bus to further their education But this is not the main reason for building a vocational school in Edson Edson district needs that facility in its own right

Letter to Editor

Edson Leader,
Edson, Alberta

It's over a week now since I arrived into your town as a stranger For many years now I have come through on [illegible] but this time I came with another reason [illegible] residence at Edson for the year

About a month ago I had recently accepted a job in your district for the fall and winter I spent two days there [illegible] cattle to know your town Now allow for the space in this letter's my encounters of your townsfolk

The day was raining when I arrived in Edson and contained that for the rest of the day and for the [illegible] from a summer part of West [illegible] and had spent three weeks in camp sites I went with my two girls under the impression that I could properly afford for the next week or so. No such I must have looked a little odd or different than the regular suburbanite, rain coat, polished pedestrian

You quite sure no one guessed my situation in life, neither did I tell those I met This made it interesting to me and actually a hidden identity but [illegible] to all on board to [illegible] the places of business and other peoples of your locality

I was warmly smiled at and helped myself to many [illegible] I found stores that offered free bed under with cookies and creams the girls ended up with bubble gum and a balloon before the day was over. I don't remember there was a gala event in the town. I believe it was because you people are so [illegible] with newness

My that coffee was most appreciated after 22 hours of rain on your camp site would I was given, not sold, along with bars and at each small purchase a rash of all handing, folding, etc areas of Edson and district

I asked about a mower can and one store man phoned a local number and checked for me to buy me batteries as to how to get there was not a come number The man at [illegible] held he did to some my furniture for me and was helpful and courteous

I came to realize Edson has nearly everything but houses to rent Helped this realize the names of apartment managers and I was taken to a vacant unit and shown through with no delay I was to have it held for me until September 1st without any than more than my name and address

At [illegible] I was given extra fuel, fast service and found two hen checking battery and radiator under the hood and patiently filling the cans and all in the still pouring rain, please note!

At a cafe I found the waitress had time to be friendly, and to refill our coffee cup without me waiting to catch her eye

In Edson making an impression on the new comer and tourist? I believe she really is Right now I'm sure of it The next thing I know I'll be settled in your friendly city and belonging In those who slightly know Edson that it is a good place a friendly place and a spot to stop a short while or to come to, to stay

A future Edmonton

P.S. No its not a mirage I never [illegible] the door to my hello and the mower has not pulled away from the curb

WESTERN EDITOR LOOKS AT THE MARITIMES

Ed.—

Our fellow publisher Lon D'Albertanson of the Wainwright Star Chronicle attended the annual meeting of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association held in New Brunswick this year. We found his comments interesting and think perhaps our readers will as well.

After taking a fairly good, though rather limited, look at the Atlantic provinces, both from the air and from the surface, one reasonable notion with the very definite opinion that the West is not such a bad place to live We haven't the official figures, and it is very hard to estimate with any degree of accuracy but we would estimate that the acreage of land which has been cleared and is used for agricultural purposes other than grazing runs somewhere between ten and twenty percent This includes open pasture land and land that is used for forage crops. The balance is covered with timber to almost exposed rocks None of the timber is pretty good but a lot of it is intensive and suitable for little other than pulpwood or much lumber Many of the fields which are tilled are pretty rocky, and the soil, while fertile, has little of what we commonly consider as necessary for good soil structure, black top soil

In New Brunswick and Nova Scotia [illegible] dairying, farming, [illegible] and so on [illegible] and many of the farms which at one time was the prosperity part of rural backsliding work on the part of the farmers

We did not have the time or reality in operating the land [illegible] south Our trip through these was by train which left little scope for close inspection

The almost complete lack of roads in the interior of the southern part of the interior of Nova Scotia [illegible] is definitely this part However what we can of this area indicates that the battle of the pre-cambrian works by losing any area under control is a pretty hard one

Where we note their times were shaping up is the Nova Scotia Gaelic Mod and the many Scots of the area Another with their [illegible] friends, were telling all set for a Highland festival of some considerable magnitude Tartans were everywhere, and the Highland spirit was quite noticeably in evidence This flies in with the history of Cape Breton Island which was largely settled by Scots with some Irish

All in all, it is a good province, and has much to add to the Canadian scene. Bigger farming units will be needed before its economy can roll along as it should — but there are in the making We were taking to a dairy farmer who worked with a large herd of dairy cows, and had a completely modernized dairy barn He was the owner of a number of old family farms, and appeared to be doing very well

COUNTRY OF MANY FLAGS

It was a matter of adventure stories who produced a book at the beginning of this year several reasons why the new flag is not more generally accepted [illegible] the Maple Leaf and small is [illegible] the various lakes seem to be almost equally divided between owners who fly the new flag and those who prefer not in flying the old one. There are even a few Union Jacks blowing proudly in the breeze, and are occasionally there is a Scottish flag at the top of a boat house pole.

A full year after the official adoption by Parliament of a new flag by Canada it becomes apparent that many people still are not content. The Red Ensign, which was flown proudly by so many, is still being flown and perhaps defiantly Boat houses may entitled Under Two Flags". In that case the hues have fought under Lord Roberts in South Africa and the [illegible] and are shifted to the Philippines where he fought under General Jacton of the [illegible] Army

At least the hues had in more several thousand miles to travel under two flags. Under the present conditions in their own land, Canadian are strung under two or more flags because [illegible] flown do not like the official flag In Quebec, one of the reasons for flying the Fleur-de-lis is that it has beauty

A recent traveller on amateur analyst of public opinion reports that there are and others who will, [illegible] perhaps would like to that the only reason for the survival of the old is that people have a stock on hand and do not want to buy new banting until they really need it

Another suggestion is the deep-seated attachments towards a flag believed to have been formed through Parliament to please voters in the Province of Quebec. Then it is said by some that the new flag should have had some blue in it, and that it has not become "blest" in the color of the Conservative party in Quebec The absence of blue in the flag is taken by some recalcitrant residents of some other provinces to mean that the new flag is a partisan flag, selected by one party for its political advantage

Such success as the new flag has had may be due to the acquiescence of people who do not wish to kick up a fuss Sales are not helped by refusal to fly the new flag outside the province

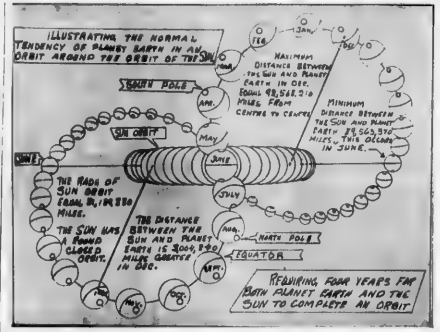
Jr. High art instructor to display paintings

The Jubilee Junior High School is pleased to present to its students and to the public an art exhibit artistically Mr. Peter Sherlock teacher of art and science in the junior high grades for the past two years.

The display which may be seen in the school library during the last weeks of the fall term consists entirely of the paintings of this young artist. His general theme is the artistic interpretation of the Canadian scene.

Mr. Sherlock is a graduate of the University of Alberta from which he holds the Bachelor of Education degree with major in art. He has taught art to both children and adults in the Bonnyville and Grand Centre area, and he is currently planning a fall exhibit at the Burlington Art Show in Edmonton.

It is hoped that many people will view these paintings while we have the opportunity here in Edson.



IN THE FOLLOWING PARAGRAPHS and in the above illustration, a brief effort is made to demonstrate that the sun has an orbit. Consequently a profound change in the orbit of planet earth results. By examing the orbit of the sun and the orbit of planet earth as I have depicted in the illustration, it will be noted that the distance between the sun and planet earth determine the orbit of the sun. Only the size of orbit will fit the sun, thereby it requires four years for both planet earth and the sun to complete an orbit. Knowing the size of the sun orbit and the distance between the sun and planet earth is not always the same, an examination of the sun orbit in relation to the earth orbit will demonstrate that the distance between the sun and planet earth is 3,004,840 miles greater in mid-December. A further examination of sun and earth orbit will also explain why there is one day more every four years.

Grande Prairie again open as pulp mill site

EMC Corporation of Philadelphia has advised Alberta's Minister of Lands and Forests Hon. H. A. Bisely, that it is relinquishing the one year exploration permit, granted to the Alberta Government last September. The permit provided EMC with the privilege of conducting engineering and forestry surveys on an Alberta forest site with a view to establishing a pulp mill in the Grande Prairie region.

EMC Corporation is a large American based organization dealing in paper machinery and chemicals. It produces large amounts of process material used chiefly for paper and related products.

As a result of the termination of the permit issued to EMC, Grande Prairie and Peace River forests are open for similar studies by other pulp companies who have not proven resources available and sound industries.

The region of the Grande Prairie Forest that is presently comprises an area of 3622 square miles containing a volume of wood calculated at 22 million cords and 78 billion board feet of coniferous trees plus 11 million cords and 6 billion board feet of deciduous trees.

A similar area exists in the Peace River forest of 8000 square miles. It contains 13 million cords and 4 billion board feet of coniferous tree pulp, 80 million cords and 4 billion board feet of deciduous trees.

It strikes of some force about certain strikes demands for a 30 per cent wage increase the last I heard, nobody, including most of the strikers themselves, knows what happens about the strike. Not just because it's uncontrolled. Not just because some people such as stranded travellers with commitments to meet or other parts of the country are in real trouble. Not just because businessmen can't fill orders. And not just because it's going to cost a lot of people a lot of money.

The railway workers have is much right as anyone for a raise and nobody can seriously blame anyone else in Canada's world for trying to get as much money as he can. The strikebreakers, the Expo workers in Montreal and the seaway workers got healthy increases. Many smaller unions have done equally well.

The problem is simply — where does it all end. Postal employees, apparently feeling that the 30 per cent raise is too low a standard, are reported to be asking for 50 per cent. Others will undoubtedly follow suit.

Now, the fact is that the

MR. AND MRS. DAVID W. GREEN

A very pretty summer wedding took place in Edson United Church at three o'clock Saturday, August 20 when Bonnie Lynne Lambeth became the bride of David Wayne Green.

Rev. J. Windsor of Hanson performed the ceremony for the bride of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Lambeth of Edson and the son of Mr. and Mrs. N. S. Green of Lake St. The bride was given in marriage by her father.

Baskets of pink and white gladioli and snapdragons graced the front of the church for the occasion. White ribbon and bows adorned the pews.

Mr. George Mackay played the wedding music and accompanied soloist Mrs. Sharon Lee Major of Rocky Mountain House.

The bride was radiant in a floor length gown of beaded satin with lace and satin stole. The bouffant skirt was enhanced by the detailed bodice and pearl point sleeves. The round neckline was outlined with a lace applique inserted with a lace drop pearl and satin tab. The skirt featured a cathedral length bordered with lace insertion, a lace underpanel and self-fabric rose accented the side panel at back. Her head dress was of tulle and lace with white roses in the centre of a jewellery. A gift of the groom was worn by the bride, a pearl white gold wedding band and engagement ring, with the usual chip set a silver chain. Her cathedral bouquet of red carnations and white gladioli.

Bridal attendant were the maid of honor Miss Elsie Bird of Edson and bridesmaid Miss Sharon Lambeth, sister of the bride. Flower girl was Miss Nancy Ann Green, sister of the groom. They were identically attired in floor length gowns of pink and white satin with matching organza over lace overskirts and two and four tiers of lace. They carried baskets of carnations and white gladioli.

Mr. Edward Green, brother of the groom was best man and groomsmen were Mr. Bob Stadnyk of Drayton Valley and Mr. Dennis Lambeth, brother of the bride. Ushers were Mr. Dave Lambeth and Mr. Ken Stadnyk of Drayton Valley.

For her marriage mother of the bride chose a pink sheath dress with pink and white accessories. Mother of the groom wore a two piece suit of wool crepe with pink and white accessories. Her corsage was of red carnations.

A reception for 60 guests was held in the Edson Motor Hotel banquet room. Master of ceremonies were Mr. J. D. Newsham of Edson. The bride's table was covered by the three tiered wedding cake and centred by a miniature bride and groom. Mr. and Mrs. Lambeth received the guests at the reception. The bride's mother chose a floor length dress of pink lace over taffeta with matching accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses completed the ensemble.

The happy young couple left by motor for their home in Edson where the groom is employed by Hudson Bay Oil & Gas.

Out of town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. N. Green, Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Smith, Drayton Valley, Mrs. J. C. Lambeth, Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Green, Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winnipeg, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Bird, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Lambeth, Mr. and Mrs. A. Miller, Mr. E. Smith, all of Calgary.

FUA bench show the best to date

In spite of a heavy downpour most of last Saturday there was a better turnout of both spectators and exhibits at the FUA Fall Fair and bench show than in either of the two previous years.

Another bright note about the Fair was that there was a blue-ue-rticination by townsfolk.

Grain, forage crops and weed-like exhibits were heartening and showed that in spite of the rainy cold weather they have entered the district much of this summer it has been a good year. All that is needed now is hot weather during the harvest period to give farmers the best crop in a number of years.

Exhibits had to be in the Legion Hall by 10:00 a.m and judging was completed in noon hour after that people began trickling in to wander around the hall looking over and admiring the routine handicraft flowers, vegetable crops and food exhibits.

For coffee and refreshments were provided and most people enjoyed a chat with friends over a cup of coffee before venturing out into the sun again.

The Fair committee this year was composed of Mr and Mrs Jesse Fabrion Mr and Mrs Carl Stilzenberger, Mr. Al Jenkins Mr Frank Fedchenko, Mr Holland Aeam, Mr Tom King, Mrs Irene Dupee Mr Fred West

During the afternoon Mr Johnson acted as master of ceremonies and with the assistance of numerous children in the hall made the draw for 52 door prizes for gifts and vouchers from local business men. A list of these winners and their gift donors will be published in next week's issue of The Leader.

Matt Manchur moving

Brooks

Mr Matt Manchur who has served as Senior Fish and Wildlife officer in the Edson district for the past three years will leave on September first to take up duties in Drayton Valley.

Matt first came to the Edson area from Alder Flats in the Rocky Mountain House forest on 1956 when he began duties as Forest Officer at the Birch Lake Ranger Station Transferring to the Fish and Wildlife Division in 1960 Mr Manchur moved to this and retained the Edson in 1962.

In the course of his duties in the Matt has made many friends and he will be sorely missed for his enthusiastic support of community projects.

The past two years he has served as chairman of Branch 24 of the Civil Service Association and also as a member of the Provincial Executive of the C.S.A. Matt was also very active in the Edson Fish and Game Association and Gun Club the local Masonic Lodge and the Order of the Eastern Star.

Mr Manchur has done a great deal to further the interest of good wildlife conservation methods in the Edson area and Brooks will certainly benefit from Edson's loss.

It has not been announced who will succeed him as Senior Officer

Many flash fires result when gasoline misused

By AUSTIN E BRIDGES
Alberta Fire Commissioner

Here are a few precautions to be observed about gasoline handling.

1. It must not simply be said — no fun in [illegible] gasoline either the motor car, motor boat, snow mobile and other motor fuel equipment. The record of accidents and loss of life through mishandling of gasoline has made it most important that frequent reminders be given about safe handling of this explosive product

We have received a report this week from Calgary describing an accident with a gasoline mother in which a [illegible] of a class at a boys' [illegible] suffered burns to his hands. Fortunately, only one child of the class was burned and that was kept in a safety [illegible]

A smaller amount on a cap [illegible] used to prime the [illegible] which a small [illegible] was involved in a flash fire. Had there been an open [illegible] of gasoline the explosion would have been most serious and perhaps [illegible] from a bottle to another [illegible] and at that point [illegible] a kerosene lantern [illegible] ignited. The kerosene [illegible] caused the fumes and the sudden flare-up involved 3 persons whose clothing ignited resulting in one death and [illegible] burns to 2 others

Because gasoline vapours are [illegible] from 27° to 4 times heavier than air and tends to settle [illegible] normally make a nuisance of themselves. Not a good safe [illegible]

Well why not let these people who want to hunt, fish and are willing to pay for it become a source of income for the farmers in this area? You would get a better class of [illegible] and your problem of [illegible] would be solved. It has been no secret that Edson has many fishing, and forest [illegible] them the [illegible]

Of course we need more fish in the streams, possibly more [illegible] than better roads. The lot is endless as they say but these things come in time and don't [illegible]

[illegible] we have people in Edmonton that are willing to arrange

Letters to the Editor

Why people want to get away from the rush and mad [illegible] of modern living. Away from that instrument that hangs on the wall that disturbs all our waking and sleeping hours, the telephone. They want the freedom, freedom [illegible] and above all they and their children enjoy

[illegible] nonchalant attitude of a lot of us and will [illegible] their friends about any farmer that would provide accommodation. Think of the farm house [illegible] Most of them would be happy to [illegible] with a two roomed place [illegible] in the bush that would be kept in a dry and presentable condition. Plus some place to store items left there [illegible] again. Finally the [illegible] are used by fire [illegible] fishermen who share [illegible] and [illegible] and [illegible] goods or it would be handled by the farmer himself, who could also sell farm produce to his visitors. Another source of income

Now the farmer will say to [illegible] who let these city chickens shoot our big game [illegible] pack our larders [illegible] of our fishes and [illegible]

[illegible] of the 12 residents [illegible] rescued when someone stood up in the boat, either to untangle a fish line or to retrieve [illegible] a fish struck the [illegible] bank

Follow the basic rules at all times when in small boats and canoes.

1. Wear your life jacket regardless of swimming ability.

2. If you do overturn, turn on to the boat

Have fun boating but remember it's no fun for those you leave behind if you drown.

Carelessness in boats cause of drowning deaths

Thousand of boats safely [illegible] this year from January 1st to July 30th has [illegible] 13 boating accidents on B.C. lakes and rivers [illegible] 16 lives.

In only one case did a victim wear a life jacket.

Two excellent swimmers in separate incidents were knocked [illegible] and drowned. A jacket could have saved them. Two men, days in one [illegible] were life jackets [illegible] and were saved, but [illegible] was a good swimmer and didn't need a life jacket.

One man left his overturned craft to swim ashore. He drowned. Two companions held on to the boat and were rescued.

The Thomas family enjoyed a pleasant surprise last week when Mr and Mrs. Leonard Kench and his father Bennett Kinch dropped in for a visit. The elder Mr Kench is an old friend of the family whom we hadn't seen in more than 20 years. The Kenchs spent the night then continued on their trip to Penticton and Grande Prairie.

Mrs. Linda Stewart and son arrived Friday evening to spend a short holiday with her mother, Cecelia Lindman. Sorry to learn Mrs Art Berrans hasn't been feeling well. Get better fast Ada.

Mr and Mrs Herb Heath, Vivian, Pat and Martha left Sunday for a holiday in B.C.

Berry pickers are on the move. The group of "moss pickers" I told you about last week is still at location and has been joined by Ken Valleau and Grande ... who is some what of a short, until we learned they were actually talking about their berry pails.

A first hand account of a berry safari Wednesday of last week involving seven local folk, brings up the question, is it worth it? It has been said a good belly laugh equals a half a block on acres but, as you people who became dehydrated, scorched, beat struck, fly bitten bruised, scratched and battered and not loaded with fruit take heart. Your apparent enjoyment of the whole deal was well worth the slight discomfort "It was it"

Rain began in earnest last Friday morning, following a solid week of fine weather. Don't think farmers were caught napping the past week days, the one who responded to the Matt Hill "Whistle Stop" would have been proud of them as well satisfied with himself for hoeing and those words of wisdom. Plenty of hay still stood after a hot bundles. Don't think all are done up under cover thanks to last week end-lume

I took a day to search for God and found Him not,
Until by chance I wandered to the hill,
And lo! As there the daylight hues trudged me by,
I glimpsed His robe in sunset's crimson spill

I made a quest in search of God and I found Him not
'Till I obeyed the lure of woodland free,
And lo! As there the summer season changed its garb,
His hab'nshone in autumn's majesty

Throughout the world I searched for God and found Him not,
'Til I saw upon a rock's barbed, parched out plain,
And lo! As there the thirsty earth did drink its fill,
I heard His foot-tires in the drumming rain

I spent a lifetime seeking God and found Him not,
Until I happ'd to walk one day at dawn,
An lo! As there the morning breeze caressed my face,
His hand then o'er my brow was lightly drawn

Through fill my days I searched for God and found Him not,
Until the depth of night stole from a far,
And lo! As there He lit the lamps on heaven's door,
I saw God's smile in ev'ry twinkling star

Through endless toil I searched for God and found Him not,
Wracked by life's turmoil, meaningless, far-flung,
"Show me The Way!" at last in anguish I did cry—
And where His Will met mine, the Cross was hung

I took a day to search for God and found Him not,
'Til on my face there at His feet I fell;
And lo! I rose, rejoiced, and went my way in peace.
I knew within my heart my God doth dwell!

"I understand Elephant Brand's got a 43% Granular Ammonium Nitrate!"

"Thirty-four percent for Pete's sake!"

He should get it right and get it this fall. New 34% Granular Ammonium Nitrate by Elephant Brand is available only through your Elephant Brand dealer. Cominco produces Canada's only granular ammonium nitrate; the only one with 34% nitrogen. It gives more plant food per spreader load, which means fewer stops. It is non-caking and flows evenly for uniform application.

And consider this: New 34% granular ammonium nitrate is now being used in making Elephant Brand 23-23-0 and 27-14-0. Result—products made up entirely of firm, uniform granules that stay uniform and flow evenly through any applicator.

Taken all around, Elephant Brand 34%-N is the greatest granular nitrate fertilizer to hit the ground for Pete's, or anybody else's sake!

let's talk advertising!

When considering purchasing an advertisement in a local paper situated in a community such as we are, the first thing that comes to mind is, "How many people are going to read it?"

First you have a choice of a local advertisement with no outside connections. This type of ad gets to the householders in Town who know where every place of business is located and want to know what "specials" they have to offer the public.

The second type of advertisement is known as a combination ad. By this we mean that you insert your advertisement in this paper, then if you want to reach a much wider buying public potential you can, for an additional fraction of the original cost, have the ad inserted in one or all of the following newspapers:

HINTON HERALD
JASPER TOTEM
McBRIDE ECHO
EDSON LEADER
WHITECOURT STAR

You can have any combination of these papers that you wish, whichever you feel will benefit you the most.

Centennial Report

1867 1967

by KEITH M. BROWN
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

How time flies when you're busy. It seems just a few months ago that I was appointed by the Centennial Commission. It was proposed by a man living in Metcalfe, Ontario named Stanley Knowles who at the age of 65 is not long for this world. Mr. Knowles is the Dominion Bureau of Statistics there are 604 centenarians in Canada.

I must confess that the first time I heard the 100th Anniversary mentioned I was a little surprised but this of the fact how in the industrious branch of the Centennial Commission, who is a former weekly newspaper editor made a close guess. He said "There were two centenarians. I remember in the boys days I published my paper so I thought there could be some for every town and have I the honor of the number of weekly newspapers in Canada.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics figures are checked every month and we at the Centennial are interested in these figures because next year centenarians in Canada are going to be honored by a special Centennial of Confederation scroll.

The idea of honoring Canadians as old as Confederation is not a new one. It was originated by the Centennial Commission. It was proposed by a man living in Metcalfe, Ontario named Stanley Knowles who at the age of 65 is not long for this world.

Mr. Knowles, as a matter of fact has been sending out scrolls to centenarians for some time. He is a member of the Senate Citizenship and Privileges and Elections Committee. He was instrumental in getting passport for centenarians. The community of Welland also endorsed his project.

Two years ago Mr. Knowles started writing to officials all over Canada about his idea of creating special honor to Canadians at least two years old during the celebration of the 100th anniversary of Confederation. The Centennial Commission has adopted Mr. Knowles' suggestion and scrolls have been made, each bearing the special scroll to be presented next year.

There will be several hundred Canadians born in 1867 or before, who will be extra special people when we conduct our great celebrations next year.

GRASS ROOTS APPROACH

This newspaper is prepared to take at face value the statement that five Provincial Cabinet Ministers are here this week to get the grassroots views on how our province should be governed

Through a bloop on our part we failed to publicize the visit in our last edition. We hope that word of mouth will spread enough to show the Cabinet Committee that we welcome them to our District

WHAT'S THAT FUZZY THING IN THE BUSH?

By Bruce Hogle of CFRN

Do you realize I could be blind, deaf, retarded, illiterate or have any other handicap. . . and I could still get a hunting licence to hunt anything in Alberta

I'm not being facetious or smart alecky about the handicapped Far from it

What I'm trying to point up though is the fact we issue hunting licences in Alberta on the basis of five idiotic qualifications They are: your height, weight, sex, age and residency

Now just what your height, weight sex, age and residency have to do with getting a hunting licence is beyond me What about eyesight, hearing, color blindness, game laws and game identification

I'm informed by a Treasury Branch office that I personally phoned . . . that I can send in my wife or anyone else and they'll be glad to issue her the licence for me

The licence need be signed by me but who's to say whether I sign it or not especially when someone else puts it up for me?

I've been told by experienced hunters that in Alberta today there are many people in the woods and swamps who shoot by sound because their eyesight is somewhat hazy; or they shoot by movement because their hearing is not as good as it once was

This is simply ridiculous. I have nothing against hunters Just as I have nothing against car drivers. But how can we subject auto drivers to written tests, eye tests and driving tests on the one hand. And then turn around and give out hunting licences to kill with no regard whatsoever to who's getting the licence?

It's to be hoped the Alberta Government will correct this situation at the next session of the Legislature

STARTING SCHOOL

Published by Request

Six years have fled, so swiftly that I wonder
Just where on earth the weeks and months have gone

And now it's time, far sooner than I'm ready,
To pack a lunch and slip his satchel on
My son's straight back For school days are beginning.

The end to all his babyhood is here.
And soon he'll lose the soft endearing candor
And all the baby ways I hold so dear.

First day at school! Such an important milestone!
Opening new paths far small unwary feet;
I breathe a prayer that he may prove quite ready
For any pitfalls he may chance to meet.
And as I kiss the trusting cheek he offers,
Knowing he soon may scorn a mother's kiss,
I wish that Time could stand quite still, and always
My son and I could be together just like this Attend family reunion

Mr and Mrs Allan Caswell and family had a full weekend when they attended a family reunion at Conort, Alberta The reunion was for members of Mrs Caswell's family, descendants of Angus MacDonald of Conort, some of whom had not seen each other in thirty-five years and some who had never met

Of the 72 descendants, 58 were able to attend Illness kept one family away and the rural strike made it impossible for another family to be there

As many as possible of the out of town families camped at the Gooseberry Provincial Park, near Conort Saturday night the local Anglican WA catered to the gathering of the clan in the Legion Hall, providing a sumptious meal with a rough feed, said Mrs Caswell, to feed all of South ern Alberta

Sunday they enjoyed an all day long picnic at the campsite with visiting, games, etc., ending a wonderful day

On Monday they made up a cavalcade and drove around the district visiting historical sites The area includes the Neutral Hills where in early days Indians of various tribes would call a truce and all hunt buffalo together to supply food and hides for their tribes. The area also includes the site of the Riel Rebellion and many other points of pioneer interest that made history some also for young and old and concluded as all too short weekend before families headed back home.

THE CHALLENGE OF INDIA

The recent disasters that have occurred in India throw into sharp focus a land that has already suffered too much The affluent society must accept some of the blame for India's poverty

The devaluation of the rupee the hunger in India's villages, the lonely death that comes to thousand each month who must sleep on city streets, are partly due to Western trading policies The small white nation in the world has boosted its share of global trade to about 66 per cent in recent years In contrast, the colored majority the impoverished people of Asia, Africa and Latin America cannot raise their trade above 20 per cent of the world total

India, with a population rapidly nearing 500 million is attempting with other underdeveloped nations to find a way of trading with North America and Europe But too often the affluent West uses protective tariff barriers to keep out imports from lands with low labor costs

Canada, in March of this year, announced that our food aid to India will be more than doubled in value in 1966 from $35 000 000 to $71 000 000 Ottawa is to be commended on this decision, and yet it is a poor substitute for more enlightened more generous trading policies

Obviously, Canada can't act alone in this field Canadian industry and business can not be expected to ignore the policies of the United States and Britain as regards trading with the poorer lands. But Canadians as a nation should urge their Government — as well as the people of the United States — to press actively for more magnanimous trade policies toward the underdeveloped world Canada is getting a name for speaking on behalf of the underdog at global councils, and could use its influence more frequently at international economic conferences and at the United Nations Far to maintain the present rigid policies toward the poor world could lead to disaster

The sluggish economics of underdeveloped lands cannot be revitalized unless they are permitted to compete on a fair basis with the wealthy industrial states of the world. New Delhi now hopes that devaluation will stimulate sagging Indian exports. But whatever the central Government of India achieves will be nullified unless there is economic cooperation by the hard-currency nations

It is clear that India and other emerging lands must do much to get their own house in order, but the West can help the poor world by adopting a more positive response There is a growing tendency in North America and Europe to shrug off the problems of the backward states as unfortunate but inevitable

Such blind selfishness drives the colored majority toward socialism, and unless current trends could push them into the arms of Communists

HOW BAD ARE OUR STUDENTS? UNIVERSITY

If one depends on the daily press, the impression is given that the University of the United States and Canada are seething with unrest pot-heads walking eyes, etc

I have five grandchildren attending University in various parts of the United States and Canada (all in their early teens) of less than a thousand to a large university of some thirty thou and students In talking with these young people and with their friends no impression is that this unrest radical stir is amounting when compared with the great bulk of the serious minded students who have no part and take no part in these disturbances

Where there is trouble I am told that it is largely due to the creation of one or two radical "crackpots", who are not particularly interested in their studies but are more interested in causing trouble And in most cases, the young people will not "they are" demands anyway and won't be coming back

Many of these students who mingle with the protesters are there just to see what is going on and not to take any part.

So why cannot our papers and television people, while publishing the news of course, play down the importance of it in so far as the great mass of students are concerned? If one reads between the lines of many of those marches and riots that are so frequently reported it will not be difficult to understand that a great many of those who apparently have joined in the protests do so only for the fun of it and to see what is going on.

It is our firm opinion that the great mass of our people, whether they be students or otherwise are good living, law abiding people and if and when they get involved in these riots, it is due to excitement and not with the intent of agreeing with what some radicals have brought out

This same principle applies to the young hoodlums who break into school properties, etc, and cause damage, are usually confined to a very few of the hundreds of thousands of people living in the same district, many of whom devote their energies to groups or organizations whose aim it is help both at home and abroad, some of whom are volunteering a year or two of their lives, or more, to actively working on those projects, designed to help those at home or abroad, in improving conditions rather than in tearing down

Again let us play 'up' the 'affirmative and 'down' the negative

PUBLIC RELATIONS IN THE PEACE

No matter what anyone thinks of the Social Credit government in Alberta it must be admitted that in the last year at least moves are being made especially on the parts of Peace County MLA's to learn the attitudes of the rest of the province and Canada on the northwest

Witness Thursday evening's conference on the economic possibilities of the Peace River Country and the rest of Northern Alberta held in Peace River The conference was attended by the chairman of the Edmonton Council of Canada, a host of EDC members from across the nation several provincial government ministers and officials and federal government officials. The meeting, billed as a follow up to the Changing Frontiers conference held in Peace River 11 months ago, cannot help but be of value to the North Country.

Too many persons, workers included, are inclined to view the Peace River Country with something less than total knowledge, little realizing that it is the gateway to Canada's Northland — the Yukon and the Northwest Territories — and that besides serving as a stepping stone to the rich potential of these areas, is itself, perched on the edge of greatness.

What transpires at these meetings as far as action is concerned is not the most point at present The point is that men of action and position in the country are witnessing the first hand the development of the north and getting a profound glimpse of its promise

Nothing but good can come out of these meetings even though it may take some time for their full effect to be felt by the citizens of the Peace"

The provincial government appears to be running with no little help from the Northern Alberta Development Council, a first-rate public relations campaign on behalf of northern Alberta

Hosts city mayor on fishing trip

Local hardcore man Jack Wetsaita had a call Friday evening after work to see if he would go back to the stone to sell a fishing license to an out of town visitor. All other license outlets were closed so being an accommodating individual Jack went along to the store

There he found his caller to be Edmonton's Mayor Vince Dunnell and son Subsequent conversation revealed that Mayor Dunzer and his two sons were going fishing with Edson's Mayor "Bud" Brunelle the next day

The trip was successful Mr Brunelle enjoys fishing and knows where the big ones are lurking to the fishing party returned home Saturday night well satisfied.

ONE OF THE PROUDEST MOMENTS of his life must surely have come for Bill Ashmead last Friday afternoon, when, as the local agent for Northwestern Utilities Ltd., he presented his son Glenn with a cheque for $300, the sum of the Northwestern Utilities Ltd. Scholarship provided by members of the company for children of company employees. The scholarship is worth $300 a year over a period of three years if the winner can keep a consistent standing of 70% or over. Besides this scholarship Glenn also won a $500 Alberta Hotel Association scholarship as well as a $100 award from IGA for 1st and 2nd place H's; the $50 Commodore Hotel Scholarship and a Queen Elizabeth Scholarship of $100. This made a total of $1250 in bursaries which Glenn plans to put to good use in his future education.

AUGUST IS THE SILLY MONTH

The news name in a catch all package last week

It ranged from some amusing confusion over the question of whether a person can legally drink in an aircraft over Alberta, to a stretch serious series of meetings by the legislature's committee on school centralization

It seems that Alberta's liquor laws don't prohibit the serving of liquor on airflights leaving, entering or flying over the province The Provincial Treasurer, Anders Aalborg, says that any airline company wishing to serve liquor on any flights, except those that begin and end in Alberta, may do so if it wishes.

Peter Elliott the chairman of the liquor control board, said "There isn't any law on liquor being served in the air Our jurisdiction doesn't extend into the air and won't until legislation to this effect is passed"

As a result the ALC B has no authority to allow liquor service above Alberta but neither does it have the authority to disallow it

One thing is definite that flights from Edmonton to Calgary on the problem for small, yet before any definite policy is devised to put before the spring session of the legislature

The ARDA program in the area came under the jurisdiction of the ALEC and drinking is definitely not allowed at the whole ality thing prompted the Alberta Liberal leader Adrian Berry, to call for an overhaul of "antiquated and reactionary" liquor laws

The school centralization committee inquired much of the month last week to hear submissions on the subject of large central schools as opposed creating economic farms It includes subsidized rentals for farmers who decide to sell out In some cases loans will be made to enable farmers to buy neighboring land to farm economic units

In the south of the province a flood of claims has been made for compensation for hail damage

An official of the Hail Board says claims will total about $3,000,000 — the worst since 1960

Twenty five hundred claims already been filed The hardest hit areas are in the irrigated region and south of the major claims are from south of Calgary

As expected most communities lost would be getting large schools, dozens of teachers and hundreds of students (and dollars) fav ored centralization.

And most of those that would lose schools and have to send children on long trips to distant institutions opposed such moves The problem of course, is that big city schools can offer more in the way of courses facilities and teachers On the other hand a student who travels several hours a day to and from school may lose much of the advantage a large school offers

The committee will be working Edson Hudson Whitecourt area seems to be picking up a little speed

It was announced last week that 200 farms would be purchased under the scheme in the next five years, a few have already been bought and 23 more applications for purchase are now being processed.

C.L.C. on The Strike

The following was supplied by Local 855 of the IBPS & PMW in the belief that the general public is interested in all sides of the dispute leading to the recent Railway Strike

The following statement was issued today in Claude Jodoin president of the Canadian La bor Congress

"Canadian Railway workers can no longer be expected to personally subsidize a major portion of Canada's transporta tion system The fact is that by whatever yardstick one chooses, employees of Canadian Railways are receiving wages considerably lower than the accepted average paid in comparable occupations This means that every Railway worker's family is being re quired to make a personal sac rifice in the interests of rail way operations.

"It is also true, of course that these people are required, through taxation, to make a further contribution to the national subsidities to which the prime minister has referred on a number of oc-

"Raising the bogey threat of inflation in an effort to prevent them from correcting this inequity is highly unfair Experience has inevitably been that in time of recession work ers are told that they cannot expect higher wages because they cannot be afforded

"When times are good they are told that wage increases would be untimely because they might cause inflation Canadian workers, on the rail ways and in other industries, want to know just when they can expect to obtain a fair share of increasing products ity and prosperity

"Worry about inflation never seems to arise until workers ask for their share of an ever more prosperous economy Wages increases obtained by some groups this year have followed huge rises in corporation profits and an increase in the cost of living.

Looking at the Canadian economic scene as a whole, we find that between 1961 and 1965 corporation profits, after taxes, rose by 87%, while, in the same period, average week ly wages and salaries went up only 16% It is obvious that Canadian corporations have not only failed to share this prosperity with their employ ees but they have also deprived Canadian consumers of benefits which could have been provided by this prosperity and conditions

These facts make it abund antly apparent that suggest tions for the exercise of mod eration to prevent inflation should be directed to sections of society other than Labor retained profits

The historic pattern is that interest and dividends all go up, prices increase, and then, finally, an effort is made to obtain wage increases to catch up.

"As for as profits are con cerned the position of the Canadian Pacific Railway is worth examination Last year CPR's profits after taxes, reached $73,000,000 This re presented an increase of 63% over the 1960 figure

"While attention in the railway dispute has centred largely on wages, it should be remembered that there are a number of other important issues at stake.

One of the most important of these is jobs Between 1954 and 1965 over 24,000 jobs on the Canadian National a lone completely disappeared Under these circumstances it is not surprising that many workers are placing emphasis on the importance of action along the lines recommended by Mr. Justice Samuel Freed man for dealing with changes resulting particularly from technological change

"It is only reasonable, as Mr Justice Freedman suggest ed and as the unions are ask ing, that changes introduced during the life of the collec tive agreement be subject to negotiation Similar circum stances on the railways in the United States have led to ac tion in the form of a job stab ilization program which pro vides for specified procedures in dealing with reductions

"It seems rather peculiar that the government has indi cated a readiness not to deal on a basis with the recom mendations of the MacPher son Report, which are design ed to better the position of the railways, but shows no alac rity in relation to implement the recommendations of the Freedman Report which would give a measure of protection to the employees

"There are a number of other issues between the employees and the railways. The existing provisions for workers who suffer sickness are entirely inadequate and far below the standard en joyed by a great many em ployees in other industries

"Although shift differentials are practically universally in for in Canadian industry, they are virtually non-existent on the railways The provis ions for statutory holidays and vacations are below the generally accepted scale

"These are all matters that should be dealt with by col lective bargaining and not by compulsory imposition

"In this particular situa tion there is no assurance, as far, that all the resources of the Democratic collective bargaining process have been exhausted.

"Compulsory arbitration, or the arbitrary imposition of conditions, is no substitute Such courses are a complete denial of the whole normal democratic process They are courses which find favor with dictatorships and they carry an implication of slave labor.

"Under the system which Canadians prefer these work ers should surely be allowed to freely choose the conditions under which they will work No one has the right to make that selection for them

"A combination of all these circumstances has led to the solid determination of Canad ian Railway workers to obtain their just rights in the current negotiations The Canadian Labor Congress, union men bers across the country, and all other fair minded Canadian citizens will support them in these demands."

Past, Present and Future

(Thoughts on the Railroad Strike)

We are nearly back in the days of 1610
The CNR and the CPR weren't known then

Few people thought of a hike — much more
Few thought of a union strike

The ox and cart got people through
But now that they are so few
What in the h- can we do

Oil and rod, for there soon may be a postal strike,
a telephone strike,
a radio and television strike,
a gasoline strike,
a paper strike — and perhaps even a mint strike!

No — we are nearly back in the days of 1610
Union strikes weren't much then!

Vernon Army Cadet Camp

Written by an Edson Army Cadet.

On July 10th, six of Edson's finest gentlemen left for six weeks of army life.

Cdt Cpl Trevor Bevan, Cdt S/I Dan Bodenbach, Cdt Staff Sgt Jim Bekewell, Cdt Cpl Al Hunter, Cdt L/Cpl Bill Watson and Cdt Cpl Cadet Schultz left to see for themselves. Names are past. They stayed overnight and then flew via P.W.A. to Kelowna B.C.

At Kelowna, they were picked up and taken to Vernon Army Cadet Camp by the Tenderfoot.

Upon arriving there each cadet, making their beds, and changing into summer uniforms, the first Corporal came to and said "Fall Smartly". Anderson in about 10 seconds flat, me, but by the time camp is over you will overcome it. You work for me and I'll work for you, now form up your new home".

After similar introductions from first Maddison and Hutchison, the terrible six were told up. Hunter, Bevan and Watson left the 10th Platoon and moved to the 12th Platoon under Lt. Gabriel and Sgt Bell.

The first three weeks consisted of

1 Up at 6.00 a.m.
2 Breakfast at 7.00 and 7.45 a.m.
3 Company parade and inspection at 8.00 a.m
4 Rifle drill at 8.15 a.m.
5 Drill from 9.00 to 9.45 a.m.
6 Mutuals from 9.45 to 10.30 a.m
7 Drill from 10.30 to 11.15
8 Mutuals from 11.15 to 12.00
9 Dinner at 12.00 p.m.
10 Physical education at 1.30 p.m.
11 Sports from 2.00 to 5.00 p.m.
12 Supper
13 Swimming or free time from 7.00 to 8.30 p.m.

The third week was spent at Sugar Lake where in past years, field craft was being taught at Glenema Cdt. Cpl. Schultz was promoted to Cdt. Lieut at Sugar Lake Shelters were constructed and lectures began on Hunter Safety. Cdt Allen Hunter shone in this phase; having previously taken the course in Edson.

The fourth day began with a seven mile route march. The Edson boys covered this distance with ease. That night a torrential downpour washed away half the camp. Cpl Will Watson was heard to remark "Good ol' Alberta weather."

The next day they rode across a river in a "Bosuns [illegible]", and then followed it up with a two mile jaunt.

Then with a "20 increasing pound pack", that is to say, that the pack gets heavier the hike progresses. The sixth day was spent going [illegible].

Back at camp, preparations moved into high gear for the final push. Before the fallout parade Cdt Cpl Bevan led four platoons, Cdt Cpl Schultz led Wood platoon and Cdt S/I Bodenbach led a girl.

The 10th Platoon threw a party one day in which a near catastrophe was averted by Lieut Schultz. Lieut Schultz saved a drowning Cadet even though he wasn't permitted to go into the water because of him having blood poisoning. He will be nominated for the Cadet Medal of Bravery.

The next morning there was a rumour going around about a Cadet L/Cpl "stumbling into the showers with some friendly assistance".

At the Awards Day, Cdt. Lieut Schultz received a swagger stick for Best Cadet of the 10th Platoon.

The Falling Out Parade was a complete success and "Bravo Company" received top honors out of six other companys.

Two days later, our "Train ed Militia men, Part One, Common to Corps" arrived home.

THE GUARD COMPANY at Vernon Army Cadet summer camp is inspected during graduating ceremonies by Cadet Camp Commander Lt. Col. John Edmondson.

EDSON LOCALS

Miss Rosemary Mostre returned from the west coast this week where she had been vacationing with her aunt and uncle, Mr and Mrs. M. E. Bachuk, of Vancouver, B.C.

Miss Edith Greeg returned last week from Burns Lake, B.C., where she visited with her sister and brother in law Dr and Mrs. G Battersby.

Cadet Chief Instructor at Vernon grad ceremony

Chief Instructor Lieut Allan Mah and family attended the graduation parade in Polson Park at Vernon, B.C. at the conclusion of the annual summer camp of Canadian Army Cadets from all over western Canada. Almost the whole city of Vernon turned out for this colorful event.

The reviewing officer was Major General N. E. Rodger, CBE, CD., Colonel Commandant Cadet Services of Canada. The inspection and March Past was magnificent as always as almost 1000 Cadets from the Western provinces and the Northwest Territories marched into the stadium.

Band music was provided by the Royal Canadian Engineers from Chilliwack, B.C. The Cadet Drum and Bugle Band and Pipe Band played at intervals between displays of hunter safety, gymnastics and precision driving.

A salute to British Columbia Centennial was given by 'C' Company which made up the Cadet Guard Company. They formed the letters "B.C." and fired several volleys of blank rounds into the air with their semi automatic rifle.

The Sunset Ceremony was the last item on the agenda when everyone paid homage to the Canadian Flag. The show ended with "God Save the Queen".

Cadets to take part in Operation Centennial

By LIEUT. ALLAN MAH

Four Army Cadets have represented Edson at Clear Lake, Manitoba, this year. They were Cadet L/Cpl. Jaye Tipman, Cadet L/Cpl. Bruce Skypnek, Cadets Charles Thompson and Stewart Severtson. They all qualified at this camp as Junior Leaders. This is usually the pre-requisite for Vernon Army Cadet Camp

September will be the recruiting month and the first parade will begin on Wednesday, September 7th at 7:00 p.m. at the Legion Hall.

This year will be a special year for everyone in Canada because of the Centennial celebrations. We urge all boys who are 14 years old and over or 13 years, but who will be 14 before July 1st, 1967, not to hesitate. Join the Cadets and be a part of the festivities.

A standard training syllabus for the Alberta area was drawn up by District Headquarters in Edmonton. Subjects to be covered this year include Drill, rifle, military fundamentals, corps indoctrination range courses, first aid, hunter safety, map using, and national survival. These subjects are compulsory. Optional subjects are field craft, Cadet signaling, band, exercises, sentry drill and precision drill.

There are three instructors employed this year. Chief Instructor Lieut Allan Mah, and Civilian Instructors Karl Gano and Lionel Belladeau. Karl is a marksman master safety instructor. Lionel has qualified as an instructor among a few. Both joined Cadet movements as the Royal Canadian Engineers in Edmonton.

The Edson Cadet Corps wishes to thank their sponsors the Royal Canadian Legion, for making the 1965-66 train ing year a success. A special thanks to many Legion members who devoted their time and energy to make it possible for us to send our Cadets to summer camps.

GRANDE CACHE COULD BE A 'NEW TOWN'

What with strikes still pop ping up all over the place and a few of them be ng set tled, it's been pretty hard to find any other subject around these days.

One of the more interesting things that emerged from the labor picture however, had to do with wages and working conditions. The people affected are Alberta coal miners. Unionized versus all but a few hundred of whom come under a revised salary agreement between the government and the Civil Service Association.

In April of 1965 they signed a pay pact that was to last for two years. But since that time wages in private business and industry have jumped sharply. The government, which tries to compete with salaries offered by other employers, found its scale falling behind.

Nobody yet knows exactly how far. But the government was finding itself in difficulties trying to hire people for a variety of jobs — for example cooks and hospital orderlies.

At the same time the CSA was feeling pressure from its members to get a new wage deal.

In mutual agreement the government and the association decided to assess the whole pay scale — covering 800 parties in job groups ranging from survey clerk to senior architect or engineer. The CSA, for its part, continued its running assessment of pay levels.

The two groups are just about ready now to sit down and thrash out a new wage agreement that will become effective on October 1st. It's impossible to say what this will be — partly because of the diversity in jobs and part because of the increase in some job classifications will be much higher than that in others.

But one CSA official told me: "It certainly won't be that 30 per cent that every body's talking about."

Stranely enough the other most interesting story of the week also stemmed from coal mine development in Alberta.

It can only be termed a huge success story.

What happened is that two towns that aren't even on the map yet have gained official status from the cabinet.

One is Rainbow Lake, the centre of the most exciting oil development area in years. It's some 400 miles northwest in the bush and muskeg country near the Northwest Territories. And right now you can't even get there by road.

However, as a New Town under municipal affairs legislation, Rainbow Lake will qualify for planning and zoning by provincial officials. And it will be able to borrow money for sewer, water and road systems. All this will be paid off in a few years when the town develops in a size where it has taxable property and local assessment.

The minister of municipal affairs, Mr. Hooke, confidently predicts Rainbow Lake could have 2,500 to 3,000 souls within a few short years.

The other "town" is Grande Cache — a "ghost" coal mining centre on the "yet-to-be completed" Alberta resources railway. The rail line itself is aimed at opening up a whole new section of the province northwest of Hinton for industrial and resource development.

By establishing a new town there the government will have a strong means of persuading people to move into the remote, underdeveloped area — and a place to put them when they do arrive.

With restricted markets for labor problems and so on the public is likely to forget about these places and such names as Fort McMurray. The future still looks very exciting.

For those who may overlook projected farm income this year is $700,000,000.

Phil Hamula leads Devon Safeway Kings in Labor Day Tournament

Aided by the fine pitching efforts of lefthander Phil Hamula, the Devon Safeway Kings easily won the Labor Day Ball Tournament held at Edson's Memorial Ball Park on September 4th and 5th. Hamula handled all the pitching chores for the Safeway Kings in the two day tournament as his team romped to a convincing 9-1 victory over the hometown Edson Orioles in the final game.

The win for Hamula was his third in as many starts and enabled Devon to take home first prize money of $200.00 while the losing Orioles pocketed $100.00 for their second place finish.

Local baseball fans witnessed a fine pitching performance by the Devon sidwinder who toiled the mound for 24 consecutive innings in defeating Drayton Valley 5-1, Jasper Panthers 13-8 in a three and one half hour marathon encounter and then the final 9-1 triumph over Edson Orioles.

To those fans in the stands, it was well to remember the likes of MacKay's First Bourin, Wilkinson's Ron Estes and Jasper's Bill Prokliw who used to come up with similar efforts in previous years.

Although they were defeated in the final game, the tourney was rewarding enough for the Edson Orioles. The ball club put on the entire show at Memorial Park over the weekend and blessed by some fine weather, the club showed a nice profit for the two day affair. Their 1st of July tournament was raised out this year.

Reviewing the tournament, action got underway Sunday morning at 10:00 a.m. when the Mahaska Hornets and Marlay Braves tangled in a well played game. The younger Mahaska club prevailed four hit pitching from Al Morgan he shut out the Braves by a 2-0 margin. Charles Gallop her absorbed the loss for Marlay.

The Hornets broke a scoreless game up in their half of the sixth inning with three hits and a MacKay error to round the only runs of the game.

Th following game saw the Edson Orioles and Calmar draws with the Orioles winning 5-2. Ed Lodnick and John Lowry hit singles in the sixth inning to drive in a pair of runs in breaking up a 3-3 game, giving Edson the victory.

Nick Antonenko and Bogor Teasdale, who came in to receive, shared the pitching honors for the Orioles while S. Kabuluck was charged for the loss. John Lowry led the Edson hitting attack collecting three singles in four trips to the plate and Antonenko Nick Antonenko pitched in with two hits.

In the two remaining games of the day Devon squeezed past Drayton Valley 5-4 with Phil Hamula recording ten strikeouts for the Safeway Kings and Jasper defeated by a convincing 13-8 margin. Eighty-six trips to the plate were made by the teams in the game with Jasper committing seven errors in the field to Devon's four.

Phil Hamula once again did the pitching for Devon and struck out eleven batters while giving up eight scattered hits to win his second game of the tournament. Dave Anker was the losing pitcher for Jasper.

First sacker H Thorne of Devon went three for six at the plate while Glenn Dirk of Jasper had a perfect afternoon at bat collecting a double, two singles and two walks.

The results of the day's action pitted Devon against Edson in the finals and the Safeway Kings had no trouble in disposing of the Orioles to the tune of 9-1.

The clutch hitting and fielding of Devon revealed to the good crowd on hand why the Safeway Kings wound up in first place in the Oilfield Baseball League. Ron Hayter's well conditioned squad came up with some good batting plays to aid pitcher Phil Hamula who again threw a fine game for Devon.

Edson touched Hamula for seven hits including two doubles but failed to get more than one hit in any one inning. The Safeway Kings got all their runs in three innings; two in the first frame, five in the fourth and two more runs in the eighth.

The big inning of course had to be fourth, as they took advantage of 3 walks and a hit batter by Edson pitcher Roger Teasdale, a two run fielding error and a timely two-run single by catcher Reiniger to put the game on ice.

Devon's shortstop, Ron chard led his team mates at the plate with a double and triple. Speedster John Lowry went two for four for Edson Hamula struck out six Orioles batters whereas his counterpart Roger Teasdale, fanned seven Devon batsmen.

DEVON SAFEWAY KINGS proved themselves the monarchs of the ball diamond over the weekend when they won the Labor Day ball tournament and the $200 top money. Ron McNiven, playing coach of the Edson Orioles, who sponsored the tournament, made the presentation (above) to Ron Hayter, manager-coach of the Kings. A winning combination on the team was catcher Reinger standing at left with his arm around pitcher Phil Hamula. Big Phil, lone pitcher for the Kings, was the backbone of a strong team that easily took every opponent.

On Thursday September 1 the CBC television network broadcast color film entitled "Bethune" in honor of Matthew Bethune, a native of Canada who is credited with being one of the founders of the Canadian Medical Association.

What we wanted to do in Ottawa in Bethune for this re-run on Matthew was to produce Dale Barnes with a show what Canadians can do and what some are doing overseas to help the less fortunate. We wanted to tell Dale's story because it deserves to be told because he is such an asset to Canada to Canada.

Dr. Robert McClure the only Canadian surgeon at Bethune hospital almost all his life in this kind of work told Canada this Bethune, the late Mobile East and now India where he has lived for the past twelve years. His father was a pioneer medical missionary in China while the young McClure grew up he left returning to Canada for medical studies.

After his graduation at Australia Dr McClure did post graduate work in Edinburgh and from there went back to China. The war with Japan forced him out for a while and he then offered his services to the International Red Cross During the Second World War he worked for the Red Cross on the Burma Road following the war he spent many years in India with the refugees of the United National Relief Arab refugees. He then volunteered for the service in India and was accepted to Bethune by the United Church Board of World Mission.

Dr McClure is due for re-turn next year but has

Bright future for Gemini Housing Co-op

Great Pl[illegible] are on the horizon for Gemini Housing [illegible] Limited. At their general meeting in the Town Hall on Sunday August 28th, a rising [illegible] was [illegible] elected. [illegible] Burch make [illegible] Co-operative Rolls at Mast [illegible] within the next three weeks or so.

Such a meeting will bring together representatives of all the Housing Co-operatives in Alberta. It will likely be a two day conference and it is the prime objective of such a move to give some of the "heads" of members all over the Province, and the Government in the hope that some major changes in policy may be enacted.

Notable, reversal of our members desire Home Improvement Loans which at present are not available through Alberta Counsel ind Corporation and this Fork in credits landscape a wide-open betterment of the housing situation among Indians and Metis in Hinton, and we believe, in other communities as well.

The feeling is this proved and that the present ruling that Gemini purchased houses must be no older than ten years, is somewhat dictatorial and that people seeking to purchase should be entitled to choose their own home regardless of its vintage

The point is realized, of course, that the property must be assessed and appraised, but it is believed that there are many older homes which still come up to the high standards set by A C C but which are more within the means of the average home seeking member.

In the absence of President Al Moberley, Mike L'Hirondelle ably chaired the meeting and opened by welcoming many new faces and introducing the Executive

IN THE FOLLOWING PARAGRAPHS and illustration a brief effort is made to demonstrate that the sun has an orbit. Consequently, a profound change in the orbit of planet earth results By examining the orbit of the sun and the orbit of planet earth as I have depicted above — it will be noted that the distance between the sun and planet earth and the 47 degree tilt of planet earth determine the size of the orbit of the sun. Only one size of orbit will fit the sun, thereby. It requires four years for both planet earth and the sun to complete an orbit. Knowing the size of the sun orbit and the distance between the sun and planet earth it becomes manifest that the distance between the sun and planet earth is not always the same. An examination of the sun orbit in relation to the earth orbit will demonstrate that the distance between the sun and planet earth is 3,004,840 miles greater in mid December. A further examination of sun and earth orbit will also explain why there is one day more every four years.

Slow down - live to enjoy another holiday

During the summer months road when so many families take to the road, it is fitting that the motorist be reminded to slow down his driving speed

Speed was a major cause of the 4,079 deaths from automobile accidents which occurred in Canada in 1965. Speed continues to be the major factor in the increasing number of automobile accidents across the country.

Long smooth highways are a natural temptation for the driver to increase his speed but highway signs are established with reference to safe surveys of the dangers of each road. They are there to be obeyed—for the safety of the driver.

Divided highways, too, are not necessarily danger free. Often drivers do not observe regulations concerning slow and fast lanes or they are surprised by animals crossing the

In either case, the speeding driver is at a disadvantage. His stopping time increases at an alarming rate in proportion to his increased rate of speed. He cannot stop quickly in case of emergency.

Speeding drivers are often those who attempt to pass other vehicles along a solid white line on when there is little room for them to make a course footharity. It is often difficult to judge the speed of an oncoming car and impossible. These practices are, of on a white line means passing with restricted vision of a round a curve which is too sharp to make at a high speed. The list of increasing dangers and hazards because of speed could be greatly extended but the point of these cautions may be summed up in a few words: Slow down and live

Speculation rising on local election

There could be as many as four vacancies on Edson Town Council to be filled in the election Wednesday October 19th, according to speculation around town.

The terms of Councillors Wells and Goldstick expire this year. Councillor Goldstick has moved to the city. Councillor Wells, the senior Councillor now serving, has said he is not desirous of running. He is being urged to run.

Councillor Binette has moved to St. Albert and his two year term has to be filled. There is some indication that Councillor Kneller may be resigning as he may move. His unexpired two year term would also have to be filled in that event.

The leaves Councillors Meade and Collin in the event that Mayor Brunelle decides not to run again there is a possibility that either of these councillors might conceivably make themselves a saleable for nomination to the mayoralty.

Six council vacancies would make for quite an election. Would you believe five? Four? Three?

In any event a councillor intending to resign must hand in his resignation prior to Monday, September 19 according to Returning Officer Peter Sevdiak.

Citizens with the interests of their town at heart will be looking over the possibilities of their fellow burgesses with a view to asking them to serve

Jr. Forest Wardens organize

An organization meeting of the Junior Forest Wardens will be held at the A H Dakin school Thursday evening, September 15th at 8:00 p.m.

To date approximately 12 boys are interested in joining the Junior Forest Wardens, and any other interested boys between the ages of 10 and 16 inclusive are welcome to join.

To organize an active club it is necessary to have a council of at least three adults and an adult supervisor.

If possible please attend this meeting with your boys. They will appreciate your assistance.

No Skating Yet

The rumor that elementary and junior high school students were to get skating for their Friday p.t. class must have been wishful thinking on the part of whoever started said rumor.

The Leader checked with the Town Hall this week and were told that it would appear the rink would not likely be in use until much later in the fall. In fact with numerous expected and unexpected, mistakes to be ironed out it could feasibly be into November this first year before the rink is in operation

Requests for ice time called for

With the new Edson Arena opening in the not too distant future the Edson Arena Board would like anyone interested in ice time for hockey, fancy skating, broom ball, etc., please contact Shirley McNaughton at line 721, as soon as possible. This way the Board will have a little better idea how to make up the schedule.

Your application for ice time should include the following day of the week preferred, time preferred, name of organization, name and telephone number of individual to be contacted.

This information is necessary in order to have ice time

Chamber meeting Wednesday

All Chamber of Commerce members are reminded of the regular dinner meeting to be held in the Edson Motor Hotel on Wednesday, September 21 at 6:30 p.m.

An interesting agenda is being lined up says President Jack Hook, and adds that a special welcome is extended to guests.

Peers Cafe cleaned out by thieves

PEERS

When Mrs. Ewen Jackson went across the street to open her Peers Cafe on Wednesday morning she was greeted by a sight of stunning desolation.

Thieves had entered the cafe sometime after midnight and stripped the premises of everything, electrical appliances used in the business, money, candy, cigarettes and watches all the usual items for sale in a cafe.

The front had been ripped off the jukebox and the top part of the till lifted out of the counter apparently ready to take

The only thing left was a ten cent bag of candy hanging on the candy rack.

The Jackson's had taken over operation of the cafe in June and carried on using store

The cafe had been broken into about a year ago the first

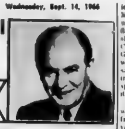
Centennial Report



1867 1967 by JOHN W FISHER CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

What inspires me most, of all Centennial plans and projects, is the fresh, enthusiastic approach of many individual Canadians to our 100th anniversary of Confederation.

At the Centennial Commission we receive hundreds of letters from individuals or families, asking for no prize or assistance, merely telling us about their plans to celebrate the Centennial and of forcing genuine expressions of their own pride in being Canadians.

It is unfortunate that we cannot do much about the persistents — the knockers and the moaners in Canada they seem to get far too much publicity. I think we should try to turn our attention away from them as much as possible and join with those who have positive ideas about Canada's future and, for that matter, the welfare of all mankind.

It gives one a warm, happy feeling to think about the Haugnard family from Callend er, Ontario, for example, start ing off on a world trip in a Model T Ford all decked out with Centennial cards and flags. Their motivation is simply a desire to advertise Canada's Centennial. Mr. Haugnard, who is travelling with his wife and two sons, says: "I spent six years saving for Canada '67 and I spend one year educating it."

We received a letter and card announcement on a birthday from J. Rand Lanvin of Hull, Quebec, describing his plan to travel from coast to coast during this and next summer.

This summer Mr Lanvin's motorcade to Prince Rupert B.C. sailing to Skagway, Alaska, then driving down the Alaska Highway and Mackenzie Highway south-east into through the Yukon and North west Territories. Next summer he'll complete his Centennial trip with a tour of the Atlantic provinces.

Then there are the two Brunswick young Canadians one a native Whitehorse and the other an immigrant who have together are crossing Canada on a 20,000 mile back road trip and writing about their experiences impressions and what they hear from other Canadians who are planning to celebrate Centennial.

EDITORIAL

AN IMPORTANT ELECTION

As we go to press this week we haven't heard of anyone putting his name up for the mayor's job in the event that Mayor Brunelle decides not to run Mr. Brunelle, as is well known, disposed of his super market in June and has not as yet decided where he will be applying his considerable talents.

There are at least three vacancies on Council what with councillors moving away. There could even be four or even five or even six.

This coming Monday is the last day a councillor can submit his resignation if he intends to run, say for mayor So by next week's issue we should know what that pattern will be.

Edson has been fortunate in having business minded council for many years Great strides have been made in Our Town through such things as town planning, street paving, storm sewers, upgrading of secondary streets, building of an arena of which all can be proud and so on

Our great leap forward in appearance and general clean as far as town is concerned has been noticed particularly by our visitors We are no longer a mud town with minor exceptions

This push ahead has not been accomplished without considerable opposition from certain elements in town It would be a shame if these people who are prone to say no to everything got to be a majority on our Council It is up to the progressive minded Edsonites to see that this doesn't happen

HIGHER TAXES

Higher taxes are coming We always believed that Government Taxation should be at the level of Government spending We have found that it has not always been possible and we have had deficit budgets designed to spur the economy. Perhaps now we are going into an era of budgetting for a surplus and this would be fine if it didn't encourage the Government to new heights of spending

Mr. Pearson and his government would put our love an election if one were held today. Therefore it is necessary, in the time honored tradition of the arrogant and often stupid Liberal strategy to get hold of enough of our money now to be able to bribe us with some magnificent scheme one or two years hence

Fortunately, Westerners do not fall for these tricks. Even some of our Western Liberals are beginning to feel the penetration of light into the fog of party loyalty and discipline The Liberal idea that they are, by some magic, superior beings is rapidly being dispelled

GIVE US THE NEWS

September marks the revival of the many club activities around town which have been dormant during the summer There are many groups and organizations in all towns like ours, all of which provide an invaluable service in one way or another to the community in which they operate. And in virtually every case they deserve recognition for the work they do

As a community newspaper, The Leader is most willing, yes, anxious to help provide this recognition through publicity wherever it can, but it needs help So the old appeal goes out again to all organizations Please, dear hearts, find among your members someone with a base knowledge of the English language who can serve as publicity chairman, who can provide us with reasonably regular written reports of your activities They don't have to be written in deathless prose or even typed, although it does help Just long as they are factual, concise and we do like names printed

Club activities are of interest to everyone in our town whether they are active supporters or not And experience has proven that publicity substantially helps clubs in their efforts So don't hide your light under a bushel, publicize We offer the pages of the Leader to all those who wish to make the small effort

BRIEF RE CENTRALIZATION IN RURAL EDUCATION

By H. M. HORNER, M.D., M.P., Jasper-Edson Constituency

INTRODUCTION

I am not an authority on education However, I do have some knowledge of rural Alberta, and share with our rural communities their desire to maintain their existence and these character

I believe that rural society has contributed a fair share of worthwhile citizens to do us with educational opportunities

It is this concern which has prompted me to submit this brief

EFFECTS ON STUDENTS, FAMILIES, COMMUNITIES

There is no doubt that centralization, as the term is generally used, has done a great deal for rural education However, in most areas it has gone about as far as it can possibly go within the bounds of economy and the west and four on students'

If rural students are going to get as good an education as city students we're going to have to revamp our entire organization of education in at most stands Distances of more than 20 miles (one way) make even transportation unfeasible If more than two hours of a student's time in a day it spent on a bus, we can't really be doing too much for his education

It has been shown time and again, that the personal plant alone is not everything in education It is also apparent that our birth rate is dropping and our present physical plant may well be adequate in a lot of cases

Boarderiies are not the answer as they decrease family institutions Further, rural children have an economic labor value that is best to their parents and society in general if we are going to make our family farms strong enough to be competitive

Communities have some rights in so far as educational facilities are concerned To have larger centralizations just for the sake of enlarging student numbers so that a great or variety of courses can be taught, defeats itself in the end by students not attending Communities which provide most of the needs of their people have the right to expect adequate educational facilities In most cases, they are right when they fight to save their schools.

PROPOSED SOLUTIONS

How do we overcome these factors and still provide a sound educational opportunity ? I would like to suggest the following

1 A provincial, supervised educational TV channel, providing for the major high school subjects This would have to be tied in with supervision, follow up and other teaching aids This can only be done on a provincial basis It is one way to have excellent teachers available to much of rural Alberta

2 The use of team teaching to a much greater extent Departmentally, on a county scale this would allow education to be brought to the student rather than vice-versa This means specialization It also means that it would be easier for a teacher to drive 20 miles to a class than for 30 students to be bussed to the teacher

3 A greater use of teaching aids to allow teachers more time to teach and to bring education to the student

Things like textbook rentals, supervision of lunch hours and recess could be quite easily handled by non teachers These, added to new communications, would make the teacher available to rural students

TEACHER EVALUATION AND PAY

Teacher evaluation must be stepped up. It must be the job of the ATA if teaching is to remain a viable profession This, however, must be done within the framework of provincial legislation to ensure that our educational system operates for the people and doesn't become an institution serving teachers To get and keep good teachers using the new techniques in communications and teaching will require a system of merit pay

EQUAL OPPORTUNITY FOR STUDENTS

There is no doubt that the present curriculum for our high schools is much better and more difficult than a few years ago In addition are that this trend will continue and increase If rural students are to have any chance at an equal opportunity, we must bring our rural educational techniques up to date This doesn't mean more busses, longer mileages or larger schools

Rather, it is a challenge to us to change our methods and make use of electronic and other modern communication media to bring education to the rural students

ENTRANCE REQUIREMENTS FOR HIGHER EDUCATION

Our universities must also adjust to the situation in rural Alberta At present, too many rural students are denied entrance because of the lack of one or two subjects. Usually this lack is a direct result of the student's inability to have teaching in that subject A flexible entrance requirement that would allow the rural student to catch up at summer school is essential if these students are to have equal opportunities This applies as well (and perhaps more so) to the Provincial Technical Colleges, whose entrance requirements are rising all the time

RESPONSIBILITIES OF THE DEPARTMENT OF EDUCATION

This is the Province's responsibility and we must accept it with some hard thinking and a willingness to change and rejects without sacrificing our smaller communities This will require a much more positive attitude on behalf of the Provincial Department of Education It will be necessary to reorganize the department with major divisions between administration and education. Further departmentalization along loose teaching lines will allow the department to be a positive force in the use of radio, television and tape recordings, as well as providing leadership along these lines at the local level

If you believe, as I do, that our rural society is worth keeping and strengthening, then we must pick up this challenge and invest it head on

We are late now
We must get on with the job quickly

Driver training to be taught in Edson

Edson teenagers, 15 years old and over, will have the opportunity of taking driver training this year The first course will start in October

The course consists of 30 hours of lectures, eight hours of actual driving and 10 hours of driver observation . . . a total of 54 hours. Each student who graduates on the course gets a minimum of 10 per cent reduction in his insurance fee.

The course fee of $60 includes training and textbook. It will be necessary to have a total of 20 students in this area The School Division may consider taking enough adults to fill the class of 30

Mr R Bennett took the driver training during the past summer and will be instructor for the courses.

The driving course taught as part of the school curriculum, is much more extensive than the AMA course, which actually teaches the rudiments of driving necessary to get a drivers license Students taking the class in school learn not only how to drive, but safe driving habits, etc

The classes have proved to be very worthwhile in other centres and it is hoped other out on them will be high in Edson

An advertisement on page 6 illustrates the need for this course for all school students.

Yellowhead Caravan stops in Hinton

A small contingent of the 31 cars that traversed the Yellowhead Pass to Jasper were continuing to Edmonton on Friday.

Mrs. Rita Huckle, Princeton President of the British Columbia Motels and Resorts Association, spoke on behalf of the group arriving here and presented our Mayor with a scroll from the Chairmen of the Princeton Town Council.

Mrs Huckle said that the purpose of the trip was to promote closer co-ordination with Northern Alberta. They couldn't think of a better way than to start a caravan and come to see us with the idea that we may, in return, go and visit them

Mrs Huckle reported that parts of the road aren't completely finished and in one spot a grader had to assist them through a muddy section

Members of the caravan felt that it's a fabulous highway that is being constructed and will provide us with a closer route to the Pacific Coast. Mrs. Huckle added that she wanted us to know where their town of Princeton is when we start broadcasting the new highway.

Mrs Huckle remarked on the wonderful hospitality they had encountered along the route particularly in Valemount B.C. where they had been treated to barbecued moose steaks and a "most gorgeous" smorgasbord as well as coffee by the ladies The caravan had had breakfast in the morning in Kamloops with B.C. Minister of Highways the Hon P. A. Gaglardi

Mr Sam Langford, Caravan Coordinator, has spoken so highly of Hinton that they felt they really had to make a stop here Mr Langford is well known to our Colonel Manning Town at Entrance and has visited this area on many occasions

A presentation to His Worship Hinton Bradwell consisting of a scroll from the Council Chairman of Princeton and a token proclaiming him to be a "Very Important Person"

Mayor Bradwell said: "It is a pleasure to welcome this part of the caravan to Hinton. It is the start of a great parade in the future and we certainly think it is wonderful that you people have gone to the effort to make this trip. I wish you all the best as you continue your journey"

Mayor Bradwell then read the scroll from the Council Chairman at Princeton which said "On behalf of the Corporation of the village of Princeton may I take this opportunity to extend greetings to the residents of Hinton

The Yellowhead highway has long been a dream in the minds of the people who are living in the area It will serve and it will serve to bind our various communities even closer than has been the case in the past

Transportation has improved to the extent that more and more help-away routes are needed to cope for our area of B.C. but other areas as well and this Yellowhead highway will fill a much needed want It is a great honor to have taken part in this memorable and to have the opportunity to hold your very progressive community" Signed on the 14th of Sept., 1966 by the Council Chairman of Princeton, B.C.

Mrs Huckle also stated that the condition of the road in Jasper National Park was a disappointment It was nothing but bumps and mud The lady did has discovered that the authorities in Jasper had been approached by interested citizens prior to the caravan's coming with a plea that something be done about the junction in the Park. They had met with callous indifference and at one point the statement that the coming of the caravan "Was all the more reason to not do anything"

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of loving Hus band and Father, Bill Ivanciw ski, who passed away Septem ber 17, 1965

Fondly loved and deeply mourned.

Tis sad but true, I will abide

Until some day we'll be side by side

Lovingly remembered by

David took 17 years of love from his parents, first class honours from his school and $8,000 from your pockets.

Then he left.

Brilliant high school student dies in car crash said the headline. All that love, all that brilliance, all that money; all gone for nothing.

Automobile accidents kill more young Canadians than anything. More than disease, more than all other accidents put together.

It costs some $8,000 in tax money just to pre pare a student for university. A thorough high school driver training program costs $40 per student, and takes 50 hours of instruction. Small costs against the losses.

The automobile insurance industry promotes young driver training. Burn rates, text books and free instruction are given to high schools. The drivers, They in turn teach the student.

The industry also quietly subsidizes auto insurance premiums to students who pass the course.

Driver training isn't a full solution to the country's auto experience. Most of it is a precaution. It teaches ing accidents. Urge and back high school driver training in your community.

Keep the Davids with us.

Founders of British Columbia

WILLIAM (BILLY) BARKER

I'm Bitchy Bill
Never worked and never will
Got away rich,
On Eli Jough your cards
That was the motto of miner William Billy Barker who made a fortune on Williams Creek in 1862 creating a town of 10,000 people within a year the town of Barkerville

He was a cosmopolitan pottery worker who had come to Nova Scotia. It was there he had deserted his ship at Victoria during the early days of the Fraser gold rush in 1858. That was about all anyone knew about him

He was digging on Williams Creek in the Cariboo in 1861 and mining records show that

Our Alberta Heritage

HISTORY STAYS ALIVE IN HERITAGE PARK

A visit to this unique pioneer community makes you proud to be an Albertan!

The smithy works at his forge, using equipment that dates back to the turn of the century. At the station the train waits as the light-haired lassie lost, as hardy passengers. Many will get off at "Banff Station", to embark for a sojourn in the "Canadian Rockies". At the Mercantile, Bank of the pioneer days, gaily-dressed are buying stocks of bonds and family. These are only a few of the things to see and do at Heritage Park, Calgary — a replica community from Alberta's frontier and independently operated with streets of old homes, school, church and patriarchal hall. The whole fine enterprising Albertans who conceived, created and absolutely cannot get facts for looking at "Southern Province" Heritage Park. The result — an authentic recreation of yesterday's Alberta!

After your visit take home a copy of "Heritage Park Memories", an illustrated souvenir album sponsored for Heritage Park by Calgary Power.

Journal plays up —anti Edson feeling

By DOUG CASTON

Edmonton... daily newspaper never seems to miss a chance to take a whack at Edson. They blew the Nilson school thing out of all proportion and now they have done it again with ARDA in this area.

If their reporter had taken the time he would have found that the Lions Park Project is considerably more than the "frog pond" he quotes a local farmer as describing it.

As a weekly newspaperman who looks for and tries to print the good things that go on in a community we have always been saddened by the anti-Edson feeling that seems to think some kind of skeleton out the closet keeps in a community (as long as it isn't Edmonton) are what people want to read.

Whether a small percentage of people will ever admit that ARDA was conceived with the backing of the Federal and Provincial governments to help the farmer rural areas and not to make tourist homes for Edmonton people as it is put Edmonton are what people want to read.

Whether a small percentage of people will ever admit that ARDA was conceived with the backing of the Federal and Provincial governments to help the farmer rural areas and not to make tourist homes for Edmonton people as it is put

As two of the farmers interviewed on the story from Edson told the reporter, perhaps the farmers need to get together a little more and decide what is best for them. The Lions Club of Edson is a well-known outfit and their project fitted in with the conception of ARDA building up the WHOLE of a rural area.

The decision to assist in the Lions Park was made on its merits by the Federal and Provincial Government ministers who handle ARDA policy. These merits are considerable.

[illegible] the pond as the story on the project is [illegible] work a leader will attract deals with their further edu[illegible]

We know that there would be some criticism of this project as not being strictly agricultural," a prominent citizen connected with the policy on [illegible] stated.

But," he went on, "the tourist potential in encouraging visitors to stay in our district a little longer than they ordinarily would was the compelling factor in going this path along. The more tourist dollars left in our district, the more sale there is for local farm produce."

This editor has become fairly familiar with the frustrations of local agriculturists over the last 20 years in trying to encourage district farmers to farm their acres to better advantage. The paradox what [illegible] could come before know about farming has been a constant thorn in DA - side, with the year [illegible]

Nelson of Peace [illegible] told an action in the Board's short leadership from among the farmers themselves is the best step in an area find out what has to be done to make farming an economic proposition in this area.

This very leadership quality is emerging this year in such tangible ways as the 4-H Beef Club a better than ever bench show of farm produce and [illegible] more definite signs of leadership among farmers in the district.

This can't be put in a pail and weighed, but it is the most encouraging thing about ARDA in our community.

The editor is delighted that the senior government's are paying some attention to us here on our part and show that we really do want to do something about making our neck of the woods a better [illegible] are in which to live

THESE TWO ST. PAUL HUNTERS proudly display their trophy heads following a hunting trip in the Coal Branch area. The men lived in the back of their panel truck and the outfit included their own horse to pack out the game. The hunters were Carl Roscovich and Bernard Linguette. The fellows were feeling so good about getting their two elk and a deer that they didn't notice their front left tire was flat. Carl, a former Game Branch officer on the Coal Branch, says he can hear the elk call all the way to St. Paul.

Loss of Heavy Water Plant in area explained

A statement from Mr Carlo [illegible] Vice-President of Blairmore Coal Valley Mining Company Limited, explains the reasons why the heavy water development proposed for the Coal Branch area did not come to pass.

In his statement Mr. Calogero expressed his gratitude of himself and his company for the local interest shown in the project, which he said "had been centered on the shoals of municipal financial 'non-operation'."

Mr Calogero continued "The assistance proffered at that meeting in Edson did much to bolster our endeavor. The delay to send a delegation of businessmen to Ottawa [illegible] etc. which reported upon by Senator Fraser, a strong ally of interest in the relevant Eastern and Ministers which I take it may serve you in good stead on some further occasion.

"The plant was lost to Western Canada by reason of the following (a) the already 'established' nature of the within proposed Nova Scotia site, (b) the extensive economic inducement offered Canadian General Electric by the Government of the Province of Nova Scotia, (c) the allegedly heavier deuterium content of the water there available.

"The instant loss, whilst regrettable, in no way deters from the fact that yours is a region of immense potential. We ourselves are quite convinced that you will soon see evidence thereof in the first phase development of low cost electric power which, in turn, will catalyse the location in the area of a major industrial complex."

Another $750 for Glenn

Word has been received by Mr and Mrs. Bill Ashmead that their son Glenn has received another" scholarship this totalling $750

This is an additional [illegible] more of Alberta Matriculation Scholarship Award by the Queen Elizabeth Education Scholarship Board. It brings the amount to a total of $2800 in scholarships that fifteen [illegible] have been awarded

Glenn has entered university in Edmonton where he plans to major in Science.

Local students feel that it was simply a matter of fact that Glenn won all these awards, his parents and teachers can give assurance that he worked hard for his both marks and had a definite aim of purpose.

Both are a good basic education available to aid students with their further education.

[illegible] the student must apply for the scholarship then work hard to achieve the scholastic marks that mean him or her a winner. Not everyone who applies will be awarded a scholarship, but the higher marks alone that are the result of hard work and a study program will be a good will worth achieving.

Vandals have again done in a part of the swimming pool. This time it is two doors knocked in. For no reason that is apparent.

The Town has had to keep a guard on the pool 24 hours a day all summer following the last outbreak of vandalism in the spring.

This pool belongs to your mothers and fathers — you know. How's about keeping it nice?

KIM MAH'S GOAT came into the Leader office uninvited the other day and we presumed he wanted a paper. As you can see from the picture he turned away [illegible] As the goat said after eating [illegible] "The film was good, but the book was better."

Letter to Editor

Dear Sir:

As I sit pen in hand to write this letter I have two "pet" peeves.

One in particular is my objection of girls gossiping their brows along the boulevard and on the public sidewalks. I have 2 small children and would appreciate it if they could live to grow up.

We may be famous for our Edson Trybrey but I do not believe the place for horses are on our town sidewalks.

Two, on reading last week's Leader, I see where the Edson Arena have advertised for people interested in hockey, broom ball, etc., to apply now. I would like to apply for time for public skating for children from 6 years to 16 years, especially those not interested in hockey or figure skating.

I am a taxpayer and believe with paying enough taxes for this arena to allow my child free time for public skating.

CAPITAL REPORT

B.C. HAS SIGNS FOR MOST THINGS

By JOHN WARREN

Returned today from a week long vacation in which I made a completely successful attempt to avoid exposure to the news.

Never managed to get through British Columbia to Vancouver without giving a passing glance to the election posters that decorated every second tree and telephone pole. It was a little more difficult to miss the huge "I feel a breeze" banners being flown by aircraft over the coastal city.

The people there did, in fact, elect the young football and wine baron and 22 other Social Creditors to give Premier Bennett another solid majority.

The bits of Alberta news that I've picked up since returning have to do with the provincial tax his sales and a growing ho election in Pincher Creek (rumored The first story will undoubt edly be going on for months and the second doesn't really come to a head for another three weeks so we'll say more about them another day.

Maybe a few random reflections on holidaying would be in order.

One wonders, for instance, why the particular stretch of highway from the Jasper Park gate to the townsite has been constantly under repair for at least six years — and every year it seems to get worse instead of better.

The park, the mountains the campsites and picnic grounds are as beautiful as ever and there's a lot to be said for the Northern Affairs department's policy of limited commercial development But really, Mr Laing, that road!

Alberta frequently boasts, with some justification, about its park and campsite developments But some of those through the mountains and the Okanagan have few equals anywhere for both scenery and neatness

We frequently hear that Mr Bennett considers his presence a thing very definitely set a part from the rest of Canada geographically, economically, politically and most other ways His boasting about beautiful British Columbia can get almost unbearable at times but there's undeniably a lot there to boast about

Driving through that part of the country one sees an almost endless list of warning signs — advising drivers to beware of fallen rocks, feeding bears, deer on the road, steep drops off mountain sides and so on. There probably should be a few signs to warn the unwary hand of the family about exorbitant prices, too.

Things like uncontrolled camp fires and litter.

Vancouver harbor

On driving over a display of apples plums, peaches pears and grapes that runs the six miles from Pyisiston to Vernon It costs you $2.50 to have your home emptied in a automobile on the travels schedule and absolutely nothing to spend an afternoon silly dreaming on a hillside above the wonderful city of Nanaimo Lake

All of which adds up to the person hotel that local work its back to the typewriter telephone and taps recorder of a working newsman 4th well it's only 10 weeks or so until the next holiday

Jasper son ordained into Anglican Church

JASPER —

On Saturday, September 10, at 10:30 a.m. the Parish church of St. Mary and St. George was the setting for the ordination of George David Pruesse into the diaconate of the Anglican Church of Canada.

This ceremony was conducted by the Right Reverend George Burch, Bishop of the Diocese of Edmonton, and the inspiring sermon was given by Archdeacon G Wilson, also of Edmonton. Reverend Gordon Ingram, of Drayton Valley, presented Victor Cabel of Dunway and our local rector, Reverend R. C. Beers also took part in the service.

The church was filled with David's friends and well wishers, many of whom had come from distant points for the occasion. David came to Jasper when he was three years old and he had all his elementary and High School education here.

He later attended Bishop's University at Lennoxville, Quebec and graduated from there in May, 1966. After graduation he was privileged to take a six week clinical pastoral training course in Toronto, given by the Toronto General Hospital, and after this he went to Tanzania, Africa, for eight weeks as a member of a group of fifty young people on a work mission sponsored by the Anglican World Mission.

David will be taking up Parish work in Manville, Alberta, on September 25th, and the best wishes of all his friends here in Jasper will be going along with him.

EDITORIAL

COUNCIL SEATS TO BE CONTESTED

Following up on our editorial of last week on the filling of the seats on Council, it now appears that there will be no dirth of citizens offering their services to conduct the town's affairs. This is a healthy condition and we are happy about it

Word is that Mayor Brunelle will stand for re-election. We understand that former Councillor Jon Scott will also be standing for the position of Edson's chief magistrate.

There are eleven nomination papers out and as we go to press it would seem that there will be at least six citizens offering themselves for the three vacancies. Two of the council seats are for three years and one is for the next two years to fill the vacancy created by Councillor Bineke's resignation. Incidentally the mayoralty is for two years.

In addition to the council seats there are two vacancies on the Edson School District Board. Trustee Merton Collin's term is up and Trustee Weldon Taddy has left town. School board members serve for three years on the local board. This, of course, should not be confused with the trustee Edson subdivision elects to the Edson School Division Board.

Other trustees on the local School Board are Trustee J. Pathman whose term expires in 1968 and Trustees Elmer Ahlf and Steve Bukavina whose terms are up next year

Councillors presently serving are Councillors Al D Meade and Merton Collin. The three vacancies are those held by Councillors P. W. Wells and A. Goldstick, plus the one occupied by Councillor Burelette

In arbitrarily naming the "clean" of Edson councillors last week we should have mentioned that Councillor Meade and Wells are really neck and neck for this honor. They have both served an equal number of terms on Council

Needless to say the columns of this newspaper are open to any of the candidates for any councilative platform they wish to put forward. We trust that negative personality arguments will not be put forward. Our idea of democracy is that everyone should have an opinion. We certainly have one on this newspaper and will express it in this column as the occasion arises

PUBLICITY SHY

One of the things that seems to disturb members of the Provincial Government is their shyness and actual uneasiness when the press is around. As we have mentioned elsewhere in this issue, a community newspaper such as ours prefers to record the sunny hours and we don't deliberately go out of our way to dig up unpleasantness if we can help it

The opening remarks of the Hon R Reierson, who acted as chairman of the Cabinet meeting in Edson a couple of weeks ago, were that he did not wish to have any publicity on any matters discussed by local citizens with the five cabinet ministers present. We were there as part of his delegations so he relented after making this statement. At While court the press representative was given to understand that the sittings were strictly in camera

Why any brief presented by local citizens should be secret is beyond our comprehension. However, we did listen to the points of view expressed on behalf of the Farmers Union the local tradesmen, the Chamber of Commerce the Town and the local Legion without being privy to too many things that shouldn't be published

At the dinner given by the Chamber of Commerce later for the visiting cabinet ministers there was certainly nothing but praise for efforts by the government in this area The impact of ARDA and a encouraging discussion and upheld the judgment of the Governments in sponsoring it in the opinion of those present

But even if there had been some harsh criticism shouldn't the citizens of Edson still have been able to hear about it in their local press?

Edmonton, Alberta

Dear Dooz

After meeting numerous Ed sonites in various places in Edmonton I believe that the Around Town column would have more punch from this vantage point, especially since I have been playing in the bars.

As a suggestion you may mention to Bon Jon for a Centennial project, would be a big reunion of all Edsonites at Bodow time

I have discussed it with many former Edsonites and their holiday plans are already pointed in that direction

Best regards
Bill Owen

Dear Dooz

Would you please send me 10 copies of your most recent issue which, I understand, carried a splendid write-up on mrs. Irene Devon Safeway Kerrs, winning the Edson baseball tournament

I also understand the story alludes to the shift of the manager of said team Having become accustomed to nothing but backhaps over the years as a ball manager, I can hardly wait to read it

Your boys put on an outstanding tournament and they deserve much credit I would particularly like to pay my compliments to Ron McNeven and Roger Teasdale, two fine gentlemen who are an asset to baseball and, obviously, to the town of Edson.

Best wishes,
Ron Hayler, Manager,

IN DEFENCE OF LUCK

By Jack Kelly in the Penoka Herald

To any person with fresh blood luck is a very real and important thing in life The same can be said for those of thinner blood, several other amount nalissabilities and a very large percentage of people of every race color and creed

For decades there has been a steady attack on this ancient human concept It is scoffed at by intellectuals condemned as superstition by many of the clergy as generally degraded as mental trash still hanging around in some minds from the dark pre scientific ages

No one seems to have the courage to step up and say a kind word in support of the existence of simple luck in the affairs of men and nations

It is strange that no one denies the existence of misfortune, and if misfortune is not the bad side of luck, what is it?

There is a somewhat reluctant admission that good fortune does sometimes occur, but generally someone hurries to point out that this good fortune was not the result of plain good luck They dig, delve and twist things until they make it seem that this good fortune was the result of uncanny foresight, conscious or unconscious, of hard work careful planning and a score of other fact ors

There is a large and noisy group of mind moulders who would rather die than admit that there are lucky people and unlucky ones and that luck comes and goes to individ

Generally no one bothers to give these anti luck haters an argument They just figure that luck is so obviously a factor in human affairs that only an unmitigated fool would deny it.

This idea that luck is nothing more than a fantasy with no basis in fact it seems, have originated in a group of European bookhouse intellectuals who got carried away with the idea that everything springs from definite laws, or causes, if the situation could be fully analyzed enough in detail In fact a whole philosophy grew up around this idea.

Scientists once gleefully endorsed this concept that there was no such thing as pure chance Today science has found out that chance for which no explanation can be found in theory or hih, does definitely exist This is especially so in the higher realms of nuclear physics. In fact they attempt to cut cures this chance factor by providing for it in their mathematical formulae.

Today the honest and impartial scientist admits that at the best he is often building his theories and "proven" laws on nothing more substantial than a few apparent averages.

Gamblers allow for a pips or minus factor in their equations, a factor they cannot exactly determine Those who believe in luck, have always made this plus or minus allowances The "plus" is good luck, the minus is "bad luck"

The scientist equation assume that, over a sufficient period of time, the plus and minus factors are approximately equal and cancel each other out The ordinary person who believes in luck knows darn well the good and bad breaks come and go as if at the whim of some illogical god of fortune Its only problem is to know when his luck is running good and how long it will last

The opposing the idea of luck seems to feel that belief in luck tends to rob people of initiative and turn them into pro dicable zombies There is no question but what this does happen some

However it is also true that the majority firmly believe that lucky breaks can be won by "doing right" as it is generally called We suspect that this belief results in more good than harm - especially in today's frantic world where millions can find nothing in the way of ultimate worthy purpose to believe in and look forward to

It is fascinating to notice how many of these so-called superstitions and ignorant beliefs, that were scoffed at have recently been found to have a sound basis in fact Any human belief that has survived those sands of years is not to be scoffed at It would have vanished long ago unless human minds encountered supporting evidence for it

Pharmacology is full of examples of this Fifty years ago, Chinese pharmacy was laughed at by the white races So were the medicines of the North American Indian, the African tribal doctor and the witch doctors of Central and South America

Today there is hardly a big pharmaceutical lab in the world that is not producing many important drugs derived from the seemingly strange stock of these ancient medicine men What is more these big labs feel that they have as yet only scratched the surface of the possibilities offered by these medicines which they once sneered at

If you want a case in point, right here around you, consider aspirin. It has a long chemical name we can neither pronounce nor spell But for countless centuries, the Indians here were getting this chemical by boiling the bark of willow trees They kept boiling it down to a thick syrup that worked just like our aspirin does today They of course had their own name for it, but, as far as we are concerned, it is no improvement on the white man's scientific name for the stuff.

Those who may be upset by the current disregard for many ancient beliefs, should not be too disturbed This applies to the current controversy in religion as to whether or not God is dead The debate seems based more on the meaning of words than anything else The human belief in survival of the individual after death was ancient before the coming of Christ.

In the light of this belief, surviving among men of many races and colors for countless centuries, any gambler will will such give you odds that it is based on fact

THE FISH POND at the Lions Tourist Campground reflects the cread entrances, the railroad grade and the beginning of the railroad trestle. Muddied from continuous work in the pool and on the perimeter as excavating, grading and shaping was done, the pool is clearing nicely and will soon be ready for the pan size trout that will be there for the tidings.

Boy Scouts of Canada — Yellowhead District

THE DISTRICT COMMISSIONER COMMENTS

Holidays are over for most people, the young people are back in school and the older ones resigned to the fact that there is more much more to face them than just the daily task of earning a living for their families and themselves.

Among the tasks before us is the very important one of basking after our young boys Boys from the age of eight on up to young men have an opportunity to join the greatest boys' organization in the world SCOUTS Yet all across the District we have a problem 2nd boys, there are lots of them, anxious to be active on Cubs Scouts Ventures or Rovers — BUT — we must have adult help and leadership otherwise scouting will fall by the wayside

In Edson, adults are urgently required to work as a group committee to plan the scout section of scouting Scouters are required to take charge of or assist with Packs, Troops and crews.

In Hinton the problem is no different, especially in the Valley A group committee chairman secretary and members are required immediately An assistant scout master and several assistant Cub masters (male or female are urgently required) Won't you come out on Monday, September 26th to the Valley Scout Hall and Volunteer your services?

The Second Hinton Group seem to be off to a good start, this is one sweet note in the song of Come come and help build better Canadians"

Jasper, we understand requires leaders.

Yellowknot, we haven't heard from, however, there is no doubt that more adults in scouting would be welcome.

We have the boys, lots of them, of all ages, but I say again, we need adult leaders and adults willing to give their time to the general operations of scouting

Wherever you live in the District, please volunteer your services, but scouting may pass through your personal lives support it will be impossible to keep the Cub Packs and Scout Troops active without your assistance.

THE LIONS TOURIST CAMPSITE is virtually springing up these days in the park area at the east end of town. This picture was taken last week and by now there is a decided change with picnic shelters, the start of the railroad track, the start of the mine shaft, etc. The artist's conception of the finished park buildings are shown on the opposite page.

Tourist Campsite develops quickly

After months of promotional work, the time consuming months spent on doing the ground work for the project, the Lions Tourist Campsite area is taking shape these past few weeks in a way that really lets the public see what has been in the minds of the originators for the past three years

The Campsite had it's conception when the Edson Town Council and Chamber of Commerce discussed the need for a tourist information centre with members of the Edson Lions Club. After considerable discussion the Lions Club entered into an agreement with the town for a 7.75 acres on the site formerly used for the sewage disposal site.

One of the conditions of the agreement was that a tourist information bureau be erected immediately, to be followed by a complete plan for the development of the whole site.

The completion of the information bureau building was indeed the beginning of something much bigger. It had proved its worth by the end of the first season and the possibilities in the fertile minds of Lion Club members were unlimited

The first work to be done on the site was the removal of garbage that had collected there over the years, as well as a number of cords of pulp wood

In 1965 the pond was started and the campsite area across the pond was cleaned up and picnic tables were installed. Up until the fall of 1965 most of the work was done by voluntary donation. Any other expenses were met by the Lions Club with money raised in raffles, etc.

Work, in the planning stage, continued unabated during the winter with a presentation being prepared, that would later be presented to the provincial and federal govern ments

This presentation plus meetings, meetings and more meetings with anyone and everyone who could help or suited in the project being approved by the central ARDA advisory Council on the local level, with final approval coming from the Provincial and Federal ARDA dept This amounted to a grant of $72 381 00 shared equally The local club makes up an additional $24 127 00

National Park Camping fees to increase in 1967

Camping fees and charges in areas of the parks which are for huts, interpretive and the accessible only by trail and use of [illegible] will be increased effective in the National Parks in 1967. Re-announced Monday by Arthur Laing, announced recently.

Mr. Laing pointed that the increased charges will help Canada's Park fees for camping which is not equipped with utilities such as flush toilets, hot and cold water, sewage and electrical services $1.50 for a site at which electricity is provided, and $2.00 for a fully serviced site. The weekly fee of $2.00 which applied to those seasonal or unserviced sites has been abolished.

Camping fees that were in effect this year were $0 rents a day or $2.00 a week for tents, trailers at all camp and tent trailers and $1.50 a grounds except those located day for trailers using fully equipped with services. These charges were made at only 30 of the approximately 100 National Park camp grounds but the new rates will apply to almost all.

The seasonal campsite charges at Cleor Lake campground at Riding Mountain National Park, Manitoba, and Waskesiu campground at Prince Albert National Park, Saskatchewan are also being increased to 1967 seasonal rates for lots in the campgrounds will range $20.00 and $30.00 respectively.

This compares to the existing fee of $45.00 at Riding Mountain and $2.00 for park dweller cabins in the Prince Albert campground. Seasonal rates for lots equipped with electricity at Clear Lake campground will be increased to $40.00 from $32.00.

Golf course fees have been increased generally by 25c per round, or about 20 per cent. The new schedule of golf course fees will be effective in 1967 at all National Park golf courses. The new fees are from $1.50 per round for nine holes to $2.00 a round for 18 holes. Other daily, weekly, monthly and seasonal fees have also gone up.

Annual National Park fishing licenses costing $2.00 will be required in 1967 in all National Parks, except those in Ontario and Rib Island National Park in Alberta where there are very limited fishing opportunities. The $2.00 annual fishing license has been sold in all National Parks in Western Canada for some time but previously no license was required for fishing in National Parks in the Atlantic Provinces. The monthly $1.00 fishing license, which was optional in the western parks has now been abolished.

Other minor changes will also be made in park entrance fees. Effective April 1, 1967, the motor vehicle license fee charged at Waterton Lakes National Park will be $2.00 and will permit visitors to all other National Parks on a yearly basis. This was recommended by local Waterton groups in the past many visitors to this park purchased either the 25 cent souvenir sticker or the $1.00 yearly license which will permit entry to other mountain National Parks.

The charges for use of St. Lawrence Islands National Park will become comparable to charges made on parts of the Ontario St. Lawrence Development Commission in the same region. Persons driving into the park areas from No. 2 Highway will pay a 25c daily charge or $1.00 for an annual motor vehicle license.

A special seasonal license of $1.00 for motor vehicles using the mountain National Parks in Alberta and British Columbia during the winter months will be introduced November 1, 1966 Mr. Laing said. "This charge should appeal to skiers who make numerous trips to these parks."

The new license which will permit an unlimited number of entries during the period from November 1st to March 31st will replace the 50 cent single entrance fee now in effect. Motorists possessing the $2.00 yearly stickers will not be affected by this change as their stickers are valid throughout the year 300nbe

by JOHN W FISHER
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

A few weeks ago I wrote about the Confederation Train and the Centennial Caravans which will be criss-crossing Canada during the summer months of 1967 with exhibits and attractions.

During the second week of June we had better luck, set up and commenting trials for the Caravans all commentators in the Ottawa area. It was quite an exciting operation almost like a dress rest exercise.

The first eight enormous tractor trailers the largest vehicles ever to be used extensively on North American roads, travelled all the way to Ottawa from Calgary where the vans were made by the Alberta Trailer Company. The eight 72 foot vehicles represented one of the eight Caravan units which will visit more than 700 Canadian communities in Centennial Year.

While the trailers were not decorated on the outside nor did they contain interior exhibits for the trials there was much exciting work to be done.

The setting up of a Caravan on site is like putting a giant Meccano set together. First the drivers must be able to bring the huge vehicles to the site, squeezing around tight corners, through underpasses and under wires, more than 13½ feet above the ground. The vans take a quadrangle formation on site and then remove the tractors.

Drivers — there will be 80 of them specially trained and under contract for the eight Caravans in 1967 — must be able to park the vans with the skill of a previous machinist so that matching ramps and bridges can be placed quickly to connect the vans on site. This ramp arrangement allows Centennial visitors to move easily through the huge display trailers and view the exhibits in a complete sequence.

Outside the trailers, in the quadrangle, large triodesic forms (an up level tubular steel triangle construction) on which will be placed the exterior exhibits. When the set-up job is done — in about two hours' time — the complete set is on site ready for a colorful Centennial community fair.

On hand for the trials at Ottawa were observing officials of numerous organizations which will be involved with the Caravans — provincial police of several provinces, the RCMP which will have security officers with the units in 1967, fire marshals, members of the Defense Production Department, the Canadian Government Exhibition Commission, the St. John's Ambulance Corps, the Chrysler company which provides the tractors and so on.

On the highways the Caravan units will travel in convoy 200 feet apart to allow traffic to pass easily. In convoy travel they will be under police escort at all times. A convoy will be a mile long (time tractor alone with trailer is almost equal to eight car-lengths).

So the arrival of a Centennial Caravan in your community won't be unstored very easily. Your local Centennial organization will be announced and the date of arrival well ahead of time anyway.

Be sure to visit the Caravan for a great display of interesting and entertaining exhibits about Canada. There is something for the whole family to see

Poor vision often causes poor marks in school

Most children will have a medical examination and a dental check-up before they return to school, but unfortunately, few will have a thorough eye examination

Dr. D. R. Lashworth, president of the Optometrical Association of Ontario, feels this an appalling situation. Commenting on the problem he said, "It is unfortunate that most mothers feel the eye test given at school is a sufficient examination he needs and deserves.

In the past few years, the latest optometrists have been successful in establishing visual examination programs in some communities but Mr. Lashworthy maintains that is not enough. "What is needed", he said, "is a province-wide standardized program following the student from kindergarten through public and high school.

Such a program of this sort, studied by qualified optometrists can give the prospect of success to a student's visual skills and abilities. This sort of scheme would enable a child to receive complete examinations as well as proper treatment for any eye abnormalities which may develop.

"Too many students", Mr. Lashworthy said, "are receiving poor marks because of poor vision. About one child in four in Canada has some sort of visual disorder, many of these disorders can be detected and treated only by qualified optometrists. It is important that every child be given an equal chance to receive an education, but this equal chance is not possible if the child has some sort of visual handicap".

A Scout today is a man tomorrow

This world would be a very different place if everyone in high ours and kin were to follow the Wolf Cubs' motto. Do a good turn to somebody each day.

Just run the years to back to the Boy Scout movement through work and money, by encouraging others to support and join its ranks.

But for few boys take advantage of Scouting. For but a parents are aware of what it has to offer. Yet there's a better way of teaching boys to be men. Indeed the boy Scout organization is the world's greatest deterrent to juvenile delinquency.

The people best qualified to judge its advantage are leaders in the public service and industrial fields. Ask a rank ing representative of either group and the reply will be the same. "Scouting makes better citizens, better employees better men."

Scouts today receive training far more advanced and demanding, both mentally and physically than ever before. We need this sort of preparation for a work that will be full of crises and rich with opportunity.

In Canada, the tradition of the Boy Scout — brotherhood regardless of race or creed — is the most effective method of combatting narrow prejudice.

Encourage your boy to be a Cub, Scout or Rover. You'll be proud to watch him grow strong in mind and body, a future leader in his community.

Support the Boy Scouts in every way you can. Your country needs them. For further information, write the Boy Scouts Association, Jasper, Alberta

Have fun in the sun. BE WATER WISE!

Lethbridge Pilsner

Many people like the happy taste of our own home grown hops in Lethbridge Pilsner – a blend of several fine brews in the best Bavarian tradition. The brewmaster adds just the right amount of whole grain pearl rice to give a subtle "extra" to the choice barley. Lively tasting Lethbridge Pilsner, truly satisfying beer!

Two great brews from SICKS' LETHBRIDGE BREWERY LTD.

Tourist Campsite Develops

It is hoped that the official opening can take place sometime in October, but this will depend on the weather and other unforseen circumstances

At present the 15 individual purse shelters have been all most completed and can be seen in various stages of development base to finished roof. Each shelter will have an own small barbecue directly in front of it. None of the 15 shelters are this side of the pond will the rest on the opposite side under the trees. There are already numerous tables, benches and fireplaces under the trees which have seen considerable use this summer.

A half mile railroad complete with small engine and two or three cars is being constructed. The railroad is designed for use as a novel ride for youngsters. Point of departure and arrival is the old style station house which has been built just north of the information booth. This build ing will also house the washroom and shower facilities for tourist use.

Locating the station the railroad will chart the south end of the pool, meander through the trees on the east side and cross a trestle over the creek inlet on the north end of the pool.

Section under the edge of the hill at the west end of the railroad to the will be a tunnel built with a short railroad spur track. Coal cars, one each for the main boom, and the coal branch, will sit at the mouth of the shaft loaded with coal. This will be an information to tourists as it is the near famous Coal Branch and enjoy the fishing hunting and scenery to be found there.

At present it is planned to utilize a small ravine to regrowth the Medicine River even [illegible] with model [illegible] and a old steam operation that [illegible] carried out at Peers for many years.

The pool is not just shown [illegible] a [illegible] but will be stocked annually with [illegible] so it can be [illegible] will be perennial, for the benefit of travelling youngsters that will be invited to try [illegible] lakes and streams in the district leaving the fish [illegible]

1966 Xmas stamps out in October

October 12th, 1966, has been chosen as the release date for commemorative postage stamps in two denominations to mark the Christmas season, Canada's Postmaster General Jean Pierre Côté has announced.

The projected releases will mark the third consecutive year in which the Canada Post Office has issued specially designed stamps for Christmas. Again available in the 5c and 8c values, the 1966 issues were designed by Geoffrey Holloway of Arnott Rogers Hatton Limited of Montreal. Mr. Holloway stated:

They feature a reproduction of a centuries old drawing "Betete Hands", or "Praying Hands", originally executed by the great German Renaissance painter, engraver, woodcut and decorative designer Albert Durer, who lived from 1471 to 1528.

Imparting an appropriate theme for the Christmas festive season, the drawing is a poignant representation of work worn hands of a humble and devoted man offering thanks for blessings received.

The two stamps the same design and small in size, will also include the Christmas Star together with the words "Noel" "Christmas" and "Xmas". The 5c denomination is produced in orange the 8c value in rose. They were engraved by the Canadian Bank Note Company, Ottawa. The Canada Post Office expects to produce and sell more than 220 million Christmas stamps this year.

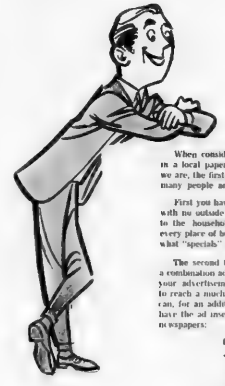
let's talk advertising!



When considering purchasing an advertisement in a local paper situated in a community such as we are, the first thing that comes to mind is, "How many people are going to read it?"

First you have a choice of a local advertisement with no outside connections. This type of ad gets to the householders in Town who know where every place of business is located and want to know what "specials" they have to offer the public.

The second type of advertisement is known as a combination ad. By this we mean that you insert your advertisement in this paper, then if you want to reach a much wider buying public potential you can, for an additional fraction of the original cost, have the ad inserted in one or all of the following newspapers:

HINTON HERALD
JASPER TOTEM
McBRIDE ECHO
EDSON LEADER
WHITECOURT STAR

You can have any combination of these papers that you wish, whichever you feel will benefit you the most.

Kindergarten starts Oct. 4th

The eager young grade one students are getting more or less settled in school and now it is time for the five year olds.

Many local five year olds are eagerly awaiting Tuesday, October 4th when they have their first day of kindergar ten and begin to learn to do things in a group with other youngsters their own age.

There are still a few places open in the classes and any one wishing to enroll their youngster may have more in formation by phoning Mrs J Purdie at 723-3441.

If you want the truth . . .

We liked this story a local woman told about her five year old niece.

The little girl had been staying with auntie for a few days while her mother was visiting in Edmonton During the evening the little girl, her cousins and aunt stopped at one of the drive ins for some ice cream

The cousins were having it course ice cream and the little girl decided to go along with them even though she had ne ver tried it before.

Asked if she thought she would like it the little girl replied, "I'll eat it even if I don't like it, just like I did my dinner."

Late closing petition reaches stalemate

The situation regarding late Thursday closing of local retail shops reached a stalemate at the last meeting of Council when they received a statement of objection to a petition which had asked for an amendment to the Early Closing By-law.

The statement was signed on behalf of 22 local retail shops and included ten shops that had been represented on the original petition.

In view of the receipt of the objection no action will be taken at the present time toward the implementation of an amendment to the by-law. In view of the evident confusion on the part of the retail merchants, the Chamber of Commerce will be asked to make a canvass of the shops and to submit to Council a clear cut presentation with respect to the proposed amendment.

Mayor W. R. Brunelle was in the chair with Councillors Merton Collin, A. Goldstick, B. Kuefler, M. D. Meade, P. W. Wells and four citizens present.

It was moved that Lot 18, Block 8, Plan 4317 M.C., being a re-plat, be sold to Mrs. Ian James Guille and Alice Myrtle Guille on their undertaking to erect a single dwelling at estimated cost $15,000 and upon payment of sum $600 land sale, and subject to applicant's commencing construction prior to November 30th, 1966. The transfer to be authorized upon receipt of CMHC approval to loan and upon submission of acceptable plans and development permit application.

A Development Permit application of Alum-Steel Products on behalf of Jan T. Derksen with respect to storage building proposed for the westerly 107' of Block R, Plan 6284 A.C. was approved.

Offer of Robert C. Whitnack of $1.00 and his undertaking to remove old Machine Shop building from Town and clear up debris from Lots 27 to 30, Block 8, Plan 1424 A.C. was placed before Council.

In accord with the provisions of the Tax Recovery Act, the building standing on Lots 27 to 30, Block 8, Plan 1424 A.C., be sold to Robert C. Whitnack on payment of sum $1.00 and his undertaking to demolish and remove the building from Town and to clear up all debris from the said Lots and before December 1st, 1966.

It was moved that the sum of $100.00 be remitted to the Edson Centennial Committee to cover current operating expenses of the Committee.

The matter of placing of fill and the construction of drainage line section south of Bear Lake road, as undertaken by Council, and the additional request for fill and culvert north of Bear Lake road, as well as matter of required manhole covers at sewer chambers in the area, was discussed by Council and Councillor Kuefler was directed to further explore the matter with the Lions Club committee.

The request of the Recreation and Cultural Activities Board that an Arena Manager be advertised for and employed and suggesting that his duties should include ice-making and maintenance, supervision of staff and all general operations of the new Arena build ing, was placed before Council.

As recommended by the Recreation Board, advertisements will be placed in the Edson Leader and in the Edmonton Journal calling for applications for the position of Arena Manager and that the applicants be asked to state salary expected. That appli

Larry Pompeit progressing

Larry Pumpeit will be celebrating his 21st birthday this Saturday in a way very much different than he had been expecting.

Larry received serious injuries to his back in a car accident on September 3rd. Since that time he has been in the University Hospital paralyzed from above his waist. He is having therapy already and has progressed this week to where he can move the thumb and forefinger on each hand. It may seem small, but in reality is a big step in his comeback.

He has a long way back to a normal life, but he is determined to win. With his own will power and the prayers and good wishes of his many friends his recovery will be only a matter of time.

Six Council--- two mayorality runners

There is no dearth of candidates for the positions of Mayor and three Councillors in the Civic election scheduled for Wednesday, October 19th. By noon on Wednesday, the deadline for nomination papers to be filed, there were two candidates for the Mayor and six for Council.

Mayor W. R. Brunelle is letting his name stand once more as candidate for Mayor. Jon Scott has also thrown his hat into the candidate ring for chairman of Edson's busy Town Council.

Running for the three vacant seats around the Council table are Dr. J. E. Crawford, J. E. Griffiths, E. G. Hicks, J. Kehler, W. R. Mills and R. Roome.

The two vacancies on the local School Board were filled by acclamation by incumbent Merton Collin and T. B. Fowler Jr.

The candidates officially have until 1:00 o'clock noon September 30th to reconsider and withdraw their name, but it is felt to be very unlikely that this event would occur.

Former Coal Branch residents are invited to behind Contact Mr. Jack Boome and watch The Leader for further developments.

Mr. Jack Boome was named president of a new group who met themselves the Coal Branch Historical Preservation Assoc., when they met Monday evening.

The Coal Branch may be a line of ghost towns as far as Industrial Alberta goes, but to the former residents it is alive with memories that will never die.

The new association was formed as the first step in preventing further deterioration of former townsites.

As the first project on the agenda for the association, as many as possible former Branch residents including members of the old Timers Association of the Coal Branch in Edmonton, will be contacted regarding the proposal to fence and restore all cemeteries on the Coal Branch.

Membership in the new association is one dollar a year. All former Branch residents

Adults to be accepted in driving classes

As many as 15 adults will be accepted in the driver training class that is to be conducted in the local high school starting next Monday.

Response by students to this first class hasn't been as great as it was expected. The class will take up to 30 participants. It is felt that many adults particularly women would wish to take the course.

It consists of 30 hours of lectures, eight hours of actual driving and 16 hours of driver observation. Each student who completes the course satisfactorily gets a minimum of 10 per cent reduction in his car insurance fee.

Anyone interested in taking the course should phone the [illegible] school [illegible] 3316, as soon as possible as only the first 12 to 15 will be accepted.

Centennial Report

1867 | 1967

by JOHN W FISHER
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

I have written before about the great 4,000 mile water route to be travelled by our Centennial Canoe Pageant next summer. Ten canoes manned by teams from the provinces will traverse the historic waterway from the Rocky Mountains to Montreal. The fact that Canada stretches from sea to sea is due partly to the existence of this and other water routes.

The "north west passage" established long before the time of Confederation in fact, one might say, it had its beginnings when Columbus and many other explorers unsuccessfully sought a seaway to the far east through the west.

The explorers discovered the first part of the waterway in Rae's Bay. Then the Erebus and the Terror vanished and none of the 129 ever returned from the Arctic.

Numerous expeditions sent from England, from the United States and by groups from the Hudson's Bay Company searched for the lost explorers without success.

Evidence uncovered in later years proved that the Erebus and the Terror, trapped in Arctic ice, had not been abandoned until three years after they had been sighted by that passing ship in Baffin's Bay. As late as 1850 Eskimos saw a large party of white men travelling south near the mainland, dragging a small boat and sleds. There are many conflicting stories about what actually happened to the 129 men.

In 1859 an expedition sent out by Lady Franklin found a written record by a captain of one of the ships. It gave an account of their terrible trials up to the spring of 1848.

Franklin was lost but the search expeditions provided information for the mapping of a vast area of the Arctic with its complicated islands, inlets and straits.

Although much knowledge was gained through Arctic expeditions in the mid nineteenth century the canoe route across Canada remained, for a long time, the backbone of the east-west transportation system and the one we will "rediscover" with our Centennial canoes. Even today, with all our technology, the north west passage via the Arctic waterway is not far use by commerce.

During Centennial year Canadians will be looking at history with renewed interest. Take the story of the search for the north west passage, which I have barely touched on this short column, there are many more which make fascinating reading for young and old.

WEIGHT LIMITS BACK ON HIGHWAYS

By JOHN WARREN

I suppose it's about time to write something about what's going on in government and politics in Alberta since that's what this column is normally all about, and since I've lemoned the subject for a couple of weeks to discuss strikes and holidays and things.

Maybe not surprisingly, a fellow finds out that there hasn't been all that much excitement in the conduct of Alberta's public affairs during the last month of summer.

However, a few items worth notice

The Alberta Automotive Retailers Association will ask for legislation to divorce oil companies from the service station business. The association has charged that oil company policies are discriminatory when it comes to prices and there is a wasteful over investment in service stations.

Four candidates have been nominated to contest the Olds-her 9th by-election in Pincher Creek-Crowsnest. The vote will determine a successor to Bill Kovach who died this summer after nearly 20 years as the Social Credit member for the riding. Those trying to win the seat are: Gerda Tur cott, 26, a lawyer who will run under the New Democratic Party banner, Joseph Hanrahan of Lethbridge who will try to retain the riding for the Social Credit Bonanza Murphy of Cowley who represents the Liberals and Alex Wells, 23, a chartered accountant from Blairmore who is the Progressive Conservative candidate.

—The Agriculture Department says crop yields and quality in the province will be better than was expected. Grain harvesting is going well and the major problem seems to be one of storage. One southern reported an almost unbelievable yield of 70 bushels an acre on one 15-acre section.

Weight limits that were increased on several provincial highways during the railway strike have been reduced again to normal.

The public utilities board is hearing the Alberta Government Telephones bid for its first rate increase in 40 years. The AGT expects to borrow $30,000,000 a year for the next five years to buy equipment and it predicts a loss of $4,000,000 for the 1966-67 fiscal year.

Blackfoot Indians have voted 100 to 8 in favor of allowing liquor on their reserve. However, 562 potential voters abstained from voting, or were absent so the result will be referred to Ottawa to see if it is binding.

Premier Manning says the government will encourage any Alberta municipality to make a determined bid for the 1968 Canadian summer games. He didn't say whether from trial and would be given.

Arthur H. Wakefield has been appointed Supervisor of Pensions by Labor Minister Ray Reierson. He will be responsible for the Pension Benefits Act which requires all pension plans to be registered and which will ensure stability in plans.

A public hearing is to be held in Camrose into the CN's application to abandon passenger service between there and Drumheller.

Mrs. Ethel Wilson who is both an Edmonton alderman and a minister without portfolio in the Alberta cabinet has decided not to run again for the city post. The decision has given rise to speculation that there may be something bigger in store for her in the provincial government.

Bus liner service will be introduced on the Northern Alberta Railways between Edmonton and Dawson Creek

MUST GET OFF OUR DUFFS SAYS LECLERC

The people along the Yellowhead Route must get off their collective duffs, is the message Leo LeClerc of Edmonton brought to noon lects of the Edson Chamber of Commerce at the regular meeting in the Matheson Lounge.

Leo gave a talk on tourism that he said is not accepted as Central Alberta and the Yellowhead THE way to get to the coast. We can't tell our story and we can't tell its truth. Referring to the truth. Referring to the fact Trans-Canada highway built Leo said it costs necessary to point out that there is 2,500 miles of flat prairie to cross. On the other hand people are along the Yellowhead are good problems. We must be careful how it is named though and watch that it isn't labelled the alternate route.

We have to sell memberships for profession pro motion. We must publicize it's advantages, its scenic value, the events along the Yellowhead and we must tie in with American routes at Winnipeg. We know its not winter along the route all the time, but they don't in the States. What are the grades like. We must start now making sure that the Federal Government allows trucks to pass through Jasper Park. We must keep pressure on to get such narrow parts of Highway 16 as the one past Elk Island Park widened to standard. Other parts of North America must be told on the merits of the route he emphasized several times.

Such things as the Lions Park at Edson the Car Derby at Hinton the rodeos at Edson and Jasper and the Fete au Village at St Albert are all tourist attractions and must be publicized to the full.

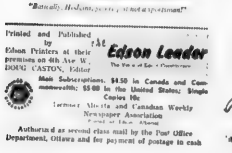
We must fight back from Central Alberta against these people in Southern Alberta. It's our responsibility to grab these people as they from the south He mentioned that we couldn't expect people at Calgary or Banff is really be interested in directing people our way.

Commenting on the report on ARDA in the Edson area ran in Edmonton's daily newspaper, Leo told the meeting that he notices this paper finds it easy to knock things in its own city and district and suggested it takes a little talent to dig up the better things.

Referring to Hon Arthur Laing, Minister of Northern Affairs, Leo said that he sometimes wonders about them. When Arthur asks us to vote for good government and his party we wonder how you can vote for his parties at the same time he added facetiously.

Referring to having left a couple of visiting bass from Europe who were on a tour of Edmonton to come out to honor a previous commitment to Edson Chamber of Commerce, Leo told the meeting that as far as he was concerned people in the districts around Edmonton were more important to the city than those from afar

In extolling the virtues of the Yellowhead, Leo quoted from baseball's Casey Dean to the effect that "Reagan ain't Reagan if it's the truth"



"Actually, Hodgins, you're not a statesman!"

Dear Sir

Since last August we re opened our new museum at Garden Park, Farm Alberta ranch.

In 1962 we were destroyed by fire and were open only on a small scale. We now have on display 30,000 pieces including arrowheads, Indian relics, many stone tools, pottery, stone, stone age, Gem stones, a skeleton dinosaur bones of 125 million years ago, fossil animals, old and fancy rocks, stones way back in the Mesozoic age as well as the prehistoric age of interest to all classes.

A short chapter with a collection of 100 Babies an old organ of the 1880s and a very old bell is another specialty.

The Garden building has a wall full of thousands of display. Also mounted crocodiles Blocks are from Siberia to Cuba from Italy to Australia, almost from every part of this earth.

Over 100 colors of dahlias decorate the museum grounds. All visitors get free flowers to take home.

We still give a prize to the best dressed, best looking and best active child of the week. We are the Alberta Pals that is another look into the dark of Africa.

We now have 34 different kinds of strawberries on display, the best plants upon the earth. If you don't believe it come and see them. Don't cost you anything. The best we had was 812 berries on one plant in one season.

We have no cabins for rent but we have free parking or picnicing area. Fires are allowed and there is lots of dry wood. Fishing in lake of the lake for pickerel, perch and perks.

We are open until snow comes. No charge, free-will donations keeps this museum running in good.

Yours truly,
John Ostlers

PONOKA'S ENROLLMENT PROVES NEED

From the PONOKA HERALD

The opening of Ponoka's new composite High School has brought surprising results, even to those who had urged that there was a need in education for a third high.

Administrators are over the hundred when not more than 640 were expected. The need for the 3rd term. More important still is the new interest that has fired up many parents and students.

A period of the new approach to high school education is now in early stages. A few heads shake ominously at the costs involved while others question the degree of practical skills the vocational courses can develop. With these comparatively few exceptions the composite high idea seems to be enthusiastically approved here by those who understand its basic purpose.

Many parents and students were surprised to discover that vocational courses could not be taken without academic subjects. Some were definitely disappointed.

This is where the composite idea is new. It is not a trade or technical school. It is an effort to overcome the chief objection to tech or trade school education which is that they turn out students who do not have the basic education needed to make the most of today's complicated world.

For some people this is all too obvious others can see if they stop and think in more general terms than the size of immediate pay cheques.

Vocational skills be they carpentry, electronics, secretaries, are changing and developing at a rapid pace. To keep up with this change a trade-man must have a good general basic theories in physics, chemistry and mathematics. Tech and trade schools do not maintain an attitude to these subjects that they are able to start earning the day they land it is becoming harder and harder to keep up with new techniques, new processes and tools of an instru ment-filled, automated into their trade they find it very hard to win the better and higher paid jobs.

More and more of the tech and trade school grads find they do not have the general background of knowledge for a full and satisfying use of life and participation in community affairs. This was never admit it, but the fact is their education often creates a feeling of inferiority in them. If this feeling runs enough it may result in serious personality problems. In a less intense form it carries a social factor that undermines their confidence in themselves.

Even for those who come to realize that they have been short changed in their basic education, it is almost impossible for them to rectify it by correspondence or night courses. Once a person has been working for a number of years, drawing wages and probably raising a family, he finds it mighty hard to set aside regular time for study and keep rigidly at it. Many try it, few complete it.

ENGLISH STUDY VITAL

Among the vocationally inclined students there are a great many who feel that the study of high school English is a waste of time. Nothing could be farther from the truth. Their very trade is based on the ability of one person to explain something, clearly to another. Certainly no one can advance to a foremanship or higher without some of this particular skill. The more of it he has, the higher he can rise.

Today some of the largest industrial firms in North America have a policy of watching the man who reads. Experience has shown that such men make the best foremen managers and executives. The man who says "She needs to read when you have radio television and the movies" is cheated off the best for possible advancement.

What possible good is knowledge crammed into a brain that cannot communicate clearly with others?

Equally important is the ability to understand what is written and printed. The statistic fact is that many people are incapable of this. They simply do not know the exact meanings of words. They probably know the word and think they know what it means, but rarely if ever have used a dictionary. The result is that they may have an entirely wrong idea of what a word means, the various shades of meaning and their applications. Many confuse two words that have a similar sound and spelling but entirely different meanings.

We actually heard an exuberant radio announcer on an Alberta station announce that "the relative humidity is down to twenty per cent". We were willing to agree that it falls even lower than that sometimes, but he should be was talking about weather conditions instead of family affairs.

Finally the study of English equips the student with a priceless art — the ability to read easily for his own entertainment. It is quite possible for a person to get without actually being conscious of doing so, like passing into the story he is reading as an observer right on the spot. Time and his actual surroundings fade out. He is instead sitting beside Nero Wolfe helping that fat genius to solve a murder with the least possible physical exertion.

Those who have developed this ability find radio TV and most movies dull and boring. For the rest of their lives they need never have a boring moment as their leisure time we feel barely. Being confined to bed for awhile is no hardship. They can take all on sheets of stirring adventures via books. No single thing makes old age more bearable than this reading art.

It also tends to keep a mind alive, alert and interested in the world when disease or old age plays havoc with the physical body.

The best inner values are hard for a youngster to appreciate when his hands are itching for a wrench or welding torch, but they will likely be even more important to him than the ability to run a nest head with an electric arc.

It might also be a good idea if some student, headed for Medicine, Law, Commerce and the Arts were to be a stint in electronics, carpentry or automotives. Doctors urgently need practical electronics today. Many a lawyer has only a vague idea of what is involved in erecting a building although he may have many cases he might win if he knew something of the trades involved.

Students invited to enter Remembrance Day contest

Members of the local Branch, Royal Canadian Legion are already making plans for the annual poppy day and Armistice Day in November.

Secretary Treasurer George Mawhan has mailed details of the annual contests for elementary and high school students to the principals of the schools.

Three take the form of a poster contest for all students up to and including grade six in Junior and senior high school students are invited to enter an essay contest around the theme . Why we should remember.

Winners of the essay contest receive certificates at the local level. The winning entries are sent to District Command where prizes are $25 and $15. Winners of the District contest are then forwarded to Provincial Command where cash prizes of $50 and $25 are awarded and the winning essay sent to Dominion Command.

Winners of the two top essays for the dominion will be flown to Ottawa at Legion expense. There, as part of the Remembrance Day ceremony they will lay a wreath on the cenotaph for the youth of Canada.

The poster contest for the younger students is strictly local. Cash prizes will be awarded and the 1st, 2nd and 3rd prize posters from each room will be displayed in the Legion Hall on Remembrance Day. There are always many outstanding posters on display.

By the way, for people who ask "What is the money used for that is realized from the sale of poppies each year?", the answer is that in this past year over $5000 of the fund went to help local Veterans in need of a helping hand . . . and it was appreciated.

Members and friends out for Legion opening

"The biggest crowd that ever crowded the Legion Hall." This was the consensus of opinion following last Saturday evening's very successful official opening of the recently renovated Legion Club rooms.

People were packed in downstairs till there was hardly room to stand, let alone dance. As soon as the Saturday night bingo games were over the crowd moved upstairs into the hall, then back to partially spill back down so that there would be room to move. Mayor W. R. Brunelle cut the ribbon officially opening the attractive new rooms while President Ed Edwards stood by.

Zone Commander Steve Craddock was master of ceremonies for the evening.

Several presentations were made during the evening that received a big hand of applause. Bert Dandfer was presented with his past president's pin. Bert has always very active in the Legion and all he and his family moved to Edmonton earlier this year.

Bob Metzger who will be moving to Vancouver almost immediately was recipient of three different gifts. Bob has been the popular caller at the Saturday night bingos for a number of years and his efforts were rewarded by both the Legion and the bingo players themselves on behalf of fellow Legion members. Branch President Ed Edwards presented Bob with a radio. A plaque to "Bingo Bob" was presented by Steve Craddock that tickled the recipient no end.

Earlier in the evening, during the bingo, a break was called while a completely surprised Bob was presented with a clock by weekly participants in the games.

The hall was brighter for the big affair On Thursday evening a very successful work bee was called to paint the top half of the walls and the girders. There were so many turned out that the job was completed in virtually no time. Another work bee will be called shortly to give the bottom part of the walls a coat of varnish.

Lethbridge Pilsner
Lethbridge lager

Some insist on Lethbridge Pilsner, several fine brews deftly blended in the Bavarian tradition. The best of barley, choice rice and our own home grown hops give it the lively taste that appeals to Albertans. The unique label tells you it's Alberta's original Pilsner.

Others demand our Lethbridge lager – they call it Bridge. The bright and bracing beer makes the most of its premium malt. The smooth mellow taste is largely due to our own pure artesian hops. Micro filtered Bridge is mellow, naturally aged lager beer at its best!

REHABILITATION OF PATRICIA LAKE PHASE 2

BY J. C. WARD

Regional Fisheries Biologist

JASPER

The rush is over. The deed is done. Patricia Lake has been poisoned to remove the fish population and prepare it for even better anchor fishing.

On Wednesday, September 7, the biologists and technicians of the fisheries management section applied a total of 22,000 pounds of derris root powder to the lake. That will give an eventual concentration of rotinone power of almost one part per million throughout the entire lake although at present the only toxic water is that in the top thirty five feet [illegible] an hour of the start of the operation. Several members of the Jasper Fish and Game Association were on hand and made a determined effort to collect the trout as quickly as possible and to return them to the site where a [illegible] of Methylene Blue solution was waiting.

It was hoped the Methylene Blue would counteract the poison and result in the saving of many trout which would otherwise die. About seventy-five trout were brought back in time to place them in the solution before they were dead, but unfortunately, the hoped for reaction did not take place and all the fish eventually died.

Altogether, 194 trout were collected from the lake and examined. Most of these were rainbow, but four lake trout from net to ten pounds in weight were taken. After the fish were examined and the date taken, most were cleaned and filleted and delivered to the Seton Hospital.

The attempt to re-use live trout from the lake prior to the poisoning operation was disappointing. Only 29 fish were obtained alive from trapping and gill netting operations. Three large lake trout were released in Pyramid Lake and the remainder, most by eastern brook trout, were taken to the Fish Hatchery where they will be used for egg taking purposes before being released again, possibly at Pyramid Lake also.

Three of the local scuba divers volunteered their services to examine areas of the lake which could not be seen from the boats. They also rendered another valuable service by examining a series of caged live trout set out at various depths to determine the depth of toxicant penetration. After 24 hours they found fish dead or in distress to a depth of 30 feet, but quite lively below that level.

Our next step will be to remove the cages at various intervals to find out how long it will be before the poison is to a depth of 60 feet. Before that oxygen depletion will not allow the fish to survive. To make sure all fish have been killed, gill nets will be set later in the autumn.

Some people have been concerned that the application of the rotenone to the lake will render it unfit for human use. That is not the case. Rotenone is toxic only to fish and a few other of the cold blooded creatures, such as leeches, fresh water earthworms and some plankton. Any warm blooded animals can safely drink the water, as was illustrated by the fact that the many water fowl on the lake remained unharmed.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank members of the Jasper Fish and Game Association for their valuable help in returning the distressed and dead fish. Also, the three scuba divers' assistance was greatly appreciated, as was the help given in the form of the loan of boats by Sandy Scott and Jack Rawsale and of outboard motors by Maligne Tours. ap

Warning To Work Camps

By A. E. Bridges
Alberta Fire Commissioner

From time to time tragedies occur at temporary living quarters where workmen are employed on field projects. A typical accident occurred recently in the Buck Lake area.

Three men were in a cabin one of the three men arose early in the morning and started a fire in the stove. He tried to light it with paper but by reason of having green wood did not succeed. He went out side intending to bring diesel fuel to assist the fire. There were two cans adjacent to one another and by mistake he picked up the can containing hytest gasoline used for the gasoline lantern. He poured this hytest gas into the stove.

Immediately there was a flash fire causing him to drop the can which spilled further fuel onto the floor. He shouted to some the other two men. He and one of them escaped but the third man was overcome by smoke and burned to death.

It is most dangerous to use flammable liquids to quicken any fire. The use of hytest gas is almost certain to result in an explosion and severe burns to the user and the result can involve others who are not able to escape in the case of such a rapid fire in a closed room.

The best possible chance to eliminate fire deaths and fire injuries is to constantly review the dangerous conditions that bring about fire casualties. If people know the facts, they will be in a position to avoid the danger of course, the need is for frequent reminders so that fire is given the proper respect and so that fire cannot become a killer with the help of human errors.

Already in 1966 there have been sixteen deaths by fire seven men, five women and four children. Sixty seven per cent were caused by fire from January to August 1st, 1966. Here are the prevalent and repeated causes and the dangerous errors that bring about injuries and fire deaths.

1. Careless handling and misuse of gasoline.
2. People fall asleep while smoking cigarettes.
3. Unsafe practice and accidents with propane stoves.
4. Open fires and flames igniting clothing.
5. Children left unattended and playing with matches.

We are approaching the time of year for public observance of Fire Prevention Week. The Fire Commissioner is requesting every fire chief in the province to conduct special activities during Fire Prevention Week and to report a summary of these activities for entry in the annual Fire Prevention Week contest.

Statistics prove that there is a definite recession in the number of fires during the time when the public is alerted and the public participation is invited to seek out and eliminate fire hazards. asp

Opportunities for women in the health field

Is education or custom limiting women's career chances?

The answer is both.

Women are missing job opportunities, particularly in the health field. This is the same area where the likelihood of present manpower sources meeting future needs is being questioned.

While more Canadian women are working for pay, they make up nearly one-third of the total working force — they are in jobs traditionally considered to be "women's work".

The largest percentage of working women are in clerical work. The next largest group are in those professions close to home and mother's role — teaching, social work and nursing.

Women and nursing are synonymous but in medicine, in 1961, of a total of 21,280 practising physicians only 1,455 were women.

Canadian women have been reluctant to become health educators, optometrists, pharmacists, occupational therapists, physiotherapists and dentists.

In Canada there is only one dentist for about every 3,000 citizens. The United States, concerned over their shortage, has one dentist for every 1,900 persons.

In a 1956 survey of dental manpower in 25 countries only two per cent of Canadian dentists were women. Lithuania, with 86 per cent women dentists led the list.

In the health field there has been an explosion of knowledge. Canada will need all her resources, both male and female, to meet this challenge.

"Hi-ya, when are we going to be friends again?"

Toastmistress speaking

The Edson Parkland Toastmistress Club welcomed 12 guests to their demonstration meeting held on September 21st in the Jubilee Jr. High school.

The theme "For the Sake of Argument" was carried throughout the evening as topic masters Linda Dixon, Lorraine Lavigne into Lesley Pearson and Hazel Ryhan into John Seabrook for the sake of argument, Eleanor Monsma and Janice Mate announced the roles of daughter and mother in law. Bea Berkholtz assumed the role of a young girl wanting to get married and Rita Monsma was the old maid cautioning Bea again st such a foolish idea!

The arguments sounded very authentic!

The education for the evening was in the form of two panels with all of the members participating. The first panel was on cremation and the second was on merry hell. Eleanor Monsma was a very capable moderator for both panels.

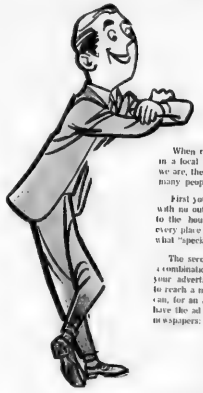
After intermission business Miss Rita Monsma introduced Darlene Mate with her speech "Living Dangerously". Every one enjoyed hearing Darlene tell how she lives dangerously while being the mother of a very mischievous five year old boy!

Toni Koebel concluded the evening with a very thought and helpful evaluation of the entire meeting.

Throughout the meeting each girl carried out her assignment she first explained to the guests the purpose of her assignment and how it was a part of toastmistress training.

Linda Dixon was chosen as toastmistress for the evening for her excellent presentation of table topics. She was presented with the trophy cup by president Lorraine Lavigne.

let's talk advertising!



When considering purchasing an advertisement in a local paper situated in a community such as we are, the first thing that comes to mind is, "How many people are going to read it?"

First you have a choice of a local advertisement with no outside connections. This type of ad gets to the householders in Town who know where every place of business is located and want to know what "specials" they have to offer the public.

The second type of advertisement is known as a combination ad. By this we mean that you insert your advertisement in this paper, then if you want to reach a much wider buying public potential you can, for an additional fraction of the original cost, have the ad inserted in one or all of the following newspapers:

HINTON HERALD
JASPER TOTEM
McBRIDE ECHO
EDSON LEADER
WHITECOURT STAR

You can have any combination of these papers that you wish, whichever you feel will benefit you the most.

LEADER SPORTS

with MEL SOLTYS

Last Sunday's senior hockey meeting, staged at the Edson Canadian Legion hall, turned out to be one of a successful nature when various officials representing the towns of Drayton Valley, Jasper, Hinton and Edson met regarding the formation of a league for the coming season.

After the air had cleared from the two hour session, all representatives present gave the green light for such a structure. The senior circuit will be called the Northwest Senior Hockey League and will be piloted by Mike Bugnida of Jasper who was elected to serve a one year term as president of the league.

A very capable man, Mike certainly needs no introduction for his sports endeavors in this area. A former Ed Sonite, Mike is the work horse in coordinating sports activities at Jasper and has the much needed experience for his new position. He has been a past president of the Northwestern Baseball League for years and will head a nine man executive board in carrying out the affairs of the league.

Ken Ambrosenko of Edson was elected as secretary-treasurer while Roland Monsseau of Hinton and Harold Reinhart of Drayton Valley were elected as 1st and 2nd vice presidents on that respective order.

Mel Soltys of Edson was appointed as league statistician. Each town will select one director to round out the remainder of the executive. All posts are for a one year term.

All league action will take place on weekends with each team playing four games per month. The exception to this ruling is that members may choose to play games during the week but these amateur arrangements must be made between themselves and on the consent of the President and executive. The four games per month will be divided evenly with each team playing two games on home ice and two games away per month.

The latter ruling of two games at home per month is one of an important nature in view of the heavy minor hockey activities evident in each of the league towns. While senior hockey must exist in a town to provide a well coordinated system of hockey, nevertheless the minors require their share of activities to sustain for exhibition and playoff games.

A league constitution is presently been drawn up by President Bugnida and will be distributed to each town this week.

Still in the drafting stages, the constitution will undoubtedly have amendments to come and who is the league ex-pected to revise as to October 10th in Edson, it will be one of the main items on the agenda for past minutes, player contracts, performance bonds, league schedule, referees, and provincial playoffs are main factors which will be ironed out during the next meeting.

Edson-Jasper Football Game set for weekend

With the baseball equipment and uniforms stored away for the winter, members of the Edson Orioles and Jasper Panthers have taken to the gridiron and will be displaying some of their pigskin talent this coming week end.

The Orioles will be travelling to Jasper this coming Sunday, October 1st where they will clash in what could prove to be a very interesting football match.

No nagging backache!

He used to be bothered by backaches and tired feeling. When he learned that irritation of the bladder and tired feeling can result in backaches, he tried Doan's Pills. Now he says Doan's Pills eliminate the kidneys to help relieve backaches, nagging backache and tired feeling. Soon he felt better — rested better. A guest fell asleep listening to a boring after dinner speaker. The chairman leaned over and tapped the sleeper with the gavel. The guy opened one eye and whispered: "Hit me harder. . . I can still hear him."

A man you lean on in a lonely hour

(your funeral director)

What makes it lonely is not just the suddenness, the sense of loss, the grief. It is also the bewilderment, the strangeness, the wondering what to do.

Your own need then . . . at once . . . is someone to lean on. Someone who can replace confusion with calm, doubts with certainty, questions with answers. Your own need then . . . is someone who knows what to do . . . and goes about doing it quietly, gently, sympathetically, with efficiency and dignity.

This is what your funeral director has been trained by education, apprenticeship and experience to be . . . and to do. This is his mission. To be an island of calm. To counsel. To help. To reassure.

His experience and understanding make it easy for you to make the decisions you alone must make about the type of service, where it will be held. He puts at your disposal the facilities of the funeral home and takes care of an almost unbelievable multitude of necessary details.

But beyond all the necessary physical things he does, what the family invariably remembers and treasures most is that here, in their lonely hour, was a man they could lean on, depend on.

There is such a man in your community. Possibly a number of them. You undoubtedly know them. They are good citizens, good neighbors. Men who take pride in their profession and their practice of it. Just as you consult your attorney and your doctor in advance of the need, wouldn't it be equally wise to choose and establish an equally reassuring relationship with your funeral director?

Published as a public acknowledgement of the important role of the Funeral Director in the lives of all of us by the makers of CLARK METAL BURIAL VAULTS, the finest tribute, the most trusted protection

New Health Unit building ready by mid-November

A meeting of the Board of the Edson Health Unit was held in the Town Office in Edson on Monday, September 19, 1966.

Present were Mr. P. Wells of Edson, Chairman, Mr. J. Wynne of Edson, Vice Chairman, Mr. W. Nowrie of Hinton; Mr. G. Dempster of Evansburg, Mr. D. McElroy, Secretary-Treasurer.

In attendance: Dr. J. Brown and Mrs. P. Adams.

The meeting opened at 2:00 p.m.

The minutes of the previous meeting, held on Monday, June 27th, 1966, were adopted as read.

The chairman reported that progress was most satisfactory on the new Health Unit building in Edson and that occupation is likely to be approximately mid-November.

Dr. Brown reported that the authorities of Hinton, Edson, Drayton Valley and Wildwood had been notified of the change in legislation relating to Fluoridation of Communal Water Supplies. A full discussion followed.

It was intimated that a plebiscite would be held this fall in Drayton Valley in conjunction with the Civic election. This matter cannot be voted on in Hinton this year since a plebiscite was held in 1965.

A proposal relating to accommodation for the Health Unit in the Village of Wildwood was placed before the Board. It was decided that no action be taken in this matter at present.

Information relating to grants, which in the past had been made available to the Health Unit by the Alberta Tuberculosis Association, was given to the Board. This information was taken under advisement. It was also decided that a request should be made for discussion of such grants at the Board Members Conference to be held in Edmonton later this year.

The Financial Report for the period April 1st to August 31st, 1966 was presented and after scrutiny was approved.

Dr. Brown presented the Quarterly Medical Report for the period April - June, 1966. The following topics were touched on: Measles vaccination program, Dysentery incidence, Tuberculosis skin testing and X-ray program, Infant clinics, School services, Sabin oral vaccination program, Rheumatic Fever Prophylaxis program, Guidance clinic arrangements for this area, Dental program.

Milk producers and milk plant supervision; Swimming pools, quality of Water; Testing of water supplies, municipal, camp sites and private; Visitation of construction and lumber camps, etc.; Garbage disposal, need for improvement particularly where multiple dwellings are concerned; Restaurants, hygiene, supervision. Dwellings, considered unfit for human habitation, placarding same etc.

The report was adopted following discussion.

Dr. Brown reported that a Dental Auxiliary would be available to the Hinton area on a part time basis as from the beginning of October. The Unit will now have a Dental Auxiliary stationed at Hinton, Edson and Drayton Valley.

The meeting adjourned at 4:15 p.m.

Centennial Series Canada Savings Bonds offer you their highest interest yield ever—4.66% a year when held to maturity.

The new Bonds pay annual interest at the rate of 4% for each of the first four years; 4½% for each of the next three years; 4¾% for the following year and 5% for each of the last five years—a total of 97.75 in interest on every $100 Bond.

And for the first time, there is a special compound interest option. To take full advantage of it, leave all the annual interest uncollected until Nov. 1, 1970, and you will get interest on your interest, amounting to $97.75 extra on every $100 Bond.

It all adds up to total interest of $100 on every $100 Bond. It's a safe, sure way to save. DOUBLE YOUR MONEY with Canada Savings Bonds Centennial Series.

This Series retains all the traditional features which make Canada Savings Bonds Canada's most favoured investment.

They are still easy to buy for cash or on instalments where you work, bank or invest.

You may buy as little as $50 or as much as $10,000. Every Canadian resident may buy up to this limit. So can estates.

They are still simple to cash, anytime, at any bank in Canada for their full face value plus earned interest. Just fill out the redemption form on the Bond, present it to your bank and you'll get your money right away.

And now they're better than ever to keep with the highest interest yield ever and interest on interest. DOUBLE YOUR MONEY with Canada Savings Bonds Centennial Series.

CAPITAL REPORT

STUDY STARTED ON YOUTH

By JOHN WARREN

A couple of interesting developments last week that indicate the new Youth Department may be starting to move out its pen.

The first was the appointment of a three-member committee under the Public Inquiries Act to study juvenile delinquency in Alberta. While no official connection is known, this and the new department was made in the cabinet order that set up the committee, the work would seem to fall naturally under this department at some future date.

The group's study will be an interesting one, and could prove fruitful.

Another under passed by the cabinet last week is of very direct interest to the young cabinet minister from this Peace Hills Dodsbury. It was a special warrant for $141,000 to establish a recreation branch in his department.

Also of interest to the young people is an announcement by Highways Minister Taylor that a careful reappraisal will be made of scooter legislation in Alberta. The province is one of the few places in North America where 14 year olds can legally drive scooters. And scooters themselves have developed from small, low speed bikes into the high powered machines identified with "The Wild Ones," and the Hell's Angels."

Some legislative changes can be expected at the session next spring.

The cabinet passed 50 orders last week — one of them for $125,000 to help with development at the new Adult Vocational Training School at booming Fort McMurray.

Growth in the government guided oil sands community is so fast these days it's hard to keep up with.

The by-election in Pincher Creek-Crowsnest didn't show the fourth sign last week of attracting province-wide attention.

Most communities showed fourth many concerns, and quite naturally, for the voting that will take place in all municipalities on October 19. Potential mayoralty seekers, councillors and school board members are already slugging it out in communities across Alberta.

An issue in many centres is far more than a few seats and personalities.

Plebiscites on everything from library construction to community development will be held in quite a number. And a considerable portion of the municipalities will be voting on two long-contentious issues — fluoridation and commercial Sunday sport.

When the results are in the provincial government will certainly be able to see some trends — and to act on them in appealing to the public the next time Mr. Manning decides to call an election.

The cabinet last week named W. H. (Bill) Macdonald, 50, to the post of clerk of the legislative assembly. Well known and well liked after nine years as publicity officer with the department of lands and forests Mr. MacDonald replaces Raymond Gretchin, who died August 27.

Last but to some readers not least the Alberta Liquor Control Board has announced some price increases. Most Scotch will go up 30 cents per 26 ounce. Beer will remain the same price and some wines will drop in cost.

The changes coincide south with the meeting of 1,200 Alberta members of Alcoholics Anonymous in Edmonton this weekend.

East District Doins

By PERN ICE

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Emile Roy (Marie) of Kamsack who were married last Saturday afternoon in Edson. Their wedding dance in Lac La Biche last week was well attended by the numerous friends of this popular young couple.

The Goode family of Edmonton spent the weekend with relatives in the district.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Hunter and Jack drove to Edmonton on Sunday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hattin and family.

Lea Shantz went to Fox Creek Sunday for a few days on his job as cat skinner.

Vivian Steinwandt is a patient in St. John's Hospital in Edson.

The Shantz family and John Metcalfe are among the latest to enjoy Rural Electrification and we see the transformer all ready and waiting in the Bill Hunter yard.

Many local residents are on the sick list the past week or so. Hunters to date have reported scant success due to lack of flocking soon and some under foot. If seems some animals have an edge on the hunter for a change.

Sept birthdays: Pamela Peters, Sept 24, Floyd Thomas, 25, Bud Thomas, 26, and little Miss Maxine Hawks, Sept 29.

Here's a switch if as usual Beard ate dog lobs woman dog thes. Nope he wasn't just poisoned his two sisters by a car. He just up and kicked the bucket. We'd disclose the name of the woman but it's face it I just hate being embarrassed. Wouldn't for the world admit that the hound is yours truly.

PS Beat you to it you nasty people.

The Ike Thomas family were pleasantly surprised Thursday evening to receive a telephone call from Mrs. Harold Peterson of Norwalk, California. A few evenings earlier Floyd and Mary Thomas had a call from Mrs. Bill Hawks (Beverley Thomas) also of California. These far away relatives had just learned of newly installed telephones in the Thomas homes.

Mrs. Allolter and a friend were visiting friends and former neighbors in the district Friday afternoon.

Grace Novosity just missed the Bingo jackpot recently. Her number stood between hers and a big win. We know you should have had that cold beef cleaver, Grace.

Mrs. Garis left for Bonnyville after a better than usual vacation with relatives in the community.

His many friends are sad to learn John Jackson has had a fall from Mrs. Bill's lovely hospital

Lethbridge Pilsner

Many people like the happy taste of our own home grown hops in Lethbridge Pilsner — a blend of several fine brews in the best Bavarian tradition. The brewmaster adds just the right amount of whole grain pearl rice to give a subtle "extra" to the choice barley. Lively tasting Lethbridge Pilsner, truly satisfying beer!

Two great brews from
SICKS' LETHBRIDGE BREWERY LTD.

Lethbridge lager

Many prefer the mellow taste of the malt in Lethbridge Lager beer — often called "Lager Beer" because of its naturally aged, smooth lager brewed with a special yeast culture then warm filtered for extra refreshing clarity and flavor. Bright, floral quality long lager beer at its best ... Bottle or Can!

Letter to Editor

Sir:

There comes a time when our faith in mankind is put to the test. Man with so called human intelligence pulls off honors that causes one to stop and ponder. Take for example our current, man destined game hens.

For a few a person buys a big game license and is free to go out and shoot moose, elk, etc. Just show us the hunter who can give any guarantee that he can kill his animal with one shot!

Even the veteran dead-eye duck is not above a flock shot now and then with the result that he wounds the next and with no tracking sense to assist him; is forced to give up the chase.

We've heard several tales of woe this fall about the big one that was knocked off but fled but got up before the job was finished and got away.

We need not draw a picture I'm sure as any dope can visualize the result. The animal has a choice die or die he looks live and grow fat on crabbers for next hunting season.

The law takes care of wives kids and domestic animals and we think it's high time someone rubs the dollar signs from before his eyes, and looks a bit deeper into Game Regulations.

In our opinion a moose on the hoof is far more enticing than a steak on the table so if we had any say in the matter there would be no wholesale slaughter of God's denizens of the forests.

Steve Craddock returned Legion Zone Commander

Reports at last from Edson, Jasper, Hinton, Wildwood and Drayton Valley attended the Royal Canadian Legion Zone meeting in Edson last Sunday afternoon. Steve Craddock of Edson was re-elected as Zone Commander for another term of office.

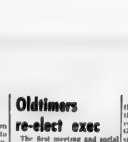
The business meeting was comparatively short with part of the business being deferred to the District meeting. This is to be held in the Evansburg Legion Hall on Sunday, October 16.

Following the meeting the ladies of the Edson Branch Auxiliary served a delicious lunch before the visitors left for home.

It had been expected that representatives from the Robb Branch of the Legion would be down as well, but the first snow of the season on the Coal Branch made it impossible for them to attend.

Oldtimers re-elect exec

The first meeting and social evening of the Edson & District Oldtimers Association was held last Friday night in the 25th Hall. The main business of the evening was the election of officers for the present term.



RON McNEVEN was chosen as manager for Edson's new arena at the Council meeting on Tuesday evening. Ron is well known in Edson as one of the town most enthusiastic sports boosters. Three applications were received for the position.

The hill is bad enough, but a wounded animal left to suffer for the consequences of man's greed and ego just doesn't fit into the picture of mankind's superiority, intelligence and kindness.

Pam Inc

Pooling that they had filled their position very capably in the past those present returned Mr Bill York and Mr. George Maclean to their respective offices of president and secretary treasurer.

Cards and a sing song were enjoyed by all. Also much appreciated were the refreshments offered by Mr Ed Rennmark and Mrs. Elsie Pysar Mr Ernie Fowler also sang some solos which were rounded by applauded

Candidates forum to be held Oct. 14

Each year keep interest is shown in the vacancies and results of the Civic Election in Edson. Edson is lucky in having civic minded citizens who are willing to let their names stand for election to round out a responsible civic administration

Helping to promote this interest the Chamber of Commerce each year sponsors a public forum to give each candidate the opportunity to express his or her views on civic matters. This year the forum will be held in Canadian Legion Hall next Friday, October 14th starting at 8:00 p.m.

It should be noted that eight candidates have put their names forward to contest this election: two for Mayor and six for Council with three Council vacancies to be filled. These men, by their willingness to be candidates, have shown their public spirited attitude in giving their time to serve, if elected

The Public Forum, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, gives the people of the town the opportunity to hear the candidates. They will have the opportunity to weigh and consider the opinions expressed before casting their votes on election day for the candidates of their choice

Former local girls city Honors Students

Further to a recent news item regarding scholarships that had been awarded to a former Edson girl, Miss Joan Affolter, we have received word of other honors being held on Joan.

Recall achieved the status of honor student in graduating from the Ste. Jean Baptiste High School in the Province of Alberta. Joan was elected as class valedictorian for the graduation exercises. The exercises were held on last September 23th.

The graduation was attended by Joan's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Hans Affolter Sr. of Edson as well as her grandmother Mrs. Mary Berger. Mrs. Marie Salvesen and Ed. all of Edson. A dinner party was held at Joan's home in her honor following the exercises.

Joan received scholarships totalling $1,850 at the completion of her high school education. They included The B. A. J. Parks Deferred Scholarship in Medicine, The University Women's Club of Edmonton, The Royal Canadian Legion Scholarship, The Queen Elizabeth Scholarship Fund and University of Alberta Honors prize.

She is presently enrolled in the University of Alberta Faculty of Arts in the pre med pattern. She plans to study medicine on the completion of her two year pre med course.

Joan's sister Adele, with her in the accompanying photo, also received an honors diploma on Grade Nine departmentals this year. The girls both began their schooling in Edson. Adele taking two years to complete three grades and Joan taking five years to complete six grades.

They are the daughters of Mrs. Marjorie Affolter of Edmonton and Mr. Hans Affolter of Smith, N.W.T.

Letter to Editor

Dear Sir,

On behalf of the Salvation Army and the less fortunate that we are privileged to serve, I would like to express sincere gratitude to those who so kindly contributed to the Salvation Army Red Shield Campaign.

After rendering service on the Salvation Army Local Committee for the past eighteen years, Mr. William MacDonald has had to relinquish this responsibility due to ill health. The Salvation Army wished to publicly express its profound gratitude to Mr. MacDonald for the faithful discharge of his duties and his work among the people of Edson and district.

I am pleased to announce that Mr. Walter Fowler and Mr. Arthur Leotard have kindly agreed to assume the positions of chairman and secretary of the Local Committee. Other members of the Salvation Army Committee will be announced later in the month.

Yours very sincerely,

5th Annual A.I.C. Awards

Calgary Power is proud to announce 1966 Award Winners

Group Award
RIMBEY JUNIOR HIGH STUDENTS represented by
BERNIE BARTKO and GREG TROITSKY

Alberta Junior Citizens of the Year.

The enterprising Rimbey Junior High School students spend many hours selling magazine subscriptions — but not for their own profit. They are earning money to help children in Korea, Italy and Zambia. For six years they have shown an exceptional sense of responsibility in supporting two foster children, Kim Jung Kan of South Korea and Ottavia Tollis of Italy. Also, for the past two years, they have provided the money for six Zambian children to continue their education. In the past year alone they have contributed nearly five hundred dollars to these needy children.

This unselfish giving of their time and money makes these boys and girls worthy winners of this year's Junior Citizen of the Year Group Award.

We congratulate the Rimbey Junior High School students and thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active co-operation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor owned electric utility companies.

This is one of a series of Junior Citizen Award announcements. Our special thanks to Jack Parry, Editor of the Rimbey Record and to the group's nominator, Helen Cooke of Rimbey.

Centennial Report

1867 1967 by JOHN W. FISHER
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

For a long time I have been making casual use of the term "birthday party" when talking about our Centennial of Confederation in 1967. Let me warn you: one must be careful!

I haven't heard from the Vikings of course but at least one member of every other race or cultural group which has had pre-Confederation roots in Canada has been my ear on the subject of the true birth date of Canada. They include English, Scottish, Jew ish, Indians, of course, can discount the first two claims.

Most disputes I have heard are good natured ones. I am happy to say. It is only to a few that I need explain that the "birthday" celebrations next year are to mark the 100th anniversary of the Confederation that made Canada a federal state. (The period in history when Canada actually was "born" perhaps can only be discussed with any valid logic by geologists and archaeologists — separately of course).

When that step was taken in 1867 to make Canada a single federal state one of the Fathers of Confederation said We are striving to do peacefully what Holland and Belgium, Austria and Hungary, Denmark and Germany, Russia and Poland, could only accomplish by armed force. Have we not great cause of thankfulness that we have found a better way? Can the pages of history find a pee allel?"

In this world there have been a few other federal states formed without war, since our Confederation of 1867 some of the modern examples unfortunately have come apart again.

The birth of our Confederation was an event like no other in history. Confederation has continued successfully for 100 years and the "birth day" is worth celebrating. I'm sure, up

Have you thought about adopting a child?

It is more blessed to give than to receive, but when you give love to your adopted child you are blessed with the return of an unselfish love. There are countless children in Alberta who are denied the right of parental love and security, so vital to all humans. They look to you — can you deny them this love? Talk it over at your nearest Welfare Office — there are 30 in Alberta . . . or write

World-wide friendships made at Rover Moot

Three members of the Edson Pathfinder Rover Crew attended the 5th Canadian Pathfinder Rover Moot at Parksville, Vancouver Island, the end of August. Six other Edsonites attended the Moot as members of the Dogwood Unit. Allan Bosnworth and Greg Gold

The Edson contingent arrived at the Moot site on Parksville days. August 23, where we set up camp with several members from the greater Toronto region

Ceremonies were held the following day and the Moot was officially opened. Hundreds were there. The Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia and Prince Philip were also present at the Moot site on Saturday afternoon.

Activities were held throughout the week both camp wise and Moot wide. There was the Moot Olympics, the Moot Sing-Song, the Moot Dance, and the Moot Banquet.

Tuesday was spent in camp by some while others toured the Provincial Capital of Victoria. Wednesday was a day of rest for all. Thursday was the camp day and all Rovers attended church services of their choice. Later that afternoon all fed on pot luck and salmon bake was held courtesy of the Island Indians who cooked the fish.

Friday was the day of the Moot Banquet. Guests included Lieutenant Governor of British Columbia Honourable Mr. Justice Bull, Minister of Highways. There was departure for the most part some duels following the banquet.

Saturday was spent in camp by some while others toured Victoria. Sunday was a camp day and everyone prepared to leave camp and head for home. Mementos, autographs and souvenirs were swapped and as our bus headed out from the Moot site we had a last Canadian Rover Moot song. We had all had the time of our lives.

The Moot had not been all play and relaxation. Some serious discussions were held on about six subjects at the Moot. Some of them were: the Vietnam war and politics.

We had learned a lot on the Moot and each Rover was responsible for his own actions all participated in the moot and I hope

There were about 240 Rovers from Quebec attending, as part of a federal project. Many of the boys could not speak a word of English.

After the moot Allan and Greg went to Seattle to spend some time with Alla and the good Dogwood friend in Vancouver while waiting for the last ferry to connect and could get home.

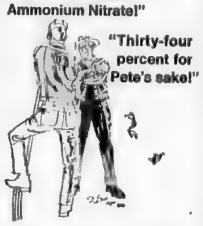
"I understand Elephant Brand's got a 43% Granular Ammonium Nitrate!"



"Thirty-four percent for Pete's sake!"

He should get it right and get it this fall. New 34% Granular Ammonium Nitrate by Elephant Brand is available only through your Elephant Brand dealer. Cominco produces Canada's only granular ammonium nitrate, the only one with 34% nitrogen. It gives more plant food per spreader load, which means fewer stops. It is non-caking and flows evenly for uniform application.

And consider this: New 34% granular ammonium nitrate is now being used in making Elephant Brand 23-23-0 and 27-14-0. Result — products made up entirely of fast, uniform granules that stay uniform and flow evenly through any applicator.

Taken all around, Elephant Brand 34% N is the greatest granular nitrate fertilizer to hit the ground for Pete's or anybody else's sake!

Relaxation of certain restrictive traffic regulations in the National Parks have been announced by Northern Affairs Minister Arthur Laing.

Among other changes the amendments modify a number of restrictions affecting commercial trucking operations in and through Canada's Mountain National Parks.

Restrictions limiting commercial trucking operations over the Banff-Windermere Highway in the Kootenay and Banff National Parks area to the night hours have now been lifted.

THIS PHOTOGRAPHER used a rifle instead of a camera when he shot those two bear. Jack Weeders, at left, a professional photographer from Vermilion was out with local guide Rob Scutthorpe, at right, when he got these two animals up the Swanson Road. The black bear estimated to be about 300 pounds, was shot last Thursday morning on Hornbeck Creek. The next morning Mr. Weeders was waiting on a game trail when the grizzly came running along and stopped about 12 yards away, just long enough for a fatal shot from Jack's 7mm Shultz and Larson rifle. They estimated the grizzly to be about 500 pounds. Both bear had especially good pelts and Mr. Weeders planned to have them both tanned.

Centennial is a-go-go

greed that the arena be used to hold a party for all the children in town. Citizens might gladly donate cash to buy the treats that could be given out there and the children would be off the streets.

Thanksgiving again presents the opportunity for special church services.

In accordance Day would be the time for all groups to get behind the Legion and praise that at the going down of the sun we will remember them." We would not perhaps be planning these various festivities had it not been for the efforts of our service men in years past.

This leaves only December without mention, but since Christmas is basically a family day outside activities should not be planned.

So we have gone through the year with our suggestions it seems like quite a list, but with the many active groups in Edson it should easily be filled.

The Lion's have set a good example of what determination and hard work can do in their park project. The business pal Edson on the Centennial May with their rode to Grande Prairie. So now it is up to the rest of us to do our bit.

The plum in the pudding has not yet been mentioned that is the revival of "The Edson Story." This is one project that many feel would be a highlight of our year. All it needs is someone to start the ball rolling.

Added to all these proposed projects are such definite ones as the dedication ceremonies for the arena and the Lion's park and the Elks park if it is ready. Since all dignitaries will be filling their time tables with requests from many towns it will be necessary to plan all these events well in advance so speakers may be obtained.

1967 is a big year for all Canada so let us show that we can produce a really big show.

Silver Anniversary celebrated by popular priest

The Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church was filled with parishioners and other friends of Rev. Father George Gunnip on October 12, as they helped him celebrate the 25th anniversary of his ordination into the priesthood

The celebration opened with the long celebrated Mass of St. Alphonsus with five priests in attendance. The Homily was given by Fr. Santo Pinto on the theme "The Value of Priesthood".

Later, during the buffet supper in the church hall, Fr Gunnip was presented with a silver chalice by his parishioners. Two of their pastor's stories were recalled at the head table Father Pankhurst told Edson three years ago He was commended for the re sponses of the altar boys and the congregation's responses during the Mass

Father Ebnan responded to the address and following the presentation of the silver chalice by Mr Grand Father Gunnip extended his thanks to all who had joined with him in his Silver Jubilee celebration to make it such a memorable occasion

Manpower Centre is the name for old NES

A change of name, from National Employment Office to Canada Manpower Centre, was announced today by C W. Johnson, manager of the local office of the former National Employment Service.

Mr Johnson said that the new name reflects more accurately the emphasis that the Service is placing on counselling, training, labor force mobility, up-grading, research, and labor market information.

Rapid technological change is the reason for the increasingly important role that the Canada Manpower Centre must undertake.

If the economy is to prosper, it must take advantage of new and improved ways of doing business, and, to make this possible, the labor force must be extremely adaptable and mobile. It is the job of the Canada Manpower Centre to assist the labor force to respond to these changes.

Mr Johnson said that both employers and employees will benefit from the new and improved service from the Canada Manpower Centre and urged them to make full use of his office for every employment and labor market need.

BRUNELLE for MAYOR

LEADER SPORTS

with MEL SOLTYS

With the World Series completed and Baltimore Orioles reigning as 1966 World Champions, our feature story in this week's column deals with another successful baseball team

The Nilon Central Pony League baseball team shares the spotlight as a result of their play this year. Their season came to an end recently and the Nilon team went through play undefeated. Curtailed somewhat by poor weather and lack of more competition, Nilon played only six games but in each encounter, they literally outclassed their rivals to such a degree that opposition coaches and managers marvel at the potential of this team

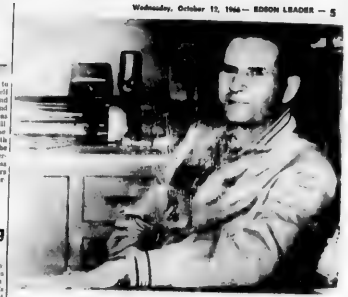
As Ken Tupman coach of Edson's Pony League entry, puts it "We thought our roster was well balanced and even preserved players with good senior baseball potential This Nilon team, however, just has too much depth and their players perform well over the level of Pony League caliber" (The age limit of Pony League is 18 years and under). This summation from Ken came after his team absorbed 10-4 and 20-6 defeats at the hands of the Nilon boys in a home and away series

The man behind this fine Nilon team is Charlie Irwin of Carrot Creek who assembled the squad three years ago. Since that time, he has done a tremendous building job which is borne out by his teams record Nilon has chalked up fourteen wins and game down to defeat only once during that period The sole loss was to Nilon in 1965 by a close 7-6 margin

Charlie's team is comprised of players from three areas. Pitchers Greg Mesopoulis and Bonnie Blair, who also perform at other positions which not pitching, had from Nilon Junction as do third baseman Patty McPhee, outfielder Dave Kurrie and second sacker Brian Mesopoulis. From Mac Kay comes catcher Bruce Phillips, first baseman Jim Delaney and outfielder Steve Bewsas The remainder of the line-up is made up of shortstop Gary Brandle and Phil Salway, an outfielder, who reside in the Carrot Creek area.

As most of his players will not be eligible for Pony League competition next season, Charlie Irwin has plans to form a Juvenile team and intends to enter the team in the Alberta Juvenile Provincial playdowns

Charlie is 71 years of age and the work he is doing and has done for baseball in the Carrot Creek Mackay and Nilon areas in too numerous to list A good player himself when he toiled as a pitcher and outfielder for Carrot Creek and Mackay for years, Charlie has either played or been affiliated with the game of baseball for close to 50 years With the work he is doing with the minors, it will be most interesting to watch the progress and future results of players in Nilon Junction and surrounding locales.



CHARLIE IRWIN, Carrot Creek, honored this week as Mr. Baseball, himself.

Have you ever wondered...

...what skills are necessary for a successful farmer?

Agriculture, motor mechanics, irrigation, horticulture, bookkeeping, welding, to name only a few. And his wife has to be just necessary, part cook, part homemaker, part gardener and part dressmaker. Future farmers and future wives of farmers can learn all these skills at the Alberta Agricultural and Vocational Colleges in Olds, Vermilion and Fairview. In addition to courses which teach the skills and knowledge required for a career in farming or a related occupation, the Colleges also offer high school academic studies and commercial courses. During the 1965-66 school term, 630 students attended the three Colleges and this is expected to increase to 761 during the present school year.

...how being a good technical or vocational student can help you with the finances?

Being at the top of the class means more than honor and glory to students enrolled in the Alberta Institutes of Technology or the industrial or vocational section of an approved Junior College. It means money. On the basis of need, all students in these institutions are eligible to apply for loans up to $1,000 under the Canada Students' Loan Plan and/or the Alberta Student Assistance Act through the Students' Assistance Board of the Alberta Department of Education. A student who stands in the top quarter of his class may have up to $600 of his loan converted to a grant. Those in the second quarter, up to $300. The remission system of grants is also in effect at the Alberta Agricultural and Vocational Colleges. Students at the Provincial institutions can win prizes up to $60 for high achievement achievement on our...

...what happs Alberta air on clean?

As much a part of Alberta as her mountains and grasslands is clean, fresh air. To see that it stays that way, command vigilance is maintained by the Sanitary Engineering Branch of the Alberta Department of Public Health. Under the regulations which the Branch administers, all industries and municipalities must ensure effective control of pollution, not only of air, but of water as well. Sanitary Engineering experts keep a sharp eye out to make sure these rules are observed. Public water and air pollution matters are under constant surveillance. Regular sampling programs are carried out to ensure that the effluents released to the air and to the rivers are kept within the approved limits and that the quality of the air and water is maintained at a good standard.

...how Alberta can have its forests and cut them, too!

Although lumber production in the Province is increasing every year, the "green gold" of Alberta's forests in NOT being depleted, thanks to the sustained yield policy maintained by the Forest Management Branch of the Alberta Forest Service, Department of Lands and Forests. Simply speaking, "sustained yield" means that, for every tree felled, one, and even two, should replace the original and that the yearly cut in any area should not exceed the yearly growth. To assist in maintaining forest growth and to help ensure a perpetual supply of timber for the Province, the Alberta Forest Service has planted over one million tree seedlings in the past few years.

...why there are fewer accidents at highway intersections in Alberta these days!

The answer's easy. Because there are fewer highway intersections, and the Planning Branch of the Alberta Department of Highways is working continuously to decrease the number still remaining. Elimination of private direct access to highways, and the provision of public access roads by interchanges connected only by frontage roads by the motorist but also prolongs the life of the highway and increases its capacity. Access control is just one way in which the Planning Branch fulfills its basic function, to ensure the maximum return to Albertans for each dollar invested in highway development.

...how you could turn back the clock and "unbuy" an unwise purchase!

Albertans who used to regret after buying to learn from a door-to-door salesman were here five days in which to ponder the wisdom of their action before being committed to a sales contract. Anyone within 96 hours of signing the contract, the purchaser can cancel it, under the terms of the Alberta Direct Sales Cancellation Act. The contract can be cancelled within a year if delivery is not made within 30 days of the date specified, or 120 days of the date of purchase if no date is specified. The same privilege applies if the seller was not properly licensed when he made the sale. If a cancellation notice brings no results, the purchaser may lay his claim in writing before the Alberta Minister of Industry and Development through the Licensing Branch. The Direct Sales Cancellation Act does not apply to transactions where the goods are delivered and prices paid on the spot.

Centennial Report

1867 | 1967

by JOHN W. FISHER
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

Aviation has made a great contribution to Canada's development and I am still hoping, at this date, that there will be suitable recognition of that fact in next year's Centennial celebrations.

I am referring to civil aviation and, in particular, the bush flying era of the twenties and thirties. In those days of northern development, when aeroplanes were still relatively flimsy things, more freight was moved through our north country than anywhere else in the world and the tonnage figures rivalled those of the Suez Canal.

The bush pilots who flew by the "seats of their pants" without modern navigation and communication aids have stamped their names in Canadian history and have left colorful legends known to many all over the world. Wop May, Whitey Dahl, Sandy Macdonald, Grant McConachie, Punch Dickins. These are but a few which come to mind. Some have taken the last flight beyond the cirrus clouds, others are still around.

Bush flying, the two world wars and imaginative daring and courageous men gave Canada its aviation heritage. It also has received the acknowledgement for being an important aviation country when the headquarters of the International Civil Aviation Organization was established at Montreal. Many Canadians don't realize that delegates from more than 100 countries are housed at Montreal to work and maintain standards, procedures and recommended practices for civil aviation throughout the world. (As an associated agency of the United Nations, the International Civil Aviation Organization is the only UN body based in Canada.)

A Canadian military aviation will receive recognition next year in the various air shows, with vintage and modern aircraft, and 99 posts which are planned along with events such as the Armed Forces Military Tattoo and other spectaculars. The first international free balloon race in Canada also will be a big feature on the prairies during the summer of 1967 and the Centennial International Abbotsford Air Show, at Abbotsford, B.C., will be held August 11, 12 and 13, 1967.

The National Air Museum at Ottawa has been developed into one of the best of its kind in the world and it, with its collection of aeroplanes from World War I to today, is a must for military aviation and to a limited extent, civil aviation. (I am pleased that recent acquisitions of vintage aircraft and plans for more are making the foundations for a historical bush flying collection at Ottawa).

I still have hopes that non government organizations or associations will spark interest in further events to recognize general aviation next year.

A handicap air race for vintage aircraft and displays from the twenties and thirties could be organized by aviation historical associations and flying clubs working together. I'm sure it's not too late and a meet or race would attract many Canadians by road and by air. These aviations enthusiasts in the United States and other countries who recently have developed a boom in antique aircraft restoration and aviation historical interest also would attend in great numbers. I'm sure ap

Co-op Week in Canada being observed Oct. 16-22

The week of October 16 to 22 will be observed as Co-op Week in Canada.

Individual co-operatives across the country will mark the occasion with special celebrations, rallies, essay contests, special sales, visits to central co-ops, educational programs, membership drives, etc.

Co-op Week, originally a feature of the co-operative movement in French Canada, is sponsored jointly by the Co-operative Union of Canada and La Conseil Canadien de la Co-operation.

Co-operatives in Canada had volume of business totalling $1.65 billion in 1964, an increase of $173 million over the 1963 figure.

Biggest increase in co-op business in 1964 was in grain marketing, a total of $664 million, up $118 million from 1963.

Sales of dairy products rose $247 million to $282.3 million and total sales of farm supplies and other merchandising co-ops increased by $34.3 million to $322 million.

In volume of business at provincial level, Saskatchewan retained its firm hold on first place with a total turnover of $534 million. Alberta was in second place with $291 million, followed by Quebec, $284 million, Ontario, $214 million, Manitoba, $105 million, and British Columbia, $138 million.

The total number of co-operative associations in 1964 was 2,643 or 82 fewer than in 1963. There were 1,075 purchasing co-operatives, 620 service, 304 marketing, 350 production, 80 fishermen's and 77 marketing and purchasing co-operatives.

CONSERVATIVES SAVED PARLIAMENT IN RAILWAY CRISIS

Last week John Diefenbaker led parliament and his country from the brink of disaster by demanding and obtaining changes in the Pearson Administration's strike breaking legislation. There are some who will tell you that the opposition leader was the villain during the critical debates on the government's proposed solution to the railway strike but an examination of the facts proves beyond a shadow of a doubt that he knew what was needed and was able, through his debating ability to secure the necessary amendments to the legislation in the House of Commons.

There will be many articles which will start by pursuing his definite ability only to turn this praise to scornful condemnation by stating how this ability to distort the facts and then come back after it, he dares the issue of parliament. An examination of the facts will prove to those who endeavour to picture John Diefenbaker as a man power hungry for himself and his party that on this particular occasion as on many others, he has placed Parliament first and his personal ambition for himself and his party in a secondary position.

Let us look at the developments which led to the rail way strike and the debate in Parliament which lasted four days. It had been a well known fact by the Pearson administration that action would have to be taken on the MacPherson Royal Commission's recommendation on transportation if a rail strike were to be averted. The government was also aware that the unions had narrated to the letter of the law in their efforts to secure a fair settlement to their wage negotiations or lack of them. The government knew that the management of the two major railways were doing their utmost to get a settlement with union negotiators accepting the transportation legislation.

While everyone united with varying degrees of impatience with the government allowed the strike to develop with the developing crisis there also developed a militancy within the labor forces almost unknown previously in Canada. The government had a taste of this when it became involved in the strike of shipbuilders and seamen workers. This militancy developed to such a degree in the days before the rail strike that Labour Minister Nicholson apparently was warned by labor leaders that to try to prevent the rail strike would have resulted in failure by both the government and the union leaders.

When the strike was called one would have assumed the ministers in Prime Minister Pearson would have agreed to the adoption of legislation similar to that contained by the Diefenbaker Administration in 1950 which brought an end to the possibility of a strike if the official opposition had been confronted with similar legislation it would have been difficult if not impossible for them to do anything but back the government in its efforts to bring an end to the strike.

I might point out that this legislation merely extended the collective agreement between railways and then unions for a further six months pound with no mention of strike was taken or compulsory arbitration. The end result was a satisfactory agreement between management and unions with no disruption to the country. Instead the government decided to include the pensions relations of the Munroe Conciliation Report for 1966 which awarded the employees two 4% increases for January 1st, 1966, and for July 1st, 1966.

This report recommended a further 4% increase on January 1st 1967 and 8% on July 1st 1967 but these recommendations were not included in the Bill. It should have been obvious to the government after hours, invoked itself in two previous cases, despites who instigated the purpose of its every assault in each instance that the increase for 1966 would not be suffered until the end of back to work.

The facts today are that the government under pressure included the full recommendations with an 18 months increase for these railroad as a floor. To examine Bill C-231 closely, but the almost constant blunderings of the Pearson Administration.

Canadians can derive satisfactory from the knowledge that John Diefenbaker today serves them in parliament and serves them well. Compare the effective manner in which John Diefenbaker faces his tasks to that of Prime Minister Pearson who heard his Transport Minister J. W. Pickersgill state in the House of Commons as reported on Page 10090 of Hansard, "The Prime Minister is as usual going to have to backtrack."

Jubilee launches subscription campaign

On Thanksgiving weekend, the J.J.H.S. launched its four-week annual magazine subscription sale under the Curtis Plan, starting October 7th and running to October 28th.

Under this plan the school receives from thirty to fifty per cent of the subscription sales. Prizes are the same as those requested by the magazine companies and special offers will also be handled by Jubilee salesmen.

The response to this campaign was excellent last year and, as a result the Jubilee Junior High School will be awarding scholarships to students with outstanding scholastic achievements during a special evening tentatively set for November 2nd.

As most families subscribe to one or more magazines, the purchasing of new or renewal subscriptions through the school is an excellent way to promote education in the Edson area.

Each sale will give the student salesman an entry in a provincial draw. The first four names drawn will receive an all expense paid trip to Expo 67 and the next four names drawn will receive an all expense paid trip to the Pan Americas Games which will be held in Winnipeg next summer.

Winners will be entitled to take one parent or friend with them on these trips, or they may give the trips away as presents. Winners may also choose money instead of the trip. Several Jubilee salesmen have already started plans for next summer.

NEWCOMERS TO EDSON Ron and Evelyn Linford, owners since October 11th of the Edson IGA Store, have so far been so busy getting settled in their new business that they have had very little time to get acquainted except with visitors to the store. Mr. and Mrs. Linford come to Edson from Edmonton. Ron has had 15 years experience in all phases of chain store grocery business so customers can be assured of the best in supermarket service. So far Ron has never had the time join any clubs or lodges, but is hoping to be able to look into the matter now. The Linfords both enjoy curling and bowling and without a doubt will soon be involved in one or both of those sports. Mr. Linford comes to Edson with the hope that he will be here for a long time. He feels the town and area has a great potential for the future and he is looking forward to being a part of our growing town.

The threshing is in full swing. So much so that we had a very poor turn out at our last Cemetery Bee but you will get another chance to be there before the snow blows I hope.

The rubbish has to be all burned up before any of the other work can be done.

Those present and really working were Mr. Keyes, Mr. R. Keyes, Mr. Sam Robinson, Mr. Harvey Howlett, Mr. Ed White. Ladies present were Mrs. Z. Howlett, Mrs. A. Hansen, Mrs A. Shantz. The next bee will be on the 12th of October. Will you please make the effort to be there and do your little good deed, as it seems its always the same ones that do the work. Too much of let George do it.

Mrs. H. Kerr, wishes to thank all the W.I. ladies that helped with the lunch and baked cakes for Marlene's wedding dance.

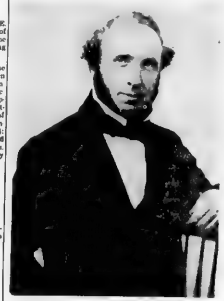
The W.I. members were saddened to learn of the death of a very active member and convenor of the district Mrs. Petra Wigley of Hattonford. Petra Wigley will be missed by many as she was always sharing another's troubles and helping where she could.

A good thing to remember and a better thing to do

Is to work with the construction gang,

And not the wrecking crew.

Founders of British Columbia



RODERICK FINLAYSON

Cattle were precious to the first settlers at Fort Victoria and when Indians feasted on some of the fort's live-stock Roderick Finlayson put a stop to it with a cannon

Finlayson who came with James Douglas to found the Hudson's Bay Company fort 1840 was in charge of the fort the following year. When Indians killed some grazing oxen he sent for the chief Quaitsomed, the chief got mad. He stalked off in a rage and assembling his Songhees and some Cowichans, peppered the fort with musketry

Finlayson sent an Indian from the Fort to the chief's lodge with instruction to clear everyone out of it. Then Finlayson blew it apart with a mountain howitzer loaded with shot. The next day the cattle were good for in fact.

Roderick Finlayson, born in Scotland in 1818, was sent to America in 1837 as a fur company clerk. He served in posts on the Columbia River until 1839 when he crossed by canoe and horseback to the Pacific coast. He worked on the Cowlitsa, on Puget Sound, at Fort Langley, Fort Nisqually and Fort Simpson.

In 1843 he assisted in the removal of properties from Fort McLoughlin on Millbanke Sound to the south end of Vancouver Island where Fort Victoria was to be built on an area roughly 100 yards square and behind an 18 foot high wall of cedar pickets.

In charge of the post for many years Finlayson was made chief trader in 1850 and chief factor in 1859. He served on the Legislative Council of the island colony from 1851 to 1863. Retired in 1872, he died in Victoria 20 years later. — B.C. Centennial Committee

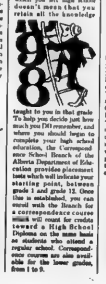
"Where the Customer is King" — Post Office Block, Edson

Have you ever wondered...

...which of Alberta's resources is most important to industry?

Alberta's people. Industry needs people . . . trained people . . . to make it go, and skilled labour is vital to industrial progress. To help the supply keep pace with the demand, the Vocational Education Division of the Alberta Department of Education maintains three Vocational Centres for adult training, in Fort McMurray, Edmonton and Calgary. Here, people learn those skills industry requires most, and which will allow them to take their proper place in the labour market. To be sure such training is in the right lands such is given personal, skilled counselling before enrolling



...where would you start if you decided to complete your high school education?

Remembering the grade at which you left high school doesn't mean that you retain all the knowledge taught to you in that grade To help you decide just how much you DO remember, and where you should begin to complete your high school education, the Correspondence School Branch of the Alberta Department of Education provides placement tests which will indicate your starting point, between grade 1 and grade 12. Once this is established, you can enrol with the Branch for a correspondence course which will count for credit toward a High School Diploma on the same basis as students who attend a regular school. Correspondence courses are also available for the home grades, from 1 to 9.

...if there's a market for footwear in Alberta?

Ask the Alberta Bureau of Statistics, a Branch of the Department of Industry and Development. This is where you'll find all the answers to statistical questions on tomorrow as easily as Alberta. If they're not in the comprehensive library of statistics you'll probably find the facts you need in one of the Bureau's publications, such as the annual "Salary and Wage Rate Survey", the monthly "Summary of General Statistics", "Alberta Industry and Resources", or "Review of Business Conditions." If you want details on the market for a specific item, the Bureau of Statistics will carry out a special survey provided there is an indication that such a market exists.

...where the parents of a cerebral palsy child can turn for assistance?

The Lonsberrys have been in Edson for the past five years, operating the Edson Confectionery. Mrs. Lonsberry became familiar in the Yardstick last winter when she worked for former owner Mrs. Harold Paul for about a month. She is an accomplished seamstress and knows her materials so that customers can look forward to continued excellent service.

LEADER SPORTS

with MEL SOLTYS

Senior Hockey will return to full on on November 10th [illegible] Edson Deacon Valley Hinton and Jasper formally agreed to a playoff schedule which will see each team participate in eight games. The league will be known as the North Country Hockey League and will have a similar season play in March of 1967 with no club [illegible] by consecutive weekend league play.

The decision came during a meeting representing meeting on Sunday October 16th in the Commodore Hotel Banquet Room. Town reps [illegible] and the Northwestern Hockey League executive sat through a two and one half hour session [illegible] meeting was adjourned. League President Mike Buziuk of Jasper presided

Several matters were left outstanding, that will be ironed out at a future league executive meeting which will be held within the next three weeks.

One of the items is that of the import ruling. Although agreement was reached between the four teams that no member team will be allowed more than three imports, the exact situation of his [illegible] caused a great deal of controversy.

The idea of putting forth a radius boundary for Edson, Hinton and Jasper was quite satisfactory but the same cannot be [illegible] Valley which is flanked by numerous towns and villages, proved to be a stumbling block

The idea of three imports is of vital importance in that each team will be able to rely on the growth and stability of its minor hockey system. Both Edson and Hinton [illegible] the weak sisters of the league due to their absence from [illegible] competitive hockey for the past few years imports on a very reduced scale are a must not to mention the fact that key injuries also would necessitate bringing in players from outside points

The members agreed, and this is most promising in the younger players in our minor ranks, that once a well regulated minor hockey league system was evident in each town, the import ruling would be done away with completely

Another tabled item was the decision of joining the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association due to the interest shown in entering the first place league finisher in the Alberta Provincial Playoffs League President Bugnda is to seek further counsel in this respect and have a full report at the next league executive meeting

The imposing financial burden in joining the CAHA which denies a gate split for each league game, is of major consequence in view of the heavy financial commitments each member town would be confronted with during the first season of play.

The other main topics discussed and passed at last Sunday's meeting were:

[illegible] Paulin, of a Stanley Cup [illegible] presented to the league champs. The [illegible] would be [illegible] to the league champs should any team defeat [illegible] games in succession [illegible] play-offs [illegible] the league.

[illegible] Each [illegible] will be allowed to [illegible] players [illegible] game only substitutions [illegible] order with the common restriction that a player would have to play six periods [illegible] game, injury or illness [illegible] become eligible for the play-offs.

[illegible] All referees in the league must be registered with the Alberta Amateur Referees Association. They will receive a minimum salary [illegible] and with compensation for travelling etc. Each team will be responsible for [illegible] referee when playing at home with the visiting team bearing their own expenses to complete the [illegible] schedule.

[illegible] the publication of a league schedule and the appointment of a publicity director in each member town

Edson boys do well in inter-school tourney

Twenty two Edson High School boys travelled by bus to Hinton last Saturday, October 15 to take part in the Hinton Cross Country Race and Inter-school Flag Football tournament

The cross country team made a fine showing with Harold [illegible] finishing second in a field of 142 runners. Harold had a time of 13 minutes 19 seconds. Jim Berks finished 5th Jim Berkbywith 9th and Gordon Archer 43rd. The winning runner was Ray Poulin from Hinton with a time of 12 minutes 8 seconds for the 2½ mile course.

Nilon Central School won the trophy for best team performance and also won the trophy for the highest aggregate

The Edson High School flag football team won all three games with scores 12-7 over Hinton 26-7 over Nilon and 45-13 over Evansburg.

The local school Hinton should be congratulated for the way in which the sports program was carried out successfully.

The Edson athletes should feel proud as they carried the school colors to victory in flag football and had a fine showing in the cross country. The coaches were warmed by the good sportsmanship shown on all side throughout the day

Baseball pool winners

Winners in the World Series baseball pools conducted by the Edson Business Club were announced at the conclusion of game three of the series. Harold Salant Bolton, Ed Edwards, John McNamara and [illegible] Normally the pool runs for seven games but with Kelly's team winning the series in four the [illegible] ball pool [illegible] the [illegible] Edwards were [illegible] out of three days of fund [illegible] raising.

All proceeds went into the Edmonton Club arena project fund. With $15 000 pledged toward the arena facilities, the first project will be the completion of additional dressing rooms.

This will get underway next week. Second project will be providing extra seating on the south side of the arena and the third will be to install heating for the stands so that [illegible] can watch [illegible] in comfort [illegible]

Centennial Report

1867 1967

by JOHN W. FISHER
CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONER

You've heard of the popular term explosion. Have you heard about the information explosion?

In this fast age I am told mankind's total knowledge is increased daily by thousands of items of new information produced by scientists, engineers and other professionals. The problem is how to get the information out to people who can use it. It's no good filed away in office cabinets.

In a way we are faced with problems of an information explosion at the Centennial Commission. The Confederation Exhibition Train and Caravans touring Canada from coast to coast next year, for example, will be stopping at more than 800 communities. That means more than 800 place names and more than 800 dates of arrival, will herald events in the cities and towns in the weeks before the occasions. But to let all the people in all of Canada known months in advance about every date and every location for each event we believe would create an information explosion on the order of about six mega bytes (one thousand bytes at the Centennial Commission also claim that it couldn't be done!)

It's a great challenge to get information out across the land to all the people — particularly those who are still in the planning stage.

I think my mother of my listening audience is asked that when she asked a question at an auditorium recently.

"I'm from White Rock originally but I subscribe, and I'm having friends from the States visiting me in the middle of May. Can you tell me what is happening in our area then?"

Well, fortunately, I had a set of our computerized data banks with me and was able to answer, after a little search and, one of the Confederation Caravans would be stopping in White Rock for two days in May, the 13th and 14th.

Not that we can come up with all the answers all of the time but I realize that a lot of people in many places have similar questions in their minds.

May, I suggest, if you can't find the right answers, that you try Information Services, Centennial Commission, P.O. Box 1967, Ottawa. We'll try to beat this information explosion yet!

MR. and MRS. DONALD H. LAHL

Edson United Church was the setting for the ceremony on Saturday, October 1st, in which Arlene Joan Bergeron and Donald Henry Lahl were united in marriage. Rev. Donald MacPherson performed the ceremony for the daughter of Mr. Adolph J. Bergeron of Edson and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lahl of Enderby, B.C.

Bouquets of gladiola and sweet peas decorated the front of the church for the occasion.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a floor length gown of rayon organza lace embossed with an all over all pattern of raised velvet roses. The bodice featured lilly point sleeves and a boat neckline which was accentuated by a shoulder length bouffant veil gathered to a pearl tiara style headpiece. She carried a dainty bouquet of red roses. Pearl droplet necklace and earrings, a gift of the groom, enhanced her wedding ensemble.

Mrs. Lorna Imker, sister of the bride was matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Miss June Ilnicki. They were identically styled floor length gowns of rayon organza in pink and blue shades featuring bell skirts.

Mr. Merlin Bergeron of Edmonton, brother of the bride, was best man. Ushers were ushered by Larry Beuter of Edmonton, nephew of the bride.

Mrs. Mary Bergeron, aunt of the bride, wore a wool crepe suit in light blue shade with pink corsage and accessories. Mrs. Lahl wore a pebbled dress in coral shade with white accessories and corsage.

A reception was held in the Edson Motor Hotel for 40 guests. Master of ceremonies was Bill Desmond from Edmonton. Toast to the bride was proposed by William Orborne and responded to by the groom. Following the reception a wedding dance was attended by about 100 friends who called to extend best wishes to the newlyweds. Music was provided by four Rock orchestra from Edmonton.

Leaving from the dance for a honeymoon the bride donned a suit in light green shade with gold accessories accented by a corsage of sweetheart roses in pink shade.

Southern Alberta I. of T. seeks oldest graduate

Canada's oldest technical institute, the Southern Institute of Technology, is scouting the country for a graduate of the class of 1910 to help celebrate its 50th anniversary on October 13th.

Donald Fleming, principal of the institute and a member of its staff since 1937, is confident that somewhere in Canada a graduate of the first courses began in 1910 at the Colonel Walker school will be found.

The first graduate of Canada's oldest technical institute will receive a prize and an all expense paid trip to Calgary for the special jubilee celebrations.

At the outset, the school was called the Provincial Institute of Technology and Art and the principal was Dr. J. C. Miller, a pioneer in the field of technical and trade training in Canada and Alberta's first director of technical education.

A graduate of the technical institute of this era will recall such early courses as telegraphy for station agents or steam tractor maintenance and repairs.

He may even remember a day in 1922 when the offices and classes of about 350 students then enrolled at the institute were moved to a new $1.5 million building replaced the most modern school in the West — and which still serves the institute today.

Since the foundation of the institute in 1910 when five students registered for classes under seven instructors, more than 50-000 students have enrolled for technical courses.

Nearly 7,000 of them are enrolled at the institute today. They are receiving tuition in more than 500 subject through day night and correspondence courses.

Today comprehensive courses in the technologies [illegible] art and education with [illegible] specialized programs [illegible] of technology and [illegible] Edmonton [illegible] courses in the down trade subjects offered in 1910.

All of the earliest graduates are extended an expenses all-[illegible] invitation to return to the campus for jubilee day celebration and are asked to write or phone Mr. Fleming at the institute.

The morning of Jubilee Day the institute will be holding an open house for former staff and students who will be able to see the many changes that have occurred over the years including the current construction of the Institute's 12 million dollar Tower Building.

Highlight of the afternoon ceremonies will be an official address by Alberta's Lieutenant Governor Dr. Grant MacEwan in the Southern Alberta [illegible]

CAPITAL REPORT

ALBERTA ECONOMY ADVANCING ON ALL FRONTS

By JOHN WARREN

There were a couple of rather interesting items last week which rated attention, if only because of their apparent contradiction.

The first was a report of the provincial statistician which showed the economy of Alberta advanced on practically all fronts — at least until last this year.

For instance, income from grain (including payments by the wheat board) totalled almost $200,000,000 to the end of July, compared to just un $100,000,000 in the same period last year. Livestock income in the same period rose nearly $30,000,000 to about $175,000,000.

The story was much the same in other areas. Tourism (indicated by the number of visitors to national parks) was up more than 13 per cent to a total of 2,000,000 people. Total wages and salaries went up about 12 per cent.

...h much for the economy, and you would think government revenues along with it was on the upswing.

Thus it came as a bit of a surprise last week when the province announced it was going to have to borrow $35,000,000. Such a step hasn't been taken since 1962 and then it was for less than half that sum. The problem lies in oil revenues in the early part of the year which weren't up to the level expected.

However, the picture isn't really very dark. Provincial Treasurer A. O. Aalborg says the money will probably be recouped at a major oil lease sale later this month, or most certainly by the end of the fiscal year.

There are a couple of other indications that business is booming in assorted parts of Alberta.

The government last week called for bids to build a pulp mill in the Grande Prairie area. Interested developers will have until July First of next year to conduct exploratory surveys in the area and submit their proposals for the operation.

And Mcintyre Porcupine Mines Limited of Toronto announced it would spend about two million dollars to open three coal prospects in the Smoky River area. It's estimated there are a billion tons of coal there—half of it metallurgical coal with a potential market in Japan.

It's also getting to be that time of year when the various trade, professional and service groups make their annual pitches to the cabinet in hopes that legislation they're seeking will be presented at the spring session of the legislature.

One of those last week was the Federation of Home and School Associations which repeated its concern over lack of funds for educational research in Alberta. It asked for particular consideration on studies of the kindergarten and pre-school group.

The other group last week represented the Alberta Veterinary Association. It asked the government to bear part of the cost for immunization of cows from animals. The association said the farmer cannot afford expensive diagnostic services and suggested the government could channel into the area some of the funds formerly used for brucellosis control.

Optometrists don't like health plan

Alberta's largest profession of vision care finds the Alberta Optometric Association reports that optometric patients are expressing surprise and disappointment that adequate provision is not made for optometric services in Alberta's present health plans. They are writing letters to Premier Manning pointing out the unfairness of the present health plans.

"We have been telling our patients that a solution is being worked out by the Government but unless the legislation is amended soon, we feel that their attitude towards those responsible for this situation will become much harder" said Dr. Mc Nabb, President of the AOA.

Complete eye examinations are now included under M.S.I. where the examination is done by an ophthalmologist. "The limited number of ophthalmologists in the province cannot possibly serve the numbers of Albertans needing eye examinations. Some patients are having to wait weeks or months for an appointment. Optometrists are licensed to provide the same eye examination service, but are precluded from doing so under the plans as they presently stand" said Dr. Mc Nabb.

Many Blue Cross and Alberta Medical Plan policy holders are unaware that under the Extended Health Benefits eye examinations are not paid for if the subscriber has no other claims against his policy in any year. We feel that when these citizens realize this they may lose confidence in the whole Alberta Medicare Program" says Dr. McNabb.

Alberta optometrists feel that visual examinations should be obtainable with equal ease by all members of the community whether they live in the country, where optometrists provide all the visual care, or in the city where both professions serve.

"I feel it would be appropriate for those optometric patients who feel that optometric services should be covered by the Alberta Medical Plan, to make their feelings known by writing to Premier Manning shortly," concluded Dr. McNabb.

SUMMER RALLY

The Peers Girls 4-H Cloth ing Club has re-organized and is now off and running again At present the girls are in the throes of planning for what hopes to be another busy and enjoyable year.

On August 3rd the Peers 4-H Clubs played host to all the 4-H clubs in District 14. They was in the form of a sports rally at the McLeod Valley Picnic Grounds. Due to bad weather, etc. there was not too big a crowd, but all those who did attend reported a fine time. Ice cream, chocolate bars, pop, drinks and lunch were free to all. The winner of the sports events were presented with 4-H gadgets, pen and pencil sets, pins and crests.

During the afternoon a 4-H Cup, donated by Mr. Bud Mossman, was presented to Sharon Mitsch of Glenwood for the Cooking Club. Another cup donated by Chris & Pearls Beauty Salon was presented by Bunger for having the best project book in the first year cooking class.

Mr. Boydon Mahon was kind enough to present the cups on behalf of Bill Switzer MLA, who was also arriving due to stress of business.

The Rally was made possible through the joint financial support of the following organizations and people. Peers business people made up of Jackson's Cafe, Peers Hotel, J. Rush Store, Chris & Pearls, Bud Mossans Sales & Service, the Peers FUA Local, Peers Lions Club, and the Wheat Pool.

On behalf of the 4-H Clubs and other leaders I would like to extend our sincere thanks to these people. A special thanks to the Lions Club members who were so helpful on Rally Day.

Edson Locals

Mr. Ernest Patton, an accountant from Edmonton, arrived at the weekend to begin employment with the firm of Topham and Berthelson.

Mrs. Maisie Bisley of Vancouver is visiting her mother and other relations here this week.

Mr. Bill York was proudly showing some visitors from the old country around last week. They were his cousin Mrs. Wiggins and her daughter Marjorie from England. The visitors had arrived in Edson on Thanksgiving Day having come from Toronto by plane. After a week they were returning to Toronto by train so that they could see more of Canada on their first trip. Mrs. Wiggins felt she liked the west better than what they had seen of the Toronto area and said that England had nothing to compare with the scenery around Jasper.

THE KINSMEN suit of the month club is going strong again and the first winner was Harvey Paulson of Glenwood. Here Harvey at right, receives his suit certificate and the congratulations on his win from Mel Soltys, chairman of the Kinsmen raffle committee. The draw was made Saturday, October 1st during the Legion Bingo.

Couple attend chiropractic seminar

Dr. and Mrs. Ken Harrison were among the Alberta chiropractors attending a two-day meeting of the Alberta Chiropractic Association at the Capri Motor Hotel in Red Deer, Oct. 15 and 16.

Among the other business of the convention they participated in a day long workshop seminar conducted by Dr. M. Boyd Chance of Coral Gables, Florida.

In an extensive and detailed [illegible] Dr. Chance explained that the lack of proper exercise on today's way of life has resulted in a pronounced loss of muscle tone — flabby muscles — and the running susceptibility to such strain, on a large portion of our population.

Interviewed at the meeting, Dr. Chance said that the high incidence of industrial back strain claims to workmen's compensation commissions and ordinary companies had made this aspect of the profession of major importance to both the chiropractor and the insurance company.

Asked about the reason for the rising prevalence of such injuries, Dr. Chance explained that the lack of proper exercise on today's way of life has resulted in a pronounced loss of muscle tone — flabby muscles — and the running susceptibility to such strain, on a large portion of our population.

Hattenford WI plan pot luck supper

The October WI meeting was held at the home of Mrs. K. Upkins on Thursday evening the 13. Six members and one visitor were present.

The three members who attended the Carrot Creek WI meeting on Wednesday the 12th gave a report on what business had been discussed. Namely the unanimous vote of the CC members if it was in accordance with the Hattenford members that Mrs. H. Lawton take over as executive every summer until the next conference in the spring of 1967 — then a plaque being due to the recent passing of Mrs. Wm. Wigley.

The handicraft entry last was discussed and a definite outline on what articles the members could enter in the conference handicraft display. Tentative plans were made to hold a pot luck supper and banquet on Nov. 12th.

The business prize was won by Mrs. I. Cundict. A lovely lunch was served by the hostess. The next meeting to be on evening meeting Nov. 10th at the home of Mrs. L. Cundict.

Urban Squirrel

A local driver almost had the curb last week one sunny day while subduing the call of a self assured urban squirrel.

The saucy looking little visitor could have been a bright and cheery human by its antics.

When first noticed it was hurrying along the south side of the Bank of Nova Scotia, as though it had possibly just made a deposit of nuts in the suitable deposit box. Next it stopped at the door of the Bank door. Supply for a moment possibly considering whether it should drop in and look over the scarlet hunting jackets.

Changing its mind it was then stopped the length of the Bank Supply window investigating scents in the leaves along the sidewalk then hurried down the street and buried into the open side of the second house for all the world like someone out making a call on a lovely afternoon.

Squirrels are seen fairly often around the yards of houses on the edge of town but this cheery little fellow was a treat to behold in a bright interlude in a busy day.

"You've heard of age before beauty? Well, my friend is a case in point!"

Around Parkland Lodge

Summer is past. With it ends the bus rides to Hinton and Jasper, and the picnics out in the country spots.

The senior citizens will be indoors till next spring. We welcome visits from the town and community folks. We welcome recreation provided by the clubs and organizations and the ministry of the Ministerial Association.

Sunday evening, Sept. 25, we had goodbye to our Minister, Miss M. Pryor, who was with us for two years. After a trip to various parts of the world, including the Holy Land, by Miss H. Kane of Edmonton, guests and staff of the Lodge gathered in the dining room for a cup of tea to bid her farewell wishes.

The Senior Citizens presented her with a set of TV trays, accompanied by a gift of money. The members of the Baptist Church presented her with a gift of money.

Appreciation for Miss Pryor's ministry was expressed by Mr M Delisle, Mr. A. Jargen son of the Lodge and Mr R. Schnell of the Baptist Church.

Miss Pryor is on the steering committee of a Christian Centre in Edmonton.

We extend our thanks to Mr Pryor for the prize winning bouquet of gladioli he brought to the Lodge. And to Grandma Sarin for the lovely sweet peas.

Council acknowledges long time service

The October 18th meeting marked the last time that two of the Councillors would occupy a seat around the Council table. At least for the time being.

Councillor Wells made note that this was his last meeting, after ten years on the Council. He expressed his satisfaction and pleasure in his association with the Mayor and Council and the Town Staff and confirmed his confidence in the future of the Town. Councillor Goldstick, too, expressed his pleasure and satisfaction in his association on Council and confirmed his confidence in the future of the Town.

Mayor Brunelle expressed the very great respect held by the citizens of the Town for both of the retiring Councillors, Councillor Wells and Councillor Goldstick, thanking them both for their service to the community and wishing them the very best for the future.

Mayor W R Brunelle was in the chair. Councillors present were Mert Collin A Goldstick, H Koerber, M H Meade and P D Wells. Two citizens were also in attendance.

Details of inspection, payment and operation of the new arena consumed a considerable amount of time during the meeting.

M J Hnoh, speaking on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce and the Edson Lions Club expressed the appreciation of these organizations for the co-operation rendered by Council. He commended the retiring Council for its progressive attitude and constructive program and expressed his thanks to the retiring members.

A petition signed by proprietors of Shops being subject to the Early Closing By-law, No. 862 be amended to provide that, for a period of six months commencing after the passage of the amendment all Shops designated by the Early Closing Act, and not including Barber Shops and Beauty Parlors, be allowed to remain open for business until 9.00 p.m. each Thursday of every week and that, for the same period of time, the said Shops shall be closed on Saturday of each and every week at 6.00 p.m., was placed before Council.

In accord with the petition the Secretary was instructed to prepare a By-law amending the Early Closing By-law No. 862 and the intent of Council to accede to the request of the petition be duly advertised as required by the Early Closing Act.

A letter from the Lions Club requesting that no snow be dumped in East Creek to one above fish pond was placed before Council and it was indicated that the request would be acceded to. It was also decided with regard to the objection of the club to the removal of clay from part of Lot 8 lying South of the Iron Lake Road that this fill would be replaced as material becomes available.

In view of the purchase agreement held by the Lions Club with respect to Lots 6 and 7, in Block 1 and Lots 12 to 16, in Block 32, all in Plan 4240 M.C., was tabled to the next meeting of Council.

The Mayor and Secretary were authorized to make transfer of Lot 13 Block 26 Plan 1406 A.C., to Nicholas Mastern and Pearl Mastern on completion of home in accord with the undertaking of April 30th, 1965.

Five split final award in Kinsmen cash bingo

Despite cool temperatures and a brief snowfall, over 600 people attended the $1,100 Kinsmen Cash Bingo held in the spanking new Edson Arena on Friday, October 21st. While the majority of the people came to try their luck at the cash prizes, many were also attracted to take their first inside glimpse at Edson's arena.

After a welcome from Mayor Brunelle the first of fifteen bingos got underway and when the evening came to a close, 27 people were awarded cash pots ranging from $4.35 to $100.

Although the final bingo was worth a handsome $500, Walter Strasbury of Edson was the evening's biggest winner even though he failed to share in the final prize. Walter won $75 in the eleventh game and then took home an additional $100 in game number four teen. Bingo enthusiasts will agree that this is most unusual as in such a large cashing one seldom has the fortune to win at two bingos.

Five individuals filled their cards simultaneously in the fifteenth game, worth $500, and they were each awarded $100 cheques. The winners were Mrs. Nora Cook, Patsy Clarkson, Mike Malejark, Gus Stelter and Tony Sanders.

The entire show was put on by members of the Kinsmen Club of Edson and with a break from the weatherman, the bingo profit could have well exceeded the $372 net profit which the club eventually achieved.

The $772 profit represented the redress of the Kinsmen Club Special Projects Account which is diverted to additional facilities for the arena. Members have pledged themselves to $15,000 in dressing room, heating and additional seating facilities to the present structure.

Other winners of the bingo are listed below. Anne Lahor $5. $25. Ann Cornelius, $25. Bunny McAher, $12.50. Alex Gauth, $12.50. Merle Carde from Robb $25. Pauline Hall Hunk, $100. Hugo Johnson $12.50. George Smith, $12.50 $12.50. Mrs. Kay Topham, $25. Gail Dubrey, $25. All were split for $4.25 each to Bernard Morgan, Howard Staples, Jean Watson, D Bouchard, Bobbie Beck, Mrs. E. Beilers, Lorraine Gamble, $100, Walter Strasbourg, $25, Mrs. Richard Gardipee, $25, Ralph Lidden, $25, Gerry Knott, $25, Walter Strasburg, $100.

THE GRADE TEN INITIATES were really kept on the run when they snake danced down town and through local business premises last Friday. This was a prelude to the Kangaroo Court in the evening which the 'victims' looked forward to with mixed feelings of anticipation and dread.

Have you ever wondered...

...what happens to government materials and machinery when they reach pensionable age?

Three possible fates await furniture and equipment that have outlived their usefulness to a government department: retirement, transfer and the auction block. Which it will be is decided by the Alberta Commercial Branch, Department of Industry and Development. Last year, in a series of bargain sales, this agency recovered over $400,000 for a selection of items varying from bureaus to windows, tractors to furniture, which were still usable but no longer of use to the government. In addition, many items were sent back to work with another department where they still had a useful future.

...how far you are from a provincial park?

In most populated areas of Alberta, not more than 50 miles. As public need dictates the location of the parks, the majority are located in or near heavily populated areas and, as the population increases, so do the number of parks. Altogether, there are 41 of these playgrounds in the Province, established and maintained by the Parks Division of the Alberta Department of Lands and Forests. It takes a staff of 300 employees to keep the parks with all the facilities and services required, such as approximately 1000 cords of cut wood supplied for each year. In addition, the Parks Division maintains 3 historic sites across the Province, ranging in size from one-quarter acre to 107 acres.

...how bridges add to Alberta's beauty?

Next time you drive Alberta's highways, watch the bridges and overpasses and see how many different designs you can count. The variety of shape and color is a contribution to the beauty of our Province by the Bridge Branch of the Alberta Department of Highways. Each year, this Branch builds or rebuilds approximately 400 bridges, and each of the major ones is a part of the program to add to the interest and appearance of Alberta's highways by using varying designs, colors and materials. There are approximately 10,000 bridges under the jurisdiction of the Branch, of which about 700 are steel, 2,300 concrete, 4,300 of timber, and 2,800 large culverts installed in lieu of bridges.

...what a high speed digital computer is doing down on the farm?

Actually, it isn't ON the farm. It's a part of the Data Processing Centre of the Provincial Government.

However, it does contribute greatly to a comprehensive farm analysis program being undertaken by the Farm Management Branch of the Agricultural Economics Division, Alberta Department of Agriculture. Under the program, the Branch assists any farmer who so desires to maintain an accurate record of his physical and financial operation. Armed with these figures (this is where the computer comes in), economists can measure the efficiency of the farm, determine the problem areas and suggest possible solutions. Over 600 commercial farmers in Alberta are being assisted under the program, and the only costs to each participant are a $10.00 processing fee and $1.00 for the account book in which the records are kept.

...how education can be made more interesting?

Among taught many a valuable lesson with his "Fabian", because he knew that education was far more palatable when it was presented in a dramatic form. Today's version of this combination is in the radio and television broadcasts to schools by the Audio-Visual Services Branch of the Alberta Department of Education. There a day, during most of the school year, radio or school broadcasts teach dramatic, entertaining and effective lessons in classrooms across the Province, and a number of television programs are provided each year as well. These have a two fold purpose: to explore the value of television in education and to supplement classroom work on key subjects. In addition to the broadcast media, the Audio-Visual Services Branch provides sound films, tape recordings and filmstrips and advises teachers and administrators in their use.

...what became of the old-fashioned, travelling dentist?

He's still here, still travelling, but no longer old fashioned. Today, the dental clinic provides service to the outlying areas of the Province has the most modern equipment, provided by the Dental Services Division of the Alberta Department of Public Health. This Division has three complete units of dental equipment who have transportable and available to these facilities when they undertake to treat communities where dental services have not been established. Approved local organizations such as the Home and School Association or Local Health Council can apply for this service through the local district of the Alberta Department of Public Health, or the Alberta Dental Association.

Lethbridge lager

Some insist on Lethbridge Pilsner, several fine brews deftly blended in the Bavarian tradition. The best of barley, choice rice and our own home-grown hops give it the finely taste that appeals to Albertans. The unique label tells you it's Alberta's original Pilsner.

Others demand our Lethbridge lager — they call it 'bridge. This bright and bracing beer makes the most of its premium malt. The smooth, uniform taste is largely due to our own pure yeast and hops. Micro filtered 'bridge is mellow, naturally-aged lager beer at its best!

Toastmistress speaking

The theme for the meeting of the Edson Parkland Toastmistress Club on Oct. 19 was entitled "Someone Nickle".

Vice President Barbara Hurst acted as chairman and with her own particular charm carried them from one bit of nonsense to the next.

Tom Roebel opened with the invocation and pledge. Bea Berkholtz as toastmistress introduced the speakers for the evening. Elinor Matz spoke for five minutes. Her speech was entitled "A Bit of Nonsense". Tina Dixon presented another bit of nonsense with her reading. Primed us and the Pump.

Tom Roebel was the first speaker for the evening with her speech entitled "The Impossible".

Pearl Ribourdi drew the events to a close with a very constructive and humorous general evaluation.

The trophy cup which is presented at each meeting was awarded to Linda Dixon for he extremely well presented nonsense reading.

Darlene Matz closed the meeting with an invocation.

Get set for winter roads

Paul Bodnar of Edson Tire Service says he is equipped to winterize cars with the latest in road safety devices.

Paul has recently had Bed Tire winterizing machines he injects mo safety caps in tires. The metal caps are forced by pressure into pre-punched holes on the tire. They are an effective for driving in ice or snow.

An avid ice fisherman, Paul had decided the type of tire last year on default. He is convinced they will be a real boon to drivers who have to travel in icy winter conditions.

Dear Bill & his many friends:

Marjorie and I would like to say how very much we have enjoyed our visit to your lovely town and the hospitality extended to us. This trip will stay in our memory for a long long time and often in the dreary days ahead in the fog rain and chanterelle weather of Old England our thoughts will return to the warmth in the hearts of Edson people.

Once again Bill, thanks for having us, and we sure hope we are all spared for another re-union in the not too distant future.

Neither of us would have missed this adventure

Fire Week Report from Provincial Commissioner

By A. E. BRIDGES

As Provincial Fire Commissioner, I have now completed information for our fire loss score board for Fire Prevention Week 1966. There were 57 fires with a money loss of $10,128.00. There was one injury and no deaths.

The injury was caused by flame of gasoline on a paint brush cleaner. We compared the amount of loss with that for 1965 and find that our record shows more fires but a greatly reduced loss in that there were 47 fires in 1965 and $60,815.00 loss.

With the Week a success, judging from the efforts put forward by Fire Departments throughout the Province the judging from the response from the general public I must say that I am very much encouraged. If this pace can be held throughout 52 weeks of the year it would mean that losses from fire would not be more than $1 million rather than $30 000 000 as was the case in 1965 and instead there would be no lives lost and many less injuries than we have been recording.

Looking ahead we must consider the fire problem in two ways. First as a matter of self interest we owe it to ourselves to prevent fires. We want to have a measure of security and to enjoy the benefits of our labour. Certainly fires menace these properties and they delay and obstruct our progress and success, too often misuse and destroy life.

Then from the altruistic side we ought to consider the fire fighter. Historic fires is a highly dangerous job. Surely it is not too unreasonable to ask that more careful thought be given to fires and thereby cut down the number of fires and the dangerous situations in which firemen's lives are at stake. We grieve for the loss of 12 firemen killed in action recently in the city of New York. We pray that no similar fate awaits any Alberta fire fighter.

We have had a successful Fire Prevention Week but now I appeal to all Albertans to hold the line gained here, to continue to support and obey the Royal Proclamation issued during Fire Prevention Week and apply the same care and concern for the weeks ahead. Please remember our Centennial Project it is simple and sincere. "That You be Here Next Year".

ARDA releases CD 14 rural development report

ARDA has just released a report on the "Resources for Rural Development in Census Division 14" an area of 11,760 square miles in West Central Alberta near Jasper National Park, according to Agriculture Minister Harry E. Strom.

The census division 14 report was launched under ARDA by a provincial-federal cost sharing agreement. It was published by the agricultural department's Economics Division. The report was prepared by V. Y. Janssen, Supervisor of the Rural Development Research Branch. Assistance was given by V. K. Boyers and W. H. Steele, consultants.

The census publication supersedes the smaller, 48 page pamphlet published earlier. It contains an inventory of the resources of census division 14 and analyses existing conditions. The pamphlet also suggests potentials for social economic development in the use or area of agriculture, population and education, tourism and recreation, forestry and industry and government.

Agriculture, which is reported to be the weakest sector of the economy, is characterized by low income, small farms, relatively poor land and occasional adverse climatic conditions.

One of the most significant population trends evident in CD 14, according to the report, is the trend in urban residence. Farm size is expanding, the number of farms shrinking. More people are being employed in industry and services, and fewer in agriculture with a resultant concentration of population in and near the five main trading areas.

Even though the area has already developed at a galloping rate, the presence of vast reserve of resources is encouraging to still further development. Probably the major obstacle to further development is the lack of adequate markets and the costs of transportation. Lack of skilled labor and adult training programs are also a factor in be considered.

The educational level has not kept pace with the technological changes taking place both in farming and industry. School "Dropouts" in the area are a great deal higher than the provincial average, 56 to 70 per cent of the children leaving school between Grades nine and twelve. This fact raises problems in adjustment to urban living and in conditioning for positions requiring technical or professional skills.

Considering the resources available, recreation and tourism are grossly underdeveloped, the report said. Situated as it is on Highway 16 and adjacent to Jasper National Park, CD 14 abounds in fishing, big game hunting and scenic beauty; all of which cry for expansion of the industry.

Resources for rural development in CD 14 has been masterfully prepared not only to provide an answer to the above problems, but to give assistance to the following individuals and groups:

1. The residents of the district, to help them understand their problems, seek solutions, and establish goals and priorities for future development.

2. The technical panels, to provide resource assistance in local development efforts.

3. The regional resource coordinator and assistant regional resource coordinator, to provide whatever assistance they may require in counselling and to aid in the development of an integrated system

4. Government departments to guide them in establishing policies and programs especially suited to the needs of the area.

The main body of the report as written, graphically illustrated and documented for understanding by the layman

Particularly impressive is section on Page 107, "Suggested Guidelines", which identifies the major problems and suggests possible solutions for each. These are included to assist the local committees themselves, to develop overall economics and social action programs and are not designed to dictate solutions from government authorities.

The ARDA Report on CD 14...

...ich

...ate board with the committee, that, in resource development, that the residents themselves should not only understand their own problems, but they should participate in the planning to alleviate the problems. There must be the right to express needs and clearly their own needs and the responsibility to play a personal part in their solution.

Boys School needs history books

The following information is taken from the pages of the Hinton-Edson Courier, published in North Battleford, Sask. I am quite sure that they will have no objection to re-printing these message.

Catholic—One hundred years ago, a New England historian named Francois Parkman set about writing the story of the struggle between France and England for the control of Canada. Writing the book took him 40 years. He tramped and paddled over much of the same area where the great battles occurred and poured for months over the archives of Parc, London, Quebec, Boston and New York. His works, published in 10 volumes, became a classic.

Today, thousands of sets of Francois Parkman's works are scattered across North America. Many gather dust on bookshelves in libraries. They fill old cartons in attics. They are frequently pitched into the garbage.

If there is a set of Francois Parkman in your home that you have long since forgotten, would you consider donating it to St. John's? It will be rebound and serve a valuable purpose, shaping the citizens of the future with the great values of the past. If you are interested in helping with this very worthy cause you may get more information by writing to St. John's Cathedral Boys School, Selkirk, Man.

Anyone who has a set of these books on hand is fortunate indeed. It is not significant that this work was begun one hundred years ago. What would be more fitting, than to carry on in the fine tradition that has made the past of this great nation so outstanding the fact that so...ard less of our parental needs or desires as a nation of the individual Canada and Canadians have always tried really to assist those who need help whether the need be great or small.

HELP THE KIDDIES TO HELP

Parents and other adults help when they put money in UNICEF boxes. They help too when they show real interest when the Spectrum or Monster at the door explains why the money is needed, where it goes and how it is spent. 42eb

5th Annual A.I.C. Awards

Calgary Power is proud to announce 1966 Award Winners

KEITH WRIGHT, Edmonton

Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year.

You'd think one heroic deed a year was enough for any 11-year old boy — but not for our award winner, Keith. Last summer Keith and his friend Kenny Beisel were walking along Mill Creek. Attracted by the cries of some children, they discovered 3-year old Debbie Shultz lying face down in about three feet of water. Keith waded into the water, pulled the child out and handed her to Kenny. After making sure she was breathing, they took her home. The other heroic deed? Last April when Keith was on a Boy Scout hike in the Rainbow Valley area, he courageously used his windbreaker to extinguish a menacing grass fire. The windbreaker was burned, but the fire was put out!

We congratulate Keith and his enterprising friend Kenny, and thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active co-operation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

UNICEF deserves success and the Noble Peace Prize

How old must one be to share in the honors of the Nobel Peace Prize? Just old enough and tall enough, it would seem, to be able to reach for a doorbell and ring it on Hallowe'en, UNICEF and youngsters all over Canada timelinding Benton and Edson children shared the honor of winning the Nobel Peace Prize last year.

Provided, of course, it is under the auspices of the United Nations Children's Fund, which was granted the lofty award just a year ago for saving children's lives ever since its foundation, on December 11th, 1946.

Half a million Canadian boys and girls, from coast to coast, are getting ready to celebrate UNICEF's twentieth anniversary by showing great er enthusiasm than ever be fore in collecting Hallowe'en pennies, nickels and dimes in months to come these will be transformed into vital sup plies, equipment, medicines and vaccines for more than 100 under-developed countries around the world.

The "Hallowe'en for UNI CEF" program has features to please people of all minds in keeping with the tradition al Hallowe'en spirit of good will and generously, each Can adian can help. UNICEF to prontance its vital work by participating in the Hallo we'en for UNICEF program.

For the youngsters themselves, it is a fine opportunity to combine their traditional fun with a constructive, re warding activity all their own, the world's greatest effort by children to help children

For the parents, the venture has remarkable aspects of safety and planning since the participants can remain in small groups, and be escorted and supervised

Educators appreciate the program's pre-Hallowe'en per iod most of all, when their students are stimulated into showing greater interest for and better understanding of, other children's living condi tions overseas.

Policemen, firemen and oth er civic authorities appreciate the fact that wherever a well organized UNICEF program prevails, they can worry less about vandalism and senseless pranks.

Last but not least, for man sisters, priests and rabbis, the motto "Share rather than Scare" takes Hallowe'en away from some of its least desir able connotations — when young people devote their en ergy and leisure time to help ing others, it can well be said that they are taking part in a constructive, beneficent en deavor

Some idea of what our boys ad girls will accomplish with our community's generous co operation, may be found in the fact that every day UNICEF's jeeps, trucks and other ve cles travel roughly the dis tance of 20 times around the world, or four times the do tance from the earth to the moon. If they held hands a the Equator, the children and mothers helped by UNICEF each year would circle the world. The dried milk ship ped by UNICEF would fill the United Nations building more than 25 times.

The organizers of the local "Hallowe'en for UNICEF" pro gram most certainly deserve that their selfless and efficient efforts should meet with un qualified success. 43cb

IT'S FUN TO HELP OTHERS

Some ritzley question the idea of children collecting money for a serious cause like UNICEF on what they con sider a fun night. Experience has shown, however, that children really delight in do ing something worthwhile for others, especially if the pro ject kindles the imagination. 43cb

Grades 4, 5 and 6 invited to collect for UNICEF

Once again Edson children in grades 4, 5 and 6 are being invited by the Edson Minis terial Assoc to take part in the annual Hallowe'en can vass for UNICEF.

Students who volunteer to collect pennies, endeared of treats will canvass a certain area, in pairs. Transportation will be provided in most cases. At 7:00 o'clock when the can vass is completed the UNICEF canvassers will attend a Hal lowe'en party in the A. H Dakin School where there will be treats, prizes for the best costume, contests, games and films.

Students who take part are reminded to co That is part of the fun and may win a prize of the party as well

The program is organized in Edson by the Ministerial As sociation.

Through the pennies collect ed on this one night each year youngsters in Edson can reach out their hand and give a treat to a youngster in some other part of the world. The 'treat' will not be in the sense we know it here as Hallowe'en apples, candy, peanuts, gum, etc. Rather it will be a gift, in many cases, of life itself, or at least of something to make life more comfortable

Proceeds from the UNICEF canvass go to help youngsters in many different parts of the world. And the most wonder ful part is that a penny goes so much farther when used through UNICEF than if it were spent in Canada for candy or other treats. Through UNICEF —

Just 5c provides five large glasses of milk.

Just 10c provides enough penicillin to cure a child of yaws.

Just 25c provides DDT to protect two children from malaria for a year

Please give generously

It is unbelievable how far a penny will go when put to work by local youngsters through UNICEF

A. H. Dakin staff and students busy

The A. H. Dakin School has seen a busy first two months of school.

In September staff members gathered at the Edson Motor Hotel for a Welcome Wagon supper in honor of the six new members of the staff

Grades one and two teachers attended a 'box supper' luncheon in honor of Mrs Mary Nelson, prior to her departure for a month's holiday in Calgary. While Mrs Nelson is away Mrs June Foster is taking her place

Something new has been added in the library. Mr Peter Sheetah, whose artistic talents are already well known in Edson, has painted pictures on some of the library blinds. Each picture depicts a various section of the non fiction books in the library

All elementary children in Edson had the opportunity to view the films 'Trailer trip in Newfoundland,' 'Come Home, Newfoundlander,' and 'Down stream to the Sea.' The films were loaned for the A. H. Dakin School through the Newfoundland Tourist Bureau.

They were enjoyable as well as informative and gave a picture of life in Newfoundland as it is today

Banquet for little girls

The Edson Opti Mrs Club have set the date for their annual mother and daughter banquet as next Wednesday, November 2. The banquet will take place in the Commodore Hotel banquet room starting at 6:30 p.m.

It is hoped that mothers will think particularly of the 'little sisters' as companions for the banquet. Older girls in Guides, Brownies, CGIT etc., have their own mother and daughter dos to which the little girls are excluded. The Opti Mrs felt that this would give the smaller ones a chance to feel really important and grown up

There will be special entertainment, prizes, etc., during the banquet

Tickets may be obtained from any Opti Mrs member up to Monday noon, or phone Ann at 723-3433

But, you can put new wrinkles in if clothes are spun before they are rinsed. That's why this cycle is designed for Permanent Press: to introduce cold water gradually at the end of the wash before clothes are spun. This helps eliminate wrinkles, gives Permanent Press clothes the care garment manufacturers recommend. *No one else makes washers that work just like this. Devils, witches, and mental health
Hallowe'en used to be a faith festival or religious celebration. Today Hallowe'en is for children. As they trick or treat across the town they will be hard pressed to find anyone resembling a witch with nose and chin meeting. Medical advances and modern social welfare plans are attempting to control and stop the deteriorating effects of disease and age.

The eighth century Celtic worshipers "witch", midnapping by night children, today would be overawed with welcome with new levels for life expectancy tripled.

Science has tamed the physical world. Astronauts, not witches, cast their shadows on the moon. But many people still hold eighth century attitudes towards mental illness.

We no longer execute the sick, burn witches or other non-conformists, but instead neglect and brutalize them, and the whole Pandora's box of mental disorders.

Advance info needed agrees Evergreen Assoc.

10¢ PER COPY

The rapid growth and ever increasing number of tourists visiting our area has created a demand for advance information to be released in the early winter season for distribution to all parts of Canada, the United States and to other locations in the world where requests have been made for information.

In Alberta we are fortunate that the Alberta Government Travel Bureau and the Alberta Tourist Association are in a position to give wide distribution of all brochures and other news items.

The executive of the Evergreen Tourist Association an affiliate of the Alberta Tourist Association met in the Edson Motor Hotel last week to initiate its plan for the winter.

Representatives from Edson, Drayton Valley, Dupuis, Alberts Beach and Hinton were on hand. Along with Mr. Geo. LeStrange, secretary manager of the Alberta Tourist Association and Mr. Dave Williams, director of the Alberta Government Travel Bureau.

Mr. Harry Zelmer as the absence of Mr. Jack Hood, president of the Evergreen Association presided over the meeting.

Mr. Zelmer summarized the activities of the organization to date and advised that information of the expenditures to and the costs and value of the Evergreen area which lies North and South of Highway 16 from the West border of the City of Edmonton west to Jasper Park gates is the main objective of the Association.

Mr. Geo. LeStrange was called upon for his report. He gave a brief outline of the success of their drive in assisting the Province and in view of this work during the past was loaned forward to extend all service for the Evergreen Tourist Association which is known as Zone No. 3.

Mr. Dave Williams called upon to speak on behalf of the Government Bureau outlined the basis of expenditures to which the Government Bureau would subscribe matching dollars. These expenditures should be cleared under brochures news media and partial assistance to the operation of established travel bureaus. All planned expenditures to be approved by the executive on the Evergreen Tourist Association with final approval by the Government Travel Bureau.

The meeting was most successful and to finalize the first one of the program for the month was a meeting of all members of the organization has been called for Wednesday November 30th at 8:30 p.m. in Edson.

THE GALE THAT BLEW UP last Saturday afternoon made life uncomfortable for anyone who had to be out in it. It was much more than uncomfortable for Messrs. Marin of 4-Way Wholesale who had the completed south wall of their new warehouse section blown over as if it were made of matchsticks. The wall had just been completed and was an almost total loss as well as the extra cost of bulldozing it out of the way and clearing up the debris.

Poppy Tag Day helps local Veterans in need

Town and district residents are reminded that the Ladies Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion will be selling poppies this Saturday on Main Street. This is an annual tag day and is usually held the Saturday before Remembrance Day.

Besides being a badge of remembrance for Canadians who died for their country and the world in the two World Wars, the poppy, by the funds collected through it each year, helps living veterans in need. For in excess over $200 was spent locally during the past year to aid local individual veterans over a rough period until they were able to earn a living once more.

The business section of town has been canvassed recently for sale of poppy wreaths. They will be delivered this week.

The single lapel poppies are different this year, with a spot of green in the centre. Many of the wreaths have a different style this year too and are very attractive with their combination of poppies and maple leaves.

A POPPY IN MY HOME

How much is your home or your family worth? Of course you can't set a price can you? Yet over 104,000 Canadians did. They gave their lives but your memory, your family will remember them by wearing a poppy. Poppy Day is this Saturday, November 5th.

Course planned in radiation monitoring

Civil Defence Co-ordinator Donald Hodgy, is organizing a radiation monitoring course for Edson, scheduled to start on November 14. The course will last four days and will be held in the meeting room of the Provincial Building starting at 7:30 each evening.

Instructors for the course will be Mr. McNally of Civil Defence Headquarters in Edmonton, and Mr. Allan Mah of Edson.

The course will be of particular benefit to firemen, foremen, plant employees, etc. Anyone interested in taking in the classes should give their name to either Donald Hodge or Allen Mah.

This issue is the first with a new press we have had installed . . . by next week we should hit our stride with the new process.

Hallowe'en quiet in Edson

Police Chief John MacDonald reports no problems until late on night with young fry and others behaving themselves on the traditional night of ghosts and hobgoblins.

There had been rumors . . . of fire bombs around town, but if so they didn't go off.

No reports were made to the police department of any willful damage having been done.

This year the town police had the assistance of members of the volunteer fire department as well as 25 members of the Edson Army Cadet Corp. Chief MacDonald was generous with his praise of the Cadets and the way in which they were organized to cover the town.

Legion election next Monday

The Edson Branch of the Canadian Legion will hold their regular meeting next Monday, November 7th.

The main item of business will be the election of officers for the coming year. It is to be hoped that all Legion members will make an effort to be in attendance.

RECEIVING HER induction certificate as first year teacher Mrs. Marleen Isenmann, at right. Certificates were presented at the teachers banquet by Mr. Gordon Welch, president of the Edson Local ATA, who also acted as master of ceremonies for the evening.

Have you ever wondered...

...what precautions are taken to prevent breaks in Alberta's oil and gas pipelines?

Pipelines act by international effort between industry and the Pipe Line Division of the Alberta Department of Mines and Minerals. From the specification stage to actual operations, continuous safety checks are carried out by the Division's engineers and supervisors. All welds are also checked periodically between construction and the time land has been given a final order greater pressure than that which will be used in operation. Continuous pressure recording charts are checked for any irregularities. With 12,138 miles of pipelines in the Province, breaks do sometimes occur and these are investigated immediately. The line must be restored to condition which meet the original safety standards before it is put back into operation. If the repair fails to satisfy the Division Inspector it must be re-done and, if it is still not satisfactory, he may order a re-testing of the entire line.

...how Alberta's fur farmers are kept informed?

The men and women who raise Alberta's multi-million dollar fur crop each year must be kept up to date on all technical improvements and changes if they are to keep their output up and their overhead down. The Fur Farms Branch of the Alberta Department of Agriculture keeps them well informed, through the distribution of written information and technical material, as well as by means of field days, educational meetings and live shows staged by the Branch. Regular ranch inspections and visitations by Fur Farms Branch personnel also help maintain the industry which last year was valued at over three million dollars.

...who acts as the "steadying influence" for municipal tax assessments?

Alberta municipalities have three choices come assessment time. They can do the job themselves, hire an outside agency, or call on the Alberta Department of Municipal Affairs for assistance. The latter move is by far the most popular because not only does the Department supply trained specialists to do the job, it also absorbs 25 per cent of the cost. All but three or four of Alberta's small towns and villages (and many of the rural municipalities) take advantage of this service and those municipal assessments which are done by other means, with the exception of those in cities, are subject to supervision and inspection by the Assessment Branch. The Branch also assists the smaller cities with their assessment programs and is providing an in-training service in rural assessment.

...how you could see into Alberta's history?

Albertans will soon be able to take a trip into their Province's past by visiting the new Provincial Museum and Archives of Alberta to be opened in 1967. Displays of birds, mammals, plants, fossils and rocks will tell the story of the Province's natural history while artifacts from days gone by will portray the history of the pioneers and the Indians. Specimens are being chosen and display areas being constructed by experts on the Museum and Archives staff of the Alberta Provincial Secretary's Department. Footnotes to Alberta's history will be preserved through historical documents and photographs are being collected in the Archives and these will be available for reference and display.

...what the "social resources" of Alberta are?

Social resources are activities which are available to all members of a community to allow them to enrich their physical, mental, spiritual and social well-being. It is these resources which must be developed in the full in order to give every Alberta family the chance to live more happily, more creatively, and to prevent family breakdown wherever possible. Working with the municipalities, the Social Planning Branch of the Alberta Department of Public Welfare is establishing a program which is designed to provide supportive help to family life. Under this program, each municipality appoints a director who is responsible for program development such as volunteer services leadership of family life education and stimulation for low income activities. The Department of Public Welfare will accept 80 per cent of the cost of these programs in co-operation with the municipality.

...why you need a permit to hunt antelope in Alberta?

The main reason is to keep the Province's antelope population at a reasonable level, not too many for the carrying capacity of the area in which they live; not so few that hunting them will have to be discontinued. From studies of the herds and their habitat, the Fish and Wildlife Division of the Alberta Department of Lands and Forests can forecast with reasonable accuracy how many antelope can be killed without seriously affecting the survival of the herd. The number controls the number of permits which are issued. To give every hunter an equal chance at his antelope, successful applicants are selected by a draw and each receives a permit which tells him where he can hunt, when he can hunt, and what the limit is. In this way, all Alberta hunters can be sure that there will still be antelope around for their sport next year.

CAPITAL REPORT

MUNICIPAL ELECTIONS NEWS OF MOMENT

By JOHN WARREN

It was a week for everything from storm sewer by-laws to school in Bonnyville to Rural Telephone picketers (approved to work centres as Bramhall et Elk Point Drayton Valley, Vegreville and St. Paul declared in Bonnyville Consumer and Rich Prairie to Sunday Sport (generally approved).

There were recess, mayors, aldermen, school trustees boot. In other words Alberta went to the municipal polls last week, and won't do so again until next October, a fact that gives considerable relief to electoral officers, campaign workers and treasurers.

While the municipal politicking was taken some pressure off provincial government news sources, there were a number of important stories emanating from the capital (aside from Vincent Bladen's victory over former mayor William Hawrish for the post of chief magistrate in Edmonton).

The summer of youth, Bobby Clark, figured prominently in several news items.

For that save, he announced in a speech that the government would probably take it upon next spring to establish the position of ombudsman in the province. The new appointee's job would be to act as something of a public broker for citizens involved in disputes with the government and government boards.

Mr Clark also met with a delegation from Ottawa that will be doing some of the same type of work as his Alberta department. And he played host to a general meeting with welfare and youth groups for the purpose of discussing ways and means of helping young people who have left home and are in trouble.

Finally he said that Alberta needs a program for what he calls "serious adolescents" people in their early 20's.

It was also a week put full of announcements.

For instance the government announced that feeders have been called for contracting for the final section of the Alberta Resources Railway in the Smoky River area. The work is on the final 12 miles of the line that runs 111 miles north from its junction with the CNR mainline west of Hinton.

The provincial treasurer Mr Arthur announced that Alberta civil servants have been offered a 4% increase in pensions starting in 1967. The government will also contribute an extra dollar for dollar contribution to the pension fund.

The provincial treasurer announced that tenders have released statistics of Fire Prevention Week. There were 39 fires, resulting in $168,000 000 damage and one injury. It pointed out that this figure is expected over a year would reduce total damages from $107,000,000 to $1,000,000.

Premier Manning and Mr Ashley are in Ottawa this week to meet the other provincial premiers and discuss the proposed tax-sharing program between the two levels of government. It's been a month before the Alberta budget is tabled to deal with the matters.

Two new pensions have been created to aid the blind and disabled.

Cub & Scout News

All Cubs and Scouts are to meet at the old Optimist Boys' Centre at 8 a.m., Saturday, to go on a bottle collecting drive. Edson residents are asked to put their empty bottles beside their back door on the Saturday pick-up.

Apologies are extended to the Black Cub Pack which meets at the A. E. Dahlin School every Tuesday evening, and to their leader, Don McLeod, for inadvertently omitting their group in last week's column. Rosemarie has assisted Don with the training.

Cub Packs, Scout Troops and Rover Crews should be aware that they wish included in this column, Ian E. Thomson, P.O. Box 1792, or phone 3-3080 by Monday noon of each week.

DEFINITION OF A CUB

Once a male baby has grown out of diapers and diapers and has acquired pants, tackles, and an much dirt that visiting aunts do not dare to kiss it between meals, it becomes a Cub.

A Cub is nature's answer to that feline habit that insists on such things as perpetual motion. A Cub can swim like a fish, run like a deer, climb like a squirrel, talk like a parrot, bellow like a bull, eat like a pig, or not like a lady-like, according to climatic conditions.

He is a piece of slam stretched over an appetite, a nose covered with smudges. He is mother's little helper, dad's boy, sister's hair puller, and Aleth's necessary headache. C. is decidedly insane their minds in spite of all efforts to teach them good manners. A Cub, if not washed too often, will survive broken bones, hot suits, swimming holes, fights, the helpings of pie and three energetic Cub leaders.

At camps, a Cub is never homesick, though he sometimes suffers from "homesickness." All day he keeps the leaders and the cook busy. For lunch, after a busy morning of games and swimming, he will settle for three helpings of stew, and holler! "Gee, that was good. When do we eat?"

At night he sleeps like a rock — unless, of course, there are Martians outside his tent or inside his sleeping bag.

A New Cluen will joyfully announce to his parents that he will be "investigated" at the next Pack meeting, or when transferred to a new pack, will write that his new Akela is simply a woman.

If asked to empty his pockets at inspection, he will produce: a key, 3 pennies, 3 stamps, his last tonsils, 2 lose nobes, to the girl next door, bubble gum wrappers, 1 fire cracker without a wick, last week's good turn, and a carefully folded handkerchief (which he suddenly loses.)

A Cub can break a flag, break a window, or break his Cubmaster with equal enthusiasm.

Every Cub invested in existence that there are still reasonably wonderfully patient, enterprising men (known as Old Wolves), who keep trying to coordinate and control the ever-raging hurdles of vitality.

Every boy born is a potential Cub, and, as such, comprises evidence that God is not yet discouraged of man.

A Cub is a growing animal of superlative promise, to be fed, watered, and kept warm. A joy forever, a periodic nuisance, the problem of our times, the hope of the nation.

More work for the TB Christmas Seal Fund

With the arrival of the TB Christmas Seal campaign we know from experience that we will hear someone say "I thought tuberculosis was finished. And a while ago I read about another sanatorium closing."

There were more than 3,000 cases of tuberculosis found in Canada last year. Some were relapses but more than 4,000 were newly reported. So let nobody think that TB has been conquered.

What has made it possible to close sanatoria is that patients do not have to stay in them as long as they did before effective drugs were discovered and early diagnosis resulted in patients going for treatment while disease is in the early stages. Quite a few Canadians who had tuberculosis 25 or more years ago spent three, five, even seven years in a sanatorium.

Now, more drug treatment is firmly established, usually a matter of months, patients very frequently go home and take their 20 to 30 pills a day for the rest of a two-year period. This saves months of hospitalization.

Meantime it has become apparent that tuberculosis is not the only disease of the lungs that threatens the breath of life . . . a whole series of ills with names such as emphysema, bronchiectasis, histoplasmosis and chronic bronchitis not only make life miserable for thousands but incapacitate people so that they have to give up work.

These are the respiratory diseases – ills for short. Those who have crusaded against tuberculosis have added RD to the diseases they will try to put out. Programs of research and education are already on the way.

The Alberta Tuberculosis Association through the Kinsmen Club of Edson hopes you will support them in this effort while continuing with prevention of tuberculosis until it is wipe out.

BARGAIN HUNTING?

We are constantly bombarded with year-end, month-end or Anniversary sales. The papers and store windows are full of ads and bargain mention. How can we as consumers tell when a bargain is really a bargain? The advertising people have developed a language of their own and to know whether you are getting the bargain you want, it is necessary to be able to interpret the ads.

ADVERTISING TALK

—"Regular $5.49" – when the word regular appears before a price, this means that the store normally sells the item in its regular stock for that price. Now it is marked down for sale.

—"Value" has a different connotation from the above and means the item was bought specifically for sale and the value set by the retailer. It has never been in the store's general stock. Quite a difference, isn't it?

—"Manufacturer's Close Out" – this is a warehouse clearance. The left-overs, unwanted samples perhaps, the discontinued patterns, the sealed, the expensive with the least expensive will be there. If shopping at a "close-out" have lots of time, know what you want and be able to tell top quality from lesser quality. Be extremely careful of clearance sales as you know exactly what you want, buy only what you want – not something you can't afford to pass up.

—"Irregular" – no need to be afraid of this. One of the best irregular buys in history. There is a great deal of accuracy involved in the framing, weaving and sizing process. If the variance reveals even a small fraction of an inch deviation from the Government Standards, the loom is classed "Irregular". However, you never feel the difference when you wear them. Your budget will, however, as you often save as much as 100% on irregular systems.

BODY GIVES TIPS

The body of an ad will reveal exact irregularity. A slight oil stain or a crushed seam in a particular brand of underwear may sell for 50% off. The difference lies in the price. The garments are correctly sized and will wear as well as regulars.

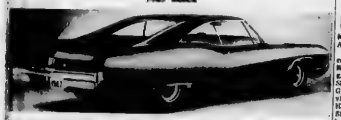
1967 BUICK



This Buick Wildcat two-door sport coupe illustrates the new rooflines, emphasizing the hardtop appearance, on 1967 Buick hardtops. All 1967 Buicks have undergone major restyling. Wildcat, La Sabre and Electra 225 all have new bodies featuring an attractive new side appearance with a contoured line that sweeps from front fender to rear bumper. A special effort has been made to give each 1967 Buick series its own distinguishing features. Buick's Super engine has been restyled with a new horizontal grille and, as an option, an entirely new side treatment of simulated wood grain panelling. Other important new safety features—such as the 12¢-developed energy-absorbing steering column which telescopes up to 8¼ inches from front wheel disc brakes (for power brake-equipped models) is a manual or automatic four-season climate control air conditioning system. Six engines range from a 180-hp V6 to a new 430 cu. in., 360-hp V8.

Haddock Happenings

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Polenchuk and other neighbors at Haddock got surprised party last Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Polenchuk have recently moved onto the Don Cook farm.

Mrs. Burt Fairbairn has been visiting her sisters in B.C. this past two weeks.

Mrs. Blanche Haddock spent last Wednesday in Peers visiting Mrs. C. Gagnon and Mrs. Hooke (Cecilia) who is pretty poorly here from the U.S. visiting her mother.

Eddie Krisko and Doug Hanrahan of Edmonton were home for the weekend to their respective homes, they returned to th city with Mr. and Mrs. Don Young of Edmonton who had been spending the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Johnston.

It seems that hunters do need the training proposed by the government since at least two cows in the district have come in a sad end at the hands of hunters unknown.

A. H. Lovell was in to Hinton on the business of the week for a checkup on his leg.

Mrs. A. Sebastianelli went in to Edmonton for a couple of days for a medical check-up.

Glenn Johnston was home for a week while his outfit was being moved to Calgary. He left Tuesday for Calgary.

Mike Rarka has gone to work at Rats Lember camp this past week.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Quinzel and family were home for a brief visit with the H. Haddock family last Sunday.

Threshing in the district is complete, some fall plowing has been done, but there is still a lot of clover to be contained when the weather clears up.

Pelham Hall is going up very rapidly. This is the Pelham Community Club's Centennial Project.

The meeting of the Pelham Community Club on October 27th was well attended and plans were made for the completion of the Hall.

IN MEMORIAM

FLORENCE LARIN—

Two years since the sad day the one we loved was called away God took her home, it was his will,

God knew she was suffering, that the hills were hard to climb, so he closed her weary eyelids and whispered "peace be thine".

Away in the beautiful hills of God, by the Valley of rest is fair

Some day, we know not when, we will meet our loved one there

Sadly missed by her Mother, Brothers and Sisters. 44c

Chalmers and John Fritch Illustrations editor will be Dorothy Steinhouse. Previously published material will form the bulk of the work.

Stamp Vending Machine Canadian Design '67

The Canada Post Office is pleased to announce the introduction of a new improved Stamp Vending Machine.

The new machine is a coin actuated model as distinguished from the earlier manual and electric models. While retaining the best features of its forerunners, the new machine has many improvements designed to make it more attractive and easier to operate. At the same time, the probability of mechanical failure has been reduced with the provision of permanently lubricated working parts. The dimensions are unchanged from the former series.

The cabinet proper is constructed of steel with baked on enamel in rich carmine red finish. The front of the machine is of aluminum plate with attractive black satin (anodized) finish. With its contrasting bright chrome fittings along clean simple lines, the machine is as attractive as it is functional.

The new machine is operated by the insertion into a slot of a 25c piece (Canadian of U.S.A.) which actuates the mechanism and releases a booklet of stamps. There is no handle to pull and no dependence on electric power.

Each booklet contains flat values in stamps being made up of 3 four-cent stamps and 6 one-cent stamps. The handy booklet for pocket or purse is a boon to posture.

The Stamp Vending Machine is believed to be the only one of its type that will operate under severe weather conditions. It has undergone extensive field trials and severe laboratory testing and responded satisfactorily under simulated extremes ranging from 350 degrees to 100 degrees. Production has been the result of close liaison between technicians of the Canada Post Office and designers of a well known Canadian firm.

Replacement of the existing models by the new coin actuated model will be a gradual process.

WHAT PRICE IS A GRAVESTONE!

Do we need a nice elaborate marble slab to let one and all know that Edson is dead? From the lack of response to the Centennial suggestions it appears to be that the town is dead or dying!

The Centennial Committee have been meeting and spending their time trying to plan projects that might be suitable for a town this size. They have listed these possibilities, and even asked some Club which seemed eminently suited to handle a particular project for their co-operation. And what response — None, and Mister you can print that in capital letters.

It would seem that no one in Edson has any concern about this milestone in Canadian history We Canadians have prided ourselves in being less boastful than some of our neighbors

Well, at this time it seems we don't give two hoots that we have one of the highest living standards in the world, we can get out on any street corner and speak our mind, and we can have a guy like Yardley Jones poke fun at people in high places and no one comes around and tells us to shut up

A little advertising does any business good and we are being asked to advertise the fact that Canada is a nation approaching maturity and ready to take a place as a leader We can do this and enjoy ourselves at the same time.

Is it too much to ask the people of the town to "come alive, your in the Centennial Year, our country is having a birthday. Get with it and help make it a bang-up success!"

Letter to The Editor

Edson Alberta
October 27, 1966

Dear Sir:

In regards to the guts not being allowed to wear slacks to the Jubilee Junior High School, I would like to express my opinion by way of your paper

I am in favor of them wearing slacks as I think they are practical and serviceable and with the good slacks that are on the market today such as the stretchies I also think they are neat and dressy rather than those with the 8's in front)

On the other hand, shirtan be expensive with the initial price and subsequent dry cleanings and then there is nylons which in my opinion are impractical and expensive because of their short life I think it is unfair if the school authorities to punish the slack wearing girls by eliminating their extra-curricular activities such as basketball, volley ball, Glee Club etc.

Yours truly,
An Interested Mother

15th Annual A.C.T. Awards

Calgary Power is proud to announce 1966 Award Winners

ERNEST JOHN McCLAIM,
Strathmore

Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year.

For years Ernie has displayed a great sense of responsibility in consistently caring for his friend Jackie Hatfull. Jackie, an unfortunate victim of muscular dystrophy, is confined to a wheelchair 12-year old Ernie spends all his free time with him. In the summer you can see Ernie operating Jackie's golf cart. In the winter Jackie and Ernie go back and forth to school on a snowmobile. His patience and understanding are applauded by his entire community. Ernie's quiet courage in taking care of his friend is a rare quality in so young a boy.

We congratulate Ernest and thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active co-operation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

This is one of a series of Junior Citizen Award announcements. Our special thanks to Eli Farran, Editor of the Strathmore Standard and to Mrs Bert Martin of Glenbow and Mrs. J. Worrall of Cheadle who nominated Ernest

HELPING HIM TO LIVE

The money you donate to the Legion's poppy campaign brings the necessities of life to thousands of Canadian veterans and dependants. But it cannot heal the bodies broken in the service of their country. We can do so little for those men who did so much for us. However, we can express our gratitude by giving generously to the Royal Canadian Legion Poppy Fund during tag day along the Main Street.

POPPY FUND HELPS VETS

Your poppy contribution aids the Royal Canadian Legion fight human misery among Canada's disabled veterans and dependents. Yes, for some there are pensions. But no pensions cover such emergencies as family distress, medical bills or a fire. Your poppy contribution means quick help when it is needed most. Give generously ... and wear your poppy proudly.

I don't know what he did He walked in and has been just standing there

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Mrs. Barbara (Brodak) Kirsch, who passed away November 8, 1965.

To Our Dear Mother:
I held your Book the edges frayed
From the countless times for us you prayed;
I saw you even now, your eyes so bright
With love and understanding as you blessed me "Good night".

I loved you, dear Mother and though you have gone,
To me, in my heart you will always live on;
I pray every evening asking peace for your soul,
As you make the pilgrimage to your Heavenly goal
Ever remembered by your loving sons and daughters and loving husband

Remembrance Day Service this Friday

The annual Service of Remembrance for Canadians who have given their lives in the cause of world freedom will be held in the Royal Canadian Legion Hall this Friday, November 11th -- Remembrance Day As usual the service is under the auspices of the Edson Branch of the Legion.

Veterans and army cadets are asked to meet at the Legion at 10 a.m. ready for fall in at 10:15 sharp for the parade. They will then proceed to 6th Avenue, west to Main Street, up Main to the Post Office and back to the Legion where they will file to the front of the hall.

Rev. Jack Purdie will give the sermon for this year's service. Last Post and Reveille will be sounded by bugler Percy Wells. The traditional two minutes silence will be observed at 11:00 a.m. as it will be in almost every town and village across the Dominion.

Following the service a wreath laying ceremony will take place outside the hall at the foot of the cenotaph. There the RCMP will lay a wreath on behalf of the Queen. Wreaths will also be laid by a member of the Town Council, officers of the Legion and Auxiliary, etc

Each year many people place wreaths on the graves of servicemen in the cemetery. Anyone who wishes may take a wreath from the front of the hall for the grave of a loved one.

The club facilities will open for refreshments following completion of the service at the cenotaph. They will close at 8:30 p.m. and a banquet will be held at 7:00 p.m. in the hall, followed by a social evening.

Amateur hockey group forms

A meeting called by the Knights of Columbus to organize Amateur Hockey in Edson, was held Sunday afternoon with representatives present from service clubs, schools, and interested sponsors.

The meeting resulted in the formation of the Edson Amateur Hockey Association with Guy Coulombe elected president.

Other executive and committee members include Vice President, Ed Edwards; Secretary Treasurer, Ted Yaunans; Rules and Referee, Nigel Appelet; Schedules, George Bergman; Statistician, Tony Bassel; Publicity, Frank Bochek; Finance and Transportation, Al Bergeret.

The purpose of the Association is to organize and coordinate amateur hockey for the following groups: Mosquito, ages 14 to 16; Bantams, ages 12 to 14; Pee Wees, ages 10 to 12; Mites, ages 8 to 12.

To date there are eleven teams and nine sponsors in the existing service clubs and business, with two sponsors still remaining.

The teams and sponsors will be published when finalized.

Wrong place for EMO course

The course is limited to 12 persons so anyone interested in taking it in is reminded to give your name to Mr Dan Hodge, the local Civil Defence Co-ordinator, or Mr. Allan Mah at the AGT office as soon as possible

Mr. Mah will be the local instructor for the course Mr Mitchell from Civil Defence headquarters in Edmonton will also instruct.

The EMO course on radiation monitoring will be held in the Fire Hall, not the meeting room in the Provincial Building as stated in The Leader last week. The course starts next Monday, Nov. 14 at 7:30 p.m. and will continue same time for four days.

Provincial leader not only Liberal resignation

With the announcement this week that the Liberal leader in Alberta, Adrian Berry, has resigned, we asked Mayor W. R. Brunelle, who ran as Liberal candidate in the last federal election and had since been elected regional vice president of the Liberal Party, if he would care to comment.

First Mayor Brunelle advised that he had submitted his own resignation to the provincial executive some two or three weeks prior to Mr. Berry's resigning.

On the question of whether or not Mr. Brunelle has supported Mr. Berry in his leadership bid, his worship commented, "I was on his team at the convention. He is a very fine man, but it was clear from the start that he didn't have a chance to back the powers that be."

"It appears to me", Mr. Brunelle told us, "that the Liberal Party federally and provincially is out of touch with the man in the street".

Mr. Brunelle advised that at present he had no political aspirations, but that the Liberal organization would not receive his support in the future.

Dietmar Tews wins Governor General's Award

Jubilee staff and students were justifiably proud as they held their annual awards night ceremonies on November 2nd. The four top students in the Junior/senior came from Jubilee in 1966, and Governor General's Award Winner Dietmar Tews was pushed hard by Wendy Calvert, Judy Corner, and Larry Child, who took the next three positions of merit. In addition, honorine Rahill, Gloria Eldridge, and Gabriele Messerschmid earned honors in the 1966 departmental exams.

Outstanding award winners for the classes were Sonora Rahill, grade nine, Debbie Johnson, grade eight and Darryl Mengert, grade seven.

Following the outstanding student awards, which were presented by Vice-Principal R Mengert and the scholarship awards, which were presented by Student Council Pres ident Bob Mitchell, Principal A. Jorgenson presented the Outstanding Service Award to George Mah, treasurer of the Jubilee Students Council. This had to the highlight of the evening when Mr. R. Russell, superintendent of schools for Edson, presented the Governor General's Award to Dietmar Tews

Mr. A. Leonard represented the school board with a few appropriate remarks. The Glee Club, the French classes and Mr. Lauterbach provided entertainment

Following presentations, Mr. Y. Beique, A.R.D.A. representative for our area, gave the address for the evening.

After the program was over the Jubilee Students' Council provided lunch for those attending the awards ceremonies.

THE GOVERNOR GENERALS AWARD in the Edson School Division was won this year by Dietmar Tews, who was presented with the coveted award by School Superintendent Ross Russell. Dietmar's sister won the award in her grade nine year. The Governor General's Award is presented annually to the grade nine student having the highest marks in the entire School Division

LEADER SPORTS

with MEL SOLTYS

Basketball returns to the sports scene as the Edson Commodore Aces, Edson's only senior men's basketball squad, take to the practice courts this coming Thursday, November 1st at 8 p.m. The Aces, sponsored by the Commodore Hotel of Edson, were fortunate to more again obtaining the spacious confines of the Jubilee Junior High School auditorium as their home court during the forthcoming season.

Last season, the Aces played sixteen exhibition encounters and racked up fifteen impressive wins while only going down to defeat only once. When practice sessions start on Thursday, only five returnees from last year's roster will be trying for a berth on the club. Back are Bob Hall and Dennis Hill, last season's top two scorers, guards Al Lepore and Mel Soltys and former Duke Kearns.

The Aces had coasted high by upon the services of former High School star Randy Kreno but the sharp-shooting guard joined the Canadian Air Force this summer. However, judging from local rumors the Aces should be loaded with talent as employment transfers appear to have brought in a wealth of experienced players.

Tentative exhibition games are already in the wind with border mens teams from Nelson and Dawson Creek, British Columbia, Grande Prairie, Fairview and Edmonton. The Aces will also arrange games with their Hinton and Jasper counterparts and have received an offer to play the Harlem Clowns when they tour Alberta early in the new year.

Along the ice lines, the Edson Commodores have to commence practices shortly under new coach Vic Colenbish. Prepping for their seventh Western Hockey League season against the Drayton Valley Rebels on the 15th of this month, the Crows players will be at least two weeks behind Hinton and Jasper who have been working out very regularly lately.

However, the Commodores have one break going for them when they take to the ice as the Edson Arena against Drayton Valley as the Rebels are also without ice presently as their new artificial ice arena is nearing completion. For those who wish a closer look at the league schedule, it appears elsewhere in this week's paper.

For the miners, surging down hectare ago up, whether or not had the opportunity to put their name in for a hockey team, arena manager Ron McIlvien will take down each names and pass them along to the necessary authorities.

Exactly twenty years ago, the Coal Branch Hockey League was formed following a meeting in the Mercoal Hotel with the hosts of mountain Park, Cadomin, Luscar, Mercoal, Hinton and Edson represented. Each town was to play a total of 17 games with hockey to get underway on the 15th of December.

Luscar dropped out of the line to lack of player talent and the schedule was abandoned towards the latter stage due to the severe winter and player trouble in Sierra and Luscar.

Following is an excerpt taken from the Western Digest Rise regarding the league opener which should be interesting to hockey fans:

CADOMIN WINS OPENER/IN COAL BRANCH LEAGUE

"The first game of the season in the newly formed Coal Branch Hockey League was played on Edson ice last Saturday between Cadomin and Edson with a pretty good crowd in attendance. Considering that this was an opening game, the talent was far beyond expected. The play was fast throughout the three frames and gave promise of some fine hockey during the season if the boys can keep up the pace.

Edson got the first goal when Patrick, with an assist from Weekes, scored in the first period. Edson's lead was blown, assisted by McKenna and Chesney, evened up the score.

Both teams pressed hard for the advantage in the second period and both were also on the downside. The result of this was to keep both teams from securing a counter in the period.

In the third period Jack McLeod, assisted by Chesney, scored Cadomin's second goal. This was followed by a third Cadomin goal to Morphie scored unassisted. In this period Patrick scored what was perhaps the neatest goal of the game as he secured Edson's second counter.

While the interest was good, it was not quite good enough for such an undertaking as this league can mean to the sporting entertainment of this district. If the best is to be have been looking forward to for many years- much better support will have to be forthcoming.

LINE UPS

Cadomin: Bill Shearer, Joe Nimo, Vic Colenish, Jack McLeod, Jack Chesney, "Limy" McKenna, Peter Shearer, Jimmy McKenna, A Morphie, Henry Kemeny, Randy Martin.

Edson: Jack Baker, John Switzer, Sergio Kowalchuk, Bob Reynolds, Allan Bernaud, Allan Venden, Harry Stevenson, Jack Dunphy, Ken McKeever, Don Switzer, Albert Patrick, Bill Isaiah, Marty Lewis.

Meeres was to play in Edson on Sunday but owing to icy and dirty roads they were unable to make the trip.

A new schedule will be necessary as there nothing up the first one, Luscar has dropped out of the league, much to the disappointment of the fans who had looked forward to seeing some of the Luscar talent in action."

More coaches and referees are needed. Persons willing to help are asked to contact any executive or chairman member.

A coaches clinic will be held later on in November. Edson's new arena opens this week. Let's be ready.

Kinsmen Club sponsoring Edson Figure Skating Club

The Edson Kinsmen Club and their feminine counterparts, the Kinettes, are giving their undivided attention to the new Edson Arena these days. Not only are they contributing a good deal of money and hours of labor, but are in the interest of fin one as well.

Interest-wise they are once more sponsoring the Edson Figure Skating Club with Mrs. Em Herring as instructor.

Classes will be held three times a week with youngsters 7 years and under attending 6 to 7 p.m. Skaters over 13 years will have one class a week on Sunday between 11 a.m. and 1 p.m.

Classes start on Monday, November 14.

The climax of the skating club year will be the winter carnival and ice show. This has been non-existent for the past year or so since the old arena burnt burned. It was attempted non-existent for a number of years previous to the fire when cold weather spoiled practice sessions and warm weather spoiled the ice at carnival time.

Edson and district residents will be looking forward to seeing the winter carnival become an annual affair once more.

Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year.

It was December 26, 1965 — Boxing Day! Larry and his father had gone to their cabin at Lac Lake near Burnus. 14-year old Larry was following his father into the cabin. Suddenly, the cabin was rocked by an explosion. Larry swiftly pulled his father back, down the stairs and outside, where he extinguished his burning clothes by rolling him in the snow. Mr. Bota was severely burned, and but for Larry's initiative and courage the day might have had a tragic ending.

We congratulate Larry and wish to thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active co-operation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

This is one of a series of Junior Citizen Award announcements. Our special thanks to C. L. Manes, Editor of the Fort Macleod Gazette and to Larry's nominators, Mrs. N. E. Johnson of Blairmore, Mrs. George Bazanis and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hoeksema of Fort Macleod.

A POPPY'S PRAYER

O God, I am but a little scrap of fragility
Sprung from Thy hand,
But Thou makest me an aggregate of serenity
Here to nod amongst the rudeliow crowns
On this distant strand

O God, this world is in a state of turbulence
Springs from man's folly
But Thou makest me to pity him in his ignorance,
Here to smile a tender smile a tender smile, and weep
In silent melancholy

O God, I know not why this frantic fight
And there! for blood
But God — for bitter months and years, through dark and light,
In masses and as one by one they fell —
A human flood

O God, each cross that stands here in the bleak
Depicts a loved one's loss,
Yet bears the mark of pride — to think that, strong and weak,
For a just cause these men as brothers died, and lie
Beneath a cross

O God, let it my duty be, to rise and tell the world,
"That cause upheld"
They fell the light and hope of brotherhood to unfurl —
With prayers for struggles' end, they died,
Courageous, bold

O God, how sad that ravelous mankind never learns.
Two wars I've seen
So stingy heavy and graven — and still that hatred burns
'Twixt man and man, nation and nation,
Age-old, yet keen

O God, while fades the frightful din of two World Wars,
Worse threats on rush,
But God, I pray that Thou with open eyes and ears
Unite a harmony that shall none day
This evil crush.

O God, before my petals fall, lend me Thy aid
To take my stand
And pronounce to all the prayer of these here laid.
Peace, dear God! Please give us Thy precious Peace
In every land!

O God, I am but a little scrap of fragility,
But that I know
Thou makest me to realize that men so guiltily
Have failed the dead they honour while they deny
The debt they owe

But God, the drops of blood that then my petals stained
This brilliant red
Remind me once again that Thou hast me ordained
To comfort the bereaved and say,
"They are not dead"

For surely, God, these soldiers did not die
They only rest
Their hopes and prayers and souls with our flag fly
Their hearts and dreams are the domain
The free possess'

O God, while on this lonely, haunted sod I grow,
In meditation deep
I shed a tear at even', when the sun is low
And pray: "With dawn come peace, then gallant dead
Sweet be thy sleep"

Alice Willett

OVERHEARD AT SHUFFLEBOARD

This fellow came to the door and he was a hell collector—so I gave him all my bills.

* * *

I sit here and think of all the evil things the young people are doing. My goodness— all that hugging and kissing, jumping around to all that evil music. Things have reached such a state there is only one thing I can say—WOW!! Do I wish I were 40 years younger!

Are You With Us?

Notice from the Centennial Committee

There are now only fifty days left until we are into 1967 and so far Edson has not done too much to show that it is interested in the birthday of the country.

Many seem to think the Committee is premature in asking for commitments at this time. But have they stopped to realize that some communities have all sorts of events planned and some already completed. If we are to get speakers to come to Edson by any of our events we must get our requests in to them as soon as possible.

If we don't move soon we will be left looking on while our neighbors enjoy a long Centennial year.

There are still many people hoping to see "Get Behind You Hatchet" produced again. What is needed is some person or group of persons with the necessary time and energy to get this project moving. We have many young people working around town than ever before and this should be a good test of talent on which to call.

The provincial government is offering very worthwhile prizes in music and drama. If you are interested contact your local committee or write directly to:

Alberta Centennial Committee
c/o Cultural Development Branch,
Dept. of the Provincial Secretary,
404 Legislative Building,
Edmonton, Alberta

There is to be an Alberta Anthology printed and if you wish information about contributions to this write to the same address or watch in The Journal for the address of Mr. Patrick Gibbons who is in charge of the project.

Dominion Stores are sponsoring a competition for students in grades VIII to XII. The prizes are trips to Expo 67. The contest is for essays on "Why I Would Like to Visit Expo 67". Here is an opportunity for some of our students to earn the trip for Centennial. Anyone wishing an entry form and who will not be visiting a Dominion store are asked to write:

Dominion Expo 67
Students Essay Contest
at Box 1180 Station D Toronto, Ontario
or at Box 7222
Regina, Sask.

We sincerely hope some students will try this contest. It closes on January 31, 1967, so it is time to get busy!

We hope you are not becoming bored by what seems to be our theme song "Will you lend a hand to help us get Edson Centennial rolling! or do you just not give a damn!

The two large trophies won by Niton Central School in the cross country race at Hinton were also on display.

Parents at Niton are justly proud of their children's achievements and are looking forward to other years of achievement.

The word is out that Niton topped the division in Grade 12 this year by getting a 80% pass in the high School diploma papers with Drumheller right behind with 80%, Edson 62.5% and Hinton 39.2%. Lethbridge Pilsner

Many people like the happy taste of our own home-grown hops in Lethbridge Pilsner – a blend of several fine brews in the best Bavarian tradition. The brewmaster adds just the right amount of whole grain pearl rice to give a subtle "extra" to the choice barley. Lively tasting Lethbridge Pilsner, truly satisfying beer!

Two great brews from
SICKS' LETHBRIDGE BREWERY LTD.

Lethbridge lager

Many prefer the mellow taste of the malt in bright and sparkling Lethbridge lager beer – often called 'bridge. Here's a naturally aged, smooth lager brewed with a special yeast culture, then micro-filtered for extra refreshing clarity and flavor. Bright, thirst quenching lager beer at its best . . . that's 'bridge!

Fire leaves family homeless and jobless

A pile of rubble, gradually being covered with winter's snow, is all that is left of the home and business of Mr. and Mrs. Gene LaBerge of Robb. Their life savings and hopes for the future were wiped out by fire more than two weeks ago on October 22. It is not known how the fire started.

Mr and Mrs. LaBerge had purchased the business, formerly the Robb Shopping Centre, last June. Since that time they have made many changes, including the building and adding a laundromat. This involved drilling a deep well and installing a pressure system.

The fire was first noticed by Mr. Ivan Gredic of Robb who stopped by just after 8 p.m. for some gas. He noticed the fire inside the store and rushed to tell Mr. and Mrs. LaBerge in their adjoining house. He also helped to save a lot of stable, etc. from the house.

Mr J. L. Patterson, with the Dept. of Industry and Development in Edmonton, has a summer cottage at Robb and was spending the weekend there the last. Lately moved out and let her and Mrs LaBerge and their four children have the use of the premises until they could find something else.

The family has received considerable help from the community and feel that they will be able to weather the storm until some decision can be made about their business. Although they carried some insurance on their business it naturally enough, not cover the entire loss of their property. At the moment they do not plan to rebuild and the future will bring the years solution.

THANKS ALL!

Mr and Mrs Gene LaBerge of Robb extend sincere thanks to the many people who have helped in any way since the fire that destroyed their business at Robb on Oct. 22. Special thanks to the Town Boys for a complete set of dishes and otherwise the community of Robb for their generous cash donations, the recently formed Robb Ladies Club for their kindness and generous cash donation, Mr Ivan Gredic for giving the alarm and helping to save articles from the house, to Mr J. L. Patterson [illegible] of Ice rubes and to all the members of the Robb community for their assistance.

Toastmistress Speaking

The Toastmistress for the Nov. 1st meeting of the Edson Pari-and Tomahawkway Club was titled "Years Wade".

Rose Tisdale opened the meeting with an invocation. President Lorraine Lange introduced guests Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Yelle to Edson.

Tight sentences was Barb Sigmund. Barb drew the table up to the head toastmistress' position.

Her round finished Marie to tell us of our project in Edson which she thought had required group co-operation and how this was obtained.

Louise Marie was asked to give her opinion regarding manners and the hints concerning them.

Mary Gavin was asked to rally the girls into a team to support any complaint she has against Edson.

Ben Dorbinski told the group that she would as mainly join a picket line against the high cost of food. Ben also explained that if she bought a turnip which cost ten pence and then turned out to be re-Premier listening as a fine example

Toni Kimbel rather disagreed with Ben's opinion of looking a picket line.

Linda Dixon as Toastmistress formed her knowledge, then sat of the speakers for the evening and introduced the speakers in this way.

Hal Beckham gave us an autobiography of Albert Lodge-ner

Lorraine Langer's speech was titled "How to improve our conversation"

Sis-ol Rykman spoke for 17 minutes to inform members about our local gas plant.

Darlene Morin concluded evaluation of the entire meeting.

The trophy cup for the best was then presented to Hazel Hall, presented speech about the Edson Gas Plant.

What is Community Recreation?

"Community Recreation is mainly competitive recreation, and organized sport and organized by some form of central leadership of persons who share a common interest." This definition was taken from a text by the late C.E. Bright Hall, a noted American authority on Recreation.

Obviously the key words in the definition are (1) central leadership (2) planned, (3) organized and (4) common interest.

Let us take these words and look briefly into their implications, values, etc.

1. Recreation must be organized on a mutually compatible basis.

To take a far-fetched example, how debating may be on excellent form of recreation but it is rather doubtful if it could be 100% successful as a social pastime. Activities as diverse as curling and rowing, knitting and mountain climbing, checkers and tea leathery would all be generally classified as socially incompatible. Community recreation covers a multitude of possible activities both passive and active.

2. Community recreation should be planned.

As in any form of activity, before running a business, making a budget or going on a camping trip, good planning is essential. Community recreation must be planned by an active committee covering a wide range of interests. This planning should attempt to discover needs that are lacking and not duplicate.

3. Community recreation should be organized.

Let us assume that you are parents of a family of 4 such as grown children. Each child has a variety of interests and each has his or her own time-table. Organization must be of paramount interest. Such is the world of Community Recreation. In order to get optimum participation, publicity and value, during which Community Recreation should be organized.

4. Committees should be developed.

Indoor pools, golf threads and facilities, commercial play grounds and programs could all be designed to meet specific worthwhile objectives.

The next article will deal with a brief history of Community Recreation in the Province of Alberta.

A closing thought:

The test of a community is the way that it uses its leisure time". Question: How does your community rate?

Physical Education.

Two fire alarms on Saturday

Two fire alarms last Saturday proved to be of little consequence, although they could have caused considerable damage.

The first alarm called the volunteer fire department down to First Avenue East where spilled gasoline could have provided a real potential danger. The crew soon had the gas washed away with the fire hoses.

Shortly after they were called to Poplar Place Trailer Court where a minor fire was already extinguished when they arrived

What does Centennial mean to you?

What are you planning for Centennial?

1967. This is the year for Canadians everywhere to stop and think about Canada. To look back on how far this nation has come since its rough and rugged beginnings. To think about Canada as it is now: free, prosperous, and with an unlimited future for growth.

To celebrate, magnificent projects are in the works. The Confederation Caravans will bring Canada to millions in rural and tiny dot-of-the-way places. The Caravans unfold an exciting colourful story of Canada: from early beginnings right up to the present. Festival Canada brings Canadians the largest entertainment package ever: from western music to opera, musical comedy to drama. Two companies of 300 servicemen each will travel Canada to put on a magnificent stirring Military Tattoo, portraying Canada's past 300 years of military history!

There are just three of hundreds of Centennial events planned for you in the coming year. But what are you doing for Centennial? What is your own personal project? Other Canadians are painting their homes, lining the Canadian Sky, planting maple trees, hooking Centennial rugs, sending up on their Canadian history. What will you do? It's not important how large or how small your project may be. What is important is that you have stopped and thought enough of your country and what it means to you to take up a Centennial project of your own.

The Federal/Provincial events planned will be magnificent and thrilling. But to each of us, the truly exciting and most meaningful projects will be the ones we create ourselves.

What does Centennial mean to you? And what are you planning for Centennial?

The Centennial Commission Ottawa, Canada.

Physician during railroad construction days dies

Doctor John Campbell Shiltaker, a pioneer Alberta physician, whose medical skill was well known to many people in central Alberta, died Thursday, October 28, at his home in Wetaskiwin. He was predeceased by his wife in Barbette, in February of this year.

Doctor Shiltaker was born in Huntingdon County, Ontario, in 1863. In 1886 he graduated from Queen's University, Kingston and in 1910 came to Alberta, where he was medical superior in the employment of the contractors who built the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway through Edson to the mountains. Supplies for the railway camps were landed in by pack trains from Stony Plain during the winter months, and stored in various caches along the right of way. Doctor Shiltaker travelled with the pack trains from camp to camp and often walked many miles, leading his horse over difficult portions of the terrain. Primitive hospital tents were erected along the railway route, and in these Doctor Shiltaker ministered tirelessly to the needs of the labourers, following completion of the railway, he became mine doctor for the Yellow Head Coal Company and was there till 1914 when the mine was destroyed by fire.

In the fall of 1914 Doctor Shiltaker moved to the town of Bardegg, Ukrainoni, where as the mine doctor, he rendered medical service to the coal miners and their families. In 1917 faced with the Bruzoon mines, he moved with his wife and son to Wetaskiwin, this practice there covered a large area, but weather or distance was no deterrent when a patient was in need of medical aid. Many miles he travelled over ungraded roads across Raising the help of farmers to conquer mud holes or snow drifts.

In 1945 Doctor and Mrs. Shiltaker moved in Vancouver, where the doctor practiced medicine for a short time, and then owing to ill health, retired. Later on in 1946 they returned to Wetaskiwin to spend their remaining years.

Doctor Shiltaker is survived by a son John J. Shiltaker of Wetaskiwin, and five grandchildren.

Funeral services was held October, 31st in the Wetaskiwin United Church

Membership in the FUA a benefit for farmers

Members of Local 500 met on November 1st in the Cultus Bldg. In Edson. It is time to renew your membership and those are ten dollars this year plus one dollar local fee. This is up four dollars over previous years, but is a small amount compared to dues in other organizations and unions.

It is also a very small amount if you are properly using the service offered by the union, for example, free legal advice.

Some Co-op insurance patrons may wonder why they didn't receive a rebate on their premiums. Well, it is simply because you let your FUA membership lapse and therefore are not eligible for "good rating" on your insurance and the amount of the rebate was or would have been more than your membership dues in the first place.

Think it over and get joined up. A strong united voice is the only one heard in this day and age as witnessed by recent strikes of other unions.

December will see election of officers and the annual Christmas party. A speaker will be present to outline plans for a new service in the community.

An ARDA sponsored study by small on rural problems will be offered this winter and several members expressed an interest in the study.

Also, plans are being made for a farm management course for this winter. The course was held at Evansburg last winter and proved successful Watch for announcements of it.

The annual sub-district banquet and dance will be held Saturday, November 26. Tickets will be available soon. This function is always well attended and is very enjoyable.

JJHS students hold hilarious Hallowe'en ball

It was decided at the Students Council meeting on November 1st that the Jubilee Junior High School would purchase a trampoline for physical purposes. The trampoline will cost $350. Mr. Hart, the boy's phys-ed instructor, brought the subject up at the meeting and it was considered an excellent idea.

The Hallowe'en dance was held November 4th in the school auditorium. Winners for costumes included: boy's 1st, Ricky Sawatsky, who was an amiable clown. Tied for 2nd were Louis Tommasino, a comedy cowboy and Harry Hicks, dressed as a ghost. Girl's 1st, Robin Irwin as an Indian maiden 'nd, Debbie Johnson, dressed as Mrs. Monster 3rd, Carol Lawson, a beautiful Cleopatra.

For the benefit of students who did not wear costumes there was an auction. Students wearing costumes offered bids on the un-costumed ones and so it went. Once the students were bought they had to act as slaves to their owner for the rest of the evening. This brought in approximately $22 which will go into the Students Union treasury.

The students would like to commend the teachers for their good sportsmanship when they were enclosed on an eleven. This event added to the hilarity of the evening.

The students are hoping the next dance will be a no more successful than the Hallowe'en ball.

Letter to The Editor

Dear Mr. Caston:

May I take some thought's regarding the Remembrance Day Service through the columns of your paper.

Each year on November 11 we pause briefly to publicly honor the thousands of fellow Canadians who gave their lives in the world conflicts that we might live in peace. Sometimes one wonders if their sacrifice has been worth it, with the world in such a sorry state. However, this is besside the point.

Each year, comrades and relations of these men who died, and all others who yet live gather all over Canada to pay homage for the sacrifice that has been made. Mothers of young men who died in the bloom of their youth, fathers who saw their hopes for the future dashed to pieces with the word that a son would never return again, wives and sweethearts who felt life had ended because a loved one would return no more.

These and many others who realize the price that was paid for their freedom and who wish to honor these Canadians that live only in the memories of millions, gather to pay homage.

In the past few years we have noticed a growing number of youngsters who attend the service, many without a parent along. This is fine if the child has been told what is being commemorated and if they realize that the service is more than a colorful show of flags and adults looking solemn.

The service doesn't last very long, but long enough for youngsters to lose interest in proceedings and begin to laugh and chatter with other youngsters. This spoils the service for those who attend with hearts full of memories.

Last year during the placing of wreaths on the cenotaph after the service, a half dozen children were scrambling over the monument even as the wreaths were laid. I cannot but wonder at the thoughtlessness of the parents who permitted it.

If children cannot have the meaning of Remembrance Day explained to them so that they can act quietly while the service and wreath layout proceedings are in progress, then there should be left at home in the care of a baby sitter.

Dear Mr. Caston

As chairman of the Edson Kinsmen T.B. Christmas Seal Committee, I would like to express our thanks to you for the excellent support that you have given to the committee in their efforts to inform your readers about the continuing dangers of T.B. and the new fight against all respiratory diseases (R.D. for short) which is now being launched by our Alta. Tuberculosis Association. We note that your editorial support of all public service projects has always been very praiseworthy.

Christmas seals on November 5th, most users should have their Christmas seals within a few days. Some special friends of the Association will be contacted personally by Mr. A. (Tony) Grant, who is in charge of personal solicitations. If you gave more than the average giver gave last year, Mr. Grant will deliver to you personally as many seals as you want at the time he takes your contribution.

Special out of town friends of the A.T.A. campaign will receive a letter containing an extra sheet of seals. Some down-town businesses will be accepting contributions for extra sheets of seals and will save you a postage stamp as you make your contribution.

Even before the Christmas seals go out, I can sense the overwhelming support which Edson gives to this most worthy fight for better health.

Yours sincerely
F. Ray Westgel

Edson Kinsmen Christmas Seal Committee

Dear Mr. Editor

In this day when our teenagers are so often maligned as being generally indifferent to the mores of society, I feel that they should also receive some words of praise which we adults so often withhold. I feel honored to congratulate the young people of Edson for their excellent behavior as displayed during the Hallowe'en celebrations.

What other town the size of Edson, can boast the record of so little vandalism on this occasion?

The young people at the Jubilee Junior High School are also to be commended for their generally excellent behavior and desire to cooperate which they displayed at their dance on Friday, November 4th. It was a pleasure to supervise them, while they were having so much fun.

Keep up the good work, young people of Edson.

Yours truly
A. Jorgenson

Must get requests in early

Alberta communities seeking assistance of military personnel as part of their Centennial programming during the coming year, are urged to make their requirements known immediately.

Deadline for receipt of these 1966, according to a recent statement by the Department of National Defence.

Confirmation of availability of service personnel can be made in the immediate future only to those communities who make request by the above date. While requests after that date will not be rejected, screening of the requirements will be dependent on availability of remaining resources.

Requests should be submitted to the Alberta Centennial Reg., Edmonton. Deadline is December 15, 1966.

SIGNS OF THE TIMES

One of our older residents advertised for part-time help and offered to pay a dollar an hour for general work. A youth diplomatically told him he had "made $70 by working for 11 hours" and didn't think the job for if it paid only a dollar an hour.

HUNGARIAN INFLUX "PAYING OFF"

Mr. Pickersgill, immigration minister at the time of the Hungarian revolution, spoke at a dinner marking the 10th anniversary of the revolution which began Oct. 23rd 1956.

Transport Minister J. W. Pickersgill told members of the Montreal Hungarian community recently "the best thing I ever did in public life" was to help arrange entry of Hungarian refugees to Canada .

He recalled the Canadian government's decision to pay passage of refugees, about 35,000 of whom came to Canada in six months.

Canada got a higher proportion of refugee students than any other country, he said. The decision to accept passenger refugees "cost more to start with, but is paying off now."

MRS. JOAN GRANT

When I was a kid I remember I used to get a great deal of my ideas and my fun from glorious outdoor play. And my dad had lots of time to make a big tree house and a swing for me. And I'll never forget him as a boy scout but what a thrill it was to hike and camp in the woods.

Also there was a 20x40 board on the common length balanced across the one horse which had to be removed occasionally for other use. My friends and I clambered up time after time and pushed, pumped and tried to behave ourselves, and then plank, on a absolutely exciting magic.

In the same area was a beautiful [illegible] filled with the most pleasant — SAND for construction area, [illegible] which we would [illegible], a community [illegible] system and a ball [illegible].

It poured. It packed. It carried. It dumped, etc. It got into cars, eyes, shoes, and hair. It undoubtedly frustrated many mamas. Once in a while it caused real clouping or re-[illegible].

Usually it needed putting back within the confines of the boards, and it always involved one parent or another trying to help or one of us a way from a particularly fascinating fantasy with a "Come on in here for supper".

Today if I go home with all my gang of sand worshippers it is still there, along with battered pails, and even some of the boys of my youth.

The sand box is still there, the sandbox and the plank are in the garage to be taken out by the lower grandchildren, and we are still here.

It is no secret that last year Al Jones decided that these very dangerous and noisy things had to go. Here in many there are to been with saving potential, we have to buy metal ones. I know of one with a seesaw for the planks: we buy teeter totters.

So far we do have a sand box. When there is sand in it there are youngsters in it. When there isn't the youngsters are delighted that the road crews so generously provided us with dirt for the front streets to dig in.

I have been waiting for the refilling of the sand box. Now I am told that they will not be refilling any of the sand boxes in camp. To the contrary they are having them all removed as they believe a health hazard is involved. Let's remove cars too!

I am asking my Ward councillor today to stand against this ridiculous decision of the Community Council to remove sand boxes. I am asking him instead to insist on proper enforcement of pet control. I want to know when I send my pre-schoolers out they will not be on the road playing in the sand there. How do you feel about it?

Solo entertainment starts Overture series

When John Robert Anderson appears in Hinton on Sunday, November 20 at 3:00 p.m. for the Foothills Overture Concerts, Concert goers will be hearing a young British actor who has devoted one of the most unusual and ambitious solo entertainments of its kind.

Although solo performances can no longer be regarded as something new, yet John Stuart Anderson offers a rare presentation, unlike any other solo artist, in which mime, music, movement and the spoken word combine to create a one man-dazzling aspect of the actor's art.

He is one of the few actors to appear almost exclusively in solo presentations, although he has appeared in special dialogue programs with the celebrated British actress, Margaret Rutherford.

Under the general title of The Living Word, his varied and extensive repertoire ranges from a selection of plays for one person, each production having its own specially designed costumes, lighting and music. The material for these actors ordinary programs has been drawn from many sources—history, fiction and legend. It contains not only some of his own plays, but also his own arrangements of dramatists as diverse as Shakespeare, Oscar Wilde, Lord Byron, a sequence of fascinating folk tales from all over the world, and... perhaps most striking and startling of all... passages from the Bible itself.

Anderson's one-man show has been given in many theatres as well as most of the major cathedrals in Britain. He was last seen to be invited to perform in the new Coventry Cathedral and also in the national Cathedral in Washington, D.C. Following this performance one reviewer said, "to say that he recites from the Bible is an understatement. When speaking other others, visually or vocally, he conveys an insanely human experience and brings home the point that one actor can provide an evening of great theatre. This truly a unique production."

Mr Anderson has devised a number of outstanding productions, which aim to provide an enjoyable, exciting and emotional theatrical experience. It is difficult to describe what to expect, but as the New York Times said, "with his outstanding voice, brilliant use to movement and gesture he succeeds in holding his audience spellbound and transforms the written word into something that really lives."

The appeal of his performances has been universal to young and old alike, and to many people from all walks of life, mainly because his material is universal.

A very pleasant aspect of the performance is that it will take place in the afternoon instead of in the evening as usual. This will make it particularly nice for children from Edson and Jasper who can enjoy a Sunday afternoon drive as well as the performance.

The second performance in the current Overture series will take place the same week in Edson. This will be The Kaleidoscope Players, a little theatre group who will appear in Edson on Wednesday, November 23.

A letter from

VOLKSWAGEN

To all their dealers

Gentlemen:

In view of the extensive news coverage of the arrangement by which Studebaker imported Volkswagens into Canada during the first half of 1965, I thought you should have the complete and accurate story.

Under existing Federal Government regulations, Studebaker -- by concentrating all of their manufacturing operations in Canada -- had built up a considerable export credit by the end of 1964. Unlike other domestic manufacturers who had been manufacturing on both sides of the U.S.-Canada border, and who could use export credits generated by their exports from Canada by importing cars and original component parts from the U.S., Studebaker was no longer manufacturing in the United States, and therefore could not utilize their export credits in that manner. Therefore, Studebaker approached us during November, 1964, seeking our co-operation in helping them to use up their export credits. Studebaker suggested that they import Volkswagens to obtain the benefits to which they were entitled from their export credits. Studebaker's proposal was that they would import Volkswagens, duty free, from Germany and sell them to us at a price that would include the duty which we would ordinarily have to pay if we imported them ourselves. Studebaker proposed to pay us a small fee to cover our expenses.

At first we declined this proposal because we felt that the Canadian regulations -- particularly the export credit regulations -- were not meant to cover such cases as this. However, Studebaker checked with the Federal Government in Ottawa and obtained written confirmation that such an arrangement was completely legal and within the regulations. On the basis that Ottawa was not only sanctioning Studebaker's proposal but must obviously be interested in having us co-operate with Studebaker, a Canadian manufacturer who had contributed to the Canadian economy by employing some 800 people and creating exports for Canada, we decided to co-operate. Consequently, between December of 1964 and July, 1965, about 10,000 Volkswagens were imported into Canada under this arrangement with the full knowledge and approval of customs authorities, and within the law. Instead of paying duty to National Revenue, we were paying an equivalent amount to the importer of record, i.e. Studebaker.

In view of this, you may have wondered why we did not make our co-operation dependant on receiving a share of Studebaker's duty savings. As is now apparent, our acceptance of a small fee rather than a share of the duty saved was a wise decision. News coverage of this situation on the whole, reveals that our participation was primarily in the interests of good citizenship.

Sincerely

VOLKSWAGEN CANADA LTD.

A Little Canadian History

Until the mid 19th Century [illegible] the place of the mentally retarded persons in Upper Canada was severe enough, being a consequence of tolerant rural ethics and of Victorian morality. The growth of the first industrial towns along the St. Lawrence and Great Lakes was accompanied by the inevitable degeneration of the relation of the [illegible] community to its mentally retarded.

The responsibility and usually vulnerable retardates fell to find a place in the new industrial communities and became, increasingly, wards of the principal community and [illegible] fear resource of that period, the municipal prisons. [illegible] crowding of the town jails soon reached a chronic state and out of concern for [illegible] purely retributive law enforcement, Upper Canada (Ontario) [illegible] its first facility for the separate public care of the retarded person.

This pioneer institution was established at Orillia (1876) where a defunct resort hotel was converted into an Asylum for Idiots. Now, there are twenty large public mental retardation residential establishments located across Canada, totally about 10,000 beds, and served by a staff of over 8,000. (Total number [illegible] even greater now)

ARDA regional committee meets in Edson

A report of the Secretary-Manager on a meeting of the ARDA Regional Committee held in Edson, Alta., Wednesday, October 12, 1966.

As delegated by Council, I (at the Committee above December, 1965. Representatives attended a meeting of the Central Advisory Committee in Edson on October 13th at 9:30 p.m.

This was the first meeting from Edson, Evansburg, Yvers, Niton, Blue Ridge, Magnolia, Thorpe, Hinldorf and Wildwood districts were present.

Mr. F. Belyea, Regional co-ordinator chaired the meeting. Mr. Gordon Sterling, Provincial ARDA Co-ordinator was in attendance

The purpose of the meeting was to inform the Advisory Committee of progress being made in the program Mr Belyea outlined some of the projects now under way or under study as follows:

— Drainage study in Xeno (Blue Ridge area) now complete!

— Land clearing program being investigated.

— Farmer education seminars under way at Evansburg and Fuora.

— Soil report survey at Whitecourt, Evansburg and Edson

— Upgrading education and retraining and relocation of people living on submarginal farms.

— Vocational and technical and agricultural courses.

— A program to deal with family homemaking and inter-family relationships in lower income family groups is under study. It is proposed to retrain homemakers and train them to assist these families to help themselves. The first training course is scheduled for Niston in February.

Mr Belyea pointed out that the program development was hampered by lack of staff. Recommendations have been put forward for the following:

1 training and guidance committee.

1 land adjustment specialist

1 male and 1 female community advisors (these people would work with local organizing programs suitable for a local area).

1 youth specialist to deal with all youth programs

Most of the staff had been approved in principle but appointments could not be filled until pay classifications are established.

Mr. Sterling, the Provincial Co-ordinator, stated that local program requests are processed through the Provincial ARDA Advisory Committee, composed of technical advisors from various government departments consisting of the Deputy Ministers of Lands & Forests, Agriculture, Municipal Affairs and Industry & Development. Following approval by these Committees the projects are submitted for Cabinet consideration and approval, and then forwarded on to Ottawa.

As is evident in any schemes involving multi-governmental approvals, there have been frustrations due to delays and in some cases interdepartmental jealousy has been difficult to overcome.

All representatives were presented with a copy of the economic survey of Census Division No. 14 which is on hand in the Town Office for perusal. This survey presents many valuable statistical tables and information on the area.

1 house development specialist.

I was impressed by two things at this meeting:

(a) The excellent attendance of farm representatives and their obvious enthusiasm for the general program.

(b) The information on the retention and retraining programs now under way.

Attached hereto is a brief bulletin outlining the aims and objectives of the ARDA program for Census Division No. 14.

C of C set annual meeting for Nov. 24th

The Edson Chamber of Commerce will hold their annual meeting and ladies night on Thursday evening, November 24th. The Thursday date was set for this one meeting as a gesture of co-operation with Overture Concert Assoc iation's.

The first Overture program of the season is scheduled for Wednesday, November 23, and as the concerts are scheduled months in advance can not be changed. The Chamber executive felt that many of the members who belong to both groups would like to attend both functions. Hence the Thursday date for the Chamber meeting.

The Chamber meeting will start with refreshments at 6:30 p.m. in the Edson Hotel Dining Room. Dinner will be served at 7:30.

The main business of the evening will be election of officers for the 1966-67 season. Following this a dance will round out the evening.

Admission for the dinner and dance is $1.00. Everyone interested is hereby asked to attend. The meeting is not limited to Chamber members.

A brief history of public recreation in Alberta

A brief resume of the history of organized public recreation in the province of Alberta might be best outlined by the following letter from the Minister of Youth, Hon. R. C. Clark to the writer:

In addition to the information contained in Hon R. Clark's letter some information about training schools for recreational Professionals and personnel might be mentioned at this time.

The Provincial Government operates a Recreational Leadership Training School at Red Deer, Alberta. This school has been in operation for over ten years. The majority of the Recreational personnel employed in the Province of Alberta have at one time or another attended this school. The University of Alberta is offering a four year degree program in Recreation. This program was instituted only four years ago. More details about these programs will be given in a later article.

As previously outlined, the first two activated locations for public recreation were Calgary and Edmonton. This and turning took place about twenty years ago. Today, to illustrate the fantastic growth, there are programs in the following Alberta Communities (Did you come from one of them?)

Ambrose, Calgary, County of Camrose, Drumheller, Hardisty, Cardston, Claresse, Edmonton, Beaverlodge, Cluster, Drayton Valley, Fort Saskatchewan, Fabler Nanton to Albert, Rocky Mountain House, Grande Prairie, Redcrose Mat, Hanna, Peace River, Legal, Ruth Prairie, Picture Butte, Sedgewick, Linden, Pincher Creek, Spirit River, Jasmard, Radcliff, Stettler, Lac La Biche, Panoka, Taber, Leduc, Ralston, Three Hills, Lethbridge, Red Deer, Vegreville, Lloydminster, Rimbey, Valley-View, Vermilion, Wainwright, Wetaskiwin

The growth of publicly organized recreation has "snowballed" into full gear. With the growing economy the great increase in leisure time and the corresponding increase of interest of leisure time activities, a problem is growing. The University of Alberta is presently hard pressed to meet the demand for the Professionally trained Recreation Leader.

There will no doubt be an increase in activity by the Provincial Government with the newly formed Ministry of Youth. It is moving to establish Co-ordinators of Recreation for various areas of the Province.

These are now in the process of being employed.

There will also probably be an increase in the size of the grants being made to communities for recreation programs. These will no doubt add fuel to fire the growth of organized recreation in Alberta.

The next article: "What is A Community Recreation Director?

Closing thought:
"Growing his pupils, the Master asked":
What would you learn of me?
And the reply came back:
How shall we care for our bodies?
How shall we rear our children?
How shall we work together?
How shall we live with our fellow men?
How shall we play?
For what ends shall we live?
and the teacher pondered these words, and sorrow was in his heart, for his own learnings tortured not on these things". (Quotation by Hollis L. Caswell, President Emeritus, Teachers College, Columbia University). Taken from an article called Vital Issues in American Education.

HEYER BURIED

At the funeral of friend who had taught scales for years, the minister had many fine things to say about her character, ending on the note that she was carrying on her work in heaven.

Annual FUA dinner-dance

The annual dinner meeting of the FUA district Locals will be held this year on Saturday, November 26 in the Edson Motor Hotel. Dinner starts at 7:00 p.m., a little later than usual to allow farm members to get their evening chores done a bit early and have a night out.

Business is held to a minimum, with a guest speaker or two following the dinner. A social evening and dance will complete the evening.

Members are urged to get their tickets in advance from Carl Rittenberger or to notify Carl that you intend to attend, so that the hotel will know how many to expect.

THE JUBILEE JUNIOR HIGH SCHOOL has two glee clubs this year, one made up of all boys and the other all girls. The boys had their first public appearance at the recent Teachers Induction Banquet. All polished and shining the boys looked and sang like angels, although their choice of songs were more suited to spiritual boys than angels. The two clubs were formed when there were too many candidates for glee club showed up at the beginning of the school term. Rather than disappoint some students by turning them down, Glee Club conductor, Mr. Wm. Lauderbach decided to give them all a chance.

Too Much Government

by Al Clark

I am reminded of the speech made by the Lieutenant-Governor of the Province Grant McEwan, at the U.A.M. convention recently.

His Honor made the point very clear that there is only so much tax money available. Likening the tax payer to a cow, once it has been milked the distribution of the milk may be changed but the total amount of milk remains the same.

On the Municipal level the growing community is the only community with a hope that they can increase municipal spending without increasing the individual tax load.

In Hinton we are faced with the very real problem of providing subdivisions for houses and light industrial applications or we are going to further slow down an already retarded rate of growth.

Hintonians must be prepared to spend for the necessities like sewer and water and storm sewers if they are to keep their own personal tax levy down.

You can disregard the warning signs and continue to go for the frills and luxuries like libraries and more recreational facilities but you do it at your own immediate added expense.

On the other hand you can get behind the people who can and will bring this town up to a population of six to eight thousand and in the money will be available for the frills without adding to the present burden.

The only other answer is to cut down on those items which we give to senior governments to look after. Perhaps we have far too much government spending of our money and should look to the ways and means of cutting back on what they spend for us.

YOU WIN IF YOU THINK YOU CAN

If you like to win but you think you can't
It's almost certain you won't

But sooner or later the man who wins
Is the man who THINKS HE CAN!

A PARABLE

And there were in that far western land, between the Rockies and the Pembina, four high schools. Some were large and some were small, but all were anxious to do the best they could to produce wholesome, many-sided graduates. And all, it is hoped, were as interested in the well-being of the non-academic as they were in the academic student.

With the passing of the decades, these schools had lean years and fat years on the basis of their June results. And some had more fat years than others. And when they had fat years, their principals and teachers were direly tempted to rush into print and boast of their glorious batting averages. But then they betrayed themselves of the lean years that had been and the lean years that might be again. And they likewise betrayed themselves of the tendency of the general public to misinterpret results published in very brief form. And fearing the precedent of publicity that might rise to plague them in a future lean year, they resigned the temptation.

True it was, the principals in a fat year may have boasted quietly among their friends. The temptation was very great.

Outstanding individual achievement was publicized without breaching the rules of school ethics. Their brethren conceded this much to human pride. But generalized boasting about batting averages they have religiously eschewed.

But lo, in the year 1966, through what devious routes it is hard to tell, one of these schools has put itself on record as being prepared for all time to come to make known to the public at large through the pages of the press, its batting averages, be they lean or fat. Perhaps their judgment was blinded by a new and unusual light. May their averages and transmuted scores descend upon their own heads — be they lean or fat.

AND AT TODAY'S PUCKS

Ed Sciarra rescues by night at a remote cottage last summer. It was decided that the lady who suffered the illness would have to be taken to the city in an ambulance, a long night drive. Meanwhile the doctor called for "a cold compress." There was nothing in the cottage that even remotely resembled a cold or any other kind of compress and that included the refrigerator. The only thing there was a roast of beef. But it was cold and since there was nothing better the roast was applied.

When the doctor on the receiving end of the patient's trip saw it he looked startled and a little doubtful. He was really surprised when he learned later that the family took the compress home with them, cooked it and ate it.

NO JUNIORS

Not long ago a minister of the crown alluded to a member of the House of Commons as "a junior member" and "a very junior member at that." Search of the constitution and other sources fails to reveal that there is any difference between one member of the House of Commons and another. Neither is junior to the other. Neither is senior to the other.

This is not the first time that this minister has indicated a superiority of mind, which he feels and which others may acknowledge but have an inherent resistance to feeling. He was, after a lapse of some years, the first minister of the crown appointed from Toronto, in June 1957. That large community had been without cabinet representation for a long time and Mr. St. Laurent made the conversion belatedly in the 1957 campaign, at the beginning of John Diefenbaker's successful onslaught on the citadel that had been for so long an evidence of Liberal impregnability. On the occasion of perhaps Mr. St. Laurent's greatest humiliation, a humiliation in which he should not have been submitted, there was heckling from the topmost area of the great Toronto arena, which was filled. This very junior minister might have been excused then for his apparent arrogance because of his youth. He waved a long arm in the direction of the hecklers in the crowd and said that everyone, of course, understood everything about the government except "those who don't understand."

Any member of the House of Commons is at liberty to make a fool of himself and some of them do, but the fools are not those who are there in a junior capacity. There is no junior capacity.

When a diner complained that he could not eat the soup that had been brought him, the waiter called the chef.

"I'm very sorry, sir," said the manager. "I'll call the chef."

When the chef arrived, the diner still insisted that he couldn't eat his soup.

"What's wrong with it?" demanded the chef.

"Nothing," calmly answered the diner. "I just don't have a spoon."

The Migratory Bird Treaty

The Migratory Bird Treaty between the United States and Great Britain was signed in Washington, D.C. on August 16 1916. It was proclaimed on December 8, 1916. The Treaty marked the close of a long battle by pioneer conservation ists in the United States and Canada to bring migratory song and game birds under uniform protection. It effectively ended the market shooting that was threatening the extinction of many valuable food species in North America. The Treaty gave added full protection for many beneficial non-game birds.

Pipelines For Wheat?

Speaking at the annual meeting of Manitoba Pool delegates last week, Trade Minister Pickersgill said he believed pipe lines would eventually be used to transport wheat from Western Canada. He thought the Wheat Pools should be taking a good look at the idea.

It is possible, Mr. Pickersgill's forecast may come to pass. The Pools have considered this idea already, not with the idea of building pipelines but to find out if the scheme would be possible and economically feasible. The findings were that no serious engineering problems would be involved but the cost of unloading and transporting grain over such a system would make an undertaking of this nature uneconomical for the present at least. A couple who recently moved to Edmonton are just beginning to learn how wary city people are. The other day, for example, when the wife found that she needed some boxes to store winter clothes in, the husband went to the local supermarket to get them. "May I have a few empty cartons?" he asked the man [illegible]

The manager stared at him suspiciously. "Empty cartons of what?" he demanded.

Soon in passing: A huge truck, top side down on a ditch on the Peers-Whitecourt road and some residents of unwilling lawyer message on that particular stretch of [illegible] hunters by the number intending bringing home the bacon, frozen cooking systems, dead batteries and frayed tempers. Daily oil stoves and subsequent frustration, which all points to the fact that regardless of all efforts to be prepared in advance winter is here and is caught us with our plans down.

Sweet tooth anybody?

Anyone with a sweet tooth will not want to miss the candy and bake sale at Kelsey's Order Office this Saturday, November 19. The sale starts at 1:30 p.m.

The sale is sponsored by the 1st Edson Girlie Company.

UCW collecting used articles to help others

The United Church Women have received an appeal for the following articles:

Old torn clean nylons which are used in Edmonton in several institutions such as the Newmarn Pavilion for veterans, the Samaritan House, the Edmonton Rehabilitation Centre and others for handiwork for the inmates.

Old sheets to be torn up into bandages for use in a hospital in Nepal. This hospital is also in need of empty aerosption containers;

Stamps which are sent to Ontario where they are processed and used in missionary work. The stamps are to be cut with about ¼ inch to spare off the envelope.

The United Church Women would be very grateful for contributions of these articles. Marked boxes will be placed in the church. Boxes will also be placed downtown in the Red Owl of January into which nylons, plastic pill boxes, sheets and stamps can be dropped.

TB Christmas Seals in the cause of health

For more than twenty-five years the Alberta Tuberculosis Association has been fighting tuberculosis. Progress has been remarkable not only in this community but in the world as a whole. Yet people are still dying of tuberculosis. Last year in Canada there were 697 deaths, and for each one dying there are ten on treatment, taking between 20 and 30 pills a day, month after month.

Tuberculosis is costly. The annual bill in Canada is about $40,000,000. Hospitalization is from $25 to $30 a day. Even for three months, which is the minimum, the tax bill is around $2,500. This is just the beginning. There are lost wages to be added, often one father's allowance on top of that and perhaps, some financial assistance to the patient until he gets another job.

This is why the TB Association has as its major goal the eradication of tuberculosis from Alberta and why from British Columbia to New Brunswick other TB Associations are also carrying on Christmas Seal campaigns.

The powerful drugs in use for the past 15 years have made an enormous difference in the effectiveness of treatment but these marvelous drugs on finding the patients, and the earlier the better for all concerned.

In recent years the Tuberculosis Association has become concerned with the prevention and treatment of other respiratory diseases. The respiratory diseases, like tuberculosis, often bring disability and death. Some of them also make the patient more vulnerable to tuberculosis.

These are some of the reasons why Christmas Seal dollars are needed as urgently as ever. So answer your Christmas Seal letter today.

Scout light bulb sale

Edson Boy Scouts and Cubs will conduct their annual sale of light bulbs this Friday, November 18th.

Cubs over ten years old are asked to meet at the United Church at 6:30 so that they get their house-to-house routes started in good time.

Proceeds from the sale will help to buy necessary equipment for Edson Cub Packs and Scout Troops.

KNOW OUR MEMBERS

Do you know who John Ware was? If not ask some of the teenagers. Many of them did not know before the centennial speakers wound them up on Alberta history. Soon maybe they realize we have something deeper than oil and gas wells to be proud of. We have much interesting history and many untold stories. We'll tell them to you if you want to hear!

MOMENT OF HUMOR!!!

A Canadian standing on a golf green at Jasper was spoken to by a group of obviously affluent Americans. They pointed to the beauty around them and said "Isn't this fantastically beautiful". The Canadian (no novice!) replied "Yep!" One of the visitors fluted "Say Mister I've travelled all over the world and I've never seen anything more beautiful than this. And you say "Yep"! Modest or ignorant which are we?"

Hey bloom—if you help all your folks organize a centennial celebration we might not eat more in a while. Give bloom, think, or dishes to do.

THE EDSON LODGE OORP were honored recently when Supreme Honored Royal Lady Helen Johnson from Powell River, B.C., made her official visit

A recent very gracious and welcoming visitor in Edson was Mrs Helen Johnson, Supreme Honored Royal Lady of the OORP Lodge in Canada. Mrs. Johnson was making her official visit to Lodges in north central British Columbia, Alberta and was on her way home via Hinton and Jasper.

In an interview prior to her departure for Hinton, Mrs. Johnson spoke of how much she enjoyed her affiliation with the Lodge.

Mrs Johnson said she felt that one of the main things about the Lodge was that a member could, with active participation, gain such a lot of satisfaction out of the good works that are a part of the Lodge's benevolent activities.

She felt the most important of these was the Purple Cross Fund. This fund provides aid for young people 19 years and under who are in need of medical attention, glasses, artificial limbs, etc. Providing students who have no means of paying for their own education may also get help through the Purple Cross Fund.

The Centennial project for the Order of the Royal Purple Lodge is a vocational school for the deaf where children with this unfortunate handicap may learn to become useful citizens through training that will let them live a normal life. This will be the only centre of its kind in Canada.

An interesting fact learned in the conversation with Mrs Johnson was that the first OORP Lodge was established in Vancouver in 1918. From there it spread to other areas in B.C. and Alberta and finally further east. Still today there are more OORP Lodges in B.C. and Alberta than in the rest of Canada.

Mrs Johnson said she was having an interesting trip, making many new friends. She was looking forward to visiting Lodges all across Canada before her term of office comes to an end.

CHRISTMAS WITH CANDLELIGHT — The traditions of Christmas are centred around lighted candles. Here are three different holiday candles especially created for this festive season.

SAND MOLD SANTA CANDLE

For this candle you will need parowax, Tenier's plastic paints, coloring and a large cone mould. Begin by installing the wick in the mould, being sure to seal well at the bottom.

Now melt the parowax over boiling water in a temperature of 180 degrees F. This wax should be tinted a bright red because it will become Santa's coat but Pill the mould about two-thirds full, allow this to set completely in a water bath. Prod and refill as the wax cools and shrinks.

Because the remaining one third of the mould will become Santa's face, melt more wax and tint it with pink to give a nice ruddy flesh color. Allow to completely harden before unmoulding.

The features are painted with the plastic paints. If you want to give Santa the additional touch of white whiskers and a fur trimmed hat topped with a pom-pom, buy from your hobby shop parowax with a melt point of 145 degrees F and add three tablespoons of stearic acid per pound. Then whip and apply wax and line it with pink to give a nice ruddy flesh color. Allow to completely harden before unmoulding.

CHRISTMAS CHIMNEY

The square brick chimney is made in the square Sacrarama mould No wick is needed Melt and pour white parowax to the desired height in the mould. The irregular lure should be at 180 degrees F Place the mould carefully in a water bath of about 65 degrees F You may have to use a weight to keep the mould from floating

Allow the mould to set until a film about 1/8 inch thick has formed over the surface of the parowax You will want the walls to be about ¼ inch thick. Remove the mould from the bath and with a paring knife cut a square out of the chimney leaving a hollow shell on all sides Remove this square of excess parowax Let the shell cool until ready for unmoulding

Melt some more parowax and color it red Using a paint brush coat the outside of the shell red When this has cooled, carefully score the bricks, which will then be surrounded by white "mortar"

Set on a Styrofoam base and decorate with fluffy snow made from white whipped parowax First melt the parowax, then pour into a foil plate and cool until a white film forms, now whip with a fork When all is ready place a candle in a votive glass inside the chimney and add a small Santa ready to climb into the chimney We got ours from the variety store When the votive light is lit, it will glow through the chimney vents. Just wait until the children see this one!

"Why don't you use an old bolt?" asked the cadet. The duffer intended, "I've never had one."

Haddock Happenings

The rain and snow on the 6th put a stop to the harvesting of closer seed in the district A number of farmers have reportedly quite a few acres to be combined

This area is supposed to be out suitable for wheat but several reports of 40 bushel to the acre have been capped by the record yield of 65 bushels to the acre on John Bandie's farm.

Sprinkles' sale on the 5th had a very large crowd in attendance in spite of the cold and miserable day, it was quite a successful sale. The UCW from Peers served the coffee and lunch and made $45 clear from their effort.

Mr and Mrs Norman Reif of Edmonton visited the Fred Johnston and Bob Richardson families last weekend

Glenn Johnston was home over the weekend with his family

Miss Dawn Lovell of Edmonton visited her father A. E. Lovell and her grandparents Mr and Mrs. F. Johnston this past weekend.

It seems that we have winter here to stay at least with a few of zero on the ninth.

Building is still going on in spite of the weather. Mr and Mrs. Orville Armstrong have the exterior of their house finished, Fred Mirelli is still working on his pig barn.

Produces Good Fruit

REGINA —(CP)— Harold Longhi, a son of British Columbia fruit growers 18 years ago and kept and planted a couple of seeds in his garden.

Today he has a full-grown apple tree 14 feet high which has produced more than 100 pounds of good quality apples—a "grandchild" comparison with prolific B.C. Mr. Ripley says.

A retired caretaker, he has a apple trees in his backyard and says there is no reason why trees in Saskatchewan could not be considered a temperate orchard zone.

Each fall for six years he wrapped the stem of the tree he took in heavy paper, placing earth at the bottom to keep out cold breezes. The wrapping was removed each April and then sprayed once early in May. At all times the tree required no special attention apart from fertilizing, he says

Chinese boy 'adopted' by Stanley Castella

Mr. Stanley Castella of Edmonton, has financially "adopted" Yau Yin Tung, a 12 year old Chinese boy living in Hong Kong, through Foster Parents' Plan, P.O. Box 65, Station "N", Montreal.

YAU YIN TUNG

Mr. Castella has been interested in Hong Kong and needy children there for some time. He is a member of the Edson Kinsmen Club which has been active in the support of this child. Stanley has also been active in the Edson Foster Parents' and the Edson Community Chest. Because of his child Stanley has been able to appreciate what aids for Foster Parents' Plan can do for needy children.

The original cost a month ago was $15.00 a month. This is now $20.00 a month. The increase is due to the increase in the cost of living in Hong Kong. Stanley has been able to keep all about the Foster parent — his family, his community and his country. He has time to devote to his correspondence with Yau Yin Tung and way of life.

Often a snapshot of the foster parent, sent in a letter, by the child's next interval Foster Parents' Plan projects have visited their foster children at home reveal that the best thing they ever were given was the opportunity to go on the visit. Travelling is expensive over the best selection Foster Parents' Plan.

Senator John G. Turner visited his foster child while visiting PLAN'S Hong Kong of Jean and Mr. Henry Cabot Lodge accepted a little girl as foster child for herself and her daughter, while visiting the work at Viet Nam Hong Kong. Similarly thousand of Foster Parents' Plan families have visited their foster children and have served for years in order to travel to Europe, Asia or Africa to see and meet their foster child. Some foster children of years of corresponding boards.

For $20 an individual or group can support a child for a month. This can provide for the child's food, clothing, the total amount, new clothing, medical equipment, complete medical care, and every foster child gets a birthday present. Each child is assisted free in the development of his country PLAN needs.

Contributions to every country by where PLAN needs are supervised by a Director, with local social and community workers, and a local committee, consisting of representatives of the community, and the child's immediate family is set up to help the child. Each child's progress is reported to the sponsor regularly until the child reaches the age of 21 years. Then the child graduates from the Plan, and the sponsor is free to choose another child.

If a foster parent is unable to continue support until the child reaches the age of 21 years, then the child continues to receive help from the Plan until he is able to support himself.

The interim support is paid out of the General Fund, and is made up of contributions from people who want to help but do not wish to become foster parents.

In the past 20 years foster parents plan has graduated 24,000 children, a small army of talented responsible citizens of their countries, loyal friends of ours. Currently, more than 7,200 Canadian individuals and groups are foster parents of children in Korea, Hong Kong, Korea, the Philippines, Viet Nam, Colombia, Ecuador and Peru

Canadians usually generous, zealously assist generous foster parents to provide them with the benefits they need so much.

Foster Parents' Plan is a non-sectarian, non-political, non-propaganda, non-government organization. PLAN is registered in Canada and enjoys the confidence of both citizens and the Canadian Government. It is audited with public to anyone who asks for it. Donations are tax deductible according to age and need receive.

For information write to Foster Parents' Plan, P.O. Box 65, Station "N", Montreal.

New report released by provincial ARDA office

ARDA has just released a report on the "Resources for Rural Development in Census Division 14", an area of 11,760 square miles in West Central Alberta near Jasper National Park according to Agriculture Minister Harry E. Strom.

The census division 14 report was financed under ARDA by a provincial-federal cost-sharing agreement. It was published by the agriculture department's Economics Division. The report was prepared by V. T. Jonsson, Supervisor of the Rural Development Research Branch. Assistance was given by K. V. Svenson and W. R Meikle, communists.

The census publication supercedes the smaller, 68-page pamphlet published earlier. It contains an inventory of the resources of census division 14 and analyzes existing conditions. The pamphlet also suggests potentials for socio-economic development in the major areas of agriculture, population and education, tourism and recreation, forestry and industry and government.

Agriculture, which is reported to be the weakest sector of the economy, is characterized by low income, small farms, relatively poor land and occasional adverse climatic conditions.

One of the most significant population trends evident in C.D. 14, according to the report, is the trend to urban residence. Farm size is expanding the number of farms shrinking; more people are being employed in industry and services, and fewer in agriculture, with a resultant concentration of population in and near the five main trading areas.

The educational level has not kept pace with the technological changes taking place, both in farming and industry.

School "Dropouts" in the area are a great deal higher than the provincial average, 30 to 70 per cent of the children leaving school between Grade nine and twelve. This fact raises problems in adjustment to urban living and in competition for positions requiring technical or professional skills.

Considering the resources available, recreation and tourism are greatly underdeveloped, the report said. Situated as it is on Highway 16 west and adjacent to Jasper National Park; C.D 14 abounds in fishing, big game hunting and scenic beauty; all of which are ripe for expansion of the industry.

Resources for rural development in C.D 14 has been masterfully prepared not only to provide an answer to the above problems, but to give direct assistance to the following individuals and groups:

1. The residents of the district, to help them understand their problems, seek solutions and establish goals and priorities for future development.

2. The technical panels, to provide resource assistance in local development efforts.

3. The regional resource co-ordinator and assistant regional resource co-ordinator, to provide whatever assistance they may require in counselling and to aid in the development of an integrated system.

4. Government departments, to guide them in establishing policies and programs especially suited to the needs of the area.

The main body of the report is written, graphically illustrated and documented for understanding by the layman. Particularly impressive is a section on Page 107, "Suggested Guidelines", which identifies the major problems and suggests possible solutions for each. These are intended to assist the local committees themselves, to develop overall economic and social action programs, and are not designed to dictate solutions from government authorities.

The ARDA Report on C.D. 14, is issued with the certification, that, in resource development, the residents themselves should not only understand their own problems, but they should participate in the planning in alleviate the problems. Theirs must be the right to express loudly and clearly their own needs and the responsibility to play a personal part in their solution.

Have you ever wondered...

...who protects the rights of Alberta's working girls ... and men?

The working girl in Alberta today receives wages equal to her male counterpart and, like the men, is assured proper rates of pay, hours of work, vacations and holidays. Minimum standards for all these are established under The Alberta Labour Act and enforced by the Board of Industrial Relations, Alberta Department of Labour. The Board not only carries out regular inspections of working conditions and investigates complaints but also protects the new employee by providing him with full information as to the regulations when he establishes a business. In addition, the Board of Industrial Relations provides conciliation officers from its staff when labour disputes reach an impasse and the parties involved request assistance. The record shows that 65 per cent of the disputes handled by these officers have reached successful conclusions.

...what northern Alberta has to offer you?

Whatever your reason for considering thes northern area of the Province, as a place to live, a location on which to open a business, or a good investment prospect, the Northern Alberta Development Council is the agency to ask for information. If they don't have the answers to your questions, they know where they can be obtained. That is the clearing house for intelligence on northern Alberta, collected from all departments of government on all phases of life in the north. In addition, the Council advises both government and industry on economic and social development in that area of Alberta lying north of the 55th parallel.

...who brings power to rural residents of Alberta?

The residents do with the assistance of the Co-operatives Branch of the Alberta Department of Industry and Development. This Branch supervises a Revolving Loan Fund, which is available to Rural Electrification Associations for financing their projects. These are formed by any group of ten or more farmers who can prove that electrification of their area is feasible, practical, and acceptable to the residents. Once this has been established, the R.E.A. can borrow all but $100 of the cost of each installation. So far, over $51 million has been borrowed by such associations to light up rural Alberta.

...how you can help develop a summer resort area in Alberta?

Write a letter to the Lands Division, Alberta Department of Lands and Forests and tell them about the area in which you'd like to acquire a lot. If enough requests are received, the Lands Division carries out an appraisal to be sure the area is suitable for a summer cottage sub-division, then subdivides the land into lots, develops a water supply and builds access roads. The availability of the lots is then advertised and interested applicants gather at a meeting where a draw is held to see who gets first choice, second choice, and so on. Normally, the lot is leased for a period of ten years, on a renewable lease, at an annual rate of ten per cent of the appraised value. The value of the lot is established by taking into consideration the value of the land plus the cost of development. The lessee must pay taxes on the leased site as well. Once the land is improved by the construction of a cottage, which must be completed to approved plans within two years, the owner may then purchase it and has right except in certain forestry areas of the Province where cottage sites are leased only.

...who does the flying under Alberta medical services?

In Australia, they have flying doctors. In Alberta, we have flying patients. Any resident of an outlying area of the Province who has to be moved by air to a larger centre in order to receive the medical or surgical care he needs will be flown out by the Emergency Air Ambulance Service of the Alberta Department of Public Health. Doctors fly, too, on occasion. When the situation is urgent and the patient can't be moved, a specialist will be flown in. Another use of the Emergency Air Ambulance Service is fast transportation of blood for transfusions. In any case, the tab for transportation by this service is picked up by the Provincial government.

...what you're supposed to do if you discover a cave-in?

Chances are that the cave in has occurred at the site of one of the more than 1,700 abandoned coal mines in the Province, so your best move is to call the Mines Division of the Alberta Department of Mines and Minerals. Inspectors from the Division keep a very careful eye on all these locations, checking regularly to see that there are no openings who h would present a hazard to the general public. If a cave-in is discovered, it is filled in and closely watched until all signs of settling have disappeared. Safety conditions at the 80 active coal mines in the Province are also the responsibility of the Mines Division and major sub-surface operating mines are checked once a month, smaller underground operations three or four times a year, and strip mines every two or three months.

Comms face first test meet city on weekend

In a reversal of scheduled senior hockey, the Edson Comm members have arranged a two-game weekend series with the high flying Western King A's from Edmonton. The Commodores were in play against the Drayton Valley Rebels in the opening games of the newly formed North Western Hockey League.

However, the artificial ice in the Drayton Valley arena is just being started thus restricting the Rebels from considering any practices. The games between the Commodores and Drayton Valley will be rescheduled at a later date.

In securing the Edmonton Western King A's for two exhibition games this coming Saturday and Sunday, November 19th and 20th, the Edson Commodores will have their hands full. The Western King A's are Edmonton's top Commercial "A" team and so far in league play, they have yet to go down to defeat in five outings.

Last weekend the King A's journeyed to Jasper where they easily disposed of that town's NWHL representatives, the Combines, by scores of 14-2, and 7-3.

The Commodores held their first workout on Sunday and despite the short notice, some 17 hopefuls turned out to a three hour practice under Edson coach Vic Cebulak. While many hockey prospects were unable to attend the first practice, it appears that the nucleus of the local senior hockey team will be of the age group between 20-25.

Even though this was their first real turn at the skates, they appear to be a free-wheeling bunch with lots of hustle and determination that should provide for a second-to-none brand of hockey.

Game times for the games with the Edmonton Western King A's have been set for 8 p.m. Saturday with Sunday's game starting at 2 p.m.

A good turnout at the gates will be most rewarding to the seniors, who will be giving it their best despite having only one week of practice when the opening faceoff whistle blows on Edson's first hockey game on our new arena.

Fans in Hinton will be treated to some good hockey as both clubs have been practicing for some time now and have already tasted exhibition action against some good Edmonton teams.

In North Western Hockey League action this weekend, the strong sisters of the league, the Hinton Hawks and Jasper Combines, will play games in Hinton on Saturday and Sunday.

Hockey Coaching clinic scheduled for Nov. 27

There will be a hockey coaching clinic held in Edson on Sunday, November 27th. Deadline for applications is Friday, November 18. Registration fee is one dollar.

A minimum of 25 candidates will be required in order to hold the clinic.

The clinic will be of great benefit to anyone interested in coaching hockey players from the mite level to seniors.

With 4 unlimited number of youngsters eager to play hockey in Edson, Hinton and Jasper it is hoped that potential coaches will turn out in force to pick up some pointers at this clinic. The youth try who are eager to learn to play hockey today are the boys who will be the hockey stars of tomorrow—if they are given a chance.

Registration forms and additional information can be had by writing to Al Laporte at Box 640, Edson, Alta.

The clinic is sponsored by the AAHA, Dept of Youth and the Edson Recreation Board.

A similar clinic designed for referees was held in Jasper lately recently.

Clinic planned for Jr. coaches, players, etc.

A special hockey clinic for boys 16 years of age and under will be held at the Edson Arena on Saturday, Nov. 19. Referees, coaches and prospective players are urged to attend as that part personnel may be selected and systems assigned to each team.

Each player will be required to pay a small fee to cover the cost of a special 8 mm motion picture.

The practice time for each group on Saturday will be as follows:

9:00 to 9:45, Mites
10 to 10:45 a.m., Pee Wees
11 to 11:45 a.m., Bantams
2 to 3 p.m., Midgets

A meeting of coaches, referees and assistant supervisors will be held at 3 o'clock at the arena.

Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Rob bins are home following a two month stay with daughter, Margaret Gough in Ottawa, while her husband was tem porarily in Calgary.

The essay and poster competition sponsored each year by Legion Branches all over Canada had many than usual entries locally and of a higher calibre.

The essays in the competition for prior and senior high school students are judged at Zone level with the winners being put into competition at District level. District level winning essays go to Provincial level and the winners for the previous are sent to Dominion level for final judging.

Junior High School winners were all from Jasper Place, second and third in that order they are Luigi Alfa, Michele Fraglo and Brenda Pearce

The Optimist Club held their combined Father and Son and Commercial Hockey League to be formed

All interested hockey players, and attending school or not playing with the senior hockey team, who wish to participate in an Edson Commercial Hockey League are asked to be at the Edson Arena at 9:00 p.m. this coming Friday, November 25th.

They are asked to bring their own equipment, including hockey sticks to the Arena. The present organized body has stipulated that the Commercial League will play only once a week so this will not interfere too much with job commitments and other personal activities.

Turkey Curl-a-rid Monopolized

The Edson Curling season was opened in with a success-ful turkey curl on Saturday Oct. 29. A mixed bonspiel began on Nov. 1st and finished on Tuesday, Nov. 8.

The president of the Edson Curling Club, Rush Dixon, skipped his rink of Audie Pyrah-tion, Cliff Halsted and Eva Dixon to victory in the first bonspiel held in Edson this curling season. Complete results of the bonspiel are reported by Gary Malion in another part of this curling column.

PROPOSED PLANS FOR NEW RINK.

President Rush Dixon, his wife Eva, and their two sons, Owen and Ian, have spent many hours working at the curling rink in order to provide the best of curling conditions for Edson Curlers. Thanks are extended to other volunteer helpers and to Al Murr who has made his truck available for hauling lake water.

Caretaker and ice-maker Jim Whaling also deserves credit for the fine job he is doing in the never-ending battle to provide straight and keen ice. It is a personal problem in Edson to achieve three ten sheeters but definite progress has been made in this direction over the last few years.

A petition was circulated in the Edson area in the building [illegible] and the response was very good and the petition was returned to the Edson Area. Even though a right ice sheet was a plan to have the rink finished in 19[illegible] at least the initial speaker-ish could be accomplished.

One sketch plan of the proposed new building was available at the curling rink a few weeks ago for viewing purposes. The plan called for the ice surface and lobby to be far enough above the ground so as to allow enough space for cars to park underneath the building.

Many favourable comments were made concerning the building of such an addition, providing suitable financing could be arranged.

LADIES' CLUB FINALS

Last season's Ladies Curling Club finals for the Mastercraters Utilities Trophy (plus consolations) were delayed until this month. Helen McEvoy portrayed from Edmonton to Edson to ship her last year's rink of Edie Jay, Eva Dixon and Marion Ashmead to a nail-biting victory over Hazel Rykmann's foursome of Leona Arbuckle, Janis Gerling and Pat Bodner.

By virtue of this win the McEvoy rink won the Afternoon Ladies League Championship. The best of a two out three final was then played between the Evening League Championship rink of Eileen Erikson, Vera Walsh, Dorothy Singleton and Florence Brown and the McEvoy quartet who topped the Afternoon League.

The McEvoy crew won the Northwestern Utilities Trophy by winning two straight games against the Erikson foursome.

OPEN MIXED BONSPIEL

Several entrie- from Edmonton and other parts have been received for the Edson Open Mixed Bonspiel which begins Friday evening, Dec. 2nd and carries on to Sunday, Dec. 4th.

[illegible] NEW FEES" IN EDMONTON

[illegible] Don Morris of Edmonton [illegible] Edmonton [illegible] has just recently become popular on shuffle boards. The twenty-one rinks have been divided into two sections A,B,C and D. After the first round has been finished the top two rinks in each section, except A, go up to the next section immediately above them while the bottom two rinks in each section, except D, go down to the lower section.

The draws are continued until the top rinks eventually should be in section A. This type of draw also should create more interest and a better brand of competition.

TRI-SERVICE LADIES' BONSPIEL

The first Tri-Service ladies' bonspiel was held on Sunday, Nov. 20. The Lady Lions were the genial hostesses for this very successful 'spiel, which is to become an annual event. The Tri-Service Trophy in the A event was captured by the Shirley Miller rink of Barbara Brown, Mary Campbell, and Donna Murray who won a narrow decision over the Sgt Ruth foursome of Gladys Wertman, Ann Rivard and Ann Yemaschuk.

The Daisy Potapoff rink was third prize while Hazel Rykmann's crew captured fourth prize.

The B event trophies donated by Al's Esso were won by the Lois Blanchet rink of Adele Yemaschuk, Ellen Serafini, and Edie Strasburg. Runner-up in this event went to the Eileen Erikson quartet of Josie Gerling, Ann Hay and Marion Ashmead.

Chris Finnstrom skipped her rink to a third place finish while Joan Lawrence's rink finished fourth.

REMEMBRANCE DAY BONSPIEL

The Alberta Curling Association invited each country club in Northern Alberta to send one rink to compete against a home city rink. Ted Tetzaren, Bill Osborne, Reg Gardiner and Ron Steele represented Edson in this year's event.

The Edson rink won both their games against their hosts from the Thistle Curling Club of Edmonton. The host rink again royally entertained the visiting rinks.

TURKEY CURL AND MIXED BONSPIEL

By Gary Malion

The Edson Curling Club opened the 1966-67 season with a Turkey Curl and social evening on Saturday, October 29. This was the first chance for local curlers to test the ice and their skill at drawing to the button.

Twenty-five turkeys were given away in the best aimed rocks with Bill Hooper and Bill Latimer being the big winners with two turkeys each.

Other winners were: J. Pyrah, M.-s. Jay, Alan Rough, Lee Erickson, Gordon Dunkin, Max Davidge, Sam Hicks, Mike Reay, Mrs. D. Gunn, Ed. Carlsen, Jerry Robinson, Fred Parenteau, Mrs. L. Blundell, Mrs. Maxwell, Dick Tuberty, Al Tupker, Ray Wegwitte, Paul Gamache, H. Johnson M. Nobel and A. Jensen.

Following the Turkey Curl, the Club M'ned Bonspiel entered Curlers and to get into shape for the coming season. Club President, Rush Dixon's rink took home the Everett Mahon Memorial Trophy by defeating the R. Horne rink in the "A" Event final. The winning rink consisted of Skip, R. Dixon; third, A. Pyrah; second, C. Rachuliak; and lead, E. Dixon. The Horne rink was skipped by H. Hamilton at third, R. Horne second, and lead P. Horne.

The runners-up in "A" Event were the M. Nobel rink and the Bill Latimer rink. In "B" Event Jil Carlsen handled the Dan Maxwell rink nicely in cop first prize. "C" Event went to the Don Erikson rink which defeated D. Hartman in the final.

In each of the final games the winners had no trouble after the first few ends and the scores were all one-sided. With the practice and loosening-up obtained from this 'spiel, we can look forward to an exciting year of curling with those close, nerve-racking games that make curling the popular sport that it is.

Winter travel restrictions on I-8 Highway

Winter travel restrictions were instituted on the Banff Jasper Highway effective 4:30 p.m. Thursday November 24.

As in previous years, control gates are located on this Highway in both Banff and Jasper National Park. Travel on the Highway will be restricted in the hours of 8:00 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. daily. Motorists should schedule their travel to cross the control gates by these times.

There is always the possibility that the road may be temporarily closed due to heavy storms. Travellers are, therefore, encouraged to inquire at the Park offices before planning to use the road.

Motorists are also reminded that good snow tires or well fitting tire chains are required and that gasoline is not available between Lake Louise and Jasper.

UNICEF drive successful

Under the leadership of the local Ministerial Association the UNICEF campaign conducted through the grade 4, 5 and 6 pupils of Edson has its most profitable year.

This year as for the past few years the pupils were asked to forego the trick and treating and instead to collect for UNICEF.

About 70 boys and girls volunteered. The donations of the boys fell amounted to $1425.15. Prior to the collecting visit, the students delivered home literature to the homes so that all parents could intelligently give to this worthy cause.

There was the usual Hallowe'en party at which the canvassers were entertained with games and films while receiving a variety of treats.

The thanks of the Edson Ministerial Association are extended to all who contributed to the success of this annual venture.

The following merchants contributed funds for the pot by Star Cafe (Grimes Jewellers, Edson Dry Cleaners, Edson Motor Hotel, Bus Rite, Edson Hotel, A. V. Nelson and the Co-op Store.

Sluggish Kidneys May Bring Restless Nights

If you "drink like water" you may have to get up during the night to pass it off. Many people do not drink enough water. They perhaps have a mere cupful daily. But most of the body's waste must be washed out by water. Urinary tract irritations and sudden discomfort may result when the kidneys are overtaxed. Don't neglect your kidneys. This is how. Drink 6 to 8 glasses of water daily. This may bring relief if your kidneys are sluggish. Also, help relieve the irritated condition when caused by bacteria. Take Doan's, used and recommended the country over. Ask for Doan's Pills. Pills of the drug counter. Used successfully by millions for over 70 years.

Outstanding African film to be shown in Edson

Shortly Edson Residents will have the opportunity of seeing one of the most talented and complete color films ever produced on the magnificent big game animals and bird life of Eastern Kenya and Uganda in East Africa.

"Kenya Uganda Safari" was filmed by well known professional wildlife photographer Edgar T. Jones, whose color studies of wildlife films are known to most Canadians. As a lecturer for the National Audubon Society of New York his wildlife film programs are shown in over 250 cities in North America.

The film, "Kenya Uganda Safari" is a product of a two month safari to Kenya, Tanganyika and Uganda depicting the flourishing wildlife of this amazing part of the world. Here unusual doubt remains the world's greatest variety of animals and birds.

Travelling by Land Rover, boat and by plane, Edmons was able to visit many areas and see many things that most visitors to Africa miss.

Who has dog out a count of crocodile eggs while the 16 foot female watches from the water nearby? How many people get a chance to fish the giant Nile perch in the waters of the Victoria Nile River in Uganda? The record rod and line catch for Nile perch is a 236 pounder! How many people have filmed face close-ups of the always dangerous Cape buffalo, the noble rhino and the bull elephant?

These are just a few of the things to be seen in Kenya-Uganda Safari, a film which takes us through some of the beautiful Naivasha Lake area of Western Kenya and westward into the border of the Belgian Congo. Giraffe, zebra, oribi, Uganda kob impala, hartebeest and many other beautiful African game animals travel across the screen.

You will see giant 300 pound ostrich, the world's largest birds, hornbills, secretary birds, geese, guinea fowl and many other colorful birds of the tropics, as well as the fascinating scenery of the Victoria Nile with the massive Murchison Falls.

Here is the Queen Elizabeth Park of Uganda you will see the largest Hippopotamus concentration in the world and look into the faces of this giant of the animal world.

Unusual as family entertainment, this is one film that no one of any is miss. Sponsored by the Edson Fish and Game Association and Gun Club, "Kenya - Uganda Safari" is coming to Edson on Tuesday Dec. 6 in the Jubilee School Auditorium. Starting time is 8 with tickets available at the door. Advance tickets may be had at Edson Outdoor Supply. For reserve tickets phone 723-6700.

Moves to Vancouver

Miss Shirley Beelle left last week for Vancouver where she will begin a new job.

Shirley has been employed by Hudson's Bay Oil and Gas Ltd. for the past two years. Fellow employees presented her with a hostess set during their Hallowe'en dance at the end of October.

The evening of Remembrance Day a group of friends called at her home for a surprise get-together. Chatter and fun filled a pleasant time and a gift was presented to Shirley to remember her many friends in Edson by.

Best wishes on her venture most extended by her friends and all were worried that they must look her up whenever they happened to be in the West city.

TERRY BURNAT,
Jenner

Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year.

Remember those good old carefree teenage days? But being a teenager means anything but a carefree life for 16-year old Terry Burnat. Just before Christmas her mother was killed, and her father injured in a car accident. Since that time she has taken over the management and operation of her farm home, including the supervision and training of her two brothers, 13-year old Teddy and 11-year old Timothy. She attends school in Medicine Hat, but each weekend comes home to do the washing, ironing, cleaning and cooking. Despite this heavy load of responsibility, Terry has done well in school and was an Efficiency Winner in the Jenner 4-H Beef Calf Club.

We congratulate Terry and wish to thank Alberta's Weekly Newspaper Editors for their active co-operation in the Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year program, sponsored by Alberta's investor-owned electric utility companies.

This is one of a series of Junior Citizen Award announcements. Our special thanks to L. L. Nesbitt, Editor of the Brooks Bulletin and to Terry's nominator, Norma Jean Gray of Brooks.

Have you ever wondered...

...who keeps Albertans informed on government activities?

To make sure that as many Albertans as possible know as much as possible about government activities and services is the responsibility of the Alberta Government Publicity Bureau. Although attached to the Department of Industry and Development, the Bureau's scope includes all departments and, to keep the public informed, it utilizes many forms of communication. Advertisements, such as this, news releases provided to all media, a variety of free periodicals, all help keep you informed on the activities of your Provincial government and the services it performs on your behalf.

...what is the most important use of water?

Water is VITAL to the maintenance of human life; necessary for irrigation and industry; provided for the production of power, and desirable for recreation. These are the priorities set for the use of Alberta's water by the Water Resources Division of the Alberta Department of Agriculture, and it is the responsibility of this agency to see that the supply is distributed accordingly. To help accomplish this purpose, no one may divert water without authority from the Division and permanent records are kept of all water developments. This careful control is necessary for the long term planning required to ensure Alberta sufficient water for all uses through the growing years ahead.

...if the rights of any Albertan are being destroyed by discrimination?

The maintenance of the traditional Alberta policy of judging a man by his personal worth, not by race, creed or color, is the purpose of The Human Rights Act. Administered by the Alberta Department of Labour, this Act is designed to safeguard the dignity and human rights of all residents of the Province. In order that such Albertan will know his rights and responsibilities under The Human Rights Act, an extensive educational and informative program is currently being prepared by the Department of Labour.

...about the flowers that beautify Alberta's public buildings at special events in mid winter

It's summer all year 'round in the Provincial greenhouses maintained by the Alberta Department of Public Works and it's these that plants which bloom at different times of the year are specially raised in preparation for specific occasions such as the opening of the Legislature for Christmas. By some green-thumb magic, plant growth is speeded up or retarded to allow their blooming to coincide with the special event. The greenhouses are also the source of seedlings for the flowerbeds decorating Provincial buildings all over Alberta. Over a quarter of a million plants are grown here over year

...if homesteading in Alberta is extinct?

It is certainly up to still very much alive in our Province, as evidenced by an average of more than 1,000 applications for land received each year by the Lands Division, Alberta Department of Lands and Forests. Under homesteading regulations a man can purchase land at the going price, without competitive bidding, and he doesn't have to make any payments during those important first three years when he needs all his capital to establish his buildings and obtain equipment. He doesn't start paying taxes or payments on the land until the beginning of the fourth year. In return for these advantages, the homesteader agrees to cultivate a minimum of 40 acres per quarter section within four years and to establish residence on the property for at least 12 months to qualify for title.

what precautions are taken to provide immediate treatment of accidental poisoning?

Every general hospital in Alberta has a poison control centre where information of poisonous substances is immediately available to the family doctor, the hospital nurse or, in emergencies, to parents. Maintained by the Department of Public Health, these centres have a quick reference system which provides details on whether or not a substance is poisonous and, if so, what the active poisonous material is and what can be done about it. In addition to these poison control centres, poison information centres are located in Calgary and Edmonton, where information on special treatment of unusual poisons is immediately available to doctors or hospitals.

THIS GROUP OF HARDWORKING KINSMEN are "doing time" under the bleachers at the arena. Monday evening they filled in the 5x40 foot sewer ditch they had dug the previous week, following the installation of the pipe. They are right to work to dig another 40 foot trench for the air duct lines and hope to pour the cement floor this week. The Kinsmen figure they will save about $300 on the cost of completing the two dressing rooms, by doing the digging and minor alterations themselves. The approximate cost of completion of the badly needed facilities will be in the neighborhood of $5,000 with the money being raised by various Kinsmen projects. —Leader Photo

PETITE BARBARA KORBEL was among the nurses in the Graduating Class of the Misericordia Hospital. The graduation ceremony took place in the Jubilee Auditorium on October 25th. Barbara, the daughter of Mrs. Mary Korbel and the late Mr. George Korbel, took all her schooling in Edson prior to beginning her nurses training. Among the proud friends and relatives attending the graduation ceremony was Mrs. Mary Bergeron, her first grade teacher, as well as her mother, brothers and sisters.

Education of young people our biggest industry

The Edson School Division No. 12 is the Edson district's biggest "industry" which is growing by leaps and bounds. The following figure show the increase in number of teachers employed in the Division in the past 15 years:

1951 - 72.93 teachers in the Division of which 32.5 were in Edson.

1966 - 162 teachers in the Division of which 91 were in Edson.

1980 - 336.5 teachers in the Division of which 88.5 were in Edson.

Looking at the town of Edson alone, one sees a great change. Until the time of the opening of the Edson High School all students attended the one and only school in town. This school was the "Heatherwood School" better known as the "Red Brick" house, as well as seeing an addition to the High School also saw the A. H. Dakin Elementary School opened with an addition being built in 1965.

In 1960 the Evergreen Elementary School opened followed by the opening of the Jubilee Jr. High School in 1962 with an addition to the school in 1965.

At present there are 2,700 students attending the Edson schools (K thr. 12) and a second hi

What shall Edson's Centennial projects be

While it is hoped that you and your neighbor are planning an individual project for Centennial, we are hoping your able assistance in some group project it might be a good time to look back at things that have already been done.

The first local project was the trail ride carried out by the Kinsmen. This was an imaginative undertaking and was carried to a successful conclusion. It brought the C.B.C. cameras and microphones out to our town and Edson held its place in the news for some time.

It also meant the recording of the first hand experiences of some of our senior citizens. Mr and Mrs Switzer and Mr and Mrs Seibert gave interesting accounts of their trip over the Edson Trail.

If Edson some day realizes its dream of a museum it might be possible to obtain tapes of these stories to be found in years future groups curve of the early treks into the northern part of our province.

It would be interesting to get recorded stories of Edmonton's early days too. Hill York must have a vast fund of these and other old timers could perhaps be persuaded to tell their experiences. If you own a tape recorder you might like to make this your project!

At the first meeting that the Town Council called in regard to Centennial activities a committee was chosen to decide how the government Centennial grant should be spent. This group decided that it should be used to put life in try and figure in the new arena. This seemed a wise plan as it will contribute pleasure to the whole district for years to come.

A group of citizens in the past part of town didn't wait to be asked to plan a project. Under the leadership of John Fralick they planted birch trees along their boulevards. These will be a reminder for many years of the worthwhile effort of some good citizens.

For individual effort we must again mention Ron Valstad. This young student did an outstanding piece of work in his mural of Canadian history. The slide of his picture is now being shown by the Provincial team as they visit various communities throughout the province. Edson is justly proud of this talented young man and will likely be seeing more of his work in the future.

So to date we have four projects undertaken and four completed. What can we hope for in the new year? Will Edson people get busy and show the country we are really a lively, busy town, or will they sit back and wait for George to do it.

You and your family are Edson. What are you planning? Let us know so we can tell the rest of the province.

MEMBERS OF THE LOCAL WELFARE OFFICE were well pleased with the turnout of the public meeting held last Tuesday evening in the Provincial Building in Edson. The audience was very attentive and interested in the films and discussions as was proved by the number of questions asked. Centennial entertainment available for Our Town

Mrs. Maisie Boyle, who is the official in charge of Performing Artists for the Alberta Centennial Committee, paid a visit to Edson this past week. She made known the various groups of performers who will be available for performances at Edson.

The first of these is a group of young budded dancers who will be coming to this area during the holiday week between Christmas and New Years. These young performers are young people who are supported that the Town-Agers be given the first opportunity to sponsor the group. At this writing it has not been ascertained whether or not they will undertake the job.

Should they be unable to do so, the project then becomes available to any club or group who wish to take it on. Any group who is interested in such is to contact Rusty Hale for full particulars.

Mr. Hale can also provide information on other groups of entertainers, who will be available for performances throughout the Centennial Year. These are varied and there should be one to suit the taste of each and everyone.

One interesting one is available in April which includes talented dancers. The Blonde Dancers, an Italian soprano a German male chorus, a girls chorus and a marimbula chorus. This group is known as

Tourist Bureau has busy year, meeting told

Chamber of Commerce members and guests attending the General Chamber meeting held Thursday evening were told that the local Tourist Bureau had again proven its worth by Secretary Jon Scott.

Mr Scott in reporting the activities of the Tourist Bureau for 1966 advised that over 1200 cars had registered at the bureau and taking a conservative estimate of three persons to car the number of tourists passing through would be about 3,500.

The Chamber had financed the full operation of the bureau for the season and which had been staffed by Mr Wm. McDonald and Dr E. Robins. These men have now taken care of the information given on its tourists for the past three years and with the knowledge of the environs of Edson their work cannot be too highly commended

It was also pointed out the district of Edson has been included in the Evergreen Tourist Association Zone No. 7. It is anticipated that considerable of trade in the running of the bureau will be provided by the matching dollar program under Zone operation by the Alberta Travel Bureau.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

It's about that time of the year again when we all go load and visit our friendly finance company just stocked up with money, and then take part in that fine old custom called Christmas Shopping. This year before we load up the car and head for Edmonton, let's stop and think for a minute.

Who pays for the pavement on our Main Street, our street lights, our police force, our kids' ball uniforms; who mans the fire truck for our production, helps to administer our town, or coaches our minor hockey teams? To my knowledge, neither Simpson's, Woodwards or Hudson's Bay have ever contributed directly or indirectly to any of the above.

When that wonderful widget you brought last month at such a tremendous bargain suddenly stops working, who comes around to fix it? Not usually at about two-thirds of the going city rate for service work.

When Santa Claus and brings you a pair of size eight overshoes for your size nine shoes, what do you do? Go barefoot until your next trip to the city?

When you've spent a full day fighting traffic and smoke and snarly salespirits trying to come up with an appropriate gift for Aunt Jenny do you somehow get the idea that this fine old custom is for the birds and that the word Santa has the "i" in the wrong place?

Consider then, some of the advantages which can be gained by keeping your Christmas shopping dollar right in town.

Our local stores are often a little short on variety of goods available, but that's some problems which can only be solved with increased volume. Prices are always infinitely fair and in most cases competitive with city prices. Our local sales people are friendly, courteous, and very often your neighbor. And they have enough time to give you service. If not, the boss is there and likely you know him by his first name.

But most important, the dollar you spend in our town comes back to you again and again in many different forms. If there are any advantages at all in doing the Christmas shopping out of town, they are very small and short lived. This year, be smart; put your money where the value is. Shop locally and benefit every way.

SAFETY WEEK

The first week of December, set aside for "Safety Week" is with us again and will undoubtedly be accompanied by the usual fanfare and platitudes.

Year after year the experts draw up a list of do's and don't for the motorist who gives them a casual glance then goes merrily on his way.

Year after year the car manufacturers issue pompous statements on the safety features being incorporated into their new models.

Year after year the staggering total of fatalities mounts, with everyone cringing their hands and wondering where it is all going to end.

Wherein lies the answer?

There seems to be a lack of co-ordination and co-ordinated information from someone competent and capable of handling the situation.

What is one to think of a completely "free" case in Manitoba where a man convicted of "impaired driving" while his license was under suspension for a similar offence was given a two week jail term. He had been the direct cause of a three car collision in which a nine year old boy's skull was fractured. The usual fine of $100 or $150 is ridiculous in our inflated economy. The motorist have a duty to take the lead by imposing still sentences, enough so deterrents. The police are being stymied in their efforts to bring the culprits to justice.

One can sympathize with judges and juries who seem hesitant on the scrapper in the dock think, there but for the grace of God go I, but the public welfare comes first and they should be looking at the coffin or the maimed child instead.

France has proved the efficacy of deterrents by the "on-the-spot" highway courts where drivers' licenses are immediately suspended or even revoked for life. As one French columnist remarked: "the average driver does not seem too concerned about his life but is in mortal fear of losing his driver's license.

It is now an established fact that insurance companies would just as soon not be bothered issuing policies to cover 16 4016 year olds; the latter just don't seem to possess the necessary stability and sense of responsibility. A good hard look and reassessment of this area of the safety program would not be amiss.

Let "Safety Week" be a time of thought, care and attention on the part of the public as well as for those responsible for the public's welfare.

Dominion, Oui — Republic, Nyet

Our country is named the Dominion of Canada. But some people, very few we believe, want to make the nation a republic. Then there is always the tendency for Canadians to be copycats.

Some may be?ure that the word "Dominion" suggests subservience. But it means just the opposite — the dictionary defines it as indicating sovereign or supreme authority. Its antonym is "subordinate."

Canada is a free country and its people among the freest in the world. This Dominion is not subservient politically to any country, although we have disposed of much of our natural resources to outsiders.

It is true that we have a traditional association with Great Britain. But that is more sentimental than in any active intervention. It does our country no harm, rather it helps our Dominion economically.

Let us stick with the grand old name "Dominion of Canada."

The Successful Farmers of 1962

One hundred years ago 80 per cent of the population of Canada lived on farms. The 1961 census showed that the number had dwindled to 12 per cent. But the population had risen 12 per cent has increased tremendously. Not only is the domestic population provided with food in abundance, but huge surpluses are produced for export to hungry nations all over the world.

The present day farmer must be competent to achieve success. High costs, complicated machinery, varying economic conditions and uncertainty of prices must all be dealt with to achieve success. Agriculture is no place for the weak, the ignorant or the indifferent.

The farmer of 1962 must be eagle-eyed enough to run thousands of dollars worth of machinery and machine-like enough to be a mechanic, welder and electrician. He must be economist enough to know when to buy, sell and when to hold, and bookkeeper enough to find out what spots in his operations.

He is a gambler on weather and prices. He doesn't have to be an agronomist but he should know what crop variety is best and when to plant it. He doesn't have to be a chemist but he needs to know what is in his fertilizer formula.

The farmer of the present is a good-sized capitalist and also a hard worker. He must have brains enough to make a dimes into about a day and brawn enough to lose around bags of fertilizer and bales of hay.

And with it all he must be able to walk into a bank and ask for a $10,000 loan, all without batting an eye.

What a man the successful farmer of 1962 must be!

The Christmas Seal dollar does this for you

First purpose in the 1966 Christmas Seal campaign is the fund $80,000.00 which in 1965 of the objective set for the province this year. Edson Area of $4,000 was reached 70.7% of their goal.

The Alberta Tuberculosis Association was founded twenty years ago to supplement the work done by the provincial and federal governments in the field of health units.

The work is financed exclusively through the sale of Christmas Seals purchased last year by 104,260 individual contributors. In Edson the sale of Christmas Seals is sponsored by the Edmonton Club of Women.

Christmas Seal dollars bought Alberta's first two Mobile Chest X-Ray Units at a cost of $47,000. These have now been replaced with modern equipment costing over $60,000. A third unit is now being planned for urban areas.

During 1965 81,334 chest X-Rays were provided for Alberta citizens by the Mobile Units. There were 347 active cases of tuberculosis discovered in Planning Fellowship happens in United Church

For the first time in years teenagers and adults associated with the Edson United Church were given the opportunity on Nov. 26 and 27, to freely and informally discuss all aspects of the church in relation to the world today.

On the eve and first Sunday in Advent, no man is reminded that "God so loved the world that He gave his only Son," members of the Congregation met to consider the world God loves and their place in it.

Preparation for the event commenced when five members of the congregation attended a Presbytery Planning Fellowship at Lake Isle a month ago. The enthusiasm of those who attended resulted in their decision to hold such an event locally as soon as possible.

On the Sundays during the interval there was a panel presentation by the delegates to Lake Isle, a message on behalf of Teenagers by Miss Lonnie Switzer, a sermon entitled "Let the Church Get With It," and two regarding the Church and its relationship to science, recreation and leisure.

Saturday evening commenced with a brief orientation followed by three present forming discussion groups to deal with the theme "The Church and the World." They first drew pictures of their view of the world, its relationship to the world, then listed their needs and hopes regarding the church, followed by a lively discussion of the items.

At 9:15 every [illegible] the Coffee House atmosphere [illegible] downstairs where, according to some adults the lights were too dim and music too loud. The teenagers were more agreeable with the atmosphere.

One man volunteered to go home and get a Bill Cosby record. No presenter in thought it would be an improvement on what was being played.

Sunday afternoon's sessions began with groups discussing the question, "What on earth is the Church doing?" Following a coffee break, a panel, composed of Mrs. Don Freeman and Rev. Bob Leighton from Edmonton, plus Mrs. Royden Mahon and Miss Delia McCrae, and moderated by Rev. Don McTheron, presented some challenging ideas regarding the church today. Mrs. Eleanor Crossie, of Edmonton, rose as a discussion leader.

Following a pot-luck supper, a film, "The Uncommitted" was shown depicting the Communist saying that the only re-[illegible]-sort, "Everything. What else?", while the Western Christian says, "The Church expects too much these days." Only the committed find meaning and purpose in life, according to the film.

The event concluded with the gathering again dividing into their groups to discuss: "What in the World should the Church be doing empirically and locally?"

Planning Fellowships were set in motion by the Church nationally in 1964 as it realized that it must keep pace with the rapid changes of the times. A project of research and assessment was undertaken in two hundred Pastoral Charges, journalists reported their views in such books as "Why the Sun is Boiling Hot", "The Comfortable Pew", etc.

Planning Fellowships have been held on the Provincial and Presbytery levels as well as in many congregations. Their purpose is:

1) "To hear God speaking through the World".
2) To hear what God is calling the Church to do.
3) To encourage the formation of small personal groups.
4) To develop leadership for Christian Outreach.

Op-Teen Notes

The last meeting of the Op-Teen Club was held on Sunday, November 27 with a very successful Telegram party held at Willmore Park after the meeting.

Many things were discussed and decided upon at the meeting such as: (a) Op-Teen Banquet to be held on December 27 with tickets from Edson and Hinton making part, a dance to be held that Friday, Dec. 9 in the High School with Edson's own Dominiers Five playing from 9:30 to 1:00. There was also some discussion on the Centennial Project of the Club.

The last meeting was very well attended with some of the teens from Hinton's club in attendance.

It has been decided that another meeting be held next Sunday, Dec. 4, in the Edson Manor Hotel with a Record Hop following the meeting.

Registration of Charitable Organizations

Every Canadian charitable organization which wants to continue issuing receipts allowable for tax deductions must register with, be approved by and receive a registration number from the Federal Taxation Division.

Financial records which can be verified by the Taxation Division will need to be kept by all charitable organizations.

In making public a series of wide-ranging instructions and requirements, Revenue Minister E. J. Benson estimated that upwards of 40,000 organizations would be applying for registration with the newly-created "Registrar-Examiner of Charitable Organizations."

The Taxation Division also outlined rules to be followed by employers who make payroll deductions for their employees and remit these deductions to charitable organizations. In future employers need to keep these funds in separate "employees' charity trusts," register the trust with the Taxation Division and include their "registration numbers" on all T4 slips issued to employees.

"Most of the charitable organizations we've been in touch with welcome these specific rules in place of the rather generalized ones which left loopholes and areas of uncertainty about what was required," said Mr. Benson.

From the Taxation Division's point of view the important new rule is that which requires every organization to register and be given a registration number. This must appear on all receipts issued for tax purposes after December 31, 1966.

The new regulations do not apply to receipts issued for donations made up to December 31, 1966. Duplicate receipts must be kept.

"We could be swamped initially," said Mr. Benson, "but we are asking organizations that do not normally issue receipts until later in the year not to apply immediately and expect instant registration.

So this way the Registrar-Examiner will be able to process quickly applications from those who need registration numbers very early in 1967."

In seeking application, each [illegible] of its charter, letters patent, constitution and by-laws, and of those do not exist, a list of the aims and objectives.

"It is all the objects for which a society is set up, plus the disposition of its funds, that will determine whether it can qualify as a registered charitable organization or not," the Minister added.

Service clubs, fraternal lodges and similar groups are not, in law, charitable organizations. However, if these organizations have specific charitable projects and the funds for these projects are kept separately from other club funds, they "might" qualify and be registered as charitable trusts.

From the viewpoint of the organizations, one important change is the need to keep and treat records to enable the receipts to be verified.

One of the major results expected to stem from the new ruling, for example, will be a more widespread use of the "envelope system" in churches.

"Taken together, the tightening of the rules requires changes that we'll be able to check receipts in a way we've not been able to do before," said Mr. Benson. "We hope it works as well in churches and [illegible] which have been occurring in the area as charitable receipts. No government official should be put in the position of having to argue with a taxpayer whether his claim for a charitable donation is valid or not. From now on the rules are clear; we don't argue, we will be able to check.

The Taxation Division can only approve those organizations whose purposes and objects lie exclusively in four areas: the relief of poverty, the advancement of religion, the advancement of education, and "other charitable ... purposes beneficial to the community as a whole."

Mr. Benson said that all 29 of the Division's District Offices will be releasing copies of the "Application for Registration" form, the "Return of information" form, and a pamphlet containing both an information bulletin and the official Income Tax Regulations.

Have you ever wondered...

. . . what happens to the profits made by the province of Alberta treasury branches?

After all operating costs have been paid, these profits (over $6 million in the last six years) are turned over to the General Revenue Fund of the province. The Government to help pay for the cost of running the Province. In addition to this, a Treasury Branch reserve fund has been built up to more than $4 million. A self-supporting business enterprise, the Treasury Branches make no loans from government accounts. Loans made to assist in the financial and industrial growth of the Province come entirely from the money deposited by the people of Alberta.

. . . who should be concerned about Alberta's 'neglected children'?

YOU should be. It is the duty of every Albertan to help prevent any child from being harmed through neglect or ill-treatment and, under the terms of The Child Welfare Act, it is obligatory to report such action to the authorities. In this case, the authorities are the Child Welfare Branch of the Alberta Department of Public Welfare, as this department gradually assumes all responsibilities for child protection within the Province. It is expected that the transfer of these duties from the Municipal to Provincial authorities will be completed by the end of this year, except in Edmonton and Calgary where the change will not be completed for two years.

. . . who administers Alberta's new towns before there is even a population?

Many of Alberta's new towns must be carved out of the bush and a wilderness must be turned into a habitable area with streets, water, sewer and power, even before the population starts to arrive. This takes money and people and, in most cases, arrangements for both are supplied by the Municipal Inspection Branch of the Alberta Department of Municipal Affairs. Loans of up to one million are available from the Provincial Treasury for the development of a new township and experts from the Branch form a Board of Administrators which will oversee the growth of the town until the population and property becomes sufficient for the local residents to assume control.

. . . why you can't fish with live bait in Alberta?

Any fisherman who puts that enticing little wriggler on his hook may be unknowingly taking the first step in replacing the trout in his favourite fishing spot with completely undesirable fish. If the live bait goes free to grow and spawn, these undesirable species will soon crowd the trout into extinction, thereby destroying sport fishing in that location. To maintain Alberta angling, the Fish and Wildlife Division, Department of Lands and Forests, plant two to three million trout in Provincial waters each year. Half a million of these are yearlings, seven to eight inches long, the rest, fingerlings. This year, plants were made in 11 children's ponds, 16 lakes and many lakes, 91 beaver ponds, 15 locations where spawning does not take place, and 3 fish-populated areas where new species were introduced.

. . . who measures Alberta?

Before homesteaders can move in, before communities can be started or subdivisions built or roads constructed, the land has to be measured and boundary monuments established. To see that this is done properly is the job of the Surveys Branch of the Alberta Department of Highways. In addition to being responsible for the establishment of base lines and surveying of townships and highways, the Branch has direction over all surveying done in the Province under the Alberta Surveys Act, and examines all plans of survey to ensure their compliance with that Act. The results of all this work are recorded on plans which are registered in the Land Titles Office and subsequently reflected in a variety of maps produced by the Mapping Division of the Surveys Branch.

. . . who's fighting the war on weeds?

Alberta farmers wouldn't have much chance of winning that war against weeds if the enemy could keep calling up reinforcements from unattended roadsides and abandoned lands. To keep weeds down in these "no man's lands", the Weed Control Section of the Plant Industry Division, Alberta Department of Agriculture, supplies ammunition to municipalities and to individual farmers. Effective weed control chemicals are provided at cost to municipal authorities and at less than cost to farmers to encourage them to eliminate patches of dangerous weeds in uncultivated ground. A special spraying program kills weeds along roadsides and lanes areas are kept free of weeds by sowing appropriate mixtures of grass seed supplied to the municipalities by the Provincial government.

New Veterans Home opened in Edmonton

A ceremony to officially open the new Edmonton Veterans's Home was held inside the new building at 11440 University Ave. on November 16. Lieutenant-Governor Hon. Grant MacEwan, and Ministers representing the Government of Canada and the Province of Alberta were on hand for the occasion.

The Kaleidoscope Players with Alice in Wonderland

More than a hundred years have passed since Lewis Carroll's imaginative masterpiece "Alice's Adventure in Wonderland" was published. But Edson and area residents were fortunate to witness a unique and fresh dramatization of this and other familiar works of Carroll. The Kaleidoscope Players presented "The Other Side of the Looking Glass" at the Jubilee Junior High School Auditorium on Wednesday, November 23, for members of the Edson and Minion Overture Concert Associations.

Basically, this musical comedy was as much a biographical account of the life of Lewis Carroll as it was a variety sampling of his works. The two-act play was written by New York playwright, David Novak, and presented by four very capable actors.

From beginning to end, The Other Side of the Looking Glass had its fast-paced and amusing parodies take as a Harlem Globetrotters basketball game.

The audience had barely a moment to sit back and relax. Concentration was required, and continuous smiles and chuckles from the spectators indicated their complete involvement in the stage action.

The performance had its low spots, but they were few, and were more than compensated by the hilarity of such scenes as a Mad Tea-Party, Jabberwocky, Queen Alice, and The Hunting of the Snark.

The music was incidental to the literary contribution, and did not require trained voices. However, the musical selections were a welcome diversion from the steady drive of tongue-twisting poetry and nonsense riddles so persistently and wonderfully characteristic of Carroll.

Each member of the cast exhibited perfect timing and professional competence in his role, although each displayed a distinct personality. Lee Hillington with her grand, swaying manner, Bill Fegan's voice confidence, Dan Arbic's total precision, and Jan Doyle's flair for slapstick.

It was Doyle's contribution which particularly delighted the younger members of the audience, who probably found much of the humor of the evening a bit too dry for their tender and comprehension.

Although the performance may have not with unanimous reactions, all were agreed that perhaps the witty and special brand of humor of Lewis Carroll may never have been fully appreciated.

The Kaleidoscope Players are complimented on their task, that of presenting off-beat humor in an unquestionably off-beat manner. The result was interesting, even startling, and provided an evening of sheer enjoyment. —Wilbur Lauterbach

(your funeral director)

What makes it so hard is not just the suddenness, the sense of loss, the grief. It is also the bewilderment, the strangeness, the wondering what to do.

Your own need then . . . at once . . . is someone to lean on. Someone who can replace confusion with calm, doubts with certainty, questions with answers. Your own need then . . . is someone who knows what to do . . . and goes about doing it quietly, gently, sympathetically, with efficiency and dignity.

This is what your funeral director has been trained by education, apprenticeship and experience to be . . . and to do. This is his mission. To be an island of calm. To counsel. To help. To reassure.

His experience and understanding make it easy for you to make the decisions you alone must make about the type of service, where it will be held. He puts at your disposal the facilities of the funeral home and takes care of an almost unbelievable multitude of necessary details.

But beyond all the necessary physical things he does, what the family invariably remembers and treasures most in that hour, in their lonely hour, was a man they could lean on, depend on.

There is such a man in your community. Possibly a number of them. You undoubtedly know them. They are good citizens, good neighbors. Men who take pride in their profession and their practice of it. Just as you expect your attorney and your doctor in advance of the need, wouldn't it be equally wise to choose and establish an equally reassuring relationship with your funeral director?

Published as a public acknowledgment of the important role of the Funeral Director in the lives of all as by the makers of CLARK METAL BURIAL VAULTS, the finest tribute, the most trusted protection.

Hockey openers in Highway 16 Arenas

Four senior hockey encounters were played on the Nov. 26 and 27th weekend in Edson and Hinton and when action ceased, spectators in the respective towns witnessed two different brands of play.

At Hinton, the hometown Hawks and the Jasper Totems clashed in a two-game series which officially opened the inaugural Senior and North Western Hockey League schedule. Hinton swept both games by scores of 7 - 2 and 3 - 1.

At the same time, the Edson Commodores were doing battle with the Edmonton Westerns in Edson's new Arena. The Commodores by scores of 23 - 2 and 11 - 2.

Fast-paced hockey was in store for the game fans at the gates in Hinton as the Hawks moved into first place in the NWNL by virtue of their wins over Jasper.

Paced by the five goal performance of Lloyd Cain, who also garnered one assist, Hinton held period scores of 2-1, 4-1, and then scored three additional markers in the final stanza to defeat the Totems 7-2 in Saturday's game. Walter Higgins and Dennis Maine matched the other Hawk goals while McCallum and Lundmark replied for Jasper.

Sunday's game featured stellar goaltending by Danny Ryder Hinton and Jasper's Charlie Wood as a total of 82 shots were poured on goals. Ryder handled 35 Hawk drives while his counterpart, Wood, was called upon to make 57 saves.

Barry Nalewich gave Hinton a 1-0 first period lead and Dennis Maine scored in the second frame to give the Hawks a 2-0 lead. Jasper's John Moore closed the gap to 2-1 early in the third period only to have Joe Pasadreau score Hinton's third goal to put the game on ice.

"Mis-match" was the only word to describe the exhibition series between the hometown Edson Commodores and the Western king A's from Edmonton. Top in their NWHL season opener with Drayton Valley being postponed, the Commodores elected to bring out one of Edmonton's top intermediate teams, the A's, for a two-game set.

The results were disappointing for the some 350 Edson fans who turned out for Saturday's and Sunday's game's. They saw the strong-skating and smooth-passing A's completely outclass Edson, who had only one week's practice. Some came back after the first game 23-2 posting to have another look at Gary Doridge and Bill Lundmark who are a credit to the Western king A's.

Both are products of Edson's minor hockey league ranks and since leaving Edson years ago to complete their education elsewhere, they have starred with other hockey teams in Alberta and Saskatchewan before being re-united on the Western A's.

Always a part-skipper when he started playing hockey in Junior High School, Ainsworth is now a polished goaltender which speaks well of his fine performance with the Bumpers of the Eastern Alberta Hockey League during the 1965-66 season. Although he was only called upon to strut his wares on Saturday and 22 on Sunday, Hill had no chance on the five goals which trickled in.

The Western king A's are roaming heavily upon Ainsworth during their Edmonton Central Hockey League schedule and future Provincial playoffs. So far Hill's play is indicative of the king A's performance this season. They have yet to be down to defeat in twelve games, including exhibition encounters.

Dowledge scored eight goals over the weekend against the Commodores, while tolling as a defenceman which is the first year he has played at this position. However, this may be only a temporary role as he can get on a hot playing start this year and is starting to get back into playing shape.

Lary, now a chartered accountant for Imperial Oil Limited in Edmonton, played for the Edmonton Jaw Canucks of the Saskatchewan Junior Hockey League after leaving Edson. He has also played for the Moose Jaw Tri-Mors and the Calgary Spurs in the Western Canada Senior Hockey League.

A FEW BRIGHT SPOTS

Despite their top-sided losses, the Commodores did have a few bright spots in their tenure. Their two goaltenders certainly can't be lambted as the parade Edson defence and lack of back-checking by the forwards, allowed the king A's to rain 54 shots on Dale McCauley Saturday and 60 drives on him 'twixt during 'weeks' game.

Louis Singer, Wayne Gerding and John May fared well in a losing cause for the Commodores with Singer and Gerding notching two goals apiece over the weekend. Ron McIlroan was the other Edson scorer.

BOWLATION

Come December 8th to December 12th, things will be jumping at Edson's Hi-Line Bowling Alley when it's bowlathon time. There will be other Bowlathons set by Canwest cash two years ago as bowlers chop climbed up 45 hours and 51 minutes of consecutive five-pin bowling.

Ray Jarvis, Bob Reid, Doug Thomas, Ernie Sucsa, Betty Risdon and Ray Bercher will start the marathon at 10:30 a.m., December 8th.

Commodores still seeking first win

Edson's representative in the North Western Hockey League, the Commodores, are still seeking their first win in the league as a result of weekend play on Nov. 26th and 27th. Playing host to the Jasper Totems, Edson went down to a 12-6 defeat in the first game and then played to a 6-6 deadlock in the second game after holding a 3-2 second period lead.

Goal scorers for Jasper in their 12-6 win were Bert Beaman, and Lundmark with four tallies apiece while Cal Beaman, Dave Bernhardsen, Bradley and McCallum notched singles. Scoring for Edson were Jack Lowry with a hat-trick, John Lowry with a pair and Louis Singer.

In the 6-6 tie, John Lowry, Louis Singer and Ron McIlroan scored two goals each for the Commodores while John Mercer, with a pair, B. Beaman, Lundmark, Mrs. sullivan and Gamble replied for the visiting Jasper Totems.

League action this weekend will see Edson travelling to Hinton for games on Saturday and Sunday while the Drayton Valley Rebels will host the Jasper Totems in their first league game on identical dates.

JUVENILE HOCKEY THIS SUNDAY

The Edson Juveniles will play host to the Whitecourt Juveniles this Sunday, December 4th at 2:30 p.m. in the Edson Arena.

Coached by Bob Leiswaber, the Edson team has been working out for over a week now and due to lack of local competition, they hope to play some serious exhibition games both home and away. So far, they're intend in hosting eight visiting juvenile clubs.

The stables of LIFA, CYHS and CBC have expressed great enthusiasm in the proposed marathon and will be giving the event detailed coverage on their networks. CJCA, important-radio, will carry the progress of the marathon on their 1 hourly sports casts and their announcer on the all-night show will keep in touch with the Hi-Line Bowling Alley to encourage the competitors.

Western King A's taste defeat

Edmonton Western king A's, a senior hockey team who previously had trounced the Jasper Totems and Edson Commodores in exhibition play, tasted defeat for the first time this season.

The king A's journeyed to Hinton for games on November 26th and 27th against the hometown Hawks who currently lead the North Western Hockey League with two straight wins. The Hawks homed to the Edmonton squad 6-5 in the opening game only to rebound only to rebound the next day to top the king A's 4-3 with a goal coming through the third period which broke a 3-3 deadlock.

Haddock Happenings

Several of Mrs. Maude Haddocks friends gathered in her home for a surprise birthday party on the occasion of her 22nd birthday, November 22nd. Congratulations and many happy returns of the day, Mrs. Haddock.

Mrs. Dick Henderson went to Edmonton this past week, visiting her husband, who is still in University Hospital waiting for surgery.

Dale and Elida Krinke were home for the weekend with their sister Mrs. Glenn Johnston and her family.

Mrs. F. L. Bumhill returned from Dawson Creek on Tuesday. She had been visiting her daughter Yvonne.

Bill Napier of Edmonton, visited Mr. and Mrs. H. Haddock last Monday and Tuesday.

The monthly meeting of the Pelican Community Club was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Bubill on November 22nd with a very good attendance. Mr. Frank Holgun was a guest and at the close of the meeting answered many questions regarding the ARDA program in this area.

Mrs. Pete Williams and Cheryl went to the city Thursday for a brief visit.

Pete Green had a very narrow escape last week while felling trees. A tree which had lodged in the top of another tree suddenly let loose. Luckily for Pete the branches were the part that hit him. He was taken into Edson for medical attention, but came home the same day.

A business man had finished his breakfast a half hour ago but was still sitting at the table engrossed in the morning paper. Presently he asked for more coffee.

The president brought the meeting to order with the singing of "O Canada", and the minutes of the last meeting were read.

Roll call, our table centres for Christmas, was generally completed and turned out very well. All were right and individualistic. Labels from the fancy-made garments will be discussed for roll call of next meeting.

Centennial tea towels were shown and are just about completed.

Project books were handed out so that now the girls can dig into their year's work. First year sewers will be starting on a tea towel and second year members will begin on their blouses.

A rich tour through the Irish Centre was discussed but plans were tabled until next meeting.

Our guest speaker was Mrs. G. Gourley who showed us how to make hotte hats. We all enjoyed her demonstration and it solved some problems for Christmas as well.

Joanne Pelfase, our club delegate to Vermilion last summer, recounted her trip and set a good board on which club members can work.

Mrs. Frith explained to the rembund, the trick of storing corners for our tea towels.

The meeting was then adjourned.

The girls learned a simple square dance during our recreation period and then went on to a few modern dances before lunch and leaving for home.

The next meeting will be held at Tim and Wanda Van Meulenberg's on November 28 at 7:30 p.m. Members are reminded to bring their aprons.

Correction

Apologies are extended from all concerned to the parties involved regarding errors in the story carried last week in The Leader about Canadian Legion poster and essay competitions.

Prize winner in the Junior High School essay competition was Gertrude Vanderlaan of Edson High School, not Theresa Brisson as stated earlier.

Second prize winner in the poster competition for Grade one was won by Lorraine Coulombe not Lorraine Campbell as carried in the Leader. This had also been an error on the poster as displayed in the Leader hall.

The occasion under the picture of Mr. Ian Hanson presenting the Bruce Leonard Memorial Trophy to Mr. Art Leonard, carried in last week issue of The Leader was not quite correct. The trophy was donated by the Civil Service Ball Team MIT the local branch of the Civil Service Association. Bruce was a member of the Civil Service team and his teammates donated the trophy in his memory, Sorry Fellows!

Local Minister Ordained as church passes milestone

An event of singular importance took place in the Edson Baptist Church on Monday, Dec. 7.

This was the day selected for the examination of Pastor Jack H. Purdie with a view toward his ordination. The local Baptist Church had invited representatives from all the churches of the Regular Baptist Missionary Fellowship.

Ordination in the Baptist Church is a recognition of the call of God upon a Pastor. The Pastor gives three factual statements, covering his conversion, his call to the ministry, and his doctrinal stand. At the conclusion of the statements the non-clergy ask questions of the candidate at length. Then the question period is completed the candidate leaves the meeting while the ordination Council votes on his credentials for ordination.

The council was unanimously in agreement to proceed with the ordination of Pastor Purdie.

During the ordination service which followed, Pastors of the Alberta Churches took part. The ordination prayer was lead by Pastor Walter Tomalin of Calgary. The charge to the church was brought by Pastor Harold Johnson of Lloydminster, and the charge to the candidate by Pastor Glen Richardson of Edmonton. The ordination sermon was preached by Pastor J. H. Armstrong of Edmonton.

During the service the impressions which have been made to the church building were dedicated to the service of God. These included the stained exterior and the modern front, the new signs, the new hymn books as well as the extensive remodelling of the lower auditorium and classroom areas.

There was a near capacity audience present for the service which was described as a milestone in the history of Edson Baptist Church.

On the afternoon of this extremely busy day, the Board of the Regular Baptist Missionary Fellowship met in a social at the Edson Manor Hotel.

About 60 visitors sat down to a full course turkey dinner in the lower auditorium of the church, which was supervised by Mr. and Mrs. C. Bell, Mr. and Mrs. R. Schmid and Miss E. Teigen.

Following the service there was a time of refreshment.

Sincere thanks go to all who helped make this a memorable occasion. Special mention must go to Mid-town Bakery which provided a delicious and beautifully decorated cake and to the senior high group who provided the tasteful floral decorations.

Alta. Society of Artists produce memo calendar

One of the most original and stimulating Centennial projects now underway in Alberta is the canvassing enterprise announced by the Alberta Society of Artists.

The Society has selected 24 paintings contributed by well-known member artists for reproduction in full color in a distinctive Centennial Memo Calendar for 1967. Now in the final stages of production, the 64-page memo calendar is beautifully designed and produced in booklet form.

Colorful prints of paintings by Alberta artists alternate with calendar memo pages for each month of 1967 and for the first six months of 1968. Each painting in the booklet is accompanied by a comment on the painter's aims and intention and intention on the technique and medium employed.

A special mailing carton is included, for this will be a popular gift to friends in other provinces and other countries. Those who regard engagements, activities and Centennial celebrations in its pages will have a lively and personal souvenir of Canada's centennial year.

The purpose of the Alberta Society of Artists in producing this booklet in celebration of Canada's 100th birthday is not only to provide an attractive and useful centennial souvenir, but to make a significant contribution to the knowledge and appreciation of contemporary art among the people of Alberta.

In making available this "exhibit in miniature" of excellent paintings by Alberta artists, the Society is endeavoring to capture the imaginations of children and young people, as well as to bring pleasure to their elders.

More good prints of contemporary paintings are extremely scarce in Canada, members of the Society believe that the pictures presented in their booklet will be of real value

Winter travel restrictions J-8 Highway

Winter travel restrictions were instituted on the Banff-Jasper Highway effective 4.00 p.m., Thursday, November 24.

As in previous years, control gates are located on the Highway at both Banff and Jasper National Parks. Travel on the Highway will be restricted to the hours of 8.00 a.m. to 4.00 p.m. daily. Motorists should schedule their travel to clear the control gates by these times.

There is always the possibility that the road may be temporarily closed due to heavy storms. Travelers are, therefore, encouraged to inquire at the Park offices before planning to use the road.

Motorists are also reminded that good snow tires or suitable tire chains are required for travel on this Highway, and that gasoline is not available between Lake Louise and Jasper.

---The Reader's Digest

LOCAL RESIDENTS who took the opportunity to see John Stuart Anderson perform in Hinton last Sunday afternoon felt they had witnessed a rare talent. The gifted Mr. Anderson specializes in solo dramatic entertainment and has been performed on invitation in the new Coventry Cathedral, the national Episcopal cathedral in Washington, in the Shakespeare Festival Theatre at Stratford, Ont., in four Edinburgh Festivals, and all over British, Europe and North America. Mr. Anderson dressed in black jersey and leotards with a floor length mantle was a dramatic portrayal of the subject of his stories. Moving continuously about the stage, special lighting helped to create the effects of his actors. The programme was made up of three readings. The first a Japanese folk tale; the second the story of Daniel from the old Testament and the third Dorian Gray, a fantasy by one author. Mr. Anderson appeared in Hinton under the auspices of the Overture Concert Association.

Truck registration for winter work started

Honourable Gordon E. Taylor, Alberta Minister of Highways, announced today that truck registration for winter work will commence Friday, November 25, 1966, and that the necessary forms will be available on or after that date in the Highways Building, Edmonton, and in the offices of the District Engineers at Midnapore, Lethbridge, Calgary, Red Deer, Edson, Vermilion, Athabasca, St. Paul, Peace River, and Grande Prairie. Truckers interested in participating in this program must register early and all registration will cease as of December 31, 1966.

The program this winter is expected to be of somewhat smaller than last year and will be primarily in the oil-rich areas across of the province. The nature of the work places much of the hauling in isolated areas, requiring the trucker to have portable living accommodation. A number of the haul routes will be across muskeg terrain and out of some of the major river valleys. The operators must, therefore, be competent and have the trucks in good operating condition.

The registration forms must be completed in every detail, in duplicate, and must be accompanied by the trucker before a Commissioner of Oaths. Commissioners of Oaths are available at the points of registration and it is suggested that the next one be made of those people in regard to the registration. Both copies must be turned in at the point of registration or returned to the Department of Highways in Edmonton. After checking and tabulating of the forms in Edmonton, one copy will be returned to the trucker which he must complete for presentation to the Engineer on a project to which he is assigned and answers the call for work.

The truck registrations system was originally introduced during the 1965-66 winter work season, and from that experience many changes have been made to streamline the system. The success of this operation is entirely dependent upon general acceptance of a call when given and immediate reporting to the work project. If an individual is not prepared to act in this fashion, then he should not register. Additionally, the trucker receiving a call and who does not advise his intent to proceed to its project within the time specified when registering would obviously be dropped from the listing in favor of other truckers. The success of this system is, therefore, entirely dependent on the full co-operation of all those registering.

Haul use truck per owner may be registered. It is not intended that large firms, professional men, and others who have substantial business endeavors other than trucking register under this program.

The gross carrying amount will be set initially at $2500.00 per owner enlisted in the work. However, this figure will be adjusted if required depending on the volume of work and the number of obtaining trucks promptly when called.

Former Edson Division Supt. in new post

Dr. C. Ross Ford of Ottawa has been appointed Chairman of the newly formed General Advisory Committee on Industrial Trades in Ontario. Dr. Ford is the former Director of Training and Vocational Training for Canada.

In addition to Dr. Ford, the committee is comprised of 14 members, equally divided between management and labour.

Following four years at a rural public school at Westcott, Alberta, he was principal of the elementary and intermediate school at Didsbury, Alberta, for 10 years. Dr. Ford then spent one year as a metalshop instructor at Edmonton Technical School and six years as Superintendent of schools at Edson.

The committee will advise the Department's Industrial Training Branch on methods of applying apprenticeship training to the changing skill requirements of general industry. The new body will examine the need for developing a special approach to apprenticeship in general industry as distinct from construction and service apprenticeship.

Studies of the impact of certification in the industrial trades will be carried out. The establishment of minimum standards applicable to various types of apprenticeship will also be reviewed by the committee.

A native of Hanover, Ontario, Dr. Ford received his secondary education at Didsbury, Alberta. After graduation from Calgary Normal School, he held several teaching positions in Western Canada. Later he studied industrial arts and technical education at Bradley University in Peoria where he received a bachelor of science degree.

Dr. Ford was awarded a master of arts degree by the University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, for his studies in industrial education. The University of Alberta recognized his contribution to this field in 1953 when it conferred the honorary degree of doctor of laws on him.

Widely known in the labour community, Dr. Ford has represented Canada at several International Labour Organization conferences. He was also Chairman of the Canadian delegation of the recent Commonwealth Conference on Education and Training of Technicians.

Edson Chamber has successful, busy year

A story of success of the activities of the Edson Chamber of Commerce was unfolded at the annual general meeting of the Chamber held recently when membership during the year was the highest yet attained by the Chamber and the financial balance is higher than the previous year

The highlight of the meeting was the address by the president, Mr. Jack Hook, who outlined of 40,000 tourist brochures; the co-sponsorship the participation of the Chamber in the printing of the Kinsmen Trekkers to Grande Prairie; the co-operation of the Chamber to the Lions Tourist project and the interviews with the Provincial Government with reference to education and industrial development

Tribute and thanks were expressed by Mr Hook to all business men and citizens for their quick response when called upon for guidance and assistance

Mr. Art Leonard moved adoption of the report of the president and it was carried unanimously by the large attendance of 70 persons.

The Treasurer Mr. Hog Gardiner, who took over on the departure of Mr. Dan Innes, gave a very healthy statement on the financial position of the Chamber. His report was duly adopted.

Other speakers of the evening were Mayor B. H. Brunelle who expressed thanks on the part of the Town for the co-operation of the Chamber, Mr. N. R. Mills who talked on Industrial Development, and Mr. Gordon Nation who outlined some of the projects intended for the Centennial program of Edson and environs.

Art exhibit and tea this Sunday

The members of the Edson Art Club, after ten weeks of intensive work and study, under the able direction of Mr. Peter Shostak, the instructor, are presenting an exhibition of their paintings in the Jubilee Junior High School Auditorium, courtesy of Principal Mr. Art. Jorgenson, on this coming Sunday, afternoon, December 11th from 2 to 5.

The instructor has expressed appreciation of the work done by the members and feels that an exhibition at this time would give the community the opportunity to see what your neighbour is accomplishing.

Tea is to be served and a silver collection will be taken.

In the past viewers have asked if the pictures are for sale and because of this sale of pictures may take place on an arrangement with the owners of the pictures.

See you there.

Peers Lions Club planning a busy future

One of the most enthusiastic groups in the area, the Peers Lions Club, are going strong and making plans for a busy future.

Helping to build funds for cause of their activities they are holding a monthly $100 raffle The first winner was Mr. Bob Meade Sr. of Gaddesk who was happily surprised when club president, Les Sadik and raffle chairman Chris Nelsen, called in after the meeting to present him with a welcome cheque.

This first raf le was met with a great deal of enthusiasm by district residents and it is hoped that they will continue to do so. The next draw will be made on December 15th during the ladies night when the Lions are planning for that evening.

This should be a great affair and all Lions and their ladies from other clubs are invited to join in the Christmas party fun.

The Lions Club, along with many other clubs and organizations in the district are joining forces to hold a Christmas turkey supper for the senior citizens in this vast area The dinner, to be held Thursday, December 15 in the Rainbow Hall, will see senior citizens from Carrot Creek, Peers, Medicine Valley, Haddock, Shining Bank, Pinerow, Rosemoor and Obed and Cadomin areas in attendance.

This has proven to be a big undertaking and the ladies of the various clubs have things well in hand. They have had good response from the citizens of the area for help and supplies. There is a possibility there could be as many as 175 senior citizens in attendance for the supper.

Praise cannot be piled high enough for all those who have worked so hard to bring all these people together. It is to be hoped that it will prove an unforgettable evening.

The last Lions Club meeting, held on Monday, was a great success with 24 of the 27 members in attendance. This is what makes an organization such—100% hand of participation. Keep it up Lions!

The big talk of the coming year meetings has hinged around the possibilities of a curling rink for our area which could also be used in the summer for other community activities such as 4-H shows, livestock displays, Indio, Horseshoe, etc.

Let's hope this can be made a reality and with a strong club organization.....who knows!

Meeting nights are the first and third Monday of each month at 8:30 p.m.

Brunelles being honored prior to leaving

A farewell evening has been organized by various organizations and clubs throughout town to honor Mayor and Mrs. B. H. "Bud" Brunelle prior to their leaving shortly for Camrose.

The affair is to be held at the Edson Motor Hotel on Wednesday, Dec. 14, curtailed will be at 6.30, dinner at 7:30, a social evening including dancing to follow.

Tickets are available at Patterson Insurance Agencies, Mills Furniture, Bay Hide Foods and from Mr. R. I. Gregg at the Civic Building.

Mayor Brunelle is taking over a hardware establishment in Camrose early in the new year.

Edson Ski Club looks forward to active season

With snow cover now on the ground and cold enough weather to hold a good base on the local ski hill, members of the Edson Ski Club are getting organized for what is hoped will be their most active year to date.

At a recent meeting a new executive was elected, replacing a trio who had been on the job for a number of years. Harold Wortman is president of the club with Harvey Pigeau as his able vice-president, Mrs. Reuben Mahon is secretary and Vic O'Reilly is treasurer.

A vote of thanks was tendered to the past executive: Lorne Kroetch who had held the position of president for two years, Mrs. Seldon Teddy who had been secretary for a number of years, and the whole Teddy family for their enthusiastic support, Mrs. Frank Klein who had been treasurer for eight years.

The Teddy family moved to Hinton, Alta., last winter and are situated in an area where they can enjoy all the skiing they want.

A special guest at the meeting was Mr. Floyd Mellon, who is the co-ordinator for recreations of the Alberr Summit Ski Development north of Edson. Mr. Mellon gave the meeting a rundown on the development to date and told his audience that when completed the ski area would compare with any in the Jasper and Banff region. The development is six miles past Hinton on Yellowhead Trail. The road beyond the lower is being worked on at present.

Mr. Mellon is a former competitive skier and has instructed in various parts of Canada. He is very interested in the present activities of the local club and has offered his services as instructor if a schedule can be set up that does not interfere with his job with Yellowhead Development.

With this in mind the meeting drawn up floodlighting the hill in Wildmere Park for evening lessons. At present they are looking for a portable power unit to buy or borrow so that the floodlighting can be made possible. Anyone knowing the whereabouts of such a unit could contact either Mr. Payne or Mr. Wortman.

Ski Club seasons rates were set at the same as last year, This is, $30 for family, $6 couple, and $3 students. Daily rates for ice service are $1.25 for adults and $.75 for students. The use of the hill is free, but anyone wishing to use the tow must either have a membership or pay by the day.

turkey draw Shuffleboard

Although there has not been enough interest to get a shuffleboard league started at the Rainbow this year a shuf leboard turkey draw is planned for this Thursday evening, December 8th.

These have been very popular since the shuf leboards were first installed and have filled many a Christmas platter.

Activities start at 8 o'clock this Thursday, so be sure to be on hand sometime during the evening and have a go at taking home the Christmas "third.

Then for hoops into there is the annual turkey bingo upstairs in the Legion Hall this Saturday, December 10th. Admission price is as usual and there are a nice cloth of turkeys to be given away. Another of the jackpots will be in effect for this one evening.

SPECIAL HOLIDAY GREETINGS

The Leader reminds businessmen, association etc. that it is nearing the holiday season when lovers, greetings and best wishes are extended by friends and customers for patronage and help over the past twelve months.

As usual the last issue of The Leader before Christmas will be filled with these greetings. Although we don't expect to miss contacting anyone personally it would be appreciated if businessmen and women, clubs and association leaders, etc. would drop in at The Leader office or call 723-1200 and we will fix up a color made greeting.

Rodeo Assoc. enlarge exec. at annual meeting

The Edson Tri-Service Rodeo Association held their annual meeting recently, reviewing the past year with its very successful rodeo, and electing a new executive for what is hoped will be an equally successful one in 1967.

The executive was enlarged this year by a vice president and includes two members of the fair war on hall. Heading the association are Gledi Tygott, president; Al Marr, vice president; Mrs. Jerry Bulmer, secretary; and Mrs. Wm. McKinnon.

Directors include: from the Lions Club, Jack Hook and Clarence Johnson; from the Kinsmen Club, Norman Miller and Jerry Bulmer; from the Optimist Club, Jim Lawrence and Don Rutherford; non-service club members (also new this year) are Walter (Slim) Martin, John Kohler and Bud Brunelle.

Considerable discussion took place at the meeting on whether or not to stay on the professional rodeo circuit or go on the amateur. The meeting was told that it was an important decision, for once they had left the professional circuit it would be very hard to get back on. It was decided that before any definite plans were made president Dick Tygott and past president Jim Griffiths would attend the Canadian Stampede Managers Association convention in Calgary on November 23 and 24. It was felt that after attending this convention they could better determine the advantages and disadvantages of such type of rodeo.

At the first executive meeting following the election of officers were given by the [illegible] — [illegible] and further discussion it was decided that the [illegible] of the professional circuit [illegible] original [illegible] No changes will be made for the present at least.

Mr. Fob Nagel of the newly formed 108 member Edmonton Girls Drum and Bugle Band was in attendance. He gave a very informative report on the progress of the band and mentioned that they would be in attendance at the Calgary Stampede parade and Edmonton's Klondike parade. He felt it would be a great advantage for this band to come to Edson for the rodeo.

He said that this would likely be the last year they would be able to attend smaller town parades. As the first of their kind they expect to be booked for larger centres across Canada and the United States.

The band puts on a 1 1/2 hour ground-and show which includes fire batons, chorus lines, drill marching, etc. It is something to be looked forward to if the Tri-Service Assoc. are lucky enough to be booked in their busy summer schedule.

The executive are already making arrangements for the pony chuck wagon to return for the 1967 rodeo. This has been a very popular feature for the two years they have appeared.

The Tri-Service group plan to remain active with meetings, etc., during the winter, as they make arrangements for a 1967 rodeo that should satisfy all rodeo fans.

Housewarming party a surprise

Over thirty friends got together last Sunday evening and drove out to Cicierelli's to completely surprise Art, Tim and Frances Cicierelli with a housewarming party.

Good wishes and exclamations of delight were heard from everyone as they were taken on a tour of the spacious new Cicierelli home.

Most of the men in the gathering adjourned to the basement floor to spend the evening playing pool in the rumpus room. The ladies enjoyed a happy social time in front of the huge stone fireplace in the Cicierelli living room.

A gift for the new house, a hurricane lamp made in the Edson Craft Centre, was presented on behalf of the gathering by Gerald Mahon, in making the presentation Gerald recalled the many happy times that had been spent "out at Cicierelli's" by hundreds of Edson youngsters who now have grown youngsters of their own.

Homberline boys and girls used to hike or bike out on a hot summer day to spend unbearable hours bearing in rain or just fooling around in the deep holes near the house, under the watchful eyes of "the old gentleman."

Memories were recalled of the pictures by the river, and the ever present hospitality that was extended to one and all by Mrs. Cicierelli and her family. The very image occasion concluded with more talk over the delicious buffet lunch that had been brought by the visitors.

Hold most successful bazaar

Another successful bazaar and home sale and bazaar held during the past few weeks, one of the most successful was the one organized by the UWL. The bazaar was held in the church basement hall last Saturday.

It seemed that everyone had the same idea...to go early while there was lots of choice. Those who arrived a few minutes after opening time at 2:00 p.m. found they could hardly get in the door of the hall.

Baking disappeared from the tables like almost as soon as it had been put down. In fact many boxes of baked goodies were sold before the doors could get to the far end of the hall.

Two rug hooked by Mrs. [illegible] were sold in connection with the bazaar. A lovely brass electric table cloth was won by Mrs. E. Maurer of Rosevear. The pair of embroidered pillowcases was won by Master Randy Gagnonich.

Original language carols a feature of '67 festival

An interesting feature of the 6th annual Christmas Carol Festival on December 18 is to be a series of singing groups rendering carols in the language of their origin.

Various groups are working on Dutch, German, Latin and Ukrainian carols.

A French carol should not be hard to find someone to give, but to date no one has accepted the assignment. A volunteer group would be appreciated to sing in French as well as any other language beside those listed above. Your

Isn't it nice that some things get better and better:

And some things never change:

Make a change for the better...
Falcon '67

The nicest thing about buying a Falcon is that you get a lot of car for your money. Sure, Falcon is a compact — but it rides more smoothly, runs more quietly than any compact has a right to, that's why it's called "the limousine of the compacts!"

And if being it up and saving a little at the same time appeals to you, then Falcon is your kind of car. Did you realize that on Falcon you can get just about every luxury option the biggest cars offer? And generally pay less!

Falcon offers you bucket seats, headrests, full carpeting, all-vinyl interiors, a Stereo-Tape System, vinyl roof, power steering, power door locks, power front disc brakes . . . and all the rest, for big power, order one of Falcon's two 200 cu. in V-8's. Performance is spine-tingling and economical!

And to put the sparkling, economical power into action, choose a 3- or 4-speed manual or 3-speed Select-Shift Cruise-O-Matic transmission that lets you shift manually (a feature many big cars don't even offer)!

It's a fast-moving luxury bonus life with Falcon. Let's talk it over. Send at Mercury Dealer about a new Falcon. He'll show you how to get a lot of car for your money.

District farmers take advantage of short courses

Thirty-two district farmers are busy talking their farm friends this week that they shouldn't have missed the one day short course on cattle raising that was held in Edson on Tuesday.

The short course was held in the meeting room of the Provincial Building starting at 10:00 a.m. It was sponsored by the Pembina-Edson Agricultural Service Board. Speakers included Mr. R. Haskell, Economics Branch; Mr. R. H. Jeffery, Mr. J. L. Reid, Sr., Agricultural Engineer.

Topics under discussion included: The economics of cattle raising with emphasis on cow-calf operation; The physical handling of the cattle herd; Classification of cattle, squeeze, catch pens and sick and quarantine quarters, self feeders, head gates, etc.

Those who attended seemed to feel it was a day well spent and that much had been learned that they would benefit by. Lively discussions took place on feeding; the whole muzzle disease that has been affecting calf production in this area; and numerous other subjects pertaining to local livestock problems.

Mrs. Mary Hutchinson, ladies' 2nd, Mrs. John Olsen, men's 1st, Mr. Bill Osborn, men's 2nd, Mr. Gay.

Mixed parties are held the first Saturday of each month in the Trail Community Hall. Lunch is served and a cordial invitation is extended to join in the fun.

Trail whist winners

The Edson Trail Society Club held their regular monthly whist party on Saturday evening with an excellent turnout. First of the series of the whist parties are that they give the opportunity to enjoy an old-fashioned social evening. The party on Saturday was no exception.

Winners of the generous prizes were: Ladies' 1st, Mrs.

Winners of the Legion sponsored Grey Cup Pool included: Tom Mah and Maxine Miller on a joint ticket for first quarter score; Hazel White winner of the half time and third quarter score; Wayne Callaghan and Cliff Johnston of Jasper split for the final score prize.

It was sponsored by Alberta Department of Agriculture.

A very good meeting on Sheep Production was held Friday, November 18, with 28 in attendance.

Mr. Gladdie, supervisor of Sheep Development for Alberta explained various aspects of the sheep industry. With increased interest in sheep raising being noted amongst the farmers in the area, a very interesting discussion followed, with the presentation of new ideas.

These short courses along with the Farmers Management course (which is going to be held every other Thursday afternoon in the Meeting room of the Provincial Building). The farmers of this area are going to have a very busy and interesting winter program going on. The next Farm and Home Management course will be December 8, 1:30 p.m.

One third TB seal objective now reached

Medical officers of Health throughout the province are unanimous in their endorsement of the work of the Alberta Tuberculosis Association and the Christmas Seal Campaign. Dr. J. H. Brown, Medical Officer of Health, Edson Health Unit, said, "I appreciate the valuable work your Association is doing, and take this opportunity to wish you every success in the 1966 Christmas Seal campaign." Last year, 763 cases of tuberculosis were discovered in Alberta, as well as 3,469 other chest abnormalities - lung cancer, emphysema, tumors, pleurisy, heart conditions, etc. - simple evidence of the need to carry on the work of the Association.

The objective for Edson and district is $1,500, and the Chairman is Mr. J. H. Bourgeret. To date, $555 has been received, and further contributions may be sent to the Edson Unit of Edson TB Association, Box [illegible], Edson, Alberta.

There's one thing about holidays . . . it's true!

Illegal game draws $900 penalty

An Edmonton man discovered, to his sorrow, that it doesn't pay to shoot game out of season.

The man appeared in Edson Magistrate's Court on Wednesday, November 30, where he was found guilty of illegal possession of big game under the Alberta Game Act. He had killed three females on an area that was closed at the time for female animals.

He received a fine of $300 and costs.

One comment to another: "He left me on alone tonight. He's at the age now where we don't trust him with a sitter."

Rog raffle winners

The WA to St. Catherine's Anglican Church held a raffle in conjunction with their recent Christmas bazaar and bake sale. Prizes in the raffle were two weather rugs.

The draw was made during the bazaar. Winners were Cross Gerbitz of Edson and Mr. Paul Ollenreshaw of Edmonton.

CARD OF THANKS

Many thanks to all the residents of Edson and district who patronized our bazaar on Saturday, December 3. A special thank you to the ladies of the parish for their part in making this year's bazaar an success ful.

Have you ever wondered...

... how nursing home facilities are controlled?

Albertans requiring the services of a nursing home are able to enjoy the best facilities for their care and comfort at a cost well within their means thanks to the Nursing Home Plan of the Alberta Department of Public Health. The Province contributes $4.00 per day to the cost of care given in a home operating under the plan which provides facilities considered adequate by the Department's inspection staff. In addition to the essential services such as food, laundry, dining room, beauty and barber shops and nursery facilities, recreational and diversional activities must be included.

... where an Alberta farmer can borrow money to increase his land?

Any Alberta Farmer who has the opportunity to improve his operation by the addition of new land needs only 20 per cent of the purchase price in cash. The rest, up to a maximum of $ 1,000, is available on loan from the Alberta Department of Agriculture Farm Purchase Board. It is the responsibility of this board to see that the land to be purchased is of good quality and that the value of the land is sufficient to protect the loan. Applications are received by the Board from interested farmers and are considered by a committee of the Board. This committee examines the prospective purchaser's financial position, his experience in farming and the quality of the land he wishes to buy. Before the loan is approved, the committee must be satisfied that the prospective purchaser is a person of good character, has the ability to operate the land successfully and has sufficient capital to provide adequate working capital after the purchase is made. The Board may lend a maximum of $ 1,000 for the purchase of land and a further $ 1,000 for the purchase of livestock, machinery and equipment. Loans are repayable in equal annual instalments over a period of 20 years. Interest is charged at the rate of 5 per cent per annum on the unpaid balance. Up to the end of 1965, the value of credit extended by letters of interest was $ 4,831 million and the value of the land purchased was $ 3,025 million.

... what is the common denominator in 'unrest and 'unemployment?

Provincial Minister of Industry and Tourism Ernest Hinman has said that the common denominator in unrest and unemployment is lack of education. Speaking to a meeting of the Alberta Chamber of Commerce, Mr. Hinman said that Alberta's economy has changed from one based on individual enterprise to one dominated by large companies desiring to sell shares or debentures within the Province must first register and file a copy of their prospectus with the Alberta Securities Commission of the Attorney General's Department. The Commission examines the prospectus given a full true and factual picture of the company and that each prospective purchaser receives copies before the transaction is complete. In addition to these provisions the Alberta Securities Commission conducts investigations and checks on fraudulent and unethical security dealers. It is to investigate complaints lodged with it by the public. To maintain contact with other provincial and international securities bodies the Commission works in co-operation with similar Commissions in other provinces and the United States.

... how old a boy should be before he starts learning the practical side of forest conservation?

Forest Service. Director of Information Services Mr. Ralph Love has announced that Alberta is now ready to welcome boys into the Junior Forest Ranger Program. As well as providing a two month summer camp where he will be actively engaged in forest conservation projects. Each participant is also required to keep a diary of his activities and to write an essay on forest conservation. Prizes are awarded for the best diary and the best essay. Mr. Love has also announced that the Junior Forest Ranger Program will be extended to include Junior Forest Wardens. It is hoped that this program will be established in many communities throughout the province by the spring of 1967. Junior Forest Wardens will be trained to help in the protection of the forests from fire and to assist in the enforcement of the Provincial Forest Act and Regulations.

Dear Santa . . .

The following letter was written by a grade nine student at Jubilee Junior High School asking Santa for a little extra something this year. The staff at the school had planned to put it on the bulletin board at school, however it was despatched off to Santa's private box number by pen and received the answer below.

Dear Santa Claus:

Christmas is coming soon and I am writing you to ask for my present for Christmas. If you don't mind, please make it in time for the Christmas exams. All I want for rather all my teachers want me to have is a few of brains. They don't care if I'm working my hardest to get my marks, they just keep telling me your brains and you'll pass the test with honors." Well, I try my hardest, but it seems I haven't enough brains to please my teachers, so please, Santa, put a little bag of brains

Yours truly
A Loyable Nine Student

December 6, 1966

Dear Student,

Your letter is very distressing because you have asked for something which we have never stocked in our toy department. You see, we always felt that the Good Lord gave you all the brains when a necessary he fill the space inside you skull. As you can imagine, anyone would look somewhat odd with a cerebellum of any quality coming out of the openings in his head.

Perhaps your problem is that you are not using your present brains to their best advantage. Try some of the study methods suggested to you by your teachers. Keep working on those methods even if the results don't seem remarkable for the first few days or weeks.

It requires considerable will power and effort to make a habit of hard work and thinking, but because it is like a lazy muscle, and you know how hard it is to get in shape for basketball or hockey or track.

I hope that I have cut off

'The two best beers in the house!'

Lethbridge Pilsner

Some insist on Lethbridge Pilsner several fine lagers deftly blended in the Bavarian tradition. The best of barley, choice rice and our own home grown hops give it the lovely taste that appeals to Albertans. The unique label tells you it's Alberta's original Pilsner.

Lethbridge lager

Others demand our Lethbridge lager. They call it 'Bridge. This bright and bracing beer makes the most of its premium malt. The smooth, uniform taste is largely due to our own pure yeast and hops. Micro filtered 'bridge is mellow, naturally aged lager beer at its best!

LEADER SPORTS

with MEL SOLTYS

Apart from the senior hockey loop, the Commodores, it was far from being an Edson team in local sports circles. Here's what happened in the nine games during the past week.

Pee Wees, Midgets and Bantams rosters from this town journeyed to Jasper on Sunday, December 4th and were duly entertained — refereed at the hands of their bowling counterparts. In each hockey game, Edson was bested by at least a goodly goal margin which just proceeds what a two year lead has done to our senior hockey league ranks.....

The Edson Midgets and Juveniles also met Cooperating rivals. The Midgets where blanked 11-0 by Hinton while in the Juveniles Juveniles were beaten 10-1 by Wildercrest.

The bright spot that is on our senior hockey team, the Commodores, who visited Hinton for a two game series against the North Western Hockey League leader, the Hawks. After being shutout by Hinton contender Dicap Frye 3-0 in Saturday's game, the Commodores scored late in the second period to gain a 4-4 tie on Sunday. This let them retain second place in the NWHL.

Frye handled 33 Edson shots in recording his first shutout of the young season while his teammates peppered Edson goaltender Dale McIntyre, a standout in both games, with 41 drives in Hinton's 3-0 victory.

Hinton opened up a 2-0 first period lead on goals by Case and Nelson at 1:33 and 15:24. The league's top scorer, Lloyd Tibbs who has 11 goals to his credit, gained the 3rd Hawk marker at 2:32 in the second period on an unassisted effort.

In Sunday's game, all the scoring was also done in the first two periods. Down 2-0 at the end of the first stanza, Edson bounced in two quick goals within 41 seconds to take a 3-2 lead. Hinton duplicated the effort 5 minutes later by running home a brace in a space of 43 seconds to regain the lead only to have Louis Bouvier of Edson capitalize on a pass from Norm Dubray to score at the 15:09 mark and give the Commodores a 4-4 tie.

Goal scorers for Edson were Ron McIntyre, Wayne Gerbig, John May, and Louis Wagar in that order, while Cooley netted a pair of first period markers for Hinton with B.Carpentier and Vickers finishing off the Hinton tallies.

In an exhibition game on Thursday, December 1st, the Edmonton Commodores edged Drayton Valley's North Western Hockey League representatives, the Rebels, 3-2 in the Edson Arena.

The line of Ron McIntyre, Norm Dubray and John Lowry benefited all of Edson's scoring as each member scored a goal. Relief marksmen were Norcotts and Hugh.

Drayton scored 2-0 and 3-1. The present NWHL standings are as follows:

Hinton	4	3	0	1	7	7	7
Edson	2	0	1	1	4	7	5
Jasper	2	0	2	0	3	10	4

Our thanks for the many floral tributes and expressions of kindness and sympathy. A special thanks to the pall bearers, Father Cassidy and the Sisters of St. John's Hospital.

The Family

Boss (to office boy) "You should have been here at eight o'clock."

Boy "Why, what happened?"

BASKETBALL

Along the senior men's basketball lanes, the Edson Commodore Aces were dealt their second loss in 10 games during the past two years as they were defeated 54-30 by Hinton in an exhibition game played last Thursday in Edson's Jubilee Junior High School auditorium. The Aces, minus high scoring centre Dennis Hill and guard Al Lagore, were never almost against the vastly improved Hinton squad who lead by quarter time scores of 17-8, 33-18 and 41-30.

Towering Hal Hinz scored 15 points for the winners with Harold Sifnal 07 and Gil Shirley also netting 12 and 10 points in their respective order for Hinton. Edson centre Bob Hall was the top scorer for the Commodore Aces garnering 18 points in a losing cause.

Those same two teams will meet again this Thursday in Hinton. The Aces will be prepping for the Jasper Open invitational Tournament to be held on December 16th when teams from Rocky, Jasper, Wetaskiwin and Whitecourt will also be present.

Our efforts the past couple of weeks have gone for naught, it seems they fell short of the target and lay a-mouldin' in a rarely inspected glove compartment the penalty for sending a kid to do a "woman's job."

Now to catch up on current and not so current events.

Congratulations to Larry Hanson and bonnie boundary on their forth-coming marriage. A miscellaneous shower was held at the home of Irene Rae, Thursday, Dec. 6th.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurie MacKenzie are the proud parents of a daughter. The MacKenzies are moving to Fort St. John, thus depriving Austin Jasmine of a baby sitting job. Congratulations Laurie and babies, Grandparents Murray, Austin Jasmine and Uncle John.

Incidentally, speaking of uncles and the like . . . no Xmas one is too recently purchased nor one too much unwagered by and sure, headed down to surroundings from your old up to five: lucky kids.

Several local stockmen are perturbed over the fact that their "man with the needle" hadn't shown up to vaccinate heifers "confined to barracks" since the 25th of November. Mind have been a slip-up fellows.

Shirley Thomas and Joan Boundary drove to Edmonton Friday of last week, a somewhat less than comfortable trip due to heater trouble. If you recall the temperature was hovering around zero and lower.

Irene Nesmoll of Penticton, B.C., tells us, via the post, that she spent a week or so in Toronto in November. Was on hand to welcome a baby grand-daughter (first offspring of Mr. and Mrs. Lorien (Andy) Irvin) also bills as they enjoyed a visit this summer with B.C. boundary who called at their home - and our old neighbor Mr. Hubbarton's who now makes his home in B.C.

The Christmas flurry is in full swing. Our best year old goes on something to thank Santa Claus. He thought it over carefully then said, "I've been thinking - maybe it would be better if you just buy it yourself." Has the old boy had his grip somewhere along the line?

Club News

4-H Beef Club

Our third consecutive meeting was held November 2, at Joel Hiben's place.

At the meeting the members discussed a ceremonial project, which will be discussed further at the next meeting.

The club will be holding a Christmas party and hay ride. The club members must bring fifty cents to help cover expenses and the parents are invited free of charge. The members are to be present at 7:30 sharp for the hay ride. Parents can come later for the party.

After the meeting the ravenous members devoured a scrumptious lunch prepared by Mrs. Joel Black and Mrs. J. Van haughnett.

Our next meeting will be held at Ann Lyphie at 7:30 on January 6.

Teacher Psychology

Student to teacher: "You know that note about my bad grades you told me to give to my Dad?"

Teacher: "Yes, what about it?"

Student: "I lost it in a fight I had with a kid who said you weren't the prettiest teacher in school."

Sunday Art Exhibit is well received

...ne exhibit of ten paintings of the members of the Edson Art Club held in the Jubilee Junior High School Auditorium ... Sunday Afternoon drew a large number of viewers. The exhibit was judged a fine success.

On exhibit were approximately 100 pictures. These were submitted for display by approximately 20 members of the Edson Art class. The class has been under instruction by Mr. Peter Shostak.

In view of the good work by the members, Mr. Shostak selected 25 paintings from the exhibit and these will be on display in the Library Room of the Junior High School for the next few weeks.

If enough additional persons are interested a new class may be started after the Christmas-New Year Holiday. Mr. Shostak is happy to share his talent with as many people as would like to attend the weekly classes, and start learning art.

This is a fine opportunity for anyone who is interested and a special appeal is made to students in school and to their parents to give the children the chance to express themselves through this medium.

All interested should be on hand for the class in the Jubilee High School on January 5th.

Season's Greetings

The past year holds many special memories for all of us. We remember happy associations with old friends, the pleasures of new acquaintances, accomplishments of which we are proud and difficulties we have overcome.

One outstanding achievement this past year has been the great steps taken towards unification of the Christian church.

This surely is a message that we, who stand on the threshold of our country's centennial, should heed. Let us all resolve to work together to strengthen the many bonds that unite our country and seek to bridge the gaps that divide us.

The management and staff of Calgary Power join together to wish you all the message of Christmas — "Peace on earth and goodwill to all men".

LEADER SPORTS

with MEL SOLTYS

Drayton Valley Rebels, considered a weak sister of the North Western Hockey League at pre-season time, dispelled such a rating by trimming the Edson Commodores in their first league games. The Rebels overpowered the Commodores by scores of 9-2 and 8-1 in games played in the Edson Arena on December 10th and 11th. The results left Drayton Valley in sole possession of second place, three points behind the league - leading Hinton Hawks who have played two more games than the Rebels.

In Saturday's 9-2 win over Edson, Drayton Valley were never headed as they led by period scores of 3-0 and 7-2. Three-goal performances were turned in by both Hall and Hemingway of the Rebels with Hodge, Sunday and McNaughton adding markers. Grant McMillan and Louis Nagar replied for the Edson Commodores who played with only one forward lines as three players were on sick-list.

On Sunday, Hemingway and Hall once again turned in fine individual efforts as the Rebels completed a two-game sweep over Edson by scoring a 8-1 win. Hemingway potted three more tallies to tie Hinton's Lloyd Jakies as the league's top scorer. Both have six goals to their credit. Hall notched a pair of goals with singletons going to Mosher, B. Hutchinson and Hoyle.

John Lowry scored Edson's only goal late in the first period with Eddie May drawing an assist. The Commodores trailed by period scores of 3-1 and 7-1. In four league games they have one tie to credit for a third-place standing; one point ahead of the Jasper Totems who are winless in two games.

In NWHL action this coming December 17th and 18th, the Edson Commodores will travel to Jasper while the Rebels will host the Hinton Hawks. All teams will meet in a two-game series.

The Edson Legion Midgets played a two-game set with the Jasper Midgets and despite losing both encounters, showed improvement over their previous 15-0 setback at the hands of the Hinton Midgets. Jasper downed Edson by scores of 8-1 and 7-3 in games which were held prior to the Drayton Valley-Edson senior hockey league games. The Edson Midgets are not scheduled for any exhibition games this weekend.

Along the Juvenile Hockey front, Coach Bob Leinweber has turned the reins over to Howard Dion for the remainder of the season. Bob was instrumental in forming the Edson Juvenile squad and arranging co-sponsorship between Malmo Electric and Edson Welding. Due to job transferships, Bob is leaving shortly for Red Deer and is to be commended for forming a local Juvenile squad which fills in the much-needed gap between the Midget and Senior Hockey ranks.

The Edson Commodore Hotel Aces have a busy week in store for them along the basketball lanes. This evening Thursday, they will play an exhibition game against the Hinton Senior team and then on Sunday, they journey to Jasper to participate in that town's invitational basketball tournament which will have four teams entered. At 1:00 p.m., the Jasper squad are pitted against McBride with Edson and Hinton meeting at 2:00 p.m. The two winners will meet in the finals which are billed for 8:00 p.m. in the Jasper High School Auditorium.

The Edson High School Girls Volleyball team pulled off one of the bigger upsets in local sports circles last weekend. A much shorter squad by far, the Edson squad buried their Hinton counterparts three games to one in a best-of-five Edson School Division championship. Hinton had earlier placed second to the Northern Alberta High School Girls playdowns.

Amateur Hockey Assoc. forms junior teams

The recently formed Edson Amateur Hockey Association has been extremely active and has completed all organizing of teams and sponsors.

Much of the success goes to the service clubs and town businesses for the sponsoring of teams and making available uniforms and equipment for the boys. The following is a list of teams, sponsors and coaches.

Mites, 8-10 years: 1. Edson Motor Hotel, coach, D. Bright and E. Beller; 2. F. and F. Tire coach, R. Harter; 3. Lions Club, coach, D. L'Hirondelle.

Pee Wee, 10-12 years: Four teams: 1. Elks Club, coach, D. Lanigan and G. Nelson; 2. Kinsmen, coach, M. Pavich and J. Switzer, 3. Knights of Columbus, coach, P. Forester, E. Herbert, and F. O'Hara; 4. 4-Way Wheelcals, coach, B. McLeod.

Bantams, 12-14 years, two teams: 1. Optimists, coaches, G. Bergman and E. Malmo; 2. Al's Esso, R. Chiosa and A. Mergaert.

Midgets 14-16 years, one team: 1. Canadian Legion, coach, N. Apsalut.

Juvenile 16-18 years, one team: 1. Malmo Electric, coach, D. Loewenber.

To the people of Edson: A lot of time and effort has gone into this organization. To them your appreciation - come and see your boys play hockey. They need your support.

Volley Ball tournament big success

Edson High School hosted the Edson School Division Volleyball tourney on Saturday, December 10th in the Jubilee Junior High School.

The Edson High Girls were victorious over a Hinton in a best of 3 played formed by the two teams losing tied affairs end of the double round robin.

The Hinton Boys won the tourney as they were undefeated in six outs. Edson High School Boys Junior Team finished second, Evansburg Girls and Niton finished in last place. Hinton girls finished second, Evansburg third and Niton in last place.

'THE TWO BEST BEERS IN THE HOUSE!'

Lethbridge Pilsner

Many people like the nappy taste of our own home-grown hops in Lethbridge Pilsner - a blend of several fine brews in the best Bavarian tradition. The brewmaster adds just the right amount of whole grain pearl rice to give a subtle "extra" to the choice barley. Lively Lasting Lethbridge Pilsner, truly satisfying beer!

Two great brews from SICKS' LETHBRIDGE BREWERY LTD.

Lethbridge lager

Many prefer the mellow taste of the malt in bright and bracing Lethbridge lager beer - often called 'bridge. Here's a naturally-aged, smooth lager brewed with a special yeast culture, then micro filtered for extra-refreshing clarity and flavor. Bright, flavor-quenching lager beer at its best . . . that's 'bridge!

Op-Teen Notes

There has been no regular practices of the Op-Teen Club since before December but two executive meetings have been held planning activities for Christmas and the New year. Among the activities discussed were possibility of New Years dance, bingoes ticket raffle and further discussion on the youth centre.

A meeting of the executive was held at the A.R.D.A. Office on Sunday, December 4 where the club was introduced to the Social Action Process for Community action by an A.R.D.A. representative and Lloyd Bearcort, president of the Lions Club.

There was a very successful dance held ... last weeks ago with the Deadlocs V playing. This band is part of Op-Teen and is made up of Mel Asher, Leroy Abel, Ken Hill, Dennis Bedford and Dave Hill. This was the band's first performance and they are to be commended on the excellent performance they gave.

There was a meeting Sunday December 11 with an ice party held following the meeting.

We have just been informed that the Deadlocs V are going to play at the Curling rink during the bonspiel this coming weekend and everyone is sure to have a great time.

NEW LEGION PRESIDENT Ron Adams receives congratulations from Steve Commander Steve Craddock following his installation last Sunday evening.

The New Years Dance is on now scheduled for December 30 featuring of course the Deadlocs Five.

I would like to take this opportunity to welcome all the new members from Junior High into our club.

Edsonites asked to share Xmas

Every season of the year when we celebrate Christmas by giving and receiving gifts. At this time we are so tied up with our own family and friends that we sometimes forget that right around us — yes, in Edson and district, there are families who, through no fault of their own, will not be enjoying Christmas time the way we will be.

It is up to everyone who can, to bring a little happiness to the little girl who might not be getting the longed for doll, or the little boy who might not be getting his secret wish

If you can, help those less fortunate families by donating to the annual Christmas hampers. Once again the Chamber of Commerce are looking after the collecting and distribution of the hampers

Ballet Company to bring give performance here

Don't miss Edson's coach preview on the Centennial Brilliant Ballet Company production of a Christmas fantasy. It will appear in the Jubilee School auditorium at 8 p.m., Friday, December 30.

The performance will be given by junior members of the Company, from 10 to 20 years. They are being sponsored by the local Overture Concert Association.

Many theatre goers will remember the newly formed Alberta Ballet Company when it was known as the Edmonton Ballet Company. The development of younger dancers has enabled the company to divide into the Alberta Ballet Company, composed of highly competent, senior professional calibre dancers; and the Edmonton Ballet Company, with younger, and aspiring dancers who someday will fill the roles of the parent Company.

In keeping with their name, the Alberta Ballet Company will present an evening of dance predominantly provincially inspired. Three new works by Choreographers Ruth Carse, Bryan Tuews and Annette Fry, all resident Albertans, but with world wide diversified backgrounds, will highlight the evening.

Miss Carse, Artistic Director of the Company, and a former dancer-Choreographer in Toronto, New York and London, has created a new ballet titled "Mimette's Wedding." This is based on a Nordy Mountain legend with a scenario of Alberta Historian Tony Cashman, and music by Claude Rasmussen, Associate Professor of Music at the University of Alberta.

Bryan Tuews, a leading dancer with the company, has fashioned a contemporary jazz ballet to an original score by well known Edmonton musician composer Tommy Banks.

Lynette Fry, formerly a leading soloist with the Royal Winnipeg Ballet, and now living in Calgary, was commissioned by the Alberta Company to stage her ballet "Lyrique," to the classical tradition. The program rounds out with several other popular classics and character excerpts.

The aim of the Alberta Ballet Company is to provide Entertainment with a capital "E" throughout the province. Many past viewers of the company's performances, who want with reservations regarding this so-called high-brow form of theatre, have come away raving about the exciting, humorous, and moving moments all combined into one fast paced evening of family enjoyment.

EDSON LOCALS

There were only four tables of euchre for the regular whist party in the Glenwood Community Hall on December 8th.

Winners were: Ladies' first, Mrs. Sig Hoffman; ladies' second, Rose Allaby; men's first, Sigmund Fonsbeldt; men's second, Ewring Fonsbeldt.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Grierson of Edmonton visited in Edson at the weekend with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Murray. The Griersons were pleased to attend the very successful retirement party for Mrs. Grierson's father, Mr. Dan Mackay.

Efficiency winner in 4-H Horse Club

Efficiency winner in the Edson 4-H Light Horse Club for 1965-66 was Gloria Davidson. The first runner up was Carol Pengelly, and second runner up is Brenda Mahon.

The Club Week delegate to Edmonton must be 16 years of age by December 31st of the year in which the project is completed. Because of this Gloria will not be able to attend. Therefore Carol Pengelly will attend and if she is unable to go the award will go to Brenda Mahon.

Sorry to sign her ballet "Lyrique," to the classical tradition. The program rounds out with several other popular classics and character excerpts.

EDSON 4-H LIGHT HORSE CLUB

The Edson 4-H Light Horse Club held its regular monthly meeting at the Trail Community Hall.

The success of the meeting-bicycle-party combination, was largely due to the attendance of the Edson 4-H, Bud Club members. On behalf of the Pony Club I would like to thank all the Readers which attended.

The meeting was brought to order by Vice President Keith Mitchell. Bill Austen, Gloria Davidson and Heather Martin gave reports on the leg of the horse.

Ann Sarin, president of the Readers, gave a talk on the activities of the club.

The Light Horse members, once again want to thank the Reed members for attending and welcome them to attend some of our future meetings.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Jensen. A special surprise will be in store for all the member which attend. The next meeting will be on January 23, 1967.

Reported by Bill Austen.

PEERS 4-H MULTIPLE CALF CLUB

We held our Dec. 10th meeting in the Peers School.

The roll call was answered by what we were feeding our calves. Since the Dairy members haven't got their calves they had to answer with what they were going to name them.

Miss Ian Lambie, our Club Leader gave a report on the Leader Days she attended in Edmonton.

Then Audrey Meaney and Dawn Glenbrooks gave a demonstration on how to Round Rein.

The play we are putting on will be held on Dec. 21st in the Peers School.

PEERS 4-H CLOTHING CLUB

The Peers 4-H clothing club meeting was brought to order on Dec. 7 at 7:00 p.m. in Peers School. The next meeting will be held on January 9th, 1967.

The second year students have started cutting out the patterns for their dress which is the first project for them. The third year students have started cutting out patterns.

The Peers Beige Club is going to deal with the Peers 4-H Clothing Club. The first meeting was held on Dec. 7. There was only one student who attended. Anyone who interested in joining this club is asked to contact Mrs. Ackerly.

After the work was over the members listened to a number of records.

GETTING TOGETHER for a few moments at the very successful art exhibit last Sunday afternoon are instructor Peter Shostak, Mrs. Jon Scott, Mrs. Randall Murray and three of the Murray children. Most persons attending the exhibit were amazed at the excellence of the work displayed and plans were made by many to start in classes with Mr. Shostak after the New Year. The paintings seen in the background were made during the evening classes.

Jubilee Glee Club to present Christmas Cantata

The 100 voice Jubilee Junior High School Glee Club will present their second annual Christmas Cantata, "The night the Angels Sang" on Thursday, December 22nd.

The concert will begin at 8:00 p.m. and no admission will be charged.

This is the Glee Club's contribution to the Christmas season. It is hoped that the auditorium will be filled to overflowing to hear the lovely voices of the young people as they tell the story of Christmas in song.

There will also be a Christmas medley performed on the Recorder-autoharp ensemble and the audience will be asked to share the joy of the music by taking part in carol singing.

Annual Carol Festival set for this Friday

once again the Edson Ministerial Association will sponsor their annual Christmas Carol Festival in the Jubilee Junior High Auditorium at 8 p.m. on December 16.

This is the fourth annual Carol Festival in which various church choirs and singing groups combine to bring a program of Christmas music to Edson residents.

This season will be a bit different than in the past. This year Christmas carols and songs will be featured sung in their original languages.

Those taking part will include: Christian Reformed Children's Choir, Baptist Mixed Quartet, Marilberta Senior Mixed Church Junior Choir, Mennonite Choir, Catholic Church Choir. Besides these there will be solos by Mr. Les Hallimell, Jubilee High School recorder ensemble, auto-harp ensemble, Daryl Foster, Mrs. D. Carruthers, Mrs. H. Strand, Mrs. Nadia Enochsen, G. Dering.

A men's quartet will sing a Negro Spiritual and the massed choirs will give several selections under the direction of Mr. Wm. Lauterbach. Pianist for the evening will be Anne Sash Birch. Community singing will be led by Rev. A. Carruthers.

During the evening announcements will be made by Rev. Don MacPherson. Master of ceremonies will be Rev. J. Van Hemert and the closing prayer will be given by Rev. Jack Purdie.

You never realize how a human voice can change until a woman gushes joyfully at her husband and answers the phone.

Grandma: Give me a monosyllog quickly. I have to catch a bus.

Clerk: Sorry, ma'am we don't have any that big.

That familiar opener, the weather, has been giving us something to talk about lately. We felt badly abused for a few days until we learned north land neighbors had a 70 degree range on us. Still - 30 degrees below is chilly regardless of location. Thursday night several head falls reported 30 below.

Man's best friend has proven his worth once again. Mr. and Mrs. Hans Holatz were awakened recently, by their small dog, to find the house full of smoke and a fire in their living room floor.

Greetings for Christmas

Let us pause in spirit [illegible] heart for Christmas [illegible] in the enduring gift of hope and truth, peace and goodwill brought to all men by the Christ Child on that holy night long ago. Livestock Assoc. meeting receives mixed response

BY E. JOHNSTON

PEERS

The monthly local meeting on Peers School Audi torium to hear what the people were interested in forming a Lake Sark Association and to report on the A.R.D.A. program in C.D. 14. It was well attended from the west central and northern areas. It had not been well advertised in the east so there was only one representative from Evansburg.

Frank Belyea A.R.D.A. coordinator reported that eight boys from C.D 14 were going to Agricultural College on January Two boys are going into labor skills Young people with grade 9 standing desiring to go to Agricultural College under the A.R.D.A. program should contact Mrs Sheehan Olds is filled but there are opportunities at Vermilion and Fairview.

Mr Belyea reported on the land clearing program which was to be presented to the Alberta Legislature on the 13th for approval The program calls for a $60 per acre grant on acreage cleared and broken, worked ready for seeding

The farmer must put down 80 acres, 15 of which is used for forage seed. The remaining three tenths of the cost is an loan secured by a mortgage on the land; interest only is to be paid for the first five years, after this the principal is reduced by payments.

The estimated cost of each acre was $55. Should the cost be $40 there would be a cash rebate of $2 per acre to the farmer. There is no minimum nor maximum on the amount cleared by an individual farmer but the decision on maximum acreage will be made by a Land Adjustment Board which is being structured.

The board will consist of three farmers, one district agriculturist and a land adjustment expert who will be working full time with the farmers in C. D. 14.

The question was raised as to how the work would be contracted for and paid. Mr. Belyea replied that the decision to date was that it was the farmers responsibility to contract for the clearing and breaking etc. They must make application to the Land Adjustment Board for the money to pay for the work.

This will be handled in a manner under which the contractor an specials. The money paid after inspection of the work, probably on completion of the contract. The land must be seeded to forage.

Mr. [illegible] of the Department of Agriculture was asked to comment. He said there were [illegible] grass seeding pasture [illegible] Mr. Belyea [illegible] Mr. Norris [illegible] Mr. Belyea [illegible] Mr. Norris [illegible] Mr. Belyea [illegible] Mr. Norris

Keep Your Heating Plant in Repair

Are you looking forward to a warm and happy Christmas? If so, make sure your heating unit is operating properly.

If you did not have your heating unit checked before winter began it is a good plan to have it done now, before the holiday season arrives.

You will not only provide efficient heating during the cold season but you can also be assured that your heating unit is in good operating order.

Every eighth fire is caused by a fault in a heating unit, according to an Ice Failure Insurance Bureau of property the Canadian Underwriters' Association says.

The Real Thing

BY GRATTAN MARTIN

I know there are those who think that cutting down thousands of trees each year just for a week's adornment of Christmas rooms is criminal waste. That is until they realize Christmas trees are big business in several of our Canadian provinces.

Four and a half million trees were moved by CN alone across the American border this season from the Maritimes. They were treated as perishable and had a priority on shipping yards where CN had spotted some 1,300 cars for loading.

Destined for the living rooms of American as far away as Florida and Texas, it is not hard to imagine what their sale has meant for the economy of those thickly wooded Maritime provinces. The market reports millions of dollars, adding to the contents of wallets in the pockets of cutters and shippers.

There are Christmases that stand out in one's memory more pronouncedly than others. In mine there is the Christmas season we as a family trudged to the Hay forest "Christmas Tree Lot" to make our annual purchase.

There was still a great deal of the true meaning of Christmas left for those days. We knew as every family else doing our patriotic recovery to time to enjoy Christmas, we decided to splurge and buy the biggest, fattest, most resplendent tree on the lot.

The deal was just about closed when our youngest appeared lugging a little runt of a tree with a bent trunk and a noticeable lack of branches where there should have been several.

This, he informed us, was the one he wanted. "It is so ugly no one will want to buy it," he said. We didn't dispute his opinion, while handing a slightly congealed Scrud the price of the biggest tree we had chosen.

With the proverbial patience of Job we all took turns dragging that little tree in lead-sprinkled with tinsel and shoved it into a blazing fireplace from the Nativity ballet. No tree that ever was ever burned so well—baby with sentiment

Let the Christmas Dream Grow

Bethlehem—a name often heard at this season—conjures up for most of us quiet beauty under a deep star-studded sky. In reality, the ancient town is more like a ruin than the setting for an idyll. High on a plateau, sandwiched and nestling, stands the birth of the Nativity in whose care-giving tradition says Christ was born.

The church above it is very old; it dates back to Constantine in 330 A.D. The present door, starkly simple in grey box, was so built in the time of the Crusades in keeping—judging by armour from ridings to massacre the worshippers. It is a grim reminder that Saracen and Christian let blood here.

Through these realities of geography and history shatter the trumpet image of the Christ man born, they have a vaulting quality in these days of violence and subterfuges, of cold overts, fear of the future. It is heartening to remember that the thrilling song, "Peace on earth to men of good will" rang out first on an overstressed country at the heaven-filled time of a hated census taking.

The angel strains were not heralds of limits; they were a threat of light into darkness, and its whole birth we celebrate, feasible confusion both before and after. Let's face it, always both short and bitter. Yet the voices sang truly. We are not wholly at the mercy of our circumstances. As things were then, they are now. Christ as the central one, the ghost of the Christian faith lives in its ability to reach who feel there are hostile in it.

Time and again, wise and prophesied men, who have been on the fringe their purpose and their years, the inner and oppressed men who have found in Christ's hope, have changed history. A Woodrow Wilson and a Hammarskjold have cast out fear, harmony, fellowship, on the round to world government.

The Indigestible martyrs (Methodist lay preacher) who died for the right of workers to organize, have left legacy of enlightened labor legislation. Martin Luther King and the murdered Civil Rights champions are teaching Democracy slowly, that black or white, we are irrevocably bound together. Arthur O'Shaughnessy reminds us: "One man with a dream, at pleasure, shall go forth and conquer a crown And three, with a new song's measure, Can trample an empire down."

May the christmas song put courage in us all.

"Pull over, mister," said the trafic officer. "you don't have a tail light."

The motorist got out for a look and was speechless with dismay.

"Never mind," said the officer, "it isn't that bad."

It isn't the light that bothers me," the motorist quavered, "but what's become of my trailer."

Christmas Message from the Premier

The festive season is with us once again and I sincerely wish for each of you that it be for you a very Merry, Joyful time, filled with good health, happiness and prosperity in the coming New Year. I hope this will be one of the best Christmases you have ever known.

HON. ERNEST C. MANNING

As we enjoy Christmas Day with loved ones and friends, let us not forget those less fortunate than we but whom this day has brought no festivities and who face only bleak tomorrows amid the ravages of war, privation, oppression and the misery that follows in their train.

Let us also remember that this is the anniversary of the birth of the One who came into the world that men might have life and have it more abundantly. We cannot consistently honor Him and the purpose of His birth unless we are prepared to yield ourselves to Him as instruments through which He can bring to pass peace on earth and good will towards men. To this end, let us resolve to work for a world of reason and understanding in which God's will for men may be done, not just among a favored few but among all mankind. Such a dedication of our lives will give a new depth of meaning to our commemoration of Christmas and ensure that its joys and its hopes will abide with us throughout the New Year.

To each of you, on behalf of all members of the Government of Alberta, I extend these best wishes for a joyous Christmas and a purposeful rewarding New Year.

Ernest C. Manning
Premier of Alberta

Britain's early Druids believed mistletoe could heal disease, neutralize poisons and protect against witchcraft. They wore charms in necklaces and rings made of mistletoe, and fastened the plant over door ways to their homes. The Norse divinities goddess Frigga reputedly, made mistletoe an emblem of love and granted some lucky man a kiss beneath its branches — perhaps the start of the custom we know so well today.

LEADER STAFFER Lyal Reston admires the totem poles, replicas of the real thing which will grace the children's play area in the Lions Park. The replicas were carved by Harry Heine of Edmonton. The Leader is way ahead

The greatest news gathered each week in town and area is covered by The Leader's staff and correspondents. Whether it's a grandchild's arrival, a wedding, a visit from the boss, or a get-together, The Leader is there to bring it all to the public.

To top it all off the date line at the top of the page read December 7th, and the baby wasn't born until December 8th. Just goes to show that The Leader is right on the job. We knew it was going to happen on the 8th, two days before the stork did.

Parents of the new grandchild are Ed and Corrine Bokar of Grandy, Manitoba, Air Force.

The hillbilly had just spent his first week in the big city. When he returned home he sported an enormous diamond stick pin.

"Say," asked a friend, "is that diamond genuine?"

Liquor legislation effects New Years parties

Among the year end parties slated to see the old year out and the new year in, public and private, one

The legislation regarding Saturday midnight drinking effectively puts a damper on most New Years dances. None of there will be a private party, by members and guests, prior to the 8PM in the Eldorado.

The annual New Years Eve dance of the Legion will be a public one this year rather than the usual closed affair.

The Jamboree Club cancelled their annual closed New Years party.

The main effect the Saturday midnight closing will have on most New Years Eve festivities will probably be that there will be a greater number of private parties.

At one time of living there was a saying that "Blood run thicker than water," was the truth.

This large a place is it? Never mind school, would of there would be a hotel there.

'The two best beers in the house!'

Lethbridge Pilsner — Lethbridge lager

Some insist on Lethbridge Pilsner, several fine brews deftly blended in the Bavarian tradition. The best of barley, choice rice and our own home-grown hops give it the lively taste that appeals to Albertans. The unique label tells you it's Alberta's original Pilsner.

Others demand our Lethbridge lager – they call it 'bridge. This bright and bracing beer makes the most of its premium malt. The smooth, uniform taste is largely due to our own pure prairie hops. It ... is mellow, naturally aged ...

District Pioneers guests at Xmas party

Spearheaded by the recently formed Peers Lions Club, some eight organizations joined forces to make the first Peers Senior Citizens Christmas party a truly successful one.

Decorations in the hall were put up by the Peers 4-H Beef Club. The delicious supper was served by members of the Peers 4-H clothing club and the United Church Women. Other organizations contributing to the success of evening with the Fabian Community Club, the Luxmi Creek Association, the Peers Handicraft Association.

The banquet was held in the Peers School auditorium where 75 pioneer district residents were guests of honor for the evening. It had been expected there would be a bigger turnout, but freezing rain cut down attendance when roads were turned into veritable skating rinks.

Chairman for the evening's program was Lions Chris Nielsen. Rev. Peter Hagerbaum of the Peers Christian Reformed Church asked the blessing. Following this Mr. Wm. Switzer MLA and Mr. Frank Halpen Resources Co-ordinator gave the gathering some very encouraging words.

The Peers Brownies won the hearts of all as they entertained their parents and grandparents with a medley of Christmas Carols. The little girls had also made the festive centre pieces that adorned the tables.

This is also the group whose drive and ability showed up so well in the float they entered in the rodeo parade last summer. A great number of the trees used in the float were later donated to the Lions Park in Edson. The thanks of those in the district should go to Mrs. Ann Young and her assistants for the work they do with these youngsters.

A four piece orchestra of guitars and drums, provided music for the dance that concluded the evening. Members of the orchestra are Doug Isaacson, Keith Jackson, Doug Aasen and Bruce Anderson. Their music was very danceable and even a few of the older ones were cutting a rug.

The newly formed orchestra recently won first prize in the annual Act Search for Talent show at Entwistle in the popular and showmanship class.

A letter to Edson residents

The following letter was recently received by the Canadian Legion Committee:

Dear Sir:

As a representative of the Ben Record Home and Veterans' Association and the Lethbridge Home and School I wish to thank you in all sincerity for the very fine way in which we were received when we passed through your town this summer at which time we were privileged to have lunch with the dignitaries of your town.

I am sure our Montreal friends will remember Edson as being one of the friendliest places they visited in Alberta.

Sincerely yours,
Keith Traviss
Sec., Ben Record Home and School Ass'n.

If you wonder what this is all about we will repeat one of our earlier reports. A group of Quebec students were touring Alberta and contacted us made through Mr. Wagenaar, asking if some groups in Edson would provide them with lunch and show them our town.

Eldest attending the party were Mr. Otto Rapp, 88, and Mrs. Nan Messenger, 87. Mrs. Messinger was called upon during the evening to make the draw for the Lions Club "100 a month" raffle. The name she drew from the box was that of Mr. Harold Hudson of Hardisty, another long-time district resident.

And we couldn't what a kindly ... for the ... of man ... Christmas ... dinner ... being ... and ... and ... parties ... or ... dance.

Will the Berlin Wall Crumble?

By REV JOHN VAN HEMERT

For a few hours during Christmas the cold gray Berlin wall, the symbol of hatred and separation, will be opened for the relatives and friends. The divided people may exchange their greetings and emotions for a short time.

We find this situation of extremity, barbed wire, tanks and guards most cruel. What sorrow and hardship for divided families. This is what hatred and war does.

Did you know that we have a Berlin wall situation in our own hearts? This is why such gruesome things happen. Berlin walls, murder, robbery, divorce and all kinds of unhappiness. These are all symptoms of what lives in the human hearts. Sure we can do a lot with sanctions, but this does not yet cure the origin of all the trouble. If the walls of hatred and wrong reasoning in the heart there is no room for love and good will toward [illegible]. So this [illegible] only contradiction with God. This is the tragedy because of disobedience in the heart. The Bible says plainly: These horrible walls of hatred and pride must crumble before there can be peace and good will in the heart.

You say how shall I repent, how can my life become different? The Christ of Christmas is the answer. He showed us the way, because He is the Way and only that, He is also the Truth and the Life. He came to heal broken and rebellious hearts, and bring real Christmas joy. He came to show that lost these walls in the heart are broken down there is no peace with God and his everlasting happiness. And this is what you want in it not? Then we must also both before Him and worship Him. Just as the shepherds and the wise men did. There is a good question in the Bible "Do you remember the generosity of Jesus Christ, the Lord of us all: He was rich beyond our telling, yet he became poor for your sakes so that his poverty might make you rich" II Corinthians 8:9 Philips translation.

Judge is you're guilty of stealing that overcoat, why should I restore your sentence? Prisoner: It cost me ten dollars to have the sleeves shortened.

Origin of the lights

The lights of the Christmas tree, most beautiful when reflected in the eyes of a child, will bring peace and goodwill [illegible] of home against the weather, to the [illegible].

Did how did it begin why do we connect trees and lights with the birth of the Babe whom Christians consider the Messiah?

There are several stories about the origin of the Christmas tree. People in Scandinavia use evergreen trees, and, in ancient World [illegible] mythologies, they made evergreen trees part of their celebrations when they became Christians.

One legend tells how the first Christmas tree was shown as a miracle to the English missionary Boniface [illegible] called Thunder. More than 1,000 years ago, while traveling in what is now northern Germany, he first found a group of heathens at an oak tree, about to sacrifice a child to the god Thor.

Watched this, [illegible] and cut down the [illegible] As the oak fell, according to the legend, a young fir tree appeared. Boni [illegible] the fir was the tree of life, [illegible] Christ.

[illegible]

So today when all the origin, the tree adorned with lights is a symbol of [illegible] remember from our earliest childhood [illegible] something the very youngest children still begin to learn this Christmas

Lieutenant-Governor of Alberta

From the office I have the honour to occupy, I extend the Season's richest greetings to all the people of Alberta and beyond, to the people who live in our villages, towns and cities, to those who make homes on farms and ranches, to those who live in our vast northland, to those who travel, to those who must work to maintain public services on the holidays and to those who may be confined to sick beds or are restricted in any way.

It is a time of good will and good cheer should fill every heart. Families will be together as they should be, and it would be my hope that family gatherings will be happy ones with young ones having fun and young and old enjoying big appetites. May happiness prevail.

I would hope also that Canadians would not let Christmas Season pass without pausing for moments of thanksgiving for all the great gifts of nature which we enjoy and which have continued so greatly to our comfort and prosperity. These rich treasures have been entrusted to us, not to be exploited at the shortest possible time, but to be managed wisely in years' ahead, serve mankind as long as possible.

And along with all the people of Alberta, I would join in the hope that sincere growing measure of peace and goodwill may prevail throughout the world.

PINS AND NEEDLES SEWING CLUB

December 10:

At 10 a.m. on December 10th Mrs. Madge showed the girls through the Craft Centre. We followed the day through store, preparation for sewing, modelling and finishing. The girls found the tour very interesting and enjoyable. A special thanks and Season's Greetings to Mrs. Madge.

Later in the afternoon (1:30 p.m.), we all went to the hospital where we presented our centennial tea towels and sang Christmas Carols. Each girl received a lovely little card from the Sisters. Wishes for a Merry Christmas to the hospital staff and Sisters, and a speedy recovery to the patients.

December 16:

On December 16 at 7:30 p.m. the Pins and Needles Sewing Club met at Carol Winnard's home.

The meeting was brought to order and "O Canada" was sung. The Secretary read the minutes of the last meeting and roll call was given. For roll call, each girl told about Christmas in another land or a Christmas legend. Roll call for next meeting will be a New Year's Resolution or an interesting experience that happened during the Christmas Holidays.

Etiquette was read and discussed.

Our guest for the evening, Mrs. F. Sheehan, the district home economist, commented on our club as a whole and helped us with our books. As well, she got us thinking more about our Achievement Day.

Mrs. Sheehan then presented last year's T. Eaton Award winner with her award, a lovely sewing book. The winner, Joanne Pulisha, thanked Mrs. Sheehan for the award and for attending our meeting.

After a lovely lunch, the girls went outside to romp in the snow before leaving.

The next meeting will be held at Linda Fassbinder's on January 11 at 7:30 p.m.

Christmas Message

Christmas is the joyous festival of the union of God with man, the loving meeting of God with His people.

This union is no fictional dream but a solemn reality so wonderous as the event in Bethlehem that night when Cyrinus was governor of Syria, when

"Upon a manger bed,
Resting His crownless head,
God by His own wise plan,
Set out to be a Man."

God broke into human history to speak to us, face to face and to influence our daily lives. The Son of God becoming Man was God revealing to us Himself and His love. God revealing Himself in the infant birth of Jesus in Bethlehem, speaking to us and present among us in the manhood of His Son, Who is our Salvation for it is God coming to us and inviting us to come to Him, in personal meeting of God and Man in Christ our Lord.

Christ continues His presence among us and brings salvation to us today in the ministry of the word of God and in the ministry of the Sacrament. In the word of God—in the Holy Scriptures—God continues to speak to us in the words and actions of Christ our Lord. In the Sacrament of God meets man and acts upon us through those actions of Christ performed through space and time.

This is the reality today behind the symbols of the season. It is wonderful way God continues to be among men—Emmanuel—to teach and to make holy.

And so today, as always in this joyous Christmas time, "Welcome all wonders in one sight!"

At Christmas Time:

Buy A Fresh Yule Tree; Tree Care Safety Tips

The Christmas holiday season is almost here, and preparations for Christmas and New Year's are already underway.

Millions of Canadian homes will decorate Christmas trees as part of the holiday observance.

A few tips on how to choose and care for your tree will help keep your home fire safe during the holiday season, says the Canadian Underwriters Association. The Association presents these Christmas safety suggestions.

Buying Your Christmas Tree

- When you shop for your Christmas tree this year, make sure you get a fresh tree. Brush the needles of the tree with your hand — if some needles drop off you should choose another tree. If all of the trees on the lot seem dry go to another tree seller whose trees are fresh.
- After you have purchased your tree, it is a good plan to keep it out-of-doors until you decorate it. Keep the tree standing in a small pail of water. Because a freshly cut tree will continue to "drink" water, and that keeps the tree fresh and green.

Decorating Your Tree

- To keep the tree fresh as long as possible, wait until just before Christmas to bring it into the house.
- The tree should be put up in the coolest part of the room. It should be placed away from radiators, hot air ducts, heaters, and fireplaces.
- It is a good plan to use a stand with a metal container that you may fill with water, because this will keep the tree fresh longer. Some member of the family should check the metal container daily and refill it regularly.
- When you decorate your tree, use flameproof decorations. The safest decorations are those made of glass, metal or some other fire-resistant material.
- Safe lights on a tree are highly important. Before putting up tree lights, check the wires and sockets. Those with frayed wires or faulty connections or plugs should be discarded. When buying new lights, be sure they bear the UL label of Underwriters' Laboratories.
- If you use an electric train as part of your Christmas display, set up the tracks away from the tree. A spark from a toy train, coming in contact with dry Christmas tree needles, could start a fire.
- Remember to turn off Christmas tree lights at bedtime, and when there is no one in the room. In particular, do not leave lights on when nobody is home.
- Throughout the holiday season, check the Christmas tree frequently to be sure it is not becoming too dry. Also check tree needles near lights. If needles near a light seem brittle, change the position of the light.
- Metal trees should never be decorated with Christmas lights — there's always the chance of a short-circuit. Off the-tree lighting should be used, instead.
- Christmas trees in the yard should be decorated with heavy-duty cords, especially designed for outdoor use.

Taking Down Your Tree

- On Christmas Eve or Christmas morning, when gifts are opened, all wrappings should be picked up immediately. The ones you wish to save should be folded and put away and all other wrappings should be gathered up and disposed of. When you take down your tree after the holiday season, remove it from the house at once — do not store it in the basement or elsewhere. It is a fire hazard when dry.
- Keep the discarded tree outside where it can be picked up by the garbage man or sanitation truck.

MERRY CHRISTMAS!

THE EDSON MINISTERIAL ASSOCIATION was established in 1960 and now includes the Anglican, Baptist, Catholic, Christian Reformed, Lutheran, Mennonite, Pentecostal and United Church ministers. They meet during the winter months on the first Friday morning for fellowship and the discussion of co-operative concerns. At the moment they are planning a Centennial preaching mission for one week in February with Barry Meece speaking. This is now in the hands of various citizen's committees.

Ministerial launches Centennial Year

Everyone is invited to the Jubilee School Auditorium on January 1st at 2 p.m. for Edson's official opening of the Centennial Year. The program is arranged by the Edson Ministerial Association.

After singing "O Canada" the Deputy Mayor of Edson will announce the opening of the Centennial Year and the chairman of the Centennial Committee, Royden Mahon, will bring greetings.

The Call to Worship will be followed by the singing of the Centennial Hymn which has been arranged for the occasion.

The body of the program consists of three short talks presented each time by a scripture lesson read by Fr. Gumnip and followed by a hymn and a prayer. Rev. Purdie will remind us of Canada's past in relationship to God, Rev. MacPherson will interpret the present situation and Rev. Carruthers will project the future of our nation's spiritual well-being.

Special music will be featured as arranged.

It is impossible to imagine what this nation would be like if it had not been founded upon Biblical principles. Start this very special year off right by joining with your neighbours in this service of worship, gratitude and dedication.

Simple Rules Can Prevent Fires

Don't become a fire statistic during the coming holiday season, the Canadian Underwriters Associations warned today.

These are simple fire safety precautions that anyone can take to prevent fires during the holiday season, the Association said.

(1) If you are a smoker, use ash trays and be sure cigarettes are extinguished.

(2) Never smoke near the Christmas tree, which can burst into a flaming torch in a moment, and a spark comes in contact with it.

(3) Decided in the kitchen when holiday meals are being prepared. Whenever there are open flames on a gas range, there is always the danger of a fire if combustible material comes in contact with cooking flames. Watch out, too, for grease fires.

Centennial plans taking shape

Centennial plans are beginning to take shape in Edson. The Committee have been meeting every two weeks and are beginning to feel that the citizens of our town are "getting with it."

The adventurers are busy on their plan to have markers wherever the old original trail from the east crosses the present highway. These keys are going to three purposes with real adventure, and it is hoped it will soon be. It is not for all the government groups and by spring they can start erecting their signs.

The Anglican Ladies are ordering plates for their Centennial project. These will bear an aerial photo of the town. This sounds like a wonderful idea and will give everyone a souvenir which may become an heirloom and turn up at the 200 birthday party.

The Kinsmen are ordering coats. We haven't definite word on what these are but we'll give it to you when we learn the details.

Of course you have seen the posters and the write-up for the coming ballet. This is being sponsored by the Anglican Group and should be a delightful evening's entertainment during the holiday week.

The Ministerial Association has arranged to have a joint service in the Jubilee Jr. High School on Jan. 1st. There will be a massed choir and it is hoped that the auditorium will be filled.

The Scottish society have made definite arrangements for a Burns Dinner at the Edson Manor Hotel on Jan. 27th.

Everyone welcome. Have you wondered about Baptist? Come and learn the truth.

This line up is a good start. Now the question is — "What are you doing?"

Doctor: "How's your memory on what drugs are for, well I'll give it to you when we learn the details."

Patient: "Want to and more. I can't even sleep when it's time to get up."

Suffer from lack of practice in past years

BY TONY BARGE.

Thel Edson youngsters are not erring from lack of ice for hockey practice the last two seasons is evidenced by their lack of wins in games with outside teams. They have regularly been meeting with disaster with competition against visiting teams and in their trips to Jasper and Hinton.

In the Pee Wee class Edson Elks went down to defeat at the hands of the Hinton Braves on December 3rd, to the tune of 12-0. This game was played in Edson. The same day Hinton Midgets subscribed Edson Midgets 15-0.

The next day in Jasper the hosting Jasper Bantams defeated Al's Exes team 23-4 with Lamour scoring the lone Edson marker unassisted. On the same trip the Jasper Mites outplayed the Edson Lion Mites to the tune of 22-6.

Edson again hosted outside teams on December 10 and participated two games. Jasper All Star Pee Wees defeated Edson All Stars 6-1 with D. Bawol scoring the only Edson point, unassisted. Jasper had 34 shots on goal to Edson's 4.

Whitecourt Juveniles were also in town for a game that day and defeated their Edson counterparts by a 10-2 score.

In the local leagues most of the time is being spent in practice skating and stick handling. A few short games have been played.

Goal getters for the IME team in the two games were Perkins 5 and 2 assists; Bright 3; Brown 2 with 3 assists; Aitchenjger 1 with 3 assists; MacMillan 1 and 1 assist.

Chalek and Shriner each scored unassisted for P & P Tire.

In the Bantam class Al's Exes and the Optimist team played to a two - all tie.

There is a noticiable improvement in the boys. Why not attend their games and give them one of moral support.

Alberta Ballet Company to give local holiday treat

Like most other communities Canadawide, the city Alberta Ballet Company is busy working on their Centennial Project.

In this case, it is a program of dance entirely created by Albertans and performed by Albertans, and what is most important to be seen by Albertans.

Artistic Director Ruth Carse, an Edmonton born dancer who performed professionally in Canada, the U.S. and England, is putting together a program that boasts some of the most talented Alberta artists.

As all ballets must begin with music, the Alberta Ballet Company has turned to two of our province's leading musicians and composers. Claude Bessette, Associate Professor of Music at the University of Alberta has composed a modern symphonic piece, and well known Edmonton jazz musician and composer Tommy Banks has supplied an original jazz score.

This music will come to life in dances created by Alberta Choreographers retained by the company. Miss Carse is creating one of a full length ballet to the score by Mr. Bessette and a ceramic by Mr. Tony Cantafio, Alberta's unofficial historian.

A leading dancer with the Alberta Ballet Company, Bryan Lucas, has fashioned a lively contemporary jazz ballet to Mr. Banks' score.

A former soloist of the local Winnipeg Ballet, Lynette Fry, now a resident of Calgary, has been commissioned by the Alberta Company to devise a new classical work.

Wadyn Doherdidge, known throughout the province for his set designs, murals, and paintings is responsible for creating the settings for the Company's program.

The whole process would not be possible however, without those most important cogs — the performers. In this case, it is the young Alberta dancers who have been making a name for themselves throughout Western Canada for their competence, professionalism and vitality.

See the Alberta Ballet Company perform in the Jubilee Junior High School on Friday, December 30th at 8:15 p.m.

Tickets will be available at the door or may be purchased in advance at the Simpson-Sears office. Why not spend it a point to see these talented young people (12 to 20 years) perform in their newest works original works created especially for Canada's Centennial year.
